

My Wife is a Hacker by Summer

Chapter 801

□ □ □

Chapter 801

“Sure.”

They took the lift to level 5. Rows of professional deep-sea diving equipment caught their eyes.

“Do you always come here?” Nicole asked Jared.

“Sometimes.”

“Is this your first time going deep-sea diving?” Jared stared at Nicole, who was choosing the equipment seriously.

“I used to dive at the diving area. This is my first time going deep-sea diving.” Nicole stared at the attractive deep-sea diving equipment.

“Looks like you’re attracted by the equipment.”

“Yes. I’m very excited now.” Nicole examined the equipment carefully.

“Let me help you to put them on.” Jared picked up a set of equipment as he walked toward Nicole.

They were suited up after a few minutes. They then went to the diving preparation area.

“We can only communicate via sign language when we’re under the sea later. Stay close to avoid accidents,” said Jared.

“Okay.” Nicole showed him the hand gesture. She then immediately went under the sea.

Jared shook his head as he followed her.

The seawater was crystal clear. They could see to a great distance. Nicole slowly dived deeper as she enjoyed the beautiful undersea view.

Jared watched Nicole as he followed her.

There was a flock of yellow and blue color fish hunting for food not far away from them. Nicole did not disturb them. She gently recorded their food hunting process beside them.

While she was doing that, a huge sea turtle swam past Nicole. Nicole immediately moved her camera to record it. The sea turtle did not bother her. It swam toward the coral. Nicole stopped following it after a while. She then raised her head to look at the distance from the surface. She could see the beautiful view of the sunlight coming through the water.

Nicole waved at Jared. She signaled him to swim nearer to her as she put away her camera. She then turned around to swim freely under the seawater like a mermaid.

Jared could not help but freeze as he stared at Nicole, who was swimming. This is my first time seeing a different Nicole. She looks just like a mermaid.'

The camera was following Nicole as they dived deeper slowly. The vision underwater slowly darkened.

Suddenly, a dark figure swam past Nicole and Jared swiftly. Jared immediately stopped swimming to observe his surroundings.

The dark figure moved too fast. They could not see clearly what it was. Jared then swam toward Nicole. He asked her to be careful via sign language.

Nicole nodded her head. She looked around to check out the situation. She then swam in the opposite direction. After a while, she saw a colorful fish flock. Nicole excitedly took out her camera to record them.

The flock of fish changed its formation constantly. They were very colorful in the seawater. It was spectacular. Nicole was too carried away recording the flock of fish. She did not notice Jared's hand gestures. She had been following the flock of fish.

Jared swam very hard to chase after her. Suddenly, a maw appeared in front of Nicole. It swallowed a quarter of the flock of fish.

Nicole held her breath immediately. She turned off the light. She did not dare to move.

The camera caught the shark clearly. It swam around Nicole in a circle. After that, it swam toward the flock of fish.

Jared watched the shark until it disappeared out of his sight. He swam as fast as he could toward Nicole. He comforted Nicole gently. He then swam toward the water surface with her.

They stopped at the sea depth, where they could see the sunlight. "Here is safer," Jared told Nicole via sign language.

He did not want to let go of Nicole's hand. But Nicole felt it was inconvenient. She then lost his hand and swam in the opposite direction.

Jared chased after her immediately. They started a race in the water.

After a while, there was a human figure swam toward them. Nicole stared at the figure as it got closer. She asked Jared via sign language, "Didn't you book the club for exclusive use? Did you lie to me?"

Jared replied via sign language, "Do you think I'd make this kind of lame joke?" He then carefully observed the figure as it swam closer. "Why is there someone else?" Jared asked via sign language.

□ □ □