Chapter 950

Jared looked at the spiritless Nicole and asked, “What happened?”

Nicole looked at him with a sad face. “Zane won’t let me take part in the action.” “Apparently, he has his own plans.” Jared looked at Nicole nonchalantly.

“Stop thinking about it. Rest early,” Jared said, wanting to carry Nicole upstairs. “Go to rest so early? I have just had my meal and still want to watch TV for a while.”

“I will accompany you, then.”

“Don’t you have to work?” Nicole looked at him curiously.

“Not today. Nothing is more important to you.” Jared suddenly sweet-talked her.

Nicole leaned toward Jared. “By the way, I forgot to ask, How did you show up at the launch event and save me?”

“Do you remember when I told you about the multinational company that held the launch event?”

Nicole suddenly remembered it. “I didn’t know this was the company you were talking about. Shouldn’t it have held the event earlier?”

“It was postponed.” “No wonder. So how did you suddenly appear when I was fighting them?” Nicole had not revealed herself at the venue, so she wondered how Jared knew she was there.

“I noticed you not long after I entered the venue. Otherwise, you would have been a hostage by now.”

“Hostage? You are underestimating me. If I hadn’t been injured, those people wouldn’t have been my match at all.

“It doesn’t matter anymore. If you don’t want to watch TV, go upstairs and rest.” Jared warned.

“I’m watching.”

The next day, Nicole woke up in Jared’s arms. She wondered how she got upstairs last night-she guessed she must have fallen asleep halfway watching TV.

Nicole was just about to get up when Jared said, “You’re awake.”

She looked back at Jared. “You’re already awake?”

“Certainly earlier than you did. Let’s wash up together.” Jared took her hand and walked toward the washroom. He helped Nicole squeeze the toothpaste on the toothbrush and handed it to her. She was stunned for a second, surprised by his action. But seeing the toothbrush in her hand, she had to believe it.

“What are you waiting for?” Jared was already standing beside her and washing up, then looking at Nicole in puzzlement.

“Nothing.”

After breakfast, Nicole wanted to have a good rest today. She looked at Jared. “You go to work and don’t accompany me. I want to take a break on my own.”

“Okay, there is an important meeting in the morning, and I will come back at noon to cook for you.” Jared planted a kiss on Nicole’s forehead and left the villa.

Suddenly, the phone rang. Nicole picked it up and saw that it was Ms. Emerson.

“Nicole, the exam falls this weekend. Can you take it?” Ms. Emerson asked her.

“Yes, Ms. Emerson. By the way, how is everyone else?”

Nicole had not been to school for a long time, and she wondered if everyone had put effort into their study while she, as the class monitor, was away.

“Everyone is doing great and misses you very much. They all look forward to your return to guide them in their study.” Ms.

Emerson said with a smiling voice on the phone.

“I will return soon.”

“Then I will leave you to it. Bye-bye.” Ms. Emerson hung up.

“Bye-bye.”

[Kelly, is there any progress on your side?]
