Chapter 935

“Check out the beach immediately. They may try to escape by sea. Stop them and if necessary, kill Zane.”

Franco’s eyes were burning with anger. He would not let Zane escape, even if he had to kill Zane outright.

Nicole and Zane led an ambush at the pickup point. As the boat was about to arrive from a distance, a group of men appeared 300 feet away. Nicole had guessed that Franco’s men were looking for them and immediately ordered,

”Protect Zane and get on the boat.”

She took out her weapon and led a fight to the death with the enemy. When Carl heard gunfire coming from Nicole’s side, he knew that Franco’s men had caught up with her.

“Take cover,” Carl told the men behind him. Soon, there were two speedboats heading toward the place where the gunshots were heard. Carl saw the situation and had no time to think. He ordered.

“Stop these two speedboats.”

He knew that if these two speedboats got there, Nicole and Zane would be surrounded and in deep sh*t. So he had to stop these two speedboats here, no matter what.

Carl grabbed his sniper rifle and shot the helmsman, sending him dropping dead into the water, then led his men in a frantic blockade.

The other speedboat did not engage Carl but bypassed him and headed straight for Nicole. Carl handed the bearded man to his men and ran for Nicole and Zane.

As the boat coming to Nicole's rescue stopped at the pickup point, Nicole looked back.

"Take Zane on board."

Everyone fired back while retreating toward the rescue boat. Zane made his way to the boat with everyone protecting him.

Franco's men saw Zane on board and attacked even more frantically.

"Go." As the enemy's attack was getting more intense, Nicole decided to stay behind to buy time for Zane.

Receiving Nicole's command, the boat sped off at once. Zane shouted for the boat to stop, but the boat still sped away as fast as it could. He looked back from afar at Nicole, who was fighting to stop the enemy and felt bad and helpless. There was nothing he could not do except watch Nicole fight the enemy. Carl came to Nicole's side and said, "Zane has escaped to a safe distance. Come with me." Carl covered Nicole as she retreated toward his pickup point. Franco's men were pursuing them relentlessly, intending to wipe them out. But with Nicole and Carl working seamlessly together, Franco's men did not dare to close in on them. "Get on board first." Carl gestured for Nicole to go. Nicole glanced at Carl and quickly got on board. Carl grabbed the bearded man and used him as his shield. "Don't shoot. It's me!" The bearded man shouted desperately for fear that he would be killed. Franco's men saw the bearded man and stopped shooting. Carl took the opportunity to retreat toward the boat. The bearded man, freed now, limped toward his men, who started to shoot in Carl's direction again. Nicole saw the situation and immediately went to pull Carl onboard while telling the boat to set off. Just as Carl was about to get to the boat, Nicole was shot in the arm. But she endured the pain and pulled Carl onto the boat.

“You’re hurt?” Carl saw Nicole’s arm bleeding.

“I’m fine. Take out the bearded man.” Nicole instructed.

As the boat sped out to sea at full speed, Carl took up his sniper rifle and shot at the bearded man, killing him instantly.

When Franco’s men saw that the bearded man had died, they jumped on their speedboats and pursued Nicole and Carl. Nicole ignored her wounded arm and continued to shoot at the pursuers from the boat with Carl.

The pursuing speed boats were destroyed by machine gun fire.

On the other side, Zane’s boat had also got away. Both boats headed toward the escort boat. The three boats regrouped and steered toward Armoda.
