

My Wife is a Hacker by Summer

Chapter 915

□ □ □

Chapter 915

[Okay, I'll do my best.] Nicole turned off her cell phone and was deep in thought.' It seemed that Chloe was quite alert, and Kelly might have a problem getting a photo of her. I've got to help her.

Suddenly, the phone rang again. Nicole thought it was Kelly and answered it.

"Nicole, it is Martin." Martin's voice came from the other end of the line.

"Can I help you, Martin?"

"I'm having a little problem here, like last time. If you are free, could you come over and take a look at it for me?" Martin asked.

Since he did not sound too urgent, Nicole said, "Would it be okay if I go over tomorrow?"

"Sure, sure. Then I will wait for your call."

"By the way, I'm sorry I couldn't make it to your betrothal party." Martin was so busy experimenting for the past few days, so engrossed in it that by the time he realized it, it was already the day after Nicole's betrothal.

"It's okay. I knew you must have been experimenting when I didn't see you coming. Don't take it to heart," Nicole reassured him. "I will see you tomorrow, bye." After hanging up the phone, Nicole walked out of the bedroom and passed by the rec room, which was now vacated, and wondered where they had all gone.

"You two loved Norah so much before. Why are you bullying her now? You all have grown up, haven't you?" Gloria criticized Spencer and Samuel downstairs.

Nicole went downstairs, puzzled by what had happened. She had only been in the bedroom for a short while, and now Gloria was lecturing them now. "What happened, Mom?" Nicole glanced at Norah, who was wiping tears from her eyes behind Gloria.

"You are here just in time, Nicole. Your two brothers are behaving less and less like elder brothers. They not only did not play with Norah but also insulted her." Gloria glared at Samuel and Spencer.

Nicole hurriedly calmed Gloria down. "Don't be angry. They have grown up and can solve things on their own. You shouldn't get involved."

“Can I even say something? How can I watch Norah get bullied by those two boys and say nothing?” Seeing that she could not persuade Gloria, Nicole turned to Samuel and Spencer, glanced at Norah, and chided them with an icy face.

“What’s going on?

What have you done to make Mom so angry? Whose problem is it? Hurry up and admit your fault, so Mom will take the heat off you all.” Nicole scowled at the three of them.

“We have done nothing wrong, so why should we apologize?” Samuel stubbornly shot a look at Norah.

“It was my fault. I upset them.” Norah leaned against Gloria with an aggrieved look.

Gloria felt sorry and hurriedly hugged her. “Oh, baby, I will seek justice for you.” Norah shook her head. “It is alright. I don’t want my brothers to get mad.” “Norah is so understanding.

Let’s ignore them and go sit over there.” Gloria wrapped her arm around Norah and walked toward the couch.

Spencer and Samuel looked at Norah’s pretentious demeanor and really wanted to expose her. Seeing Nicole wink at them, they thought better of it and went upstairs in frustration.

Nicole did not want to watch Norah act downstairs. Since Norah had moved back, something unpleasant would happen in the family every time she came home. She was just fed up with it. “Mom, we have all met, and I have some things to do and will skip dinner. I will go first.” “Why don’t you go after dinner?” Gloria wanted her to say. “It is okay. I will come back to see you guys some other time.” Nicole walked out as she finished. Gloria tried to chase after her, but Norah suddenly burst into tears and clung to her. Nicole was in the car when she received a call from Mr. Riddle Sr. “Hey, Grandpa.” “Some day when you and Jared are not busy, come back to have dinner.” Mr. Riddle Sr. would like to meet Jared.

□ □ □