Chapter 913

"I'm coming back to get you." Nicole let out a radiant smile as she saw her grandmother was still in good health.

"This is my fiancé." Nicole introduced Jared to her.

"Hello, Grandma .Nicole and I are here to pick you up." Jared looked at her with heartfelt respect.

"Pick me up? Where to?" She looked over at Nicole.

"Come live with me in the city."

"You have a stable job now?" Her grandma asked with concern.

"Yeah, and I have even bought a house."

"That is great. I'm happy that you have a stable job. Work harder and make friends with others. I won't go with you; I'm used to living here." Mrs. Wallace Sr. knew that houses in the city were expensive, and even if Nicole could afford one, it would not be large.

Besides, she did not want to disturb the life of Nicole and Jared.

"You have to go. I can afford to take care of you now, and I want you to enjoy your retirement." Nicole took the woven basket in Mrs.

Wallace Sr.'s hand, put it aside, and brought her into the house to sit down. Mrs. Wallace Sr. ushered them to sit down and was about to turn around to get them some water.

Nicole knew what her grandmother was going to do and stopped her.

“Don’t bother. The car is waiting for us. Let’s pack first and then we will go.” Mrs. Wallace Sr. still did not agree to go to the city with her, but Nicole had decided that she was going to take her along, no matter what.

After much persuasion , Mrs. Wallace Sr. finally agreed.

She packed up her valuable things, and Nicole helped her get in the car to return to the city.

When leaving, Mrs. Wallace Sr. kept glancing back, reluctant to leave the small house that she had lived in all her life.

She locked the door and took another good look at the small courtyard before getting into the car with Nicole.

On the way back, Nicole asked Max to drive a little faster, as she was worried that her grandmother might get tired.

At last, the car slowly stopped in front of the sea view villa.

Nicole helped Mrs. Wallace Sr. out of the car.

"Grandma, do you like it here?" "It is so beautiful."
Mrs. Wallace Sr. looked at the massive villa, all praises.
"You will live here from now on. This is our home," Nicole said.

Mrs. Wallace Sr. nodded and walked in with them.
Nicole had prepared a sunny room for Mrs. Wallace Sr..Sitting in the room, Mrs. Wallace Sr. enjoyed the sunshine and the sea view.

"This is Tia. She will take care of you from now on."
Nicole introduced a girl to Mrs. Wallace Sr..

"Hello, Mrs. Wallace Sr., my name is Tia." Tia Rose is a kind girl who always had a pleasant smile on her face.

"Tia, is the meal ready?" Nicole asked.

Besides Tia, Nicole had also hired other maids with respective roles for her grandmother.

"It is ready. The cook has made a hearty and nutritious meal."

"Grandma , let's go eat." Nicole helped Mrs. Wallace
Sr. walk toward the dining room.

"Grandma, you sit here." Nicole helped Grandma sit in the main seat.

"How wasteful it is to cook so many dishes. Don't cook so much next time." Mrs. Wallace Sr. was used to living frugally, so she was a little uncomfortable to see so many dishes all of a sudden.

"It is a reception for your coming today, so I have asked them to make a more sumptuous meal." Nicole had to make up an excuse to muddle through.

"That is still too much." Mrs. Wallace Sr.
