

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 961

Chapter 961 Gloria glanced at Daniel and gestured for him to make the call.

Daniel got the hint and got up to call Nicole while Norah was in the living room trying to calm Karen and Raine down.

“Nicole, are you up yet?” Daniel asked with a slightly urgent tone.

“Yup, Dad. What’s up? It’s still early in the morning.” Nicole could hear the urgency in Daniel’s tone.

“Raine and her mother came looking for you.”

Nicole immediately understood what Daniel meant. “I will be right back.” After she hung up the phone, she stepped on the gas pedal and drove to her father’s house.

“Nicole will be back soon. When she comes back, we will be clear once we ask.” Daniel’s face was no longer warm but cold.

“Tell her to hurry up. I don’t have that much time.”

Twenty minutes later, Nicole’s car was parked outside the house. As soon as she stepped out of the car, she heard Karen’s voice in the house. She went inside and saw five people sitting in the living room.

Karen’s anger flared up when she saw Nicole. “Look what you’ve done.”

Nicole swept an icy glance over at Karen and Raine, who was still crying. “What are you two doing here?”

“You beat Raine up. How could you do that? Hurry up and apologize to Raine,” Karen scolded Nicole in a stern voice.

“Apologize?” Nicole looked at Karen with amusement and a sneer. “Are you mistaken? She should thank me.”

“What did you say?” Karen stood up, wanting to hit her.

Nicole grasped Karen’s wrist and reminded her in a frosty voice. “You better be respectful as an elder, or it won’t look good on you if you lose your decency.”

“Let go,” Karen shouted angrily. “Nicole, be respectful.” Gloria scolded.

Nicole glanced at Gloria, then let go of Karen’s wrist.

“See? Now she even dares to hit me. What else can’t she do? That’s your good daughter.” Karen looked at Daniel and Gloria reproachfully.

Gloria was upset with the way Nicole had just behaved. Although Karen was nasty, she was, after all, Nicole’s elder, and Nicole should not have disrespected her elders.

“Nicole, apologize to your aunt.” Gloria scolded.

Nicole frowned and looked expressionlessly at Gloria. “

She was the one who wanted to hit me. I was just defending myself. I’m not at fault.”

“You—“Gloria could not find a word to respond. “That’s enough. Let’s all stop arguing. I believe what Nicole said. There must be some kind of misunderstanding.”

“What misunderstanding? Raine is sitting right here. You can all see it. It’s a fact that she was beaten.” Karen still looked at Nicole with viciousness.

“Do you all still want to solve the problem? Everyone calm down,” said Daniel as he could not stand Karen anymore.

It was the first time Karen saw Daniel lose his temper. She was startled and instantly shut up.

Daniel calmed down a bit and looked at Nicole. “Were you there when Raine was beaten?”

“I was there.”

“Look, she was there.” Karen reprimanded whenever she saw a chance.

“Will you let me finish?” There was no warmth in Daniel’s voice.

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 962

Chapter 962

“Did you hit Raine?”

“I didn’t.”

“Liar. It is obvious that you hit Raine. You are lying through your teeth.”

Daniel ignored Karen and looked at Raine. “Did Nicole hit you?”

Raine continued to sob as she dared not look up to meet Nicole’s eyes.

“What are you asking again? Here’s the injury on her arms.” Karen pulled up Raine’s sleeves and showed it to them.

Raine’s arms were covered with scratches, which was apparently the doing of girls.

“Nicole, how do you explain the scratches on Raine’s arms?” Daniel looked at Nicole intently.

“These scratches happened when she was fighting with someone else. They don’t have anything to do with me.”

“Fighting with someone else? You mean Raine fought with other students at school?” Daniel caught the key point keenly. He understood it now. It seemed to him that the bruises on Raine’s arms were caused by someone else.

“Raine, keep your head up. Why didn’t you just say you got into a fight with someone else?” Daniel wanted to get an answer from Raine’s eyes.

Raine slowly looked up but avoided eye contact with Daniel. “I –I just forgot.”

Daniel could see at once that Raine was lying, and he felt relieved instantly. As long as Nicole did not hit anyone, everything else would be easy.

“You forgot? It was Nicole who hit you.” Karen heard that something was wrong and hurriedly interrupted Raine.

“You hurt Raine like this. If you sincerely apologize, I will let this slide. Otherwise, I will make you pay back twice as much.” Karen threatened Nicole in front of Daniel and Gloria.

Without waiting for Daniel and Gloria to speak, Nicole said morosely, “I will not admit what I didn’t do. If you want to threaten me, you’ll pay the price.”

Nicole’s words stabbed into Karen’s heart like an icy blade.

“Karen, there must be something that you have not understood clearly.” Daniel glanced at Karen.

“Fine. Since you will not apologize, don’t blame me for what is coming. Daniel, that’s the good daughter you have here.”

“Raine, let’s go!” Karen did not expect that her attempt to denounce Nicole did not work. So she angrily brought Raine to leave.

Daniel did not bother to stand up. “Maria, from now on, don’t let anyone from that family in.”

“Yes, sir.” Maria was too frightened to breathe.

“Nicole—”

“I have to go to class, so I’m leaving.” Nicole did not even give them a chance to explain and turned around to leave. Daniel looked at Nicole and sighed as she went.

“Wait for me, Nicole.” Norah chased out.

Nicole got in the car, not bothering to look at Norah as she drove off. Norah stomped her foot in anger. ‘You escaped again. Nicole, you are really difficult to deal with.’

Chloe was relieved to see her new shoot come to an end. It was a waste of her time to be in this studio all day and not see Jared at all.

“Kelly, make an appointment with Henry for me. Tell him I’m waiting for him at the Blue Whale Restaurant.” Chloe told Kelly.

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 963

Chapter 963 “Okay, I will make the call right away.” In the Blue Whale Restaurant, Chloe found a seat by the window while Kelly waited for her in the car.

Not long after, Kelly saw Henry get out of the car and head inside the Blue Whale Restaurant.

“I envy Chloe. She has good food and drink every day and gets to know those bigshots. I wish I could be like her.” Kelly sat in the car with an envious face.

Kelly was bored. She was fiddling with her phone. Suddenly the phone dropped, so she bent down to pick it up. While she was looking for wet wipes to wipe the phone, a bag in the corner caught her attention. Just before Chloe entered the restaurant, she deliberately changed her handbag and then put the bag she often carried in the corner of the car.

– Looking at the bag in the corner, Kelly started to speculate in her mind, wondering if the Dresden Green Diamond was in this handbag. She wanted to open it, but it seemed rude to open someone else's handbag without permission. So Kelly was in a predicament. 'It's better to open it and take a look. In case it's in there, I will pass the test.' After getting it right, she would not have to be an assistant again, and she might even be promoted to a higher position. Just thinking about it made her happy.

She gently opened the handbag and rummaged around for a while. Suddenly, her fingers felt a box. She took it out; it was unassuming. 'This box doesn't look like it contains a diamond, does it?' Kelly studied the box suspiciously. Driven by curiosity, she decided to open it and take a look. As she gently opened the box, a bright diamond came into view. 'Th– This is Dresden Green Diamond?'

Kelly could not believe her eyes. She rubbed them and looked at the box again. And there it was, the Dresden Green Diamond.

'My goodness! Chloe put such a valuable thing in a lousy box like this. She is gutsy. She doesn't have to go to such a great length just to test me, does she?' Kelly's heart was pounding as she could not contain the surprise of having the Dresden Green Diamond right in front of her eyes. She immediately took out her phone, snapped a picture, and sent it to Nicole, then closed the box and put it back, in place.

Nicole's phone buzzed as she received a message from Kelly. She took a look by clicking on Kelly's avatar, and there was a picture of Dresden Green Diamond. She slammed on the brakes to stop the car, then zoomed in on the picture and examined the photo carefully.

"Kelly? Is the diamond still with you?" Nicole asked in a whisper.

"Yeah, I'm the only one in the car right now," Kelly told Nicole.

"You're in the car by yourself? Where are you?"

"I'm in the parking lot of the Blue Whale Restaurant."

"Hold it right there and guard the diamond." Nicole hung up the phone, floored the gas pedal, and drove toward the Blue Whale Restaurant.

Chloe and Henry were sitting across from each other in the restaurant.

“Mr. Johnston, what have you been up to lately? I haven’t even seen you for a long time.” Chloe poured a glass of red wine for Henry.

“Alas, Jared is in charge of all of Johnston Group’s projects while I can only manage the branch. What else can I be busy with?” Henry was not too happy with his nephew.

“Then you should talk to him. Ask him to transfer you to the head office.”

“Hmph, that’s easy to say. I would be thankful if he didn’t kick me out of the company. How could he transfer me to the head office?” Henry picked up his glass and took a sip.

“You are so capable. It must be Jared who doesn’t know you yet. If you can pull some strings to place me in a position where I can see Jared, I won’t forget your help when I’m finally with him.” Chloe picked up her wine glass and clinked glasses with him.

“Isn’t that commercial shoot you’re on pretty good?” “It’s not good at all. I can’t see Jared at all except for filming.” Chloe complained.

“Doesn’t he even go to the shooting studio now to see the progress?” Henry asked in puzzlement.

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 964

Chapter 964 “I could only go once a month and just talk to the director and leave. There was no chance to approach him.” Chloe recalled with a sigh of frustration.

“Okay, I will think of a way.”

“By the way, did your grandfather like the diamond I asked you to bring to him last time?” After Henry gave the diamond, he had not received a call from Mr. Riddle Sr., so he was grumbling a bit secretly.

“Grandpa loved that diamond. He asked me to thank you on his behalf.” Chloe lied to Henry without batting an eyelid.

“As long as he likes it, I will send him another gift when I get another collection.”

“Your father has a project in his hands that is looking for a partner recently, right?” Henry had found out a few days ago about a ten billion dollar project in Damien’s hands that was in progress.

“You have really gotten your information quickly and know everything that I don’t know yet. I will ask about this for you later and let you know when I have any news.” Chloe smiled and looked at Henry.

“Thank you. I will do my best to get you a position that can give you access to Jared.” Henry’s eyes shone with shrewdness.

“Then, thank you, Mr. Johnston.” Nicole parked the car and found Chloe’s car based on Kelly’s location.

“Hey, Kelly.”

“Miss Riddle.”

“Can I take a look at the diamond?” Nicole looked over at her.

“Sure.” Kelly took out the box and handed it to Nicole.

Nicole looked at the unassuming box and gently opened it. Inside was indeed the Dresden Green Diamond. She took a high-quality imitation Dresden Green Diamond out of her pocket and switched it with the real one. “Put this back. Your appraisal is very successful. In a few days, you will receive a notice from the personnel department, and the rest has nothing to do with you. It’s a test for Chloe this time. Whatever she asks you, just say you don’t know.”

“Does Chloe have to take the test too?” Kelly asked in bafflement.

“Yes, her test is a little more difficult. If you tell her about it during the test, both of you will be disqualified or even terminated.” Nicole deliberately scared her so that she would not tell Chloe what had happened.

“Don’t worry. I won’t help her cheat. She needs to depend on her ability to pass the test. But there is one thing I don’t understand ; both diamonds are the same, so why do you have to swap them?” Nicole was not afraid of her knowing. “That one is a high quality imitation. It is too risky to use the real one all the time. No one can afford to lose it, so the company decided that using a high-quality imitation would be more appropriate.”

“So, they should have used a high-quality imitation long ago. This time, I don’t have to worry about it anymore.” Kelly sighed with relief.

“I’m leaving now. Stay in touch and let nothing slip,” Nicole said.

“Okay.”

Henry and Chloe finished their meal. They walked out of the Blue Whale Restaurant and said goodbye after giving each other a hug.

Chloe got into her car and said, slightly inebriated, "Kelly, drive home."

"Okay." Kelly started the car and drove toward Chloe's place.

Chloe crashed out after arriving home, completely forgetting about checking the diamond.

The following morning was a sunny day. Nicole had her breakfast and went to school as usual.

There were three days left before the exams, and everyone was doing their best to make the final push. "Everyone, there are still three last days. I hope you will cherish these three days and focus all your attention on your studies. Once the exams are over, no one will care how much you want to play." Ms. Emerson stood at the podium to give her classmates a pep talk.

"What are you looking at, Nicole?" Ms. Emerson looked over at Nicole.

"Nothing." Ms. Emerson nodded. "I hope the top of the grade will still come from our class this year."

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 965

Chapter 965 "Go for it, everyone." Nicole had done all her homework and left the classroom with her books. Gary saw her go out and followed her.

"Are your homework all done?" Nicole asked him.

"Almost. Where are you going?" Gary looked at her.

"Almost is not good enough. Ms. Emerson will fix you good and proper if you drag the class back." "So, where are you going?"

Nicole stopped and looked at him. "Does where I go have anything to do with you?"

"Please don't mind. I was just asking." Gary hurriedly explained. Nicole shot him a look and then walked toward the library. Gary stopped talking and followed Nicole.

The library was quiet, and Nicole found a seat at the side to read a book while Gary sat down not far from her, keeping an eye on Nicole from time to time.

Chloe got up with a dry mouth and went to the dining room for water. Recalling what Henry had said last night, she dialed Miley's number. "Hello, Mom?"

"Chloe, aren't you busy today?" "After the commercial shoot, I can take some time off. What have you been up to lately?" Chloe asked casually.

"I'm not busy with anything. If you're off, why don't you come home for a few days?" Miley had not seen her for a long time, so she missed her.

"Yeah, why not? I will pack up and then go home for a few days," Chloe said happily. "Okay, what do you like to eat? I'll prepare it for you." Miley was filled with joy when she heard Chloe was coming home.

"Of course, the dishes you make."

"Okay. I guarantee you will get to eat as soon as you get back. Go pack up. I will prepare the ingredients," Miley said.

"Okay, bye." Chloe put the phone down and came to sit down on the couch. When she saw the handbag on the coffee table, it reminded her of the diamond. So she quickly checked it. "It scared the hell out of me." Looking at the diamond in her hand, Chloe thought of Nicole. "Aren't you going to investigate? Now that the diamond is in my hand, I will see how you can investigate it." She put the diamond away and went wash up.

Nicole was concentrating on her book in the library when someone walked up to her and sat down. She looked up and found that it was Harvey. "How did you know I was here?" Nicole knew Harvey did not come to the library to read books.

"I asked someone else."

"Nicole, in a few days, Aegis Corporation is going to hold a project seminar, and all the companies working on their projects are going to send people over. Sean and I have discussed it and agreed that it would be best for you to go. "Harvey only talked about work, so Nicole was not so antipathetic. "Me?" Nicole did not want to go at all. 'Why do they think I'm the best fit?'

"Yes, after all, the boss of Aegis Corporation knows you. So you are the most suitable person." Harvey looked at her with firm eyes. "What if I don't want to go?" Nicole looked at him indifferently. "It doesn't matter if you don't want to go. At worst, Riddle Corporation will not get another project from Aegis Corporation." "Don't you know that Riddle Corporation has always spoken on merit?" Nicole was not too happy with Harvey's statement.

"On the Aegis Corporation project, we all know why Riddle Corporation was successful in the bid. It certainly wasn't just because of the Ellison family," Harvey said, and the meaning could not have been clearer.

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 966

Chapter 966

Nicole did not want to argue with him. Indeed, she had more or less everything to do with winning the last bid." Stop interrupting my reading."

"Okay. The flight is booked for the day after the exam. I'm leaving." Harvey got up and left.

After Harvey left, Gary slowly moved over to Nicole and looked at Harvey as he went. "What did he want with you?"

Nicole scowled at him. "When did you get here?"

"I—I came with you. But I was reading over there when I saw Harvey. So I came over to ask." Gary looked as if he had a guilty conscience.

"Since when do you have to ask about my business? Go and do your homework." Gary went back to his seat and started reading seriously.

It was the day of the exam. Nicole entered the exam hall and came out in about 20 minutes.

The invigilator sat at the podium and looked at Nicole's paper; this was the student who had submitted her exam paper the quickest under his invigilation. Previously, students who turned in their papers so fast were those who did not study, but Nicole's paper was clearly and neatly answered, and she did not miss a single question.

Nicole walked out of school, relieved that she was done with her exams and that she no longer had to go to school to deal with lessons. She got in her car and floored the gas pedal to drive to her grandfather's house.

Mr. Riddle Sr. was happy to see her. "Don't you have classes today?" "The exam is just over today," Nicole said. "How did you do on the exam?" Mr. Riddle Sr. looked at her.

"Zero pressure. Grandpa, how have you been lately?" This was the first time she came to see her grandfather after she returned from abroad.

"To quote you earlier, zero pressure. My everyday life as it is; just boring." Mr. Riddle Sr. joked.

"You sound like you are a bit tired of your current life? Do you still want to experience something exciting?" Nicole asked tentatively.

“What other exciting things can I experience with my old bones? The daily news is exciting enough.” Mr. Riddle Sr. beamed.

“I haven’t been following the news lately. Is there something big going on?” Nicole looked at him with bewilderment.

“Many people have been hurt by the recent unrest in many places abroad.” Mentioning these things made Mr. Riddle Sr. feel sad. “Yeah? I have been so busy with other things lately that I haven’t noticed.” Nicole could not help but think of Zane and Carl, that maybe they were on a mission in a foreign country at the moment. “Grandpa, I brought my grandma to the villa you gave me earlier. You won’t be angry, right?”

“Oh? Why didn’t you tell me earlier? I would have given Mrs. Wallace Sr. a reception, which should have been done out of courtesy.” “How is her health?” Mr. Riddle Sr. looked at Nicole with an avuncular face.

“She is healthy. She wanted to come over to visit you before, but she didn’t because she was afraid it would disturb you,” Nicole said.

“What disturbance? I’m bored to death here alone all day.

“Well, you go back now and pick up Mrs. Wallace Sr., and we will have a casual dinner together tonight.” Mr. Riddle

Sr. said with a big smile.

“Okay, then I’ll go now.”

butler. “Ask the chef to come to the house. I want to entertain an important guest tonight. Also, get the family over here. I want to introduce them to an honored guest.”

“Yes, Sr.”

Nicole drove back to the sea-view villa. Her grandmother was watering the flowers in the garden.

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 967

“Grandma, you’re watering the flowers?”

“Are the exams over, Nicole?”

“Yeah.”

"How did the exam go?" Mrs. Wallace Sr. was concerned about her studies.

"I don't think it's a problem."

Mrs. Wallace Sr. saw Nicole's confidence and nodded her head. "Glad to hear that. You can relax now."

"My grandpa asked me to come and pick you up. He invites us to have a family dinner tonight."

"Tonight? Will we disturb him?" Mrs. Wallace Sr. asked endearingly.

"No. I will take you in now and change." Nicole helped her into the house. When Nicole came to the room, she found that Mrs. Wallace Sr.'s clothing was not suitable for attending dinner. So she drove Mrs. Wallace Sr. to the mall to buy some clothes. She realized it was her fault for only thinking of taking her grandmother shopping for clothes now, blaming herself for not having thought of it before.

"Why are we coming to the mall?" Mrs. Wallace Sr. felt dizzy looking at the busy mall. "You have been here for so long, and I can't believe I haven't even taken you to buy a few outfits. It's so unthoughtful of me. It just so happens that we have dinner to attend today, so let's pick out a few more sets." Nicole took Mrs. Wallace Sr.'s arm and headed into the mall.

"I have clothes. Don't spend unnecessarily." Mrs. Wallace Sr. disagreed that Nicole was spending money frivolously. "It is alright. I'm earning money now, and I can afford to buy you something better." Nicole led her into a shop.

"Hello, how can I help you?" A shop assistant came forward and asked. Her attitude was a bit haughty when she saw Nicole and Mrs. Wallace Sr. dressed plain and simple.

"Get my grandma some clothes that fit her. We have dinner to attend," Nicole said.

"Okay, just a moment." Nicole clearly sensed some impatience from the shop assistant, but she said nothing and took her grandmother aside to sit down.

"Miss, take a look at these dresses." The shop assistant took out some dated styles to try and fool Nicole.

"These styles seem to be old from the year before last, don't they? Nothing new?" Nicole asked.

INTO

"I'm sorry, Miss. The new arrivals are out of stock today, and the shop only has the old ones." The shop assistant looked disgustedly at Nicole and Mrs. Wallace Sr.

Nicole was about to get angry. But considering her grandmother was there, she calmed down and walked back to Mrs. Wallace Sr. "Grandma, this shop doesn't have the right style. Let's look at other shops."

"Okay." Nicole helped Mrs. Wallace Sr. to the other shops.

"Bring out this year's new clothing that fits my grandma, and let us have a look." Nicole was not polite this time as she spoke straight away.

The shop assistant swept her eyes at Nicole and Mrs. Wallace Sr. and waved her hand in disgust. "There are no clothes here for you two. Get out of here."

Nicole got furious. "Get your manager over here."

"The manager doesn't have time, so get out of here."

Nicole walked out to look at the billboards in the mall and then dialed a phone number. Soon the head of the mall came trotting over to Nicole. "Miss Riddle, I'm sorry to keep you waiting. What can I do for you?" Mr. Patel came up to Nicole respectfully and squeezed a flattery smile.

The shop assistant looked dumbfounded, wondering when Mr. Patel had ever been behaving like this. Usually, it was someone else who treated him like this.

"Mr. Patel, I was thinking of buying some clothes for my grandmother, but the shop assistants in several shops said they didn't have any. Is there nothing my grandma can wear in a mall as huge as yours?" Nicole questioned him nonchalantly.

Beads of sweat popped up on Mr. Patel's forehead, and he said flatteringly, "How can it be? There is everything that your grandma wants here. Which shops have you gone to? I will accompany you."

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 968

Chapter 968 "This is it." Nicole looked back at the shop assistant inside and led her grandmother in under her watchful eye.

"Mr. Patel, this is..."

"Don't you even recognize Miss Riddle? Go get her grandma some of the latest clothes this year," Mr. Patel said.

“Yes.” The shop assistant immediately did as she was told, not daring to delay for a second. Soon, the shop assistant held several sets of the current new clothes in front of Nicole. “Miss Riddle, it is my fault for not recognizing you. I apologize. These are the best clothes in our shop. Please have a look.”

Mr. Patel could immediately tell that there must have been friction between the shop assistant and Nicole before he arrived, and he hurriedly mediated. “Miss Riddle, if there is anything that doesn’t fit, I will immediately ask her to go and change it for you.”

Nicole was not one who was difficult to reason with. When she saw the sincerity of the shop assistant and Mr. Patel’s pleading, she let it slide. “Let’s give this one to my grandma to try on.”

The shop assistant hurriedly picked the outfit up and helped Grandma to put it on her. “You look so spirited in it. Miss Riddle, what do you think?”

Nicole looked at Mrs. Wallace Sr. It was really a matter of dressing up and dressing down; Mrs. Wallace Sr. looked much more refreshed in her new clothes, and her entire temperament was elevated. “Nice, it fits.”

“How do you feel, Grandma?” Nicole asked.

Mrs. Wallace Sr. looked happy in the mirror. “It looks good.”

Seeing how much her grandmother liked it, Nicole said to the shop assistant, “Same size; wrap these all up.” When Mrs. Wallace Sr. heard this, she said, “Why buy so many, Nicole? One is good enough. Clothes nowadays last ten years at least.” “It’s okay. You can change it every day.” Nicole would buy Mrs. Wallace Sr. any she liked. “You have such a dutiful granddaughter. We are so envious.” Mr. Patel praised.

Mrs. Wallace Sr. was all smiles.

“Miss Riddle, are you paying by cash or card?” The shop assistant asked with a smile.

“Card.” Nicole took out a gold card and handed it to the shop assistant.

Mr. Patel and the shop assistant froze when they saw the gold card, which was a limited edition gold card with the word Harmon on it. That someone could hold this card spoke volumes about her status.

“What are you waiting for? I’m in a hurry.” Nicole’s words jolted the two of them back to reality.

Mr. Patel did not even expect Nicole to come up with a gold card. He only knew her as Jared’s fiancée, not that she and Scott Harmon were friends.

After checking out, Nicole helped Mrs. Wallace Sr. downstairs while Mr. Patel carried her shopping bags behind her all the way to the car park.

Nicole helped her grandmother into the car and turned to Mr. Patel. “Thank you very much.”

“Don’t mention it. It is my pleasure to serve you. Please visit our mall again next time.” Mr. Patel smiled politely. “Bye–bye.” Nicole got in her car and drove off toward the sea–view villa.

Nicole was so happy to see her grandmother all groomed and dressed up.

“Grandma, from now on, you will wear it all like this. It’s classy.” Nicole praised.

Tia nodded from the sidelines.

Mrs. Wallace Sr. did not quite understand what Nicole was saying, but she looked at her and smiled, knowing in her heart that she was complimenting her. “Tia, we’re off to Mr. Riddle Sr.’s house. No need to wait for us for dinner tonight.” “Okay. Drive safe.”

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 969

Chapter 969 Nicole finished with Tia and drove Mrs. Wallace Sr. to Mr. Riddle Sr.’s house.

Mrs. Wallace Sr. looked with wonderment at the colorful lights as the car traveled through the city streets outside the car window. It was the first time in her life that she had seen such beautiful lights.

Nicole could see that Mrs. Wallace Sr. liked it, so she slowed the car down a bit so that her grandmother could watch a little longer.

Forty minutes later, Nicole’s car was parked up in the car pouch in her grandfather’s house.

She got out of the car and came over to Mrs. Wallace Sr.'s side to help her out." Take it slow," she said.

The family butler had been waiting for some time. When he saw Nicole and Mrs. Wallace Sr., he said, "Good day, madam. Miss Riddle, everyone is here. We're just waiting for you two."

"What do you mean? Is there someone else?" Nicole looked at the family butler.

"Everyone from the Riddle family is here." The family butler nodded.

Nicole was startled. "Why didn't Grandpa tell me about it?

She looked at Mrs. Wallace Sr. with a flash of concern." Grandma, let's go inside. Grandpa is waiting for you."

"Mrs. Wallace Sr., the Riddle family welcomes you."

"Mr. Riddle Sr., how's your health?" Mrs. Wallace Sr. greeted him.

"Pretty good. How about you?" Mr. Riddle Sr. gestured for Nicole to help Mrs. Wallace Sr. to her side.

"I can still move around."

The two looked at each other and smiled. They were seated before the others took their seats.

"Is this old lady Nicole's grandmother?" Chloe spoke into Miley's ear.

"Keep your voice down. You need to be polite when so many people are present." Miley reminded her.

Norah was annoyed and tired of seeing Mrs. Wallace Sr. Before she could get rid of one, another came, which was a real headache for her.

"Let me introduce you all to Mrs. Wallace Sr., who raised Nicole." Mr. Riddle Sr. smiled.

"Hello, Mrs. Wallace Sr." All greeted Mrs. Wallace Sr. politely.

Mrs. Wallace Sr. looked at them all and nodded with a smile. Mr. Riddle Sr. then introduced them to Mrs. Wallace Sr. "Over here is my eldest son's family of four."

"Over here is the second son and his family of five, and over there is the third son and his family of four." After the introductions were made, Mr. Riddle Sr. ordered the feast to begin. 1

"Mrs. Wallace Sr., please make yourself at home, as we are family. I have never visited you, so I would like to thank you for raising Nicole. No words can describe my gratitude." Mr. Riddle Sr. took a glass of wine to Mrs. Wallace Sr., and the others joined him in a toast.

"Nicole has been a good girl since she was small. I treat Nicole as my own granddaughter." Mrs. Wallace Sr. said.

Mr. Riddle Sr. nodded. "So, without further ado, let's enjoy the meal, shall we?"

Mrs. Wallace Sr. nodded. Nicole picked up a piece of lobster meat for her. "Grandma, this is delicious. Try it."

Halfway through the meal, Snow started asking about the diamond provocatively. "Didn't you say you would look into the diamond matter, Nicole? It's been so long. Isn't it time for something to be said? After all, that is a rare Dresden Green Diamond." Mr. Riddle Sr. looked at Snow with displeasure. "Today is a day of hospitality. Stop talking about that."

"Grandpa, this can't be put off any longer. It just so happens that everyone is here today, so let's just sort it out." Chloe spoke up. She was keen to see Nicole embarrassed in front of the family and Mrs. Wallace Sr.

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 970

Chapter 970 "Nicole, it is not too late for you to admit it, and it's not a shame to apologize to Grandpa in public."

"You won't be the only one to be embarrassed if you are exposed later." Chloe climbed on her high horse and swept her eyes at Nicole and then at Mrs. Wallace Sr.

Nicole smirked and asked rhetorically, "Chloe, if you admit it now, I can plead for you in front of grandpa. Grandpa is in a good mood today. Maybe he won't punish you heavily. If not, you won't be the only one to lose face later."

Chloe did not expect Nicole to ask her back, her heart skipping a beat, and she quickly adjusted her state of mind. She had hidden the real diamond, and no one knew where it was except her. So she thought Nicole must be bluffing “Nicole, I think you’re drunk without drinking. Since you suspect me, prove it to everyone.” Chloe challenged Nicole, knowing that she had no proof.

“Okay, at first, I did not want to say anything. But since you have asked for it, I will make it happen.” Nicole looked Chloe in the eyes with a sneer.

“Here’s what happened: before I left the country, Chloe asked me to bring a rare Dresden Green Diamond to grandpa. As I was in a hurry, I didn’t open it to confirm. After I got it to grandpa , I opened it and saw that it was an ordinary diamond. Snow and Raine can testify to it.” Nicole paused for a moment to look at them. Raine quickly stood up, as this was the best chance to embarrass Nicole. “I can testify that when we opened the box that day, it was indeed an ordinary diamond inside, so we deduced Nicole had swapped it midway. Grandpa was also present at that time.”

“What?” The others who were present heard this and looked at Nicole in shock.

“Nicole, how dare you swap Grandpa’s diamond? You’re so shameless . You even hit Raine the other day. I don’t understand why the Riddle family has someone like you.” Karen took advantage of the issue and took out her anger on Nicole.

“Nicole hit Raine?!” All the elders stepped out to criticize Nicole.

“Be quiet. Let Nicole finish her sentence.” Mr. Riddle Sr. knocked his staff on the ground.

Nicole ignored them and looked at Raine with a straight face. “You can now sit down.”

“I’m sure, at this point, you all think that I must have switched the diamond midway, right?”

“Who else could it be but you? Would Chloe swap the diamond she gave to her grandfather?” Damien glared at Nicole.

“I have to correct you here. It wasn’t Chloe who gave the diamond to Grandpa. It was Henry. He asked her to deliver the diamond. She ran into me, so she asked me to deliver it on her behalf.”

“Isn’t it the same? She ran into you. It’s not like she knew you were going to show up beforehand.” Snow was quick-witted in excusing Chloe as she saw fit.

“You’re right. How did she know I was bound to show up there?”

“This is the CCTV footage I took out of the building, so you all can watch it.” Nicole handed a flash drive to the family butler.

Chloe’s heart skipped a beat. She had had the building’s CCTV footage cleaned up, so she wondered where Nicole had gotten it from.

On the TV next to the living room, the family butler played the CCTV footage from the days leading up to the day of the incident. Nicole walked out. “Since the video is a little longer, please fast-forward it.

“Stop. Everyone, this was the time I went to see Jared. Now keep playing “Stop! Here’s a shot of Chloe watching me from the side, covering her face, but her shoes give her away. She was having an endorsement shoot of the new shoes of Johnston Group, so these shoes were not available on the market. Only during the endorsement shoot did she have the opportunity to wear them. Continue the video.”

“Nonsense. That wasn’t me at all. I was wearing flip flops that day.” Chloe saw a flaw and retorted.
