

My Wife is a Hacker Chapter 521

Chapter 521 There was an instantaneous change in Lloyd's eyes as Nicole's figure was reflected in his pair of charming yet distant eyes. There was only her in his eyes. "No, you will always be S." His voice had a certain gentleness to it as if he was simply stating a fact, yet it was also a silent rebuke to Nicole's words.

"The organization had never removed your name from our operator list. You are still my most resilient and loyal partner, my doctor."

Her right hand had treated countless people and had also destroyed countless of darkness.

That was why it was called the Hand of God.

No one knew why she decided to quit at her prime, but the organization never removed her name, and everyone was hoping that she would one day return.

Nicole looked at Lloyd before her. A trace of warmth finally appeared on her face as if something was burning in her eyes.

"I have no need for that, Lloyd."

She said coldly. "I'm not the person you seek, and I will never be that person you seek ever again."

"So, please give up, and stop asserting things." Lloyd looked up slightly as he looked at Nicole before him with a look of puzzlement. "S, why?" They had been working so closely and seamlessly. There was no reason at all, but she chose to announce her departure when he was on a mission.

He could not understand it, nor could he accept it.

Nicole stood up. She could not be bothered to pay any attention to the gazes of everyone looking at her as she looked at Lloyd with a look of slight indifference.

"There's no why." The color in Lloyd's eyes slowly disappeared. He looked at the girl before him as a shroud gathered around his eyes.

Nicole finally glanced indifferently at Chloe and Snow, who were in disbelief. Even Harvey's expression changed somewhat as her cold voice rang out, with a tinge of sullenness to it.

"Our paths simply diverged."

Immediately after, she turned and walked out.

Lloyd subconsciously wanted to grab her as there was a rare confusion between his eyes as he looked at Nicole's back with a tinge of obstinacy. 1

'I cannot let her go again.' Just as he was about to move, another hand stretched out to grab onto his. The fingers of that hand were slender and immaculate, almost like silverware. Lloyd was stopped by that hand, and he raised his eyes to look at Jared, who stood up slothfully beside him, his eyes deep. Jared did not budge as his cold, indifferent voice slowly rang out in everyone's ears. "Do not force her to do anything against her will." Immediately after, his gaze shifted from Lloyd to Nachele as a beautiful smile slowly appeared from the corners of his lips. "I'm here just to tell you something." He casually followed behind Nicole, and as he left, he whispered. "The trouble you've caused me, I shall repay that bit by bit when I have the time."

There was no need to feel lucky, nor there was any need to feel suspicious. Nachele looked at his sharp face and could not say anything for a good while.

Chapter 522 She knew very well the reason why the Rogers family was kicked out of the circle of elite families. It was all because they had offended this Mr. Johnston. Although the Rogers family relied heavily on the Johnston family, it has to be said that it was still a juggernaut itself. Yet, the family was overthrown just like that, with nary any ability to fight back at all. She shuddered inwardly, yet she dared not lose the smile on her face.

"Surely you jest, Mr. Johnston. I wouldn't dare to cause you trouble."

Jared gave her a half-smile and did not say anything else as he soon caught up to Nicole's side as they walked out of the Holder family manor's door together.

They had come and gone in a hurry, yet they left plenty of room for the guests today to think

The world-famous Interpol Agent S was a woman aside. The two persons after her affection were Jared and Lloyd. They had to say, this was indeed shocking news. Nicole had heard what he said to Lloyd. She turned toward Jared, the look in her eyes somewhat indiscernible.

Jared walked forward as he looked at Nicole and his eyes curved a little.

"You look beautiful tonight."

A glint appeared in Nicole's eyes. "We leaving? Wanna go back for coffee?" He said.

A smile appeared on Nicole's face as she heard that. She looked at Jared and nodded softly. Lloyd looked at Jared's back. As if all of his rages had been spent today, he did not chase after the latter, but instead, she turned toward Nachele, his eyes bearing a clear indifference.

"What have you done?"

Nachele's expression did not change as she softly sighed. Looking at the mess before her, she slowly said.

"Let's call it a day for now." When Damien and Miley walked out, they were still in a daze. She slowly turned toward Chloe behind her with a look of disbelief in her eyes. "What's going on? Is what your brother said true? Were you really kicked out of the crew by Ms. Nachele?"

They had already witnessed Nachele's attitude earlier, and she met Chloe, who was trying to flatter her and said without reservation. Her expression was almost hostile even.

"Miss Chloe, we have nothing to do with each other anymore. Please take note of yourself in the future. The Holder family will never invite a thief like you to attend our banquet."

"Consider this your first and your last."

Chloe looked like a pale ghost. Her grandfather was ignoring her now and had even viciously scolded her earlier, asking her to reflect on what she had that. His words were so sharp that as if he did not have such a granddaughter. "Thank goodness Grandma isn't here today." Chloe thought with some relief. Her grandmother, who doted on her the most, was not here, which meant she had room to turn things around. As she thought of this, her eyes became extremely sullen.

hapter 523 'It's all because of Nicole!' 'Otherwise, I would not have ended up like this!

Seemingly recalling the scene earlier, Chloe's expression became twisted. She quickly walked ahead, ignoring her parents, and naturally paid no heed to what Miley had asked her. Her expression had changed so much that it was terrifyingly sullen.

Luka was sitting in the car looking bored. Suddenly, there was a loud bang of the car door opening and closing. He was so shocked that he trembled, and when he turned around, he saw Chloe's extremely bitter expression. He cautiously asked. "What's the matter? Did something go wrong today?" Immediately after, he keenly noticed that Chloe's beloved ring was missing. He quickly realized something as he asked, "Where's your ring?"

A flash of resentment appeared in Chloe's eyes as she hissed. "It was snatched away by that bitch, Nicole! She gave it back to Snow!"

She did not feel there was anything wrong with what she did. In her eyes, that diamond was purchased by her and was hers. Yet, Nicole dared to snatch her stuff away ring before her eyes!

That was way overboard.

Luka shuddered in fright when he heard her tone as he gingerly asked another question." What do you plan to do now?"

'What do I plan to do?'

Chloe sneered. When she recalled how Jared and Lloyd ignored her in favor of Nicole and even stared daggers at her, her envy was almost palpable. 'I will make Nicole pay!' Chloe thought to herself. She then told Luka roughly what had happened today. A thoughtful look soon appeared on his face, and a look of disbelief soon took its place on his face. That Nicole is the famous s? The cases she had solved aside, she is also the only medical genius in Interpol. Her ability is so outstanding that few countries had not heard of her name

He knew that S was quite young, but he did not at all expect her to be a woman!

He especially did not expect that would be Nicole! 'No wonder the Nottingbrook police changed their attitude so quickly. If Nicole is S, then all of this could be explained.' As Luka thought of this, he took a deep breath as he looked at Chloe and said, "By the looks of this, we should not fight her head on."

'S is not someone we can take on!'

Chloe told him all these were for him to give her ideas. Yet, Luka instead said something like this. Her expression immediately changed as she hissed. "We shouldn't fight her head on? Fine, consider yourself fired then. Get loss!"

When Luka heard the first half of the sentence, he was surprised, yet when he heard the latter half, he fell silent for a moment. He slowly turned to look at Chloe and realized that she was serious, so he immediately tried to flatter her.

"Don't Chloe, Chloe. Please calm down. I'll definitely figure out a way. Just give me a minute, give me a minute..."

When Luka was thinking hard, Chloe watched the scenery outside. Snow and Harvey had both walked out. Both of them had sullen expressions on their face. Snow was holding that beautiful diamond ring in her hand, clutching it tightly. She was chasing after Harvey, seemingly trying to say something. However, Harvey ignored her as he was pondering something. Very quickly, he straight up left Snow, who was chasing after him, behind as he turned around and entered the Holder family manor once again.

Without Harvey, Snow was stopped outside. She had a look of bitterness and resentment in her eyes and subconsciously wanted to throw the thing in her hand onto the ground. She then quickly realized what she was holding as she retracted her hand and clutched the diamond in her palm.

My Wife is a Hacker Chapter 524

Chapter 524 Her actions were somewhat clownish, and many passers wore a mocking look as they looked at her.

Chloe looked at Snow being humiliated and felt a trace of glee.

She then continued to urge Luka. "Think faster."

As she said that, she continued to gleefully look at Snow being in an awkward situation. Seemingly recalling something, she got out of the car and walked to Snow's side as she said mockingly with her arms crossed before her.

“Didn’t your Harvey just leave you behind? What’s the use of keeping that diamond? You might as well give it to me!”

Snow glared at Chloe. She was so furious her expression turned menacing as she hissed in rage. “What’s happening between Harvey and me is none of your business! The diamond is mine, and you can forget about stealing it back! You, on the other hand, Mr. Johnston feels nothing about you at all. I could see his gaze had never left Nicole for even a single second!”

When Chloe heard that, her expression also turned sullen as she hissed coldly. “Don’t be too happy. Even I could see what Harvey was thinking about Nicole. I don’t believe you haven’t noticed it at all.”

Snow clenched her fist tightly as a look of resentment instantly appeared in her eyes.

‘Yes, Nicole had helped me get my diamond back, but what’s the use? Harvey’s not even giving me a single glance! She hated herself for finding the diamond. With it lost, she could at least lie to herself that Harvey was angry at her because she had lost it. Thinking of this, her fists clenched even harder.

Just as the two were about to face off, Luka suddenly came running happily as he excitedly said to Chloe.

“Chloe, I’ve thought of a way to deal with Nicole!”

“Speak!”

“Speak!”

The two spoke at the same time. Both Chloe and Snow looked at each other and saw the hatred in each other’s eyes.

Chloe did not expect that Snow to still hate Nicole even when the latter had helped her. However, no one would prefer an additional enemy, so she quickly changed her tact and said to Luka, after giving Snow a glance.

“Out with it.”

Luka looked at Chloe and then at Snow as he whispered a few words. Both Chloe and Snow looked at each other before following him into the car.

Harvey had returned to the main hall as he walked inside with familiarity. Soon he saw Nachele and Lloyd seemingly talking about something.

The mother and son stood some distance away from one another, seemingly a habitual action. Lloyd subconsciously took a step back when Nachele took a step forward to touch him.

When Nachele saw him react like this, a look of sadness appeared in her eyes.

Harvey looked at the scene with interest. The smile on his face was warm as ever. When one of the servants of the Holder family saw him return, he asked him with some puzzlement. "Mr. Harvey, is there anything?"

Hearing this, both Lloyd and Nachele turned around as the latter gave Harvey a rather hostile stare. She had the aura of someone of great authority, and that caused great stress with she looked at someone like this. There was no change in Harvey's expression as he smiled and turned toward Lloyd and asked softly. "Can we talk?"

Nachele frowned and wanted to refuse him, yet Lloyd looked at Harvey with an impassive face and asked.

"What do you want to talk about, Mr. Harvey?"

My Wife is a Hacker Chapter 525

Chapter 525 The two walked to the garden of the Holder family manor. They stood facing one another. Lloyd looked on quietly at Harvey, his eyes deep. No one could tell what he was thinking.

And Harvey hated this the most. He maintained his smile, but his voice turned icy.

"Come with me. The teacher wants to see you."

Hearing this, Lloyd's expression did not change as he faintly looked at the man before him, his voice flat. "So, you've him under your control." Harvey looked at Lloyd as the latter smiled. His aura was gentle, yet his words were bone chilling "Yes, but it's pointless. He still insists on telling you alone, just like when he wanted to kill you last back then."

As he said that, an undercurrent flowed within Harvey's eyes as he let out an inexplicable smile.

"I wonder what he sees in you."

When Lloyd heard what Harvey said, he let out a faint sigh. "Are we leaving now?"

At this moment, both Nicole and Jared arrived at the café. As Claus complained about having barely eaten, he quickly pivoted to S herself. "Miss Nicole, are you really s?"

What's the deal with that dismemberment case in Calloway? How did you find the culprit?"

Nicole did not avoid the question as she glanced at Claus and casually said.

"The victim was someone related to the company. He was living the high life in the company, and his colleagues hated him so much that they killed him. It was easy to solve the case once the victim's social relationship was studied."

Claus did not think it was that easy. He was stunned for a few seconds before ignoring Jared's warning glance as he asked another question. "Then what's with the secret room murder at Mecrounia?"

Nicole then responded. "He was killed much earlier by his wife and stored inside a freezer. She even used active charcoal to preserve the corpse. After that, she spent two days creating an illusion of a secret room murder, but when you see the victim's nails and organs, things are very clear."

The body may be preserved, but the nails and organs will not hide the true time of death.

Claus' eyes widened in astonishment as he continued to ask. "That easy? Then that serial killer in Nottingbrook..."

"The serial killer had killed over a hundred odd people in Nottingbrook, causing the entire populace to fear for their lives. Even the K9 team was not able to track the murder down, so how did S, no, Nicole find the killer?" Nicole's expression did not change as she looked at Claus. She had not expected him to know quite a number of the cases she had handled, so she went straight to the point. "The killer was a veterinarian specializing in husbandry animals. The K9 units had already located his place, but they dared not enter the premise. I just made a cross-section of the location the K9 units had searched and found the killer soon enough."

Claus asked a few more cases, and seeing Nicole could answer all of them so smoothly, he now believed her. Given how she knew the details of the case, Nicole was, without a doubt, S.

Jared did not look at Claus but instead cast a gentle gaze at Nicole with a smile on his face. Nicole looked into his eyes and realized something as she asked a little helplessly.

"Could it be that you've already guessed it?"

Jared did not say anything as he just blinked at her. Nicole instantly understood what he meant. She was indeed curious, given how he had managed to guess her identity time and time again.

“How did you know?”

My Wife is a Hacker Chapter 526

Chapter 526 Jared did not hide anything as he simply just said. “I could tell that you’re someone from Interpol with that skill of yours, but I never thought that you were S.”

When Nicole heard what he said, she smiled a little.

This was the first time she met someone with such observation skills. “You should join the Interpol as well.” She said seriously. “If it’s you, you might very well be someone more powerful than I am.” Jared did not say anything but Claus, at the front, raised his eyebrows and said, “Boss, where should we do that? He is...” The remainder of his words were snuffed out by Jared’s gaze. Nicole looked thoughtfully at Jared. She did not pursue the matter as she gently leaned against the car window and closed her eyes slightly.

From Jared’s angle, she was like a serene beauty in a portrait. Her beautiful eyes closed and her face serene, as if she was a sleeping princess that walked straight out of the Victorian era. He motioned for Claus to keep quiet with his eyes as the high-performance car sped along the highway. It was going extremely fast, yet there was no noise at all. Soon, they arrived at the Royal Creek Institute. Nicole opened her eyes, waking up as if she was not sleepy at all. She looked at Jared to her side, and sensing her gaze, he looked over, his eyes gleaming

“You’re awake.”

Nicole nodded as she slowly got down from the car. As she looked at the café before her, she felt somewhat relaxed.

It was like a safe harbor that could give her peace of mind.

The brightly lit café had a radiant warmth to it. Nicole sat by the side of the bar counter as she watched Jared’s gentle movements while he was making coffee. The coldness around her seemingly thawed away as she gently held her chin with her hand, tapping the fingers of her left hand on the marble countertop.

With the piano music playing slowly in the hall, the world seemingly allocated this moment just for her and the handsome man before her.

When Jared turned around, he saw Nicole staring at him in a daze, as if she was a person who was in a deep dream and did not want to wake up.

Jared placed the Bourbon Santos by her side as he looked at her eyes and said, “Give it a taste.”

Only then did Nicole wake up as she looked at Jared and smiled.

“Alright.”

As she sipped the coffee, the bitterness turned into sweetness, as if she was savoring something.

It was rare that Nicole did not comment on the taste. She just drank the coffee silently as a thin fog gathered around her eyes. When Jared saw her like this, he whispered. “Is it good?” Nicole looked at the man before her through the steam of the coffee and nodded. “Yes, it is, and so are you.”

Jared’s eyes immediately lit up. As he watched Nicole put down the coffee cup, something in her eyes seemingly thawed amidst the warmth, revealing a clear affection. She looked up and gave him a gentle kiss on the lips.

He smelled good. Jared’s eyes dimmed as he clasped the back of the girl’s head and instinctively deepened the kiss.

The meeting of the lips was the finality of their tacit understanding. By the time the kiss ended, Nicole’s eyes were somewhat moist, and when Jared looked at the beautiful girl before him, he wanted to kiss her again after a short pause.

My Wife is a Hacker Chapter 527

Chapter 527 Yet, Nicole gently placed her index finger between their lips as she looked at the man before her and smiled. “Know your limits.” Jared raised his eyebrows a little as he slowly moved closer to her. His eyes had a seductive charm to in, as if he was silently trying to bewitch the girl before her, to give her a second kiss. Nicole accepted his temptation and did not reject him. But at this moment “What are the two of you doing, Nicole?” When Nicole heard the voice, a look of disbelief appeared in her eyes. She immediately looked back, and when she saw the blond man standing at the door, her eyes widened in surprise. “Carl!”

‘He actually found this place?!’ Carl looked at Nicole not too far ahead of him as something flashed in his eyes. He raised his eyebrow as he opened up his arms as usual. “Oh honey, I missed you! Come give me a hug!” Nicole looked at him, and the smile on her face faded somewhat. She stood up and took a step back, quickly taking an offensive stance.

She squinted as she looked at Carl rushing toward her like a chicken and narrowed her eyes a little.

“Stop that, Carl, or I’ll make sure this will be an eventful bout.” When Carl heard that and looked at her stance, he put down his arms, and he continued to walk toward her as he frowned and said, “Oh, baby. I never thought you would treat me like this after seeing each other again after that disaster. I’m heartbroken.”

As he said that, he still walked over, wanting to give Nicole a hug, but someone unhurriedly stopped him in his tracks.

“Even if you are her friend, please know your limits.”

When Carl heard that, he squinted a little as he looked at the handsome man. He was being extremely intimate with Nicole earlier and had totally crossed the line just now.

When he heard that authoritative words, a hostile look appeared in Carl’s eyes.

Jared stood before Nicole; his height was almost the same as Carl’s. The two faced off with one another, and for a moment, they looked like they were evenly matched.!

Being blocked like that and recalling how the two were kissing earlier, Carl immediately lashed a fist out at Jared.

“Don’t stop me from seeing Nicole!” Carl had a clear grasp of his strength. He had thought that this seemingly weak-looking man would be sent tumbling by his fist. It was enough to not hurt the person yet humiliate him at the same time, to let Nicole see what kind of a weakling she had chosen. Yet, Jared did not dodge as he grabbed the fist. His expression did not change either, as he said impassively. “How ill-mannered, hmm?” Carl used all of his strength and found himself unable to pull his hand out of the man’s grasp. He looked at the man in shock. He totally did not expect the latter to have such strength. He even had a thought of admiration in his mind.

A Hustuaburgian was inherently weaker, yet this man could suppress him so easily!

It was as if he was not human.

‘As expected of Nicole’s partner, he is not a normal person either.’

My Wife is a Hacker Chapter 528

Chapter 528 Seeing the latter’s smile, Carl regretted his bullheadedness as a confused look appeared in his turquoise eyes. ‘Who can tell me what I should do after I failed in a provocation. Need a reply, ASAP.’

When Nicole saw the scene before her, a smile appeared on her face. She gently patted Jared on the shoulder and whispered. “It’s okay.” Jared could tell that she wanted to help Carl out of this predicament, so he nodded toward the latter and calmly said. "Good strength. Do work on it more." He then casually let go of Carl's fist and even handed him a coffee. "Enjoy." Nicole looked at Carl's befuddled face, a rare silly look appearing on his handsome and charming face.

She smiled as she sat beside Carl and asked.

"Why did you come looking for me? Don't we still have a few days before the rendezvous date?"

Only then did Carl look at Nicole. His pupils shrank as he finally eased up after taking a sip. He seemingly thought of something as his eyes looking at Nicole suddenly became serious. So much so that his entire temperament changed a little.

"Nicole, I'm here to pick you up."

His tone was solemn, and Nicole's eyes immediately took a sharper glint. "It has started again?"

Carl nodded. His usually passionate face had lost its usual playfulness and had become extremely cold.

"We need you. Now."

Seeing him like this, Nicole gently tapped her finger on the table as she slowly said. "Give me a bit more time. It won't take too long." Carl looked at her and nodded slightly, guilt and hesitation seeping through his eyes. "I actually did not want to involve you in this. Nicole, your life should be like this, calm and peaceful, without any disturbance by me..." He did not continue on as Nicole was looking at him with determination in her eyes. "Don't say that. We are in this together, no?" "You are my best partner, ever."

Carl looked at her calm and relaxed eyes as he softly let out a breath. A smile finally appeared on his face again.

"I know you will help me because you are Nicole."

Only Heavens knew how anxious and despairing he was when he faced that mess.

Nicole was younger than him, yet no matter what, he would feel at ease whenever she was around.

Just as if he knew that come what may, Nicole would stand by his side and help him take care of everything.

Thinking of this, Carl stretched his fist out, his turquoise eyes staring unblinkingly at Nicole. The latter raised her eyebrows and gently bumped his fist. The two then looked at each other as they chuckled.

Great Oak—

Harvey looked at the already dark sky as the smile on his face disappeared, leaving only a faint coldness in its place

My Wife is a Hacker Chapter 529

Chapter 529 The run-down sanatorium in front was a wreck. The whole building was dark due to curtailment. It was very creepy. However, Lloyd did not hesitate. He asked softly without turning his head, “Which room?”

“Top floor. Room 312,” Harvey said apathetically. His voice was unspeakably cold. They walked up the stairs slowly. Lloyd stood in front of an old paint-peeling-off door. He frowned his brows slightly as he said, “How could you let him live in such a place?”

Harvey sneered as he turned back to look at Lloyd. His eyes were glowing with malevolence.

“He wanted me dead. It was merciful of me not killing him.”

‘I don’t like Lloyd’s compassionate behavior. It’s next-level arrogant. Others might not notice it, but I can see it. He’s being so unreasonable and acting like he’s above all,’ Harvey thought.

‘But I’m still not sure how he got to know Nicole. He even knows about her S identity?’

Lloyd sighed softly. He knew Harvey was telling the truth. He did not have any excuse to justify the person inside the room. “Open the door,” he said gently. A hint of mockery flashed past Harvey’s eyes. He was playing around with the key that was in his hand. He did not open the door right away. Instead, he turned around casually to look at Lloyd.

“How did you meet Nicole?” Harvey asked casually. Lloyd did not turn his head. He moved his fingers slightly as he said calmly, “She treated me.” A hint of nostalgia flashed upon his eyes as he thought about his dark days. ‘Nicole was the brightest light in my dark days’

Harvey stared at the man standing next to him. ‘When I was young, Lloyd was the person that I aspired to become. I didn’t expect that the only thing we have in common now is that both of us like Nicole.’

“Why are you waiting for her constantly?”

A hint of disappointment flashed upon Lloyd's eyes. He heard what Harvey asked. 'Nicole's gorgeous. But she didn't make a promise for me when she was standing next to Jared quietly,' he sighed softly.

"I don't need to report to you." His voice was elegant but cold. He looked at Harvey calmly as he smiled coldly. He then opened the door in front of him casually. "Let's go in."

He had nothing else to talk about with Harvey. Lloyd stared at the dense darkness in front of him as he walked in. Harvey went in after him. A pop sound was heard. The incandescent lamp above them lit up. The light was harsh and spooky.

Lloyd gazed at the skinny man on the bed who almost had no human form. He then turned around and looked at Harvey disagreeably. "How did he become like this?" The man who did not react when the lamp was lit up moved when he heard Lloyd's voice. He raised his head. He coughed a few times without restraint because of his drastic movement.

"Hank?"

Harvey tilted his head. A curtain of fog can be seen on his face. He casually allowed Lloyd to look at the man himself. Lloyd stared at the man in front of him, who was suffering hair loss. 'If I'm not mistaken, this man should be around 50 years old this year. He was once a strong middle-aged man. He's been locked up in here for over 10 years. He looks like he's almost lifeless.' The man in front of Lloyd stared wide-eyed at him. 'The young man standing in front of me is rather introverted. His eyebrows are soft. He has an aura of calm, unlike Harvey. It's like he'll never lose control. 'While Harvey is so temperamental. The two of them are worlds apart.' After he recognized Lloyd, the light in his muddy eyes glowed for a moment. There was blood under the skin of his eyelids. He did not want to keep Lloyd long. He gazed at him as he licked his gums and said, "Come to me, Hank."

My Wife is a Hacker Chapter 530

Chapter 530 'Hank and Harvey were only ten years old when they were following me. I can't believe they're all grown men now,' the man thought. 'Hope he can be dealt with easily, just like when he was a kid.' Lloyd looked at the man in front of him as he walked slowly toward him unexpectedly.

Harvey stood behind Lloyd. He did not move a muscle. A suggestion of a cold smile can be seen in his eyes.

'Lloyd didn't understand suffering. It's time for him to taste pain a little.' Lloyd approached Cyrus Federick. He stared at the man who traumatized and shamed him countless. A cold glint flashed past his eyes.

“Yes?”

Cyrus was stunned for a moment. ‘I can’t believe he actually came forward to me.’ Cyrus was pleasantly surprised. ‘Can’t believe he’s still so gullible. Just like when he was a kid!’

He extended his fingers without fingernails as he thought about that. His hand was trembling as he extended his hand toward Lloyd’s inscrutable face. It was almost like Cyrus wanted to feel and confirm something. Lloyd avoided that gently. He did not allow Cyrus to touch him with his fingers. He frowned his eyebrows as he asked, “What happened to you? Why did you become like this?” Cyrus kept his arm raised for a moment. He moved his eyeballs slightly as he whipped up some tears.

“Isn’t it obvious? Harvey hates me so much to the point where he never stopped abusing me all these years...” Cyrus expected Lloyd to give him a pitying look. However, Lloyd did not show any sign of sympathy at all. A hint of mockery flashed up his eyes as he stared at Cyrus coldly. Cyrus was stunned. He stopped all his movements. He rubbed his eyes as he thought, ‘Did I see wrongly?’

‘Why didn’t Hank show any facial expression of sympathy?’

He stared at Lloyd for a few more seconds. He realized that Lloyd’s expression did not change. ‘I must’ve seen wrongly.’ He then continued to say as he cried, “I knew I made a terrible mistake. I owed the loan shark too much money. I had no choice but to kidnap the two of you.” ‘If I didn’t think of a way to squeeze some cash out of the Ellison family, the loan shark would’ve killed me!’

“Those who worked for the loan shark were outlaws. They were murderous. I couldn’t fight them. I can only do as they said.’

At this point, his pent-up feelings that were caused by Harvey were released. He burst into tears and kept whining. He looked at Lloyd as he sobbed. Cyrus felt wronged. “But your life was just fine throughout those years when the two of you were following me, wasn’t it? I treated you as if you were my son.”

For Cyrus’s convenience, he named Lloyd Hank to pretend that Lloyd and Harvey were brothers.

Lloyd’s facial expression remained unchanged as he recalled those memories. He gently nodded his head cooperatively. It seemed like he was paying attention to Cyrus. Cyrus felt that he made the right decision when he saw how Lloyd reacted.

After all these years, any deep-seated grudge would’ve probably been released. Besides, Hank’s too gullible. With him here, even if Harvey wanted to kill me, Hank would protect me. ‘I don’t want to die even after living on borrowed time for all these years.’
