

My Wife is a Hacker by Summer

Chapter 933

□ □ □

Chapter 933

“You go and inform the nearest team to come over for reinforcements. The rest, hold on to your positions. Never let them climb up.”

The bearded man’s men barely found a place where they could climb up barehanded. They set up multiple human ladders, working their way up toward the top of the cliff.

Zane’s men threw rocks and all available things at the human ladders. When one human ladder went down, a new one came up.

At last, they could no longer hold their position and perished together with the enemy.

After all of the men of the bearded man came up, they immediately searched the island. Carl received a distress call and immediately rushed to the cliff with his men. On the way, he and the bearded man respectively perceived a movement ahead and immediately ordered their men to take cover.

After a while of taking cover and seeing no movement, the bearded man ordered a few men to go check out the situation. Carl, a stager at this, instructed those behind him, “No one shoots.”

“Boss, there is nothing unusual.” Several people ran back to report to the bearded man.

The bearded man swaggered out.

“Keep moving. Make sure you catch Zane and the two guys coming in after him alive. Never let the three of them get away.”

“Aye.” The bearded man’s team continued to advance in Zane’s direction.

Carl immediately alerted Nicole of the bearded man’s location and then encircled him in the back, cutting off his retreating route.

After a while, through the binoculars , Nicole saw the bearded man leading a group of men moving in her direction.

“Wait until they get to the heel before you shoot. The leader needs to be taken alive.” Nicole instructed.

“Aye.”

Seeing that the bearded man’s team had entered the ambush circle, Nicole ordered her men to shoot, and they aimed all the guns at the bearded man’s team. The bearded man and his men immediately took cover while returning fire. In the chaos, both sides had lost some men.

As the bearded man's team was in plain sight, they suffered higher casualties. Seeing his men fall one by one, the bearded man ordered a retreat.

Before they could retreat far, Carl cut off their retreating route from the back. The bearded man was desperate and led his men to fight their way out. Carl's team was outnumbered, and most of them were killed or injured in the exchange of fire. As the bearded man and his men continued to fight their way out, Carl was almost overwhelmed .

At last, the bearded man gradually broke through the ambush.

Nicole and her men quickly closed in on Carl's side, and the two sides converged and pressed forward on the bearded man.

Nicole saw the bearded man's intention and aimed a shot at his leg. The bearded man fell to the ground. His men tried to help him, but they were killed by Carl.

Nicole and Carl led their men to surround them. The bearded man tried to finish himself off with a gun, but the gun was out of bullets, and Nicole took him alive. Nicole brought the bearded man to come in front of Zane, who looked over at him and asked,

“Who are you working for?”

The bearded man was stubborn and did not look at Zane. Carl stepped on the bearded man’s wound, causing him to grimace in pain.

“Speak!”

The bearded man gritted his teeth and fought back the pain. As Carl stepped harder on his wound, the bearded man sweated in pain.

“It’s Franco.”

“Franco?” Zane repeatedly mumbled the unfamiliar name; he had never heard of the man in all his life operating internationally.

“Why is he working against me?” Zane’s eyes were filled with puzzlement.

“Remember five years ago when you destroyed an underground organization?”

□ □ □