

My Wife is a Hacker by Summer

Chapter 949

□ □ □

Chapter 949

“It’s yummy. I want more.” Nicole opened her mouth and waited for him to continue feeding her.

Jared fetched another piece for her.

“You’re hungry? Let’s eat this first.”

“No. I just like to eat what you feed.” Not expecting herself to say something so embarrassing, she spun around, not daring to look at him. Jared smiled. He did not know that there was such a side to her. “How about one more bite?”

Jared teased her.

“No. Let’s eat together.” Nicole walked to the other side.

“Then sit down in the dining room. The steak will be ready soon.” The dining room was close to the kitchen.

Nicole waited patiently in the dining room. In the kitchen, Jared was still busy cooking, but he would occasionally glance at Nicole.

After a while, Jared walked over to Nicole with two plates of steaks. “It is ready. Let me cut it for you.”

Jared cut the steak and put it in front of Nicole. “Here you go.”

She picked up a slice of steak with a fork and put it into her mouth, chewing it with gusto. "It's so good."

Jared saw Nicole's expression and grinned with satisfaction.

"You have taken things from The Raven this time, and they aren't going to sit idly by." This was something that Jared was worried about. The Raven had members everywhere, and he feared they would attack Nicole. Nicole was silent for a moment. "I know.

But if I didn't take it, there would be even bigger trouble with the thing in their hands."

"But have you ever thought about it that even if they didn't have these two products, they could still control the factory?" What Jared said suddenly hit home with Nicole.

The fork in her hand froze in the air; she realized she had not thought about this yet. "Excuse me. I have got to make a call."

"The Raven may have already been doing something. So no hurry. Let's finish your meal first." Jared continued eating his steak calmly.

Nicole took a deep breath and picked up the fork to continue eating while her mind was racing.

After a while, she finished eating the steak and glanced at Jared. "I'm done eating." She then walked over to the couch and took out her phone. The call went through." Hey, Zane."

"What happened, Nicole?" Zane asked nervously, as he thought something was wrong.

"I'm all right, Zane. Is there any movement on The Raven's side?" Nicole asked bluntly.

"It's not clear yet. What's wrong?" "I'm worried that The Raven has sent someone to take over the factory.

Shall we send someone over to check it out?" Nicole spoke her mind.

"It is difficult to control the company. Even if The Raven did send someone over, it would be a bloody battle. When both sides have exhausted their men, only then will we intervene and take over, reducing the casualty to our side." It turned out that it was all in Zane's plan. He had sent no one because he was waiting for the other two sides to fight to their death.

"You have really thought the plan through."

"Don't worry about it, Nicole. Take a good rest in your country and spend more time with your family. You don't have to come back to base unless necessary." Zane knew she had people and things that she was worried about back home and did not want her to get involved to keep her safe.

“I know you’re doing this for my own good, but The Raven and I have already crossed paths, and they are definitely going to come after me. So I can’t sit here and do nothing.”

“Things may not be the way you think, Nicole. You stay with Jared first, and I will contact you whenever there is anything going on.” –

“Okay. Feel free to contact me if you need me to do anything.” After hanging up, Nicole went back to the couch and sat down.

□ □ □