

My Wife is a Hacker by Summer

Chapter 934

□ □ □

Chapter 934

“The leader of that organization is Franco’s father.”

Hearing what happened five years ago, Zane could almost see the scene of that day. In the bloody battle, he succeeded in destroying the underground organization that had done so much harm to people. He killed the leader of the organization but did not expect that the child he spared was Franco, who was taking revenge today.

Back then, Franco hid in a dark corner and watched his father die in front of his eyes. Since then, he joined an organization and kept strengthening himself. Eventually, he took out the original leader and became the new overlord. He had been looking for Zane ever since. This time, trapping Zane was the best opportunity for him.

After knowing his enemy’s purpose, Zane fell into contemplation.

“What about this guy?” Nicole asked Zane for his opinion.

Zane looked at the bearded man.

“He is our bargaining chip. Bring him aboard.”

Franco, who was in the building and had still not received any news for a long time, started to have a bad feeling. ‘Beardie hasn’t sent a message back for so long. He must have been killed. Zane, I’m going to cut you into pieces.’

“Send two more teams to encircle Zane by land and sea respectively and bring Zane back to me alive!” Franco could not sit still.

He stood up, puffing away as he looked toward Roca Este. Soon, two teams of Franco’s men surrounded Roca Este by land and sea.

“Boss, there are two groups of men surrounding Roca Este from land and sea.” A henchman quickly ran in to report to Zane.

“It looks like Franco is desperate ,” Zane said in a calm voice.

Zane looked at Nicole.

“Find out how long until the boats arrive.”

“Okay.” Nicole went out to contact the rescue boats.

Soon, she walked back in and whispered in Zane’s ear.

“Everyone evac to the previous pickup points according to plan,” Zane instructed.

“Aye.”

“Carl, take the bearded man and go to the middle pickup point,” Nicole told Carl.

“What about you?” Carl looked at Nicole worriedly.

“I will protect Zane and escort him to the pickup point on the far right. See you in Armoda.”

“Take care.” The two of them glanced at each other, then went about their business.

Carl took the bearded man and arrived at the middle pickup point without incident, while Nicole and Zane were going to the far right pickup point. Nicole had informed the rescue team that the leftmost pickup point had been canceled, so one of the boats was acting as an escort for the other two boats.

The two teams sent by Franco quickly came around toward the center of Roca Este. The team that came from the land route encountered the minefield and lost some men, but there was no ambush after that. They quickly moved toward the house where Zane was hiding and carefully launched an encirclement of the empty house.

After throwing some smoke bombs, they stormed and searched the house without finding Zane. The leader of the group knew it was a trap and reported it to Franco. Franco was a little surprised to receive the news.

There was only one entrance and exit on the entire island. His men had been monitoring it, and no way Zane could have escaped. After pondering for a moment, a possibility came to mind.

□ □ □