Chapter 793

"Yes, I know Norah best. Isn't it just trying on clothes? You can make an excuse on the clothes, not refuting her kindness and relieving you of worries," Samuel echoed.

Seeing her two brothers so concerned about her, Nicole also knew what Norah was trying to pull.

"Okay, let's try it."

Once inside the fashion boutique, Norah said to the staff, "Get my sister a dress that best matches her looks."

The staff glanced at Nicole and saw that she was dressed casually.

"Our outfits are all fashionable. I'm afraid they don't match the look of this lady."

Norah felt a little better when she heard that Nicole was belittled.

But she kept a straight face and said, "Do you mean my sister looks too ordinary? She is a member of the Riddle family. You had better think twice before you open your mouth."

"I'm so sorry. Mrs. Riddle, Miss Riddle, and Mr. Riddle. She is new here and doesn't know the rules."

The person who spoke was the boutique manager, who shot the staff a knifelike look.

"What are you waiting for?"

Get Miss Riddle a few sets of fine outfits to try on."

"This way to the VIP lounge, please."

The boutique manager made a 'please' gesture.

Gloria had always been a kind person.

When she saw the boutique manager's polite attitude, she did not want to make a fuss out of it.

"Please don't take it to heart, Nicole. These people are like that. Let's go inside and take a rest."

Gloria looked at Nicole and comforted her, fearing that Nicole might be angry.

Of course, Nicole did not give a damn, as she saw these people as just clowns. She knew that after shopping around for so long,

Gloria must be tired.

"Okay."

Soon, two staff walked into the VIP area with several pieces of clothing. Norah casually picked up a piece of outfit from one of the staff.

"Nicole, try it on."

Seeing Gloria looking at her expectantly, Nicole expressionlessly took the outfit and walked into a fitting room.

After Nicole left, Norah said to Gloria, "Mom, you and Samuel, and Spencer wait here. I'll go in and give Nicole a hand."

Norah walked toward the fitting room where Nicole was, and Nicole was trying on the outfit.

She quietly pulled over a low ladder and climbed on it, then pointed the camera of her mobile phone over the top of the dressing room partition.

The phone screen showed a woman's figure.

"Aaaaah! Who's filming me?"

The woman subconsciously looked up to sort out her hair, only to find a mobile phone above her head.

Norah thought Nicole had discovered her, and she fell straight down the low ladder and smashed the screen of her phone.

Hearing someone shouting, Gloria rushed over, only to see Norah lying on the floor. The boutique manager, who heard someone shouting in the fitting room, rushed over.

Samuel and Spencer, fearing that something might have happened to Gloria and Nicole, followed suit.

Once inside, everyone saw Norah lying on the floor while another woman ranted.

"How did you fall, Norah?" Gloria quickly reached out to help her.

"Don't touch me. I think I have hurt my back." Norah screamed in pain.

The woman was furious and yelled at Norah, who was still on the floor.

"How could a little girl like you do such a despicable thing? Hand over your phone now."

Norah was exasperated after being caught red-handed for filming the woman, whom she thought was Nicole.

"It's there. Take it."

The woman picked up the phone, but the screen was broken. It was impossible to check the video Norah had taken.

She was so angry that she threw the phone to the floor and stomped on it a few times.

"Kid, who taught you to take a video of me changing clothes?"

Now everyone instantly figured out what was happening.
