Chapter 510 This satisfied Snow's vanity. She looked at Harvey; he looked like an inborn leader in his demeanor, which was unbridled yet natural.

'How could I let go of him? I can't live without Harvey.' Thinking of this, a strong emotion rose in her eyes.

Gary followed Ryder to the Holder family's party. When he saw one less seat at the table, he asked in puzzlement, "Why is there one less seat here?" Usually, the foremost table was almost reserved for prominent families. The Holder family could not have made such a low-level mistake by arranging one less seat at this table.

Ryder had also noticed that and squinted in bafflement. 'The Johnston and the Holder families must be at odds with each other now. But even so, they have never shown their discord publicly. Whenever the Holder family holds a banquet, they would surely reserve a place for the Johnston family, even if the Johnston family is not coming. What happens now could only mean that the Holder family thinks some other family doesn't deserve to sit at this table, and so they reduce the number of seats. But what is more interesting is that the second table has an extra seat. What's going on here?' At this time, outside the banquet hall, Chloe was being ushered into the hall by a waitstaff. She was holding her invitation card with her chin pointing skyward, but deep down inside, she was pretty nervous. Damien and Miley also walked in prim and proper. The three of them got their invitation cards with the help of a branch of the Rogers family, so they were seated further back, similar to the Rogers family branch. Chloe's eyes lit up when she spotted someone in the crowd. She left her parents and walked toward Alberto, calling out affectionately, "Grandpa!" Alberto broke into a smile when he saw his favorite granddaughter. He gently patted Chloe's hand and said gently, "I brought you to the Holder Mansion this time so you can find a way to make Nachelle change his mind about you."

Chloe nodded obligingly. As Miley and Damien arrived late, they did not hear the conversation between Chloe and Alberto. Miley stayed behind her husband cowardly when she saw Alberto.

Since she retired from showbiz because of her declining acting skills. Since losing her value, Alberto's attitude toward her was getting worse and worse. Now he was even colder to her and had to pick on her every time he saw her.

Miley could do nothing else except acting. When she was still a celebrity, she was of great help to her family. But now, she was nobody, and Alberto was irritated at seeing her.

Seeing his daughter hide behind his son-in-law, Alberto snapped, "Get out from behind Damien!"

Darnien furrowed his brows at seeing Miley shaking with fright.

“Dad, Miley is timid. Don’t scare her. Just tell us if you have something to say.”

Alberto looked up and down at Damien, not expecting that his son-in-law was still protective of his useless daughter. Just as he wanted to say something, Chloe looked at his grandfather and said softly, “Grandpa, there are so many people here. Can you introduce them to me?” As she spoke and raised her hand to stroke her hair, a brilliant light flashed on her finger.

Alberto quickly shifted his attention from his daughter and son-in-law and smiled at his granddaughter, who had not disappointed him so far, and nodded at her. “It’s time to take you to meet people. Come with me.” Not sparing a look at her parents, Chloe followed Alberto in delight to meet the other guests. Miley looked at Chloe from behind and was pleased that her daughter had found favor with even her stone-faced father. But Damien looked at Chloe with a faint coldness in his eyes.

My Wife is a Hacker Chapter 511

Chapter 511 ‘Chloe must have thought she is good enough and pays scant regard to me.’ Looking at the self-satisfied Miley, Daniel had a faint sense of helplessness and disgust in his eyes behind the gold-framed glasses. Chloe followed behind Alberto. Alberto felt at ease handling the guests at the first few tables. But the further he went, the more difficult it was for Alberto to cope. When he came to the fourth table, no one was willing to talk to him.

Chloe held the wineglass in her hand with resentment. This was the first time she had ever been given the cold shoulder. She raised her head in hatred, wanting to take a look at these people. Inadvertently, she seemed to see someone she knew.

‘Isn’t that Snow?’

Chloe turned and wanted to leave. She almost immediately wanted to pull the ring off her finger, but the more anxious she was, the more difficult it was to take the ring off. Snow was following Harvey, who was having a chat with the VIPs at the third table. Her eyes widened in surprise when she saw Chloe.

“Chloe?”

‘Who?’ Harvey looked back, raising an eyebrow when he saw Chloe. He once met this woman in Nottingbrook State, not expecting that she was also from the Riddle family. He turned to glance at Snow and tilted his head slightly. “Do you want to go over and say hello?”

Snow, who seemed to have seen Chloe struggle at the fourth table, was sitting at the third table, enjoying the compliments of the people around her. She could not help but think of showing off. So when she heard what Harvey said, she nodded almost immediately. "Why not?"

The two of them got up and walked toward the fourth table. Seeing Snow approach, Chloe almost wanted to turn around and leave. At this moment, a hoarse and magnetic female voice suddenly came from behind her.

The voice was special, obviously a smoky voice, much like the voice of a successful person. "Thank you all for coming to the Holder Mansion for the party held for Lloyd, who has just returned."

Harvey did not look back. When he heard this familiar voice, he had a disdainful look in his eyes. The reason the Holder family had become so successful so quickly was inseparable from the Ellison family.

Snow was puzzled and wanted to look back, but she dared not, as Harvey did not move.

Chloe heard clearly the name that Nachele had mentioned and stopped dead in her tracks, then looked back in disbelief. The man who stood on the stage was none other than Lloyd, whom she had taunted last time.

He was unsmiling, with extraordinary grace and poise. Lloyd disregarded those gazes around him, his eyes scanning over the crowd, and he spotted someone he knew.

Chapter 512 Lloyd looked at the girl from behind and frowned, then ignored Nachele, who was speaking, and walked off the stage toward the third and fourth tables.

Everyone looked at Lloyd with surprise, as they did not expect that he would be so rude to Nachele in public.

But Nachele did not mind. He was looking at his son dotingly and continued speaking, as if she had not been interrupted. "My son is back, and I hope everyone can see clearly that he is my future successor." Seeing Lloyd run toward hers, Chloe raised her head and was filled with excitement. 'I didn't expect that Lloyd would still come to me despite how I treated him last time. I knew he was genuine when he looked at me in Nottingbrook State; his affectionate gaze almost drowned me. That look in his eyes could not possibly be fake.'

Thinking of this, Chloe waited confidently for Lloyd, standing calmly in place, with pride in her eyes.

'I didn't expect that Lloyd was from the Holder family. So even if there is still a gap between the Holder and the Johnston families, the Holder family is still in the same league as the Ellison family, which means they can compete with the Johnston family. I will have everything to gain and nothing to lose to be together with Lloyd.'

Alberto looked curiously at his granddaughter and then at Lloyd, who was approaching in a hurry. "What's going on, Chloe? You and Lloyd know each other?" Chloe slowly and reticently glanced at Lloyd and nodded. 'That's right, Lloyd is coming for me, obviously. There is nothing wrong for me to admit in advance.'

Alberto's face changed instantly. He looked at his granddaughter with pride in her eyes.

The guests at the fourth table had also heard the conversation between Alberto and Chloe. When they saw Chloe's sworn expression, they were a little confused. 'Could she actually know the guy from the Holder family? Did we miss something here?'

Seeing that Lloyd was getting closer, many people became a little restless. They looked at Chloe from time to time, almost wanting to say something flattering to Chloe. But Lloyd stopped before he reached the fourth table.

"Turn around."

Everyone heard his voice, which was soft. He was anxious and did not feel the joy of finding her.

"This back of hers...'

Snow wanted to look back, but when she saw Harvey's face, she froze.

"Can you please turn around?"

Lloyd spoke again, his voice gentle and pleasant yet had a faint hint of anxiety.

Harvey did not know what Lloyd's intention was, but he turned around with a smile, looked at Lloyd, and said meaningfully, "Snow, didn't you hear Lloyd call you? Turn around."

Only then, Snow turned around cautiously. She looked slightly stunned when she saw the face of the man across from her. The man had a prominent nose, deep-set eyes, and a sharp face as if he had undergone the most ingenious carving of the gods.

'Isn't he the movie star on the silver screen?'

Chapter 513 Snow did not expect him to be from the Holder family. Snow instantly blushed at seeing that he was looking at her. She did not dare to look him in the eyes, just feeling that Lloyd and Harvey looked similar to some extent.

Before she could even feel puzzled, Lloyd spoke with a frosty voice, "You're not her." His tone of voice seemed a little disappointed. 'Of course, she is abroad all this while. NO way she will appear here.' Then, instead of turning around, he walked straight back to Nachele without looking back Chloe looked awkward, her expression freezing, and she clenched her hands. 'Why would Lloyd ask Snow to turn around, but he didn't bother to look at me?' She could almost hear the mocking laughter around her. Chloe finally could not bear it. She reached out her hand to try to grab Lloyd, who was walking forward, the huge diamond on her finger glittering in under the chandelier. Chloe was not conscious of this. She had lost her deportment entirely as she just wanted to grab the man in front of her.

Alberto did not manage to stop her but watched her make such a disrespectful move.

While Snow was staring at Lloyd from behind, she seemed to feel a familiar flash of light in front of her eyes, but she just could not take her eyes off Lloyd. She looked at Lloyd with emotions, as if she felt he had a very unusual feeling for her.

'What kind of girl could cause such a man to search and wait for her tirelessly?' The thought of the girl causing such a wonderful man to become infatuated with her made Snow jealous.

While all eyes were on the farce here, the door behind them suddenly opened, and soon a brisk and schadenfreude voice came. "It's been a while since we last met, Mr. Holder."

Everyone was stunned at hearing the voice. Nachele lowered her arm almost immediately and quickly adjusted her expression to reveal a solemn and gentle smile.

Everyone looked back. As they were facing the light, they could not see who was at the door. But when they saw Claus's attitude, almost everyone realized who it was- it was Jared from the Johnston family. 'Wait a second! He didn't come alone.'

Many people looked at the shadow next to the man, their eyes widening as they tried to take a closer look at her, wondering which woman had such an honor of accompanying Jared. Everyone knew Jared was notorious for his sexual abstinence. They could not believe that Jared would bring a female companion. Jared and the woman walked in slowly, and their faces finally appeared in front of everyone. People were full of surprise. Jared was undeniably the best-looking man in San Joto, and he always attracted attention wherever he went. But this time, people's attention was subconsciously distracted by the girl standing next to him.

As handsome as Jared was, he did not steal the slightest limelight from the girl next to him. She was beautiful. Her eyes were slightly upturned, her demeanor cold, and she looked like a beautiful hibiscus with the coldness of a purple iris. The black Victorian dress did not look out of place on her. She seemed to be a princess from that era, with innate dignity, who came to this world.

My Wife is a Hacker Chapter 514

Chapter 514 Everyone found themselves tongue-tied for a good while. They could only look at the two and listen to the surprise welling up in their throats. Both Snow and Chloe’s attention were instantly attracted by two. As they looked at the girl beside Jared, the raging flames of jealousy rose in their eyes. ‘Why can’t this Nicole just go away!’ Nachele Holder smiled graciously at Jared, and when she turned her eyes to his side, she was stunned.

‘This is...’ Stunned alongside her was Harvey. He looked on at the young lady beside Jared. Deep yet difficult-to-put-to-words emotions welled within his eyes. Such a beautiful woman should be mine.’

He had never felt that Jared was so unsightly, so unsightly that he could not bear it any longer.

Harvey immediately walked over and Snow, who was staring at his back, yelled angrily at him. "Harvey, where are you going?" Harvey ignored her, his eyes seemingly being shrouded by a layer of black fog, and his entire person became extremely morose. 'She is mine, and I'm going to take her back to my side.' Yet, the moment he moved, there was someone who moved much faster than he did. Lloyd's pupils contracted violently the moment he saw the person come in. He had been tracing her face on many of his sleepless nights. He would never fail to recognize that face!

This was his sin and his love, his salvation when he was in a dire situation.

Everyone saw that the man, who was so inhumanly indifferent, was walking anxiously toward Jared's side. He looked at the girl with a look of serious reverence, his voice mixed with a sigh like tone.

"I finally found you."

"Doctor."

Harvey was about ten meters behind the person, and when he saw Lloyd kneeling down before Nicole, he was stunned.

'What, what is going on here?'

Lloyd, at this very moment, made a very passionate invitation to Nicole. "You've finally deigned to appear. Please come back to my side, my partner." <sup>1</sup> Everyone was shocked by this sudden turn of events. They had never expected the heir to the Holder family would say such a thing to a girl on such an occasion. This was almost akin to a grand declaration of love.

Chloe looked at this scene before her and felt that her action in pulling Lloyd made her look like a clown earlier. It was both hilarious and ironic. To think that she had told Alberto earlier that Lloyd was here for her was now a total joke. She slowly put her hand down, and her nails bit deep into her palm, yet she was unaware of the pain. 'It's that Nicole again!'

Harvey instantly stopped as the look in his eyes could not suppress the swirling emotions in it. Was he supposed to be glad, or was he supposed to be surprised? He knew that Lloyd was looking for someone, but he did not know that the person Lloyd was looking for was Nicole! Claus looked at Lloyd and raised his eyebrows in surprise. 'Wow, this Holder kid actually dared to do this before my boss. This is way overboard.' Looking at these deep affectionate eyes and the scorching hot words, if he was Nicole, he would have been moved.

My Wife is a Hacker Chapter 515

Chapter 515 Claus subconsciously turned around to look at Jared's expression. If there was a need, he would straight away kill this man, who had clearly crossed the line under his boss' instruction. Yet, he only saw that Jared was slowly pulling Nicole's hand's up. His handsome face was layered with frost. The moment he turned to Nicole, however, it disappeared. He smiled as he turned Nicole toward him and asked gently.

"Are you going with him?"

Nicole looked at Jared's extremely immaculate face in a daze. The stray hairs on his forehead were combed back, revealing his full forehead. His eyes were roiling with imperceptible emotions as if something was raging inside, much akin to the coming of a storm.

The place was so quiet that one could hear the sound of a falling pin. 'What is this?' 'The young masters of both the Johnston and the Holder family are competing for a woman?' 'And the young master of the Ellison family wants to interfere as well?' Many women looked enviously at Nicole, wishing that they could be in her place instead. Many interest groups looked at the scene, thinking about how to extract a bigger benefit out of this. Nicole ignored them as she held Jared's hand holding her face, and then she turned toward Lloyd, who was down on one knee before her.

Everyone heard her calm voice, and it was so clear even in this hall that it had gone from being silent to cacophonous. "I was never yours, Lloyd." "So, where did this talk of me coming back to you come from?" After hearing Nicole's rather direct words, everyone's eyes widened in surprise. The young master of the Holder family was rejected just like that!

Many of the ladies were cursing Nicole's ignorance, but even some men muttered secretly to themselves. 1

'Regardless of anything else, no matter how powerful the Johnston family is, Jared's position as heir of the family is still not assured, while Lloyd had just been personally named as heir by Nachele Holder earlier, and his position was secured, so normally one would choose Lloyd instead, right?'

Thinking of this, they looked at Nicole in contempt. "This woman is really not smart enough.' Harvey looked at the scene before him, and he watched as Lloyd slowly got up without any change to his expression. An inexplicable glint appeared in his eyes.

He wanted to know how Lloyd would react in this situation.

Lloyd's eyes never left Nicole for even a single moment. He seemingly did not mind being rejected as he just gently let out a smile. In an instant, a veil of light seemingly fell upon him as if the clouds had roiled and parted, revealing a bright radiance. "It's alright." He said gently, "I will wait, I will wait for you to return to me, and before that..." Lloyd's eyes finally moved away from Nicole as he looked at Jared, whose mood was nigh indistinguishable, as the smile on his face slowly faded away.

"S, you must promise me that you will not be at his side."

When Jared heard him call Nicole that, there was a fluctuation in his emotions. He looked on thoughtfully at Lloyd. The latter was very calm, seemingly very proud because he shared a secret with Nicole.

The smile on his face widened, so attractive it was difficult to avert one's gaze.

'No wonder this woman chose Mr. Johnston.'

Everyone looked at this beautiful man and could not help but hold their breaths.

Jared's face was really a killer.

Jared did not seem to care what the others were thinking. He looked at Lloyd before him; his voice suddenly turned icy, like a blade ripping into the latter's flesh, causing a storm of blood to form

"Speaking of which, it seems like you don't know her name at all."

My Wife is a Hacker Chapter 516

Chapter 516 Lloyd's expression instantly stiffened. He had known Nicole for so many years now, yet he did not know her real name.

At this moment, his expression instantly solidified into hoarfrost as he looked at Jared with a look of indifference. "A name, or a codename, is just a symbol, a symbol to call her and to define her." He looked at Jared, the killing intent in his eyes palpable. "I don't need to know."

Claus almost wanted to laugh as he looked at Lloyd, gritting his head and thought to himself. 'Bro, if you don't need to know, why are you so mad then?'

Jared looked at Lloyd. The latter's words caused his rage to dissipate almost instantly, leaving only a little bemusement. He gently squeezed Nicole's hand and slightly raised his eyebrow. "It's good if you have that conviction in you."

He then walked away from Nicole, and as he walked before Lloyd, he did not stop and kept walking. The moment he passed the latter by, he left a sentence in Lloyd's ears.

“She is mine.”

Lloyd let out an imperceptible frown as he held his hand out, wanting to catch Nicole, who was passing him by. Nicole did not look at him and simply just shifted sideways to dodge his grasp.

Her gaze was indifferent, with scant emotions in her eyes. She gently nodded at Lloyd and did not look at him again. 1

When Harvey saw this, a smile finally appeared in his eyes.

“Just look, no one can catch Nicole.’

‘Even if that damned immaculate Lloyd is the same.’

Lloyd pulled his hand back as he looked in the direction of the girl. No one knew what he thought as he quickly followed after her.

Nachelle had seen what her son did. She frowned a little but soon noticed that her son was walking toward her. A look of joy flashed across her eyes. Although the girl had not agreed to her son’s request, her existence, after all, made this banquet far more meaningful. 1

She had promised Lloyd to look for her, and now that he had found her, then Lloyd will need to come back to inherit the family business.

The reason she became a director was because of her son, but this nonsense should come to an end. He should now return to the business and help take her career to another level.

Chapter 516

After all, the Johnston family was secretly getting stronger and stronger, while her family was still staying stagnant. Recalling White, who had failed, a cold glint appeared in Nachelle’s eyes as she looked extremely icily at Jared for an instant. 1 ‘Why did he attend this banquet then?’ Jared did not look back, but Claus glanced thoughtfully at Nachelle with a slightly puzzled look in his eyes. “What’s the manner, Madam? You don’t seem very happy to see Mr. Johnston here.” 2 “Weren’t you the one who sent us the invitation, and now that we’re here, you’re feeling displeased?” Nicole gave Nachelle a faint look of indifference as a thought crossed her mind.

The direction of Warbler’s code was indeed toward the Holder family, but she had no idea what sort of entanglement they had with Jared, so much so that even White was deployed to attack these G-grade drugs.

Chapter 517 When Nachele heard Claus' words, the expression on her face immediately turned genial as she gently looked at Jared and smiled at him. "Of course not. Mr. Johnston's attendance is an honor to the Holder family." As she said that, she lifted the glass in her hand and slightly raised it toward Jared, her movement extremely gentle.

"Mr. Johnston, please have a seat."

Jared gave her an impassive look before looking at Lloyd, who was now standing by her side, as some kind of emotion flashed across his face. He casually grabbed a glass of wine from the waiter beside him and gave Nachele a distant cheer. He then swirled the glass, and, like Nachele, he did not even drink the liquid. They had been so used to maintaining this superficial peace. It would not come apart so suddenly.

When Harvey saw what was going on, a warm smile appeared on his face, yet the emotions in

He watched as Jared took Nicole to sit at the first table at the center, and he went back to his own table. Instantly, the tables were filled, leaving only the two master seats empty. There were, however, no signs of the Rogers family members at the first table.

Alberto obviously noticed this as he was a little surprised to see that after Nachele and Lloyd

He then slowly realized that something was wrong. No matter how useless he was, everyone would still offer him a smile on the grace of the Rogers family's name. There was nothing like today where he was outright ignored, making it difficult for him to make any moves. What was even weirder was that his two nephews were not here either, or even that Shawn, the favorite son of Christo was nowhere to be found. 'What was going on?' At this very moment, Chloe was clenching her fists tightly as she looked at Nicole sitting between Jared and Lloyd. The look in her eyes was as if she wanted to flay Nicole alive. 'Those two men should've been MINE! She walked toward Nicole almost uncontrollably. Alberto frowned as he was pondering what was going on and did not notice her movements. By the time he realized it, Chloe had already made her way to Jared and Lloyd's side as she stretched her hand out to pull Nicole.

It was already too late for Alberto to stop her as he could only look at the granddaughter he had always been proud of, scaring him witless.

Nicole had already noticed Chloe's movements long ago. She calmly turned around and dodged Chloe's outstretched hand. Her eyes immediately turned icy as she grabbed the latter's arm.

Snow followed Harvey over to sit there. She was looking both angrily and enviously at Nicole and, seeing Chloe's outstretched hand and secretly cheered for the latter.

'Let's have Chloe deal with Nicole!'

When Lloyd saw what Chloe did, a tinge of anger appeared on his warm face. Just as he wanted to say something, Nicole had already spoken, her tone rather icy. "Chloe, do not piss me off again." Snow could not hold it in any longer as she looked at the dignitaries at the table and spat, "Nicole, you're saying Chloe is pissing you off? You are the one with an attitude issue. Not only you are out there being a vixen, you even steal! Someone should've dealt with you long ago!"

As she said that, she thought that everyone would have a bad impression of Nicole as she waited triumphantly. To her dismay, however, she found that no one believed her at all.

Every single one of them was looking at Nicole, as all of them ignored both Snow and Chloe.

Snow felt extremely embarrassed, and as she wanted to say something else in a fit of anger, Lloyd's impassive gave swept over. As he looked at Snow spouting all that, he frowned.

'Why would S do such a thing?' 'This woman is clearly bullshitting!'

My Wife is a Hacker Chapter 517

Chapter 517 When Nachele heard Claus' words, the expression on her face immediately turned genial as she gently looked at Jared and smiled at him. "Of course not. Mr. Johnston's attendance is an honor to the Holder family." As she said that, she lifted the glass in her hand and slightly raised it toward Jared, her movement extremely gentle.

"Mr. Johnston, please have a seat."

Jared gave her an impassive look before looking at Lloyd, who was now standing by her side, as some kind of emotion flashed across his face. He casually grabbed a glass of wine from the waiter beside him and gave Nachele a distant cheer. He then swirled the glass, and, like Nachele, he did not even drink the liquid. They had been so used to maintaining this superficial peace. It would not come apart so suddenly.

When Harvey saw what was going on, a warm smile appeared on his face, yet the emotions in

He watched as Jared took Nicole to sit at the first table at the center, and he went back to his own table. Instantly, the tables were filled, leaving only the two master seats empty. There were, however, no signs of the Rogers family members at the first table.

Alberto obviously noticed this as he was a little surprised to see that after Nachele and Lloyd

He then slowly realized that something was wrong. No matter how useless he was, everyone would still offer him a smile on the grace of the Rogers family's name. There was nothing like today where he was outright ignored, making it difficult for him to make any moves. What was even weirder was that his two nephews were not here either, or even that Shawn, the favorite son of Christo was nowhere to be found. 'What was going on?' At this very moment, Chloe was clenching her fists tightly as she looked at Nicole sitting between Jared and Lloyd. The look in her eyes was as if she wanted to flay Nicole alive. 'Those two men should've been MINE! She walked toward Nicole almost uncontrollably. Alberto frowned as he was pondering what was going on and did not notice her movements. By the time he realized it, Chloe had already made her way to Jared and Lloyd's side as she stretched her hand out to pull Nicole.

It was already too late for Alberto to stop her as he could only look at the granddaughter he had always been proud of, scaring him witless.

Nicole had already noticed Chloe's movements long ago. She calmly turned around and dodged Chloe's outstretched hand. Her eyes immediately turned icy as she grabbed the latter's arm.

Snow followed Harvey over to sit there. She was looking both angrily and enviously at Nicole and, seeing Chloe's outstretched hand and secretly cheered for the latter.

'Let's have Chloe deal with Nicole!'

When Lloyd saw what Chloe did, a tinge of anger appeared on his warm face. Just as he wanted to say something, Nicole had already spoken, her tone rather icy. "Chloe, do not piss me off again." Snow could not hold it in any longer as she looked at the dignitaries at the table and spat, "Nicole, you're saying Chloe is pissing you off? You are the one with an attitude issue. Not only you are out there being a vixen, you even steal! Someone should've dealt with you long ago!"

As she said that, she thought that everyone would have a bad impression of Nicole as she waited triumphantly. To her dismay, however, she found that no one believed her at all.

Every single one of them was looking at Nicole, as all of them ignored both Snow and Chloe.

Snow felt extremely embarrassed, and as she wanted to say something else in a fit of anger, Lloyd's impassive gave swept over. As he looked at Snow spouting all that, he frowned.

My Wife is a Hacker Chapter 518

Chapter 518

He spoke calmly, his eyes tranquil, yet there was a deep icy chill to it. "Miss, please do not slander someone like that, or else I will have to ask you to leave."

Nachelle did not say anything. She had never refuted Lloyd's words.

Snow's eyes widened as she looked at Lloyd in disbelief, her eyes filled with the look of being wronged. "How can you say that about me? Nicole is a thief that stole my things. Look at how she made you guys fall head over heels for her. Isn't she promiscuous?"

Not too far away, Gary, who had come with the Finley family, was looking at Nicole with a very complicated look. She was exceptionally beautiful today; it was impossible to avert his eyes.

But upon seeing Lloyd's actions, he was not sure what was his relationship with Nicole!

Ryder, sitting by his side, noticed his little brother's dour mood. He gently prodded the latter and whispered. "Isn't that the girl whose details I could not find no matter what I did? Didn't you say her signature matches your idol? Go and ask her then."

Gary shook his head as he clenched his fist tightly. Thinking of how he had treated Nicole earlier, he dared not ask the question. 'If she really is my idol, I really have no idea how to look at her in the eyes.'

At this moment, Nicole looked at the defiant Snow, her expression impassive, yet her voice was cold.

"Snow, have a good look. What's this thing on Chloe's finger!" Chloe listened to what Snow said triumphantly, and at the same time, she was furious at Lloyd for speaking up for Nicole. Upon hearing what Nicole said, she was stunned. 'Yeah, I was so angry just now I forgot I was still wearing this!

She had not had the time to take the ring off her finger! Thinking of this, Chloe immediately wanted to take the ring off her finger. However, Nicole's hand, while slender, was extremely powerful, and even with her face flushed in strain, she could not pull her hands out of Nicole's grasp! When Snow heard what Nicole said, she glanced suspiciously at Chloe's hand.

She immediately saw the ring on the latter's finger, and there was a huge diamond inlaid on the ring. It was the diamond she could not be more familiar with!

Snow looked at Chloe in disbelief, and Chloe, having known that she had been discovered, gave up struggling as she looked icily at Snow and spoke first. "What? What's wrong with my hand?"

immediately stood up straight as she hissed with furious anger, "You have the cheek to say that? The diamond on your ring is mine!" "Chloe! Why did you steal my diamond!"

Chloe sneered as she subconsciously tried to pull her hand away, yet she still found her hand unmoving, and the expression on her face stiffened.

The eyes of everyone around fell on her. Nachele looked at that familiar-looking pink diamond, and she raised her eyebrows gently as she looked at Harvey, whose expression remained unchanged. Jared, who was looking at the scene, could not help but squint a little. Thinking of how Chloe had coveted the diamond back in Nottingbrook, and what had happened now, he could have guessed it without even thinking. He then looked at Chloe with a faint look of contempt.
