

Rebirth of Wild Fire - Chapter 5

Chapter 5 - Crispy Electric Eel Meat Recipe (Gold)

The city of St. Gall is a main city. If you want to upgrade, you can use the teleport to go to various local villages, but villages can only provide players to level 10. After level 10, you still have to upgrade outside the main city.

Lu Yang ran back to the safe zone. At this time, there were a lot of players in the safe zone. Players continued to enter the game, and players continued to teleport to various towns to upgrade.

I came to Giant Town through the teleporter. The reason why the town is named is not really that there are giants, but because the town is at the junction of the plains and mountains, and the mountains next to it reflect like giants at sunset. Get the name.

When Lu Yang came here, the level 1 to level 2 monster field outside the town was already full of players. On the vast plain, the crowded stations were full of people.

A level 1 horned deer just brushed out, before waiting to lower his head to graze, the six or seven long knives around at the same time waved out, and the horned deer died on the green grass.

When everyone hurriedly looked at the experience bar, a player suddenly jumped up in excitement and said with a laugh: "Experience is mine, experience is mine."

Lu Yang laughed for a while, remembering that this was also the scene in his last life. The official of "Second World" thought that many people would play the game, and opened 50 newbie villages to each main city, but the first day of the game was not thought of. There are 10 million players entering the game, and even if there are 50 novice villages in each main city, each village will have to accommodate 20,000 people.

When designing the game "Second World", in order to prevent players from easily reaching one or two hundred levels, the game's experience was calculated very precisely, and each level is very difficult.

But everyone who knows the game knows that level 10 players can kill level 13 monsters, but level 0 players can beat level 1 monsters, barely played level 2 monsters, and level 3 monsters can't be killed.

The area of level 1 monsters and level 2 monsters is so large. Now most players are crowded in the level 1 monster area, and a small number of them go to the level 2 monster area. The team is struggling to kill the monsters. The players are helpless. Officials are at a loss.

However, the more so, the more interesting the player is, because the charm of the game lies in this. In such a relatively fair environment, who is willing to put in more time and effort, who has experience, awareness, The higher the trick, the more powerful.

Lu Yang's previous life is also like this group of people, it is difficult to blame among the crowd, but now that Lu Yang has revived his whole life, naturally there is no need to do so.

The purpose of coming to Giant Town is also because there are bugs that can kill monsters, but Lu Yang still needs to do one thing before killing monsters.

As a mage player, what is the biggest sorrow, is the poor!

Most of the reasons for being poor are to buy medicines. A good master in the position does not need to add too much blood, but a master in the best position also lacks blue.

In order to solve this problem, the previous mage players made various efforts. Later, some players discovered a secret. Outside of Xinshou Village, there were some strange people. These people are not useless passersby, but can teach. Advanced NPCs that give players special skills.

For example, chef Bradman, who is located under a tree by the moat in front of the giant town, always asks for electric eel meat.

Many people took this task, but no one could complete it, because they searched the bottom of the river and couldn't find the electric eel. Later, someone found the electric eel at the bottom of a river two kilometers away from the moat. After handing it to Bradman, Bradman actually gave the player a golden cooking recipe.

Crispy electric eel meat, although it is only a level 0 cooking product, is gold. It restores 200 health and 350 mana to the character within 30 seconds of use, and gains an intelligence by 5 after 8 seconds of continuous use. Click to restore 8 magic buffs every 5 seconds for 1 hour.

For all the mage players who burned blue in the early days, this is a very practical buff, which allows the mage to have a chance to kill monsters with too much health by slowly returning to blue when there is no blue in the battle.

There was an uproar in the strategy. Numerous novice players scrambled to do this task. Lu Yang remembered that this task was also because he was also one of the countless scramblers in his last life.

Out of the gate of Giant Town, two sword-armored soldiers stood on both sides of the gate, and under a big tree, Lu Yang saw chef Bradman under a tree less than 20 meters in front of the gate.

Watching this fat middle-aged man anxiously rubbed his hands and fished by the river, Lu Yang went to Bradman and asked, "Sir, what are you doing?"

As if to talk, Bradman said excitedly: "Oh my God, my favorite girlfriend will come to my house to date with me tomorrow, and name my favorite crispy electric eel meat, but this * Why does the electric eel disappear from the river? If anyone can help me find the electric eel meat, I would like to teach him how to make crispy electric eel meat. "

Lu Yang smiled and said, "Sir, don't worry, I'm an adventurer. Let me help you."

Bradman folded his hands happily and said, "Really, sir, can you really help me find the electric eel?"

Lu Yang picked up the fishing fork beside Bradman and said, "Of course there is no problem. Waiting for me to stay here, I will definitely come back ~ www.mtlnovel.com ~ System prompt: You have accepted the commission of chef Bradman, Look for ten pieces of electric eel meat.

The game is full of simulations. Fish is in the water. Lu Yang's primary fire spells cannot be used in the water. Only the harpoon provided by the system can be used.

Farewell to Bradman, Lu Yang ran towards the river almost two kilometers across the lake, half an hour later, Lu Yang found a river.

System prompt: You found Landau River

The river had originally been a level one, but was killed by players like wolf-like tigers.

Lu Yang came under the bridge near the river, and the players around him immediately became nervous, thinking that there was one more to grab the monster.

A warlock player frowned and said, "Friend, change places. There are already enough robbers here."

Other players also said in dissatisfaction: "Yeah, we have been covered here, please change your place."

Lu Yang glanced at everyone, sneering too lazy to jump into the river under the bridge with nonsense.

A gray bar appeared on Lu Yang's head. This is the time that the player can move in the water, which is about two minutes. After this time, the player died directly.

In the selection of death methods in the last life, drowning firmly occupied the first place. Many people did not know that the first death was dedicated to the aggrieved method of drowning.
