

The Wife I Picked Up Is Too Chapter Chapter 930

Xie Qi said respectfully, "Young Madam, Ninth Master went to the warehouse."

Feng Qing came to a realization. This man was really a workaholic. As long as he had time, he would enter the warehouse to study that huge machine. However, she didn't know how the man's research was going. She originally planned to visit the man in the warehouse, but after thinking for a while, Feng Qing turned around and returned to her room. Then, she ran to the study room and turned on Xie Jiuhan's computer. She wanted to release Xing Wudi from the blacklist while that jealous man wasn't around.

Very quickly, Feng Qing logged into the chat app and sent a message to Xing Wudi. "Do the other factions in the Seven Stars Continent know what you've been doing outside recently? Do they agree with you fighting the Xie Corporation openly and secretly?"

About ten seconds later, Xing Wudi replied, "Yo, did I regain my freedom? Why? Are you heartbroken that I treated your husband like this?"

Without waiting for Feng Qing to finish reading, another message followed. "Speaking of which, aren't you protecting Xie Jiuhan too much? For him, you can blacklist me. For him, you released me so quickly. Your mind is only filled with him now."

Feng Qing's fingertips typed on the keyboard, and soon a line of words appeared on the screen. "Cut the crap. He's my husband now. I'm his wife. Am I supposed to side with you if I don't side with my husband?"

Xing Wudi replied, "All these years, the Xie Corporation has repeatedly taken advantage of the deal with the Seven Stars Continent. Sometimes, they even take advantage of it and pretend to be obedient. Many of the Seven Stars Continent's forces have long been dissatisfied with the Xie Corporation. This time, when I came out, many forces have already said that as long as I want to target the Xie Corporation, they are still very willing to help."

The last sentence was written alone. "It's actually very simple to solve the situation for the Xie Corporation. As long as you agree to return to the Seven Stars Continent with me for treatment!"

After a few minutes, Feng Qing's message appeared on the screen again. "Then let me ask you, answer me truthfully. If I return to the Seven Stars Continent with you to treat my illness, will I still have a chance to return to Xia country in my life?"

After this message was sent, Xing Wudi did not send any more messages. Seeing this, Feng Qing already understood that Xing Wudi had used silence to give her an answer.

Feng Qing typed on the keyboard. "Hmph, I knew you didn't have any good intentions. Xing Wudi, you'd better not force me. You should know my temper."

A few seconds later, Xing Wudi replied, "If I don't force you, how can you be willing to come to the Seven Stars Continent to treat your illness? I can guarantee you that unless you're willing to come to the Seven Stars Continent to treat your illness, the Seven Stars Continent's suppression of the Xie Corporation will continue for a while."

Just as Feng Qing finished reading, Xing Wudi sent another message. “Feng Qing, let me warn you. It’s not impossible for you to stay in the Capital, but you have to protect yourself. If anything happens to you, I will definitely not let Xie Jiuhang off, and the Seven Stars Continent will not let the Xie Corporation off. You should know my temper!”

From the words, Feng Qing could feel Xing Wudi’s domineering and unreasonable attitude, but she could also feel his concern for her. However, this kind of threat-filled concern made her unable to take it. Her hands quickly typed on the keyboard before retracting it one by one. She wanted to refute something, but she didn’t know how to refute. In the end, she swallowed all her anger and frustration.

At this moment, the phone on the table suddenly vibrated. Then, the phone screen lit up. Feng Qing shifted her gaze over and saw an unread message on the screen. She picked up her phone and swiped the screen. She saw that it was a message from the famous director, Han Jintian. “Qingqing, can you answer the voice chat?”

Feng Qing raised her eyebrows. Han Jintian probably wanted to discuss the new movie theme song with her, so she took the initiative to send Han Jintian a voice call. “I’ve already sent two new arrangements to your email. I haven’t had any inspiration recently, and I’m too busy. When I return to the Capital, I’ll record two more songs and send them to you.”

Before she could finish her sentence, Han Jintian’s roar came from the other end of the phone. “Feng Qing! What’s wrong with you?!”

Feng Qing was slightly stunned by Han Jintian's sudden anger. Before she could ask anything, she heard Han Jintian say, "Feng Qing, what happened to you? Why do I feel that there's something wrong with your emotions? Did you encounter any difficulties?"

Feng Qing instinctively said, "No."

Han Jintian roared again, "I hope what you said is true. The next time we meet, if I find out that you're lying and are deliberately hiding something from me, I'll definitely teach you a lesson!"

Feng Qing : "..."
