

The Wife I Picked Up Is Too Chapter Chapter 961

The elevator door opened and the chief butler walked out with weak legs. When he saw the night sky and the lights of the Di Palace outside, he raised his hand to wipe the cold sweat on his forehead and took a deep breath. It was only now that he felt that his body seemed to have warmed up. Looking at the night sky with the lights on, the chief butler couldn't help but sigh in his heart. "It's better to be alive!"

A moment later, the chief butler returned to his office. He sat in front of his computer and opened the documents stored in it. The documents were very detailed information about the Feng family in the Capital. Before they moved to the Capital to develop, the Feng family was a wealthy family in Penang. However, after they moved to the Capital, they became a poor wealthy family and were considered a typical young monk in a big temple.

Of course, this was not what the chief butler was concerned about. What he was concerned about was the name mentioned in the information—Feng Yiru. After looking at the entire information, he knew that their Madam Di had been living in the Feng family after she escaped the Seven Stars Continent.

What was a little fun about this was that when their Madam first met the Patriarch of the Di family, she had used a fake name. Even her appearance had been dealt with. Moreover, after investigation, it was found that Feng Yiru was very good at disguising herself. Moreover, her voice was variable and could even imitate a man's voice. She had once disguised herself as three different identities to interact with their patriarch. One of the identities had even appeared in the form of a man. However, to the chief butler's surprise, their patriarch had actually fallen in love with these three people with different identities, including the man whom she had disguised herself with.

It was only a few years ago that Di Palace obtained reliable news. It turned out that the woman their patriarch had liked for half his life was actually called Feng Yiru. She was from City Ping in Xia country. After finding out about Feng Yiru, their patriarch personally went to Xia country to look for her. However, in the end, he only brought back Feng Yiru's corpse. The chief butler read all the information twice. Not only did he pinch his nose bridge with a headache, but he also had a very melancholic look on his face. Now that the seventh young master was gone, his master would definitely have a relapse soon. At that time, without the little princess to stabilize his condition, the Seven Stars Continent would definitely tremble. At that time, no one knew what would happen.

The chief butler took a deep breath and adjusted his mentality before picking up the mouse again to operate. He wanted to look at the personal records of the Feng family. "Feng Jianing, the adopted daughter of the Feng family. The second daughter is very favored in the Feng family. She has no blood ties with the Feng family and has been learning to play the piano since she was young. Now, at Capital University..."

After reading the first page of Feng Jianing's file, the chief butler pressed the mouse and flipped to the second file. Clearly, Feng Jianing didn't arouse his interest at all. Hence, he focused his attention on the second file.

As he flipped through it, he mumbled, "Feng Qing, nineteen years old. The specially recruited student of the Capital University's Music Academy's strings department. She's the eldest daughter of the Feng family and was taken away from the hospital when she was born. Later on, she was sold to a remote mountain village and adopted by an old couple surnamed Yin. It wasn't until she was twelve years old that Feng Qing was discovered by the Feng family and brought back to the Feng family. She underwent a paternity test and was confirmed to be the daughter of the Feng family, Feng Yiru's biological niece..."

After pondering for a while, the chief butler took out his phone and dialed. "Inform the people in Xia country to bring that girl called Feng Qing to the Di Palace."

After thinking for a while, he still felt that he should find Feng Qing and try to see if Feng Yiru's biological niece could suppress his patriarch's illness. He hoped that it would be effective so that the entire Seven Stars Continent would be saved.

In the Xie Manor.

Feng Qing slept very soundly. When she woke up, the sky was already bright outside. The warm sun made her feel very good. Feng Qing stretched on the bed and gently rubbed her eyes. Then, she turned around and realized that Xie Jiuhan was no longer around. After washing up, she went to the dining room. Xie Qi told her that Xie Jiuhan had already gone to the Xia Academy of Science in the morning. During this period of time, Xie Jiuhan had been busy with the controllable nuclear fusion equipment.

Feng Qing nodded. "Alright, I understand."

Xie Qi said, "Young Madam, there's something else I want to report to you. Someone will be visiting the Xie Manor from the Sacred Island later."

Feng Qing raised her eyebrows in surprise, but she still instructed, "Once they're here, bring them to me at any time."

After breakfast, just as Feng Qing was about to leave, Xie Qi brought the people from Sacred Island into the dining room. Feng Qing couldn't help but look up and see a familiar figure following Xie Qi in. It was Xie Ruoyun.
