Chapter 211 Why Don't You Look at Her?

Two hours later, there was still no news.

Terrence stood by the door, and his nerves were already numb.

Inside the room, there was a tense operation.

The nurse carefully opened a safe and took out the light blue medicine inside.

Keyon's gaze grew deeper as he closely stared at their movements.

The special medicine that he had spent twenty years researching could be useful now.

Keyon half-knelt beside Alexa, and his voice was gentle. He softly whispered into her ear.

"Alexa, our family and the Ramsey family are enemies. From now on, forget about him."

On the bed, Alexa moved her fingers slightly. It seemed that she responded to him.

Seeing this, Keyon continued his words.

"I have already found out that our foster parents were killed by Terrence!"

Beep...

The instruments on the side suddenly issued a sharp alarm. The doctors' expressions changed.

They nervously reported, "The patient's heartbeat is starting to speed up, and her blood pressure is rising sharply..."

"It's time."

Keyon was calm, and then he covered Alexa's eyes.

A few minutes later, the door to the operating room opened.

The people outside the door immediately rushed over. Terrence directly went forward to stop the doctor.

"How is my wife? Is everything going well? Where is she?"

The doctor in front of Terrence sighed regretfully.

Then he said in a heavy voice, "Mr. Ramsey, we have tried our best to save her."

After saying that, the nurses pushed the bed out.

Seeing that the white cloth had completely covered the person on the bed, Brenton instantly rushed over.

"No... Alexa! Alexa, don't play jokes with me..."

Terrence stood stiffly to the side, never looking back at the bed.

The crowd on the side was in a mess, but Terrence felt that the world was so silent.

It was so quiet that he could even hear his own heartbeat.

Brenton completely lost his mind and madly rushed forward, punching at Terrence.

Terrence did not dodge, and his expression did not change at all.

“Terrence, look at her! Why don’t you look at her? Don’t you dare?”

Brenton’s eyes were swollen, and there were even tears in his eyes.

Brenton thought that Alexa was dead because of Terrence!

“You bastard! If it weren’t for you, she wouldn’t have been so weak!” Brenton roared hysterically.

The hatred in Terrence’s heart grew crazily. He raised his hand to wipe away the blood at the corner of his mouth.

Then he sneered, “Why didn’t you tell me about it before? Didn’t she tell you everything?”

“Bastard!”

Brenton cursed angrily and waved his hand to punch Terrence again.

“Enough!” Carissa shouted. She was choking. Then she said, “Alexa is still here. Don’t argue in front of her!”

At this time, the nurse also brought a few documents.

“The family member can take her body away after signing the documents.”

Hearing this, Terrence suddenly pushed Brenton away and looked firmly at the bed.

“I want to take her back.”

However, Kieran timely stood in front of Terrence.

“Alexa is my legal wife. You are not qualified to take her away.”

Terrence’s gloomy face turned even darker. He stood in front of Kieran and didn’t leave. Terrence had made up his mind.

“You can’t stop me from taking away the person I love.”

“Alexa just died. Just let her rest in peace, okay?”

Kieran’s voice was low, but it instantly made Terrence heartbroken.

The moment they disappeared from his sight, Terrence's heart ached painfully. He staggered a few steps.

"Alexa..."

Terrence murmured, but there was no response.

Brenton walked towards Terrence with hatred. When he saw Terrence's lonely expression, he showed a vengeful grin.

"Terrence, for you, it doesn't matter what kind of person she is, right?"

Brenton resisted the surging hatred with all his might. He tried to control himself.

Brenton said in a low voice, "Terrence, she probably hasn't told you yet. That child is yours."

"What?" Terrence's voice was hoarse, and there was a hint of disbelief. "What did you say?"

"But there's no point in saying all this now." Brenton's face darkened. "Terrence, you killed her with your own hands!"

After saying that, Brenton stumbled out of the corridor.

After Kieran took Alexa away, he immediately took her out of the hospital.

When Terrence came to his senses, it was too late.

"Terrence!"

David arrived. He helped Terrence up before Terrence fell.

"I already know what happened." David frowned. "The dead cannot be revived. Don't be so sad."

"No! She is not dead!" Terrence suddenly roared. "She is such a stubborn person. How can she die so easily?"

"Terrence..." David sighed helplessly and added, "I can contact a forensic doctor."

"No." Terrence immediately refused. "She..."

Before he finished his words, Terrence's mind went blank before he fell down heavily.

The whole city was in a mess that night.

Terrence lay in the sick room all night. But he woke up before six o'clock.

The moment he opened his eyes, Terrence subconsciously looked to his side.

But there was no one.

What happened last night was like a dream to him.

Terrence irritably pulled out the infusion tube and immediately went to the garage.

He was about to start the car.

David suddenly appeared.

“Where are you going?”

“I want to bring Alexa back.”

David paused for a moment.

He told Terrence directly, “At four o’clock today, the Powell family has already held a funeral at Powell’s Cemetery.”

“I want to see her one last time...”

Terrence said these words with difficulty, and his breathing became very heavy.

“There is still her luggage in Duckdale Villa, right? Go back and tidy it up. Don’t throw it away. Remember that, David suggested.

Terrence loosened the steering wheel desperately and followed David like a walking corpse.

In Duckdale Villa. Things were as usual. The servants were doing what they were supposed to do. The cook was preparing food in the kitchen. Hilary warmly welcomed Terrence.

“Mr. Ramsey. Mr. Cooper. Where’s Mrs. Ramsey?”

Terrence’s breathing stopped, and he walked into the living room in a heavy mood.

David quietly gave Hilary a look. Then Hilary left. It was quiet in the living room.

Terrence ran straight to Alexa’s bedroom and locked the door the moment he entered.

Good... Everything here was the same as before.

He aimlessly wandered around the room a few times, picked up the eyebrow brush that Alexa had used, and put it down...

However, Terrence was careless and knocked over the papers on the table.

The papers fell, and Terrence quickly went to pick them up as if Alexa would immediately enter the room to scold him.

Chapter 212 Can I Hug You Again?

But she didn’t show up...

When Terrence saw the contents of the manuscript, his movements suddenly stopped.

Other than some exquisitely designed jewelry, the rest of the manuscripts were all about children's clothes

Terrence picked up the manuscripts, his hands trembling.

Alexa had been eager for the future, right?

But what did Terrence do... He kept using other women to irritate Alexa, forcing her to care about him
Terrence even hurt the people she cared about in front of her

Terrence felt his heart begin to ache again. He reached out his hand, but he could not catch anything Alexa would never come back. And she would never forgive him.

Terrence fell heavily onto the bed and stared blankly at the draft in his hand.

He had suffered before, and he had almost died But Terrence never felt so desperate

He raised his hand to wipe his cheek. There were tears

"Alexa, don't forget the way home Terrence whispered. 'I will definitely come to pick you up

At the same time, someone knocked on the door excitedly.

"Terrence, come out!"

Hearing Rebekah's voice, Terrence came to his senses. He put down the things and went out

But as soon as he opened the door, Rebekah slapped him.

Terrence did not dodge, and a red mark immediately appeared on his face.

Rebekah leaned on Jason. She was gasping in anger.

"Terrence, how can I raise such an ungrateful person like you!"

Terrence lowered his head silently and did not say anything.

"Did we tell you to take good care of Alexa? Why didn't you listen to us?"

"I'm sorry..." Terrence said with difficulty. "I'm sorry."

"What's the use of apologizing now? Do we need your apology?" Rebekah grew even angrier.

Terrence stood silently in front of them. He was in a low mood.

Jason's expression became even more terrifying. But in front of his wife, he tried his best to maintain his rationality.

"We have already gone to visit Alexa. You..."

Jason let out a long sigh in disappointment, his heart aching as he said, "When that child was aborted, we could see his shape

Rebekah became angry again. She trembled as she pointed at Terrence, choking with sobs

“It was Alexa who saved your life. How can you forget it all?”

Terrence was stunned. He suddenly held his forehead and leaned against the door in pain.

Terrence, what’s wrong?” Rebekah exclaimed in surprise.

“I’m fine.” Terrence continued to ask, “When did Alexa save my life?”

“When you were 17 years old, you were attacked on an island. The person who saved you was Alexa. We have figured it out.”

Jason said it clearly, word by word. Terrence’s mind went blank, and he fell down again.

When he woke up at the hospital, David was standing by his bedside

“Terrence, I think it’s necessary for you to do a memory check

Terrence sat up with a headache. After a while, he said in a low voice

“Let Edwin come to see me.”

“Terrence, do you still want to continue to investigate what happened in the past?”

Terrence did not answer and kept silent.

David did not say anything and immediately asked the nurse to prepare for the examination

After the report came out, David came with a serious face.

“Terrence, the data is a little strange.”

“What’s wrong?”

“For a normal person, it is impossible to forget things that are related to life and death. But you can’t remember it at all. The data testifies to my guess. Your memory has been tampered with.”

“What?”

“To tamper with the memories of certain matters, it must be done by a very skilled psychologist.”

Terrence was about to recall when Edwin appeared at the right time.

“Mr. Ramsey, Gavyn has confessed.” Edwin handed a stack of documents to Terrence and added, “Brynlee bought a ticket to Mexico, but we stopped her.”

Terrence looked through the documents, and his gaze became colder and colder.

“Check all the assets under their names and intercept them all.”

“Yes

After Edwin left, David asked with interest.

“The Walton family wants to escape, right?”

“They won’t succeed,” Terrence said lightly and closed the document, “Can the tampered memories be restored?”

“I can only try.”

“Okay.”

Terrence agreed. He wanted to get out of bed.

“Where are you going? You must have a good rest now.”

“I’m going to see Alexa.”

The ward instantly became silent. David did not stop Terrence.

Looking at Terrence’s lonely back, David felt that it was difficult to see through Terrence’s heart.

Terrence did not shed single tear for Alexa’s death, but David could feel the sorrow in Terrence’s heart that could not be released.

From the city center to the Powell’s Cemetery, it took a full half hour of drive.

As soon as Terrence arrived at the entrance of the cemetery, it began to rain.

He did not take an umbrella. Under the guidance of the grave keeper, he found Alexa’s grave.

“The grave of my wife, Alexa.”

Terrence’s heart seemed to have been crushed. He felt pain

Alexa, who had been angry with him not long ago, was now lying alone on the ground.

They couldn’t see each other again....

Terrence placed his hand on the stone tablet. He couldn’t believe it.

“What are you doing?”

A shout came from not far away Terrence looked over in a daze and saw Clara running over with an umbrella She stood in front of Terrence with a face full of anger.

*Alexa does not want to see you Please stay away from her, or I will call for security!”

Terrence’s vision gradually blurred by the rain. He stood firmly in front of the grave and said weakly for a long time.

“She is my wife

“Your wife? This world is not up to you to decide. If you miss some people, it’s useless to regret it!”

Clara

sneered.

7.

“Do you know how many times Alexa cried because of you? Do you know she almost went crazy because of the women by your side?”

When seeing Terrence, Clara really wanted to slap him hard.

However, Kieran coldly came to her side and handed an envelope to Terrence.

“She gave this to me personally on the day we got married.” Kieran added coldly, “It’s what she wanted to say to you.”

Terrence couldn’t wait to take it and hide it. He was afraid that it would be taken away.

The siblings stared at him coldly, without any sympathy in their eyes.

“Please leave immediately. Alexa doesn’t want you to disturb her,” Kieran ordered.

Terrence pursed his thin lips and compromised. They were surprised.

After returning to the car, Terrence’s clothes were completely soaked.

But Terrence didn’t care about it. He couldn’t wait to take out the envelope and held it tightly in his arms.

It was like he was holding Alexa in his arms.

Chapter 213 Please Come to My Dream

Terrence didn’t want to read the letter in the car, so he had to concentrate on driving back.

After arriving at Duckdale Villa, Terrence did not say a word and directly locked himself in Alexa’s room.

Terrence carefully opened the envelope and took out the letter. There were a few short lines of words written in the letter.

“Terrence.

“When you read this letter, I should no longer be in this world.

“I haven’t been happy for the past three years, and I have forgotten many things.

"I often dream during this period of time.

"I dreamed that our child was a beautiful girl.

"However, she will also leave this world with me.

"I am very sorry to have kept it from you for so long.

"Goodbye."

When Terrence saw the last word, he did not realize that the letter was crumpled by his grip.

Those only memories suddenly became like a sharp knife, stabbing into Terrence's heart. Terrence felt that he was already numb to the point that he could not even feel any pain.

"Alexa..." Terrence whispered sorrowfully. "Why did you lie to me..

The last line of defense in Terrence's heart also fell apart. The used things around Terrence almost suffocated him.

Terrence thought, if I had known it earlier would there have been a glimmer of hope....

"I'm sorry. I'm sorry," Terrence murmured.

Two hours later, Terrence finally came out of Alexa's room

Rebekah immediately walked up to Terrence. Seeing Terrence's red eyes and pale face, Rebekah felt very worried

Rebekah said, "She's already gone. What's the point of torturing yourself now?"

"It's all my fault. If I had discovered her illness in time, she wouldn't have..."

"If you really want to atone for your sins, then investigate what happened back then properly. It's also what Alexa wanted."

After Terrence heard Rebekah's words, his eyes moved slightly. He soon had a plan in mind.

But that night, Kieran held a press conference.

Facing the cameras and media, Kieran tried to restrain his emotions. But when he spoke, he was slightly choked

"I hope she knew that I loved her very much..."

Terrence saw Kieran's speech on TV, and his face became more and more gloomy. In the end, he tore off the wire madly.

Then, Terrence immediately went out and drove away

Half an hour later, Terrence strode directly into Royal Noble Club

When Aron saw Terrence, the smile on his face immediately disappeared

Terrence, did Alexa..." Aron asked carefully.

Before Aron could finish his sentence, Terrence shot a sharp glare at him.

Aron immediately shut his mouth and silently took Terrence to the private room

As soon as Terrence sat down, he began to drink wine Aron sat next to Terrence, neither stopping nor persuading him.

"Terrence... You'd better drink less. Aron said softly "Otherwise, Ale Well it's not

Arog immediately stopped talking and gulped down a large mouthful of ice water

However, it was too late. Terrence's face was so gloomy, and it looked like he would explode in the next second.

Aron sighed, "Why did this happen to her..."

Terrence said to Aron, "You are well informed. Please lend me some of your people."

"Terrence, you don't have to say that!" Aron patted his chest "As long as you need my help, I will definitely do my best!"

Terrence threw the bottle away casually and gulped down a large mouthful of ice water.

Terrence thought, how can I forget that Alexa disliked me drinking the most?

A moment later, a beautiful figure rushed in.

"Terrence!"

Terrence heard Brynlee's voice, and a touch of disgust suddenly rose in his eyes.

"Terrence, I heard that you took my parents away. Really?"

Brynlee asked so tactfully. She no longer dared to act like a spoiled child in front of Terrence like before.

Now, Terrence was so cold, and he even shot a glance at Brynlee with killing intent in his eyes.

"How did you find this place?"

I Brynlee said guiltily I saw that your car was parked outside, so I came in

Terrence kept an indifferent face He leaned on the gray seat and looked at Brynlee silently

Brynlee's attire was obviously much inferior to before, and she no longer had her former arrogance and confidence

Seeing that Terrence did not speak, Brynlee thought of something and took the initiative to speak

“I heard that... Alexa passed away

“Get out!”

Terrence suddenly became furious, and Brynlee was immediately frightened

“Terrence, I am just telling the truth”

“Get out!”

Aron was afraid that Terrence would lose control, so he immediately found someone to take Brynlee away

However, Terrence suddenly got up, pushed the door open, and walked out without looking back

“Terrence! Terrence, where are you going?”

Aron hurriedly followed Terrence out. But Terrence had already opened the door of the driver’s seat and got in the car

“Terrence, please say something! Aron immediately rushed up to stop Terrence “Where are you going? I’ll drive you there.”

“Go to Alexa’s place.”

Aron knew that there was something hidden in Terrence’s heart. He didn’t dare to leave Terrence alone at this time.

“OK. I’ll send you there.”

Terrence sat in the back seat and felt a headache. Many things appeared in his mind chaotically.

Terrence remembered Alexa’s smile and her tears. He remembered the scene of him holding Alexa’s hand and hugging her in his arms...

Many scenes squeezed into Terrence’s brain one after another, giving him a splitting headache.

“Alexa... Alexa...”

Hearing the low voice from the back seat, Aron frowned and felt very worried.

Aron sighed in his heart, if he had known it would come to this, would he have acted differently?

Not long after, Aron parked the car in front of an old villa.

“Terrence, we are at Alexa’s home.”

“What?”

Terrence instantly came back to his senses. He rolled down the window slowly. After Terrence saw the scene outside, the light in his eyes suddenly disappeared.

It was the Duran’s old house.

“Thank you.”

After getting out of the car, Terrence impatiently pushed the door open and went into the villa

Terrence bought this house a long time ago, but he rarely came here.

At this time, the servants had already gotten off work.

It was empty and quiet in this big house.

Aron followed Terrence in and turned on the light. He was worried.

Aron asked, “Are you staying here tonight?”

“Let Edwin move my things over.” Terrence’s voice was hoarse “From now on, I will live here.”

“Alright. Alright.”

Aron sighed helplessly. Then, he turned to leave silently.

Terrence walked through every corner of the villa and finally stopped in front of Alexa’s room.

Terrence put his hand on the door handle and didn’t open the door because he felt struggling in his heart

Terrence stood straight in front of the door for a long time and finally went to the sofa.

Terrence thought, Alexa must hate me very much.

After all, I didn’t even get the chance to see her before she died.

But can she come to my dream? After all, I still have many things to say to her.

Terrence sat there with a stoop for a long time. In the end, he fell asleep on the sofa.

The next morning, Terrence was awakened by a burst of noise.

Terrence thought it was the noise made by a servant. However, it turned out to be Brenton who came in.

“Why are you here?” Brenton shouted angrily and disgustedly. “Get out!”

“This is my house,” Terrence explained unhurriedly. “This is my home.”

“This is clearly Alexa’s house. Since when has this become your house?”

Chapter 214 No Longer Have a Home

Even though Brenton's tone was so aggressive, Terrence was still not angry. Instead, Terrence took out a property ownership certificate from his coat pocket.

"I have already bought this villa," Terrence explained indifferently. "So, it's mine."

Brenton thought, what's wrong with this man?

Brenton glanced at Terrence with disdain, not caring about the property ownership certificate in Terrence's hand at all.

Terrence, you are really shameless," Brenton said with a snort. "You indirectly caused Alexa's death, yet you still dare to live in her house shamelessly!"

"This is my home. Please leave," Terrence said.

Brenton turned a deaf ear to Terrence's words. He went directly upstairs.

"I'm here to take Alexa's things today. I don't want to waste my time with you," Brenton said.

"Get out!"

Terrence immediately chased after Brenton. But Brenton pushed Terrence away and strode into Alexa's room.

This room still looked like a young girl's room. Judging from the various commemorative photos and gifts in this room, this girl's family must love her very much.

However, those things also reminded Brenton and Terrence that no one had come to this place for a long time.

Brenton's eyes immediately softened, and he looked around with affection in his eyes.

Terrence's eyes were bloodshot. He took a big step forward and blocked Brenton's way.

"You are not allowed to touch her things. Get out!"

"It was Alexa who asked me to come. She didn't want our memories to fall into your hands, so she asked me to take our things away," Brenton said.

"That's impossible!"

Terrence said so coldly, but Brenton ignored him. Then, Brenton took out a photo album from the drawer beside him.

“Do you know how many times I’ve been to her room? She didn’t bring you here, right? Of course, I won’t tell you about these things.” Brenton looked through the photo album and said to Terrence mockingly.

Terrence clenched his hands and looked coldly at the photos in Brenton’s hands.

Every one of them was a photo of Alexa and Brenton. Alexa always smiled happily when she was beside Brenton

“I have never made her angry, nor would I try to hurt her,” Brenton said angrily. “Terrence, you ruined all of this!”

“She should have been my woman.” Terrence’s tone was firm. “When the Duran family was in trouble, it was me who helped her. It was only right for her to repay me with her marriage.”

‘Terrence, you bastard!’

Brenton was instantly irritated and suddenly grabbed Terrence’s collar.

“How did you hurt her? Tell me! I will make you pay double the price!”

“Is that so?” Terrence said coldly. “Then why would she choose Kieran, not you?”

“What do you know? You are just a bastard’ You don’t have the right to know that!”

Brenton pushed Terrence away in anger, held the album in his arms, and rushed out of the room

Terrence squatted down silently, intending to pick up the paper that had fallen to the ground

However, just as Terrence reached out his hand, a sudden headache suddenly hit him

Some fragmented memories swarmed over They were all about Alexa

“Thank you for saving me. What’s your name?”

“Alexa.”

The beautiful young girl drew strokes in Terrence’s palm. Terrence seemed to be able to remember the numb feeling in his palm.

“I will remember you. I will definitely come to you again in the future”

“But I’m going to a faraway place. You don’t have to look for me. Bye.”

“Alexa...”

“Terrence. Terrence?”

When Terrence heard these calls, he immediately came back to his senses.

Terrence suddenly woke up and found that he was indeed in the hospital now.

David stood by Terrence's bed with a frown, writing down the medical record.

David said, "I applied for hospitalization for you. You should rest well in the hospital for a period of time."

Terrence looked at the ceiling blankly. David did not know if Terrence had heard him.

"David, I was wrong from the beginning."

"I will contact the experts to think of a way," David said seriously "We will try to help you regain that memory as much as possible."

Terrence slowly closed his eyes and shook his head weakly

There were some things that Terrence was already very clear about in his heart

The person Terrence had been caring about would never come back again

That kind of regret and bitterness would never disappear for the rest of Terrence's life

After the infusion, Terrence left the hospital

When David anxiously brought people to the Ramsey family's cemetery to find Terrence, Terrence was sitting alone in front of a newly erected tomb, holding a cigarette that was quietly burning in his hand

"Terrence." David called out to Terrence in a low voice, not knowing what to say next

David dismissed the bodyguards behind him and squatted down beside Terrence

"Terrence," David sighed "Alexa has already left this world. This is a fact You will have to accept it sooner or later

Terrence silently extinguished the cigarette

Then, he said in a low voice, "I know

"She must be very free right now and has obtained the happiness she has always wanted

"I understand..."

Terrence lowered his head, not daring to look directly at the words on the tombstone

"But I still miss her very much. It's fine if she comes back to hit me, scold me, or ask me to pay with my life But why is there no news of her at all?"

Terrence's voice became more and more hoarse There was no firmness or calmness in his tone. David even felt like Terrence was sobbing

“We didn’t even get the chance to say goodbye to each other She hated pain so much... How painful was it when she died? I know nothing about that “Terrence, the best consolation for the deceased is to live well,” David said gently. “As long as you don’t forget her, she will always exist.”

Terrence called Alexa’s name again and again in front of the tomb. The moonlight shone down on Terrence and the tomb silently.

It was not until late at night that David accompanied Terrence back to the hospital. In the hospital, they happened to meet Edwin coming to report.

Tell me everything you know,” Terrence said to Edwin in a deep voice.

“Mr. Ramsey, we investigated according to the information given by Gavyn. At that time, it was indeed Mrs.

Ramsey who saved you. The first capital you had after returning to the country was also invested by Mrs. Ramsey.” Edwin was so cautious that he didn’t dare to breathe heavily. “But we can’t find Mrs. Ramsey’s family information. However, we can be sure that Caleb Duran and Evelyn Tillman are not Mrs. Ramsey’s biological parents.”

“So, it is possible that her relatives are still alive, right?” A touch of liveliness finally appeared in Terrence’s deathly still eyes.

“We can’t rule out this possibility.”

“Find it out at all costs. We must find it out!”

“Yes, Mr. Ramsey!”

Terrence seemed to have grasped a glimmer of hope. But this was only a small thing that he could do for

Alexa.

Alexa would never come back.

Terrence violently coughed a few times. In just a few days, he looked haggard as if he had aged ten years.

Yesterday, the media was still trying to report Alexa's death. But the public opinions had been completely cleaned up by Terrence in less than a day.

"Alexa..." Terrence murmured. "I won't let the rumors disturb you."

Terrence said in his heart, I will never forget you.

Terrence stood alone by the window, looking at the bright lights outside.

Terrence thought, the world is so big. But I no longer have a home.

Chapter 215 Demarion Duran

This time. Terrence did not go crazy.

David found it strange However, Terrence did nothing more than tidy up Alexa's relics After staying in bed in the hospital for more than half a month, he left the hospital

The results of the medical check-up showed that Terrence's memories had been restored, but he looked very calm. David wondered whether he remembered that memory or not

All this, however, no longer mattered. The past would go with the wind

Terrence seemed to have moved on from that memory and plunged into work Hudson Group advanced at an astonishing speed and became the top 500 in just one year.

No one mentioned Alexa in front of Terrence again Perhaps time would smooth the scar

Seasons changed

In the blink of an eye, two years passed

On a beautiful southern island, a young woman in a vintage Tiffany blue dress was looking tenderly at a little boy, who was squatting in a sand pit and playing not far away

"Damar."

The woman called out in a clear low voice. The little boy, Damarion Duran, immediately threw away the toy in his hand, ran to her staggeringly, and threw himself into her arms.

"Your hands are dirty. I will wipe them for you."

"Mom..."

The little boy imitated the woman's tone and called out to her in a childish voice. His bright black eyes were filled with curiosity.

"We should go back to have dinner. Grandpa, Grandma, and Uncle are waiting for us.

"Alexa."

Hearing the man's voice, she wrapped her arm around Damarion and looked in direction of the voice with a smile.

"Keyon."

Keyon was in a set of suits. It was obvious that he had just finished a business meeting.

Seeing Keyon, Damarion was so excited that he babbled in Alexa's arms and waved his hand at Keyon, completely forgetting his mom.

"Damar, come here."

Keyon couldn't wait to pick up Damarion in his arms and planted a kiss on his delicate tender cheek.

"Damar has grown up a lot recently."

In the blink of an eye, he's already one and a half years old," Alexa sighed with emotion. Then she naturally changed the topic. "Keyon, how's the business meeting going?"

"Alexa, don't worry about me," Keyon said, and his heart ached for her. "But you... How's your backache these days? Are your hands and feet still cold at night? You look like losing weight again.

"Much better."

Alexa nodded gently, but Keyon could not be at ease.

"After dinner, I will ask the doctor to check you out."

Under the afterglow of the setting sun, the three of them walked into the dining room of the villa. The two elders were already sitting at the dining table.

Even though Keyon had explained the ins and outs of the matter to Alexa in detail, Alexa still had a barrier inside when facing her own parents.

"Dad, Mom."

Hearing Alexa's voice, Scott Duran immediately put down the newspaper in his hand and looked at Alexa kindly.

"Keyon, Alexa, come and take a seat

Christina Fleming, who was by Scott's side, got up gracefully and tenderly took Damarion from Keyon's arms.

“Everyone is here, so we are ready for dinner. I specially asked the chef to cook the vegetable soup of Alexa’s favorite.”

Scott busied himself with serving the dishes. After serving Alexa a bowl of vegetable soup, he and Christinal went to have fun with Damarion.

Alexa ate silently and inadvertently thought back to the past.

After she recovered consciousness, Alexa found herself not in the operating room but on a private jet. Keyon and the two elders were Beside her.

Back then, Keyon directly did a paternity test and confirmed that Scott and Christina were their biological parents.

After that, Alexa and Keyon recognized their parents. In the blink of an eye, they had lived on this island for two years.

Scott operated a trading company. Although Alexa did not join, she knew that the strength of this company was powerful.

Otherwise, how could this huge ice Floral Island only belong to the Duran family?

*Alexa, Damar is growing up gradually now. Your mother and are going to let you join the management of the company What do you think?”

Alexa’s thoughts were immediately pulled back by Scott’s words She thought for a while and said rationally

“Thank you, Dad. But I am far inferior to Keyon

“Hey!” Scott waved his hand cheerfully and said freely, “Your mother and I have reached the age of retirement for a long time, and the company was meant for you and Keyon

“Over these years, we have been looking for you.” Christina’s eyes reddened in an instant “Keyon, you and Alexa are the only thoughts we have had for this world”

“Everything is gone. Now we can finally reunite,” Keyon said in a low voice

“That’s right,” Christina smiled through tears and said delightedly. “Now, we have Damarion in our family
What a happy thing!”

Damarion had no idea what they were talking about and just ate the baby food in front of him

From the expressions of her parents, Alexa could tell that they sincerely loved Damarion

Thank you, Mom and Dad. I will do my best,” Alexa said firmly

“You still need to experience more, Scott said meaningfully Then he changed the topic “Our company has a few business corporations to discuss in New York. Alexa, you go

With Scott’s words, the harmonious atmosphere instantly froze

“Dad, let me go,” Keyon said quickly. “Alexa is still weak. She cannot overwork herself

“I’ll assign someone to help Alexa. You have your business to do,” Scott said unhurriedly

Seeing that Scott was so persistent, Alexa did not say much, and she did not retreat from it, either.

“Dad, no problem.”

After saying that, Alexa gave Keyon a calm and firm look.

Now, she had completely changed. The Alexa who was easily trampled on by others before had been dead.

After dinner, Alexa went to have a walk with Christina and Damarion, and Keyon stood by Scott’s side with a serious face.

“Dad...”

Scott knew what Keyon was about to say, so he interrupted him. “Keyon, I know what you are worried about.

This is a good opportunity for Alexa to clean up the past.”

“Terrence will be very difficult to deal with,” Keyon remained “That’s why I asked Alexa to go.” Scott stood with his hands behind his back. “We can take care of Alexa for a lifetime, but she can’t live without means and experience.”

“Got it,” Keyon replied sullenly.

One day later, Alexa and Damarion took a private jet to New York.

Alexa was very clear about what this meant. However, she would leave New York right after completing her job.

As for Damarion, he was just weaned not long ago, and Alexa was reluctant to part with him.

Damarion had been asleep quietly during the flight. After the jet slowly landed at the airport in New York, Alexa put on her sunglasses, pushed the stroller, and walked toward the Rolls-Royce at the exit, with a cold proud expression.

After they got in the car, a black Aston Martin immediately followed closely.

The driver quickly noticed that and reported to Alexa calmly.

“Ms. Duran, it is the Powell family’s car behind us.”

“The Powell family...” Alexa muttered lightly. Suddenly, she ordered, “Never mind. Let them follow.”

Chapter 216 I Have Had an Abortion

When Alexa saw Terrence, her heart jolted violently, but she calmed down quickly as if Terrence was a stranger.

“Mr. Ramsey, Alexa came here with my husband. She is trying to approach him.”

“That’s impossible. My wife couldn’t like Kieran.”

Terrence’s emotions changed rapidly. He wished he could drive everyone out. Then, he could stay with Alexa alone.

Terrence had been missing Alexa for two years. He wondered why she appeared there.

Rita wanted to scream, but Terrence held her hand so tightly that she felt her bones were about to break.

“Apologize to my wife.”

“You have slandered her.”

Terrence’s voice became more and more frightful. Rita couldn’t bear the pain and burst into tears.

“Let go of me’

“Apologize.”

Alexa watched the scene with interest. She wondered what Terrence was going to do in front of her.

Rita’s cry attracted more and more people, but Kieran did not appear.

“Ms. Bailey, what needs to be clarified is I have not approached your husband”

Hearing the pleasant voice, Terrence was shocked and excited.

He knew it was Alexa.

“Apologize,” Terrence repeated impatiently.

Driven by fear, Rita managed to speak.

“I am...”

Alexa ignored Rita and walked aside to answer the phone.

After a few words, Alexa turned solemn and walked toward the door.

Alexa was about to leave. Seeing that, Terrence let go of Rita and followed Alexa.

Terrence asked, “Alexa, why are you here?”

Alexa said nothing, but her bodyguard stepped forward and stopped Terrence

“Sir, please step back

“Alexa * Terrence became agitated and even blamed Alexa angrily. “You are not dead. Why have you lied to me?”

Alexa did not pay attention to Terrence but called the villa.

“Yareli, how is Damar now? I am coming back soon.”

Alexa held her phone tightly and couldn’t calm down.

Damarion was born five weeks early, which made Alexa more worried.

She hoped Damarion would be fine.

Alexa was about to cry. The medical treatment in the past few years made her emotional, and she could hardly breathe.

When the driver stopped the car at the gate of the villa, Terrence’s Maybach stopped there too

Terrence saw Alexa run into the house anxiously, and his gloomy face was cold.

Terrence was about to argue with Alexa, but Alexa ran out again with a child in her arms.

Terrence followed Alexa without hesitation.

He said solemnly, “Give him to me”

Alexa was at the point of collapsing Seeing Terrence, she couldn’t hold on any longer.

“Go away,” she roared.

Damarion, who had a fever, burst into tears.

“Damar, don’t cry Mom is here”

Hearing Alexa call herself Mom, Terrence was stunned.

Alexa carried Damarion into the car, and Terrence took the opportunity to get into it too

Damarion kept crying, so Alexa had no time to pay attention to Terrence.

Terrence saw the sweat on Alexa’s forehead and gave her a handkerchief.

Alexa didn’t take the handkerchief

She asked angrily. “What are you going to do?”

*Alexa. ”

Terrence called her name but did not know what to say.

Alexa, who had died, was sitting alive in front of Terrence. Terrence wanted to touch her, but he did not have the courage to do that

Terrence knew Alexa must hate him

“Who is he?”

Alexa said, “It’s none of your business Why did you follow me?”

“He has a fever.” Terrence looked at Damarion solemnly “I’ll go to the hospital with you

“It has nothing to do with you.”

Alexa carried Damarion and tried to avoid Terrence, fearing he would do something like before.

Terrence was silent for a while and remembered Alexa used to be pregnant

However, her situation had been so critical that she might have had a miscarriage

Terrence did not say anything but sent a message to Edwin.

When they arrived at the hospital, the pediatrician was in the emergency room

“Doctor, please save my son. He has a fever

Alexa’s voice was trembling She had never been so afraid even when her life was at stake.

“Please fill out the information”

The nurse handed a form to Terrence. Terrence didn’t come to his senses until Alexa took it away

Terrence watched Alexa write “Damarion Duran” in the name column.

“Wait here for a moment.”

“OK.” Terrence responded.

The nurse followed the doctor to the treatment room.

In the corridor, only Terrence and Alexa were left.

Terrence looked at Alexa and could not help but want to hug her.

However, Alexa ignored Terrence and sat on a chair nervously.

Alexa looked tired, and Terrence stood in front of her.

After a long time, Terrence tentatively asked, "Is Damar my..."

"I have said he has nothing to do with you." Alexa became excited. "Terrence, I don't want to see you."

"You haven't told me what happened back then." Terrence's eyes became cold. "When will you and Damar go back with me?"

"Go back with you?"

Alexa forced a smile and looked at Terrence coldly.

She sneered, "Terrence, are you daydreaming? To be honest, you are not my son's father."

Terrence said coldly, "Alexa, stop lying. I know you carried my child."

"Yes, that's true."

Alexa nodded frankly and arrogantly brushed the hair beside her ear.

"I had an abortion."

"What?"

Terrence's eyes turned red. He stared at Alexa in disbelief.

"When did you have an abortion?"

"During the operation," Alexa said coldly.

She seemed to talk about something that had nothing to do with her.

"Alexa, how dare you?"

"Are you joking? Why don't I dare?" Alexa asked indifferently.

Then, she said emotionally.

"After leaving New York, I married a businessman. He passed away before our child was born."

"Alexa, you..."

Terrence stopped abruptly and clenched his fists tightly.

Alexa smiled disdainfully, "Terrence, I didn't come back because of you. To me, you are nothing at all. I'm no longer the coward I used to be."

Chapter 217 His Name Is Damarion Duran

"Alexa, come back with me!"

Alexa frowned impatiently.

She said in a businesslike manner, "I will transfer the money you invested into the Duran Group into your account. Other than that, there is no need for us to meet."

"You have to at least explain to me what happened back then "

"Sorry, I have no obligation to explain it to you."

After Alexa finished speaking, the nurse came out with Damarion in her arms

She quickly went forward to take Damarion and listened to the doctor's advice

Terrence stood beside them, just like an outsider

"I'll go get the medicine for the child, Terrence said

"No need, my servant is downstairs."

Alexa refused coldly and left with Damarion without looking back.

*His name is Damarion Duran?"

Hearing Terrence's voice, Alexa felt a burst of anger

"He is my son. I can call him whatever I want."

"I see " Terrence nodded calmly.

Alexa felt that she was really unlucky to have rushed into Terrence as soon as she returned.

She hadn't seen Terrence in two years, and he had become so stubborn.

"Terrence, I have a lot of things to deal with. Please don't pester me." Alexa restrained and politely said.

Terrence, however, turned a deaf ear and kept his eyes on her.

"When did you come back?"

Alexa carried Damarion and walked out, completely ignoring him.

"We have to make things clear about what happened back then."

"Make it clear, right? Please sign the divorce agreement as soon as possible." Alexa suddenly stopped and glanced at him nonchalantly.

“Don’t think about it.” Terrence’s face immediately darkened. “I won’t sign it.”

His tone was a little gloomy, and Damarion muttered a few times in Alexa’s arms uncomfortably, as if he was about to cry

“Damar, don’t be afraid.” Alexa comforted him and glared at Terrence angrily “Stay away from me!”

Terrence did not reply but silently kept a distance from her.

Alexa was like a fragile porcelain doll to him, and Terrence did not dare to provoke her.

“As long as you are willing to go back, I can regard Damar as my own kid’

Alexa was stunned. If Damarion wasn’t in her arms, she would have slapped Terrence

“Terrence, where did you get the courage to say such nonsense?”

“Alexa, what other conditions do you have? Just say it.”

Seeing his arrogant face, Alexa felt sick.

“Damar and I don’t need you to raise us. Besides, you are not worthy”

“Alexa, I am already very lenient to you,” Terrence said coldly. “I have not pursued the matter of you escaping without me knowing.”

“Are you serious?” Alexa snorted arrogantly. “Who do you think you are?”

After saying that, Alexa didn’t want to talk nonsense with Terrence and turned around to leave with Damarion

in her arms

Terrence was still reluctant to leave and was finally stopped when Alexa got in the car

“Sir, please leave,” the bodyguard said in a warning tone.

The car in front of him slowly started and finally galloped away in front of him.

There had never been anyone who dared to put on such airs in front of him.

However, Terrence did not mind. At that moment, he was like a child who had received candy, so greedy that he wanted to obtain more sweetness.

Since Alexa had returned, then this time, he would definitely not let go.

After returning home, Alexa settled Damarion down before she went to wash up in exhaustion.

Her cold body was soaked in hot water, but Alexa felt the coldness coming from her bone.

Since she had come to New York, she would definitely meet Terrence. Alexa had long been mentally prepared.

But Terrence was very different from before.

Alexa thought about it and began to have a headache.

She seemed to hear Damarion crying, so she immediately changed her clothes and went out.

However, Damarion was still sleeping peacefully, and her breathing also stabilized.

Alexa was a little relieved, and there was a smile on her face.

*Ms Duran, I've put the hot milk on the table You can drink some before you rest

Yareli stood at the door, and Alexa walked over with a smile

"How is Damar?"

"His fever has already subsided. It should be fine

After drinking the milk, Keyon called again

"Alexa, have you seen Terrence today?"

Alexa looked out the window at the night scene, her eyes dull

"New York is so small. We will meet sooner or later

"I'll handle it for you"

"No need. I can handle it Alexa was firm

"If you need me, you have to tell me Do you hear me?"

"Okay," Alexa responded

The feeling of being doted on by her family was really blissful

Alexa stood on the balcony for a while before returning to her room to sleep beside Damarion

Recently, it was the autumn rainy season again in New York

As the rain continued to fall, the doorbell suddenly rang downstairs.

The housekeeper immediately brought people over. When he saw that the person at the door was Terrence, he immediately became gloomy

"Mr. Ramsey, what's the matter?"

"I want to see Alexa."

“Ms. Duran has gone to sleep. Please go back.”

“Listen, I want to see Mrs. Ramsey.”

Terrence corrected him word by word, and the housekeeper ignored him and went back in the blink of an eye.

The next day, the rain stopped.

It was the weekend, and Alexa wanted to take Damarion out for a walk and buy some clothes.

Damarion knew that he was going out, so he seemed very happy and laughed all the way.

However, when Alexa saw the person standing at the door, her smile instantly froze on her face.

“Terrence?”

He peered at them through a gap in the iron bars. Terrence’s face had some stubble.

“Are you going out?” Terrence’s voice was hoarse.

Alexa immediately became alert and took two steps back with Damarion in her arms.

“Go away.”

Damarion did not understand Alexa’s worry at all and still kept reaching out to Terrence.

In Damarion’s eyes, Terrence was the same as Keyon.

“Hug...”

Hearing Damarion babble, Terrence was moved and even smiled at Damarion.

“Terrence, what are you trying to do now?”

“I’ve been waiting for you here. Have you had breakfast yet? Shall we go together?” Terrence asked earnestly.

Alexa frowned and was not moved at all.

Seeing that Terrence did not reach out his hand like his uncle, Damarion was a little unhappy.

“Hug...” Damarion shouted anxiously and expectantly. “Hug...”

Alexa felt helpless. It seemed that Damarion’s enthusiasm for people was not a good thing.

“Damar, come here.”

Terrence had been looking at Damarion, and his mood had become lighter.

But Alexa did not want Damarion to speak with Terrence, so she quickened her pace and went to the garage.

Terrence immediately drove to catch up with them, and he only felt some kind of emotion arising inside him.

Chapter 218 What a Jerk He la!

Even though he stood in front of the villa all night, Terrence still felt full of energy now

He thought, Damar is not annoying at all. He is even lovable instead

Especially his smiling eyes, they were the spitting image of Alexa

The more Terrence thought about it, the happier he became, and his upsets were instantly swept away

Alexa parked the car in the garage of the shopping mall When she came out with Damarion, Terrence immediately caught up with them.

“Where are you going?” Terrence asked.

Alexa ignored him and concentrated on holding Damarion.

When they entered the shopping mall, the lively crowd instantly dispersed, leaving only the shopping guide on standby.

At once, Alexa realized who arranged this

Terrence curled his lips in satisfaction and pretended to be innocent

“Take your time, Damar”

Hearing Terrence called out his name, Damarion moved up and down happily in Alexa’s arms He wanted

Terrence to hold him.

“Damar, don’t move,” Alexa said discontentedly. “Otherwise, the bad guys will take you away.”

Terrence raised his eyebrows slightly and said thoughtfully.

“There will be no bad guys. I’ve sent extra men to keep you safe.”

Alexa was speechless. She did not know what Terrence was thinking.

Alexa wondered, isn’t he the worst guy here?

“If you need anything next time, just let me know.”

“Who do you think you are?” Alexa replied coldly.

Terrence’s enthusiasm was not extinguished, and he was even more excited instead.

“Your husband.”

Alexa curled her lips in disdain and corrected in a cold voice.

“Ex-husband.”

Terrence did not answer her but quietly moved closer to Damarion.

“Damar, are you hungry? I brought you snacks.”

As soon as he finished speaking, Alexa retorted with a word.

“Don’t give my kid those things to eat!”

“Okay..” Terrence gave in weakly

Alexa strolled around several maternal and child shops and bought many things in total. The bodyguards on the side were all carrying big or small bags.

Alexa had been holding Damarion for so long. Her arms could hardly support him.

However, Damarion was clingy. He would cry if he left Alexa’s arms a little.

Moreover, Terrence was still here, so Alexa did not dare to take it lightly.

Terrence had noticed earlier that Alexa tried hard to hold Damarion.

“What you bought is all for Damar. Go and take a look for yourself.”

“I’ll carry him.”

“Terrence, what are you scheming again?” Alexa questioned with full hostility

Terrence chuckled helplessly, but he was a little sad at the same time.

“I’m not so bad as to do something to a child, am I?”

“Who knows...” Alexa muttered meaningfully.

When she was in hesitation, Terrence had set his mind on Damarion

“Damar, Damar.”

“Uncle!” Damarion cheerfully addressed Terrence as his uncle.

Terrence’s eyes became gloomy slightly.

He said implicitly, “I am not your uncle.”

Alexa was stunned as if she had been waiting for Terrence to reply.

A moment later, she suddenly realized how humble she was to have such a reaction.

Back then, when she and Brenton escaped, it was Terrence who caught her and pressed her to the operation

table for an abortion

Now he was pretending to curry favor with Damarion, but could the resentment from before be written off?

Alexa's eyes suddenly became cold She held Damarion in her arms tightly and dodged to the side.

"Terrence, stay away from my son!"

The bodyguards by her side immediately surrounded Terrence at the same time. However, Alexa did not give the order, and they did not attack Terrence either

"I've started over. Please don't disturb my new life."

"Alexa..."

Terrence murmured her name wearily as if he had been hit hard in the heart

Terrence, our relationship was over a long time ago."

Damarion seemed to realize that they were quarreling and suddenly cried.

Alexa immediately softened her tone and gently comforted Damarion

"Damar, don't cry. I am not angry."

Terrence did not leave. Instead, he stepped forward and grabbed Alexa's wrist.

Alexa subconsciously dodged. It was obvious that she recalled the fear from before

"Alexa, we need to talk."

"Let go!"

"Talk to me," Terrence still spoke gently and elegantly.

Yareli heard the noise and hurried over, taking Damarion who was crying from Alexa's arms

"Mom!"

Damarion cried so hard that he was out of breath. Alexa's heart was broken.

"Terrence, I told you to let go!" Alexa growled with tears in her eyes.

"Just five minutes," he insisted.

Alexa took a deep breath, held back her tears, and looked toward Damarion.

"Yareli, please take Damarion back now."

"Ms. Duran..."

Yareli called out with concern. She saw the confrontation between their bodyguards and Terrence's men.

Yareli thought, everything was fine, but now it's like this again.

What a jerk Mr. Ramsey is!

Yareli glared at Terrence anxiously and angrily and had to leave with Damarion first.

Damarion's cries were getting farther and farther away. Alexa could not hold back her emotions anymore. Her tears dropped like a broken string of pearls, scattering all over the ground.

"Come with me."

Terrence took the opportunity to hold Alexa's hand and brought her into his car

They sat in the back seats at the same time Alexa thought of the disgraceful things that Terrence had done to her here before, and her face instantly turned pale

"Terrence, if you dare."

Before Alexa finished speaking. Terrence had forcefully grabbed the back of her head and fiercely kissed her

The long-lost ruthless breath swept over Alexa Alexa helplessly pushed Terrence's chest with her hand, but it was of no use

In the end, she resolutely bit Terrence's lip, and the smell of blood instantly pervaded the air It was not until then that Terrence reluctantly let go of Alexa, looking like he was not satisfied yet

Alexa's charming lips were tinged with a bit of blood, looking even more seduced

Her hair was in a mess, and her eyes were misty She squinted at Terrence with grievance and hatred

Alexa was not afraid. She raised her hand and slapped Terrence loudly Immediately, a red slap mark appeared on Terrence's left face

"Terrence, I am so sick of you!"

Alexa said through her teeth Without even tidying up her clothes, she directly clutched her collar and got out of the car.

Terrence pulled the bow tie in frustration and froze in the car for a long time.

He did it wrong again.

After Alexa got out of the car, she immediately sat in her car and went back

Terrence did not follow her anymore, but Alexa's anger could not be quelled

Alexa tidied up her clothes in the back seat, pretended that nothing had happened, and looked out of the window.

Alexa's lips still faintly hurt, and she wiped them hard with the back of her hand. She felt depressed.

She thought, Terrence went crazy!

When the driver dropped her home, Alexa couldn't wait to run back to the living room.

Yareli still held Damarion in her arms. Damarion had stopped crying. He was looking at Alexa with tears in his eyes.

"Mom."

When Alexa heard Damarion's childish voice, the grievance and displeasure in her heart instantly vanished.

"Thank you, Yareli"

"Ms. Duran, he didn't make things difficult for you, did he?"

"I'm fine," Alexa said lightly.

With Damarion in her arms, Alexa's restlessness immediately calmed down.

Chapter 219 Won't You Talk Business With Me?

Damarion was tired after playing for a day

Alexa wanted to take a break, but many issues in the company were waiting for her to deal with

Aubrey called Alexa, telling her about the meal with the Hudson Group at night

"Hudson.."

Alexa tapped the table casually and was lost in thought

"Ms. Duran?"

Hearing Aubrey's voice, Alexa came to her senses

"Ms. Duran, what's wrong?"

"Nothing."

Alexa shook her head calmly and said nothing more about the dinner

It was the first business since Alexa took over the company She did not want to mess it up

After arranging everything, Alexa walked to Damarion.

There were still tears on Damarion's face When Alexa fixed her eyes on Damarion, she found he was like

Terrence

The affection in Alexa's eyes froze into ice

She would not allow Terrence to hurt Damarion.

Alexa stood up and picked a long red velvet dress. Then, she put on some make-up and left by car

Alexa saw Terrence standing in the crowd when the car stopped at the hotel entrance.

Her heart skipped a beat, and she tried to calm down and got out of the car peacefully.

Terrence left the executives behind and walked towards Alexa. He blocked her completely

"What are you wearing?" Terrence said in a low voice.

Alexa looked up indifferently.

She said, "Excuse me, I'm here to talk business."

"Is this how you talk about business?" Terrence looked at her with interest and said meaningfully, "Hadn't I taught you? Hadn't you learned that?"

Alexa frowned and subconsciously took a step back.

Terrence held Alexa's hand.

He said, "I'll teach you how to talk business with me."

Alexa could not refuse and was pushed into the passenger seat by Terrence

Terrence found a piece of clothing from the trunk and threw it to her

He said angrily, "Put it on."

Alexa picked up the clothing and recognized it was the new product of Vision Group for the fall

It seemed that Terrence always had a companion in his passenger seat

Alexa smiled coldly, and her eyes were filled with disgust

"It has been worn by others I won't wear it"

Terrence glanced at Alexa emotionlessly

"It's new. No one has worn it"

However, Alexa did not put the clothing on

Her fair skin was exposed in front of Terrence Seeing that, Terrence pulled his tie and felt inexplicably restless

"Where are we going?"

Terrence focused on driving and didn't answer

Alexa compressed her lips, and her eyes turned cold

“Terrence, my men are following me. If you dare do anything to me, you know what will happen.”

A moment later, Terrence stopped the car at a red light.

“I haven’t eaten anything since this morning.” he said in a deep voice.

Alexa was more dissatisfied when she remembered what had happened in the morning.

“Is there no food in the hotel?” she asked.

Soon, Alexa was brought to Duckdale Villa by Terrence.

There were no servants, but the lilies in the courtyard were elegant.

“In the past two years, I lived here alone.” Terrence moved sideways to make way. “Come in.”

After taking out some materials from the refrigerator, he went to the kitchen.

“How about stewed beef? Fish is also fresh.”

Alexa was not in the mood to discuss that with Terrence.

She said solemnly, “Let’s sign the contract as soon as possible. Vision Group can offer three percent of profit. Think about it.”

“Alright.”

Terrence agreed but said nothing more.

Not long after, there came the sound of cooking from the kitchen.

Alexa sat on the sofa anxiously and fiddled with her phone. At that moment, Kieran called her.

Alexa went to the yard and answered the phone mysteriously.

“Mr. Powell.”

“Alexa, I’m sorry about what happened that day.”

“Something important. Ms. Duran, I hope you can have dinner with me and allow me to apologize,” Kieran said.

softly.

“Mr. Powell, don’t stand on ceremony. Are you messing with me?” Alexa teased.

“Where are you? I’ll pick you up.”

“I’m...”

Before Alexa finished her words, the phone was taken away by someone behind her.

Terrence's smile was wicked.

He took the phone and said possessively, "My wife is with me."

Hearing Terrence's voice, Kieran was stunned.

He said nothing more and hung up the phone.

Terrence smiled proudly, looking like a winner

Alexa blushed and snatched the phone. She glared at Terrence.

"Why did you talk nonsense?"

"I haven't talked nonsense. Aren't you here with me?" Terrence pretended to be innocent.

"I'm not your wife."

Terrence held Alexa's hand and pulled her into the house as if he hadn't heard her words.

"Time for dinner."

Terrence prepared a sumptuous meal of three dishes and a soup in twenty minutes.

Alexa reluctantly sat down and began to talk about work again.

'Let's talk after dinner *

Terrence interrupted Alexa and kept adding food to her plate

"You don't have to do that."

"I couldn't help to do so," Terrence explained casually.

Alexa didn't know what to say.

She ate quietly, daring not to look up at Terrence.

"Is it delicious?"

"Just so-so," Alexa commented.

"Well, I'll have the chef cook next time."

"There won't be next time."

"Won't you talk business with me?"

Terrence made Alexa speechless.

Alexa ate indignantly and organized her words in her mind for the next round of negotiation

"Our maximum concession is five percent.

"Give me the contract, and I will sign it."

Alexa wondered whether Terrence knew how to do business

Alexa looked at Terrence as if he was a monster, but she did not trust Terrence easily

“If you sign the contract, you can’t go back on your word. Do you need to think about it?”

“Are you free tomorrow?”

“What?”

“Let’s go to visit Damar’s kindergarten. I have chosen one,” Terrence said calmly.

“Damar is my son. Why are you concerned about him?” Alexa said warily with displeasure.

“Can’t I be concerned about your son?”

“No.”

The unharmonious atmosphere became tense. Alexa put down the fork and picked up her handbag to leave.

Terrence signed the contract and handed it to Alexa.

“Think about it. You can call me any time,” Terrence said as if he was pleading with Alexa.

Chapter 220 You Meen Nothing to Me

“No need to think about it I can reply right now”

Alexa said with a cold face and turned around with disdain

“You don’t need to be concerned about my son and me”

“Alexa, I just want to Alexa sneered, “What do you want to do? Do you want to bribe me? Do you want Damar to treat you as his father?”

Terrence compressed his lips and couldn’t say anything

“You’d better stop daydreaming

“Alexa, I was wrong in the past Would you please give me a chance to restart?”

“Why should I give you a chance? Do you think I am a philanthropist?

“I have known Brynlee had hurt you She deserves to be punished

“Really? Won’t you feel sorry for her?”

“Alexa’

Terrence was solemn

Alexa did not want to continue talking nonsense with Terrence and walked out the door coldly

Suddenly, she felt a dull pain in her lower abdomen

Alexa's face turned pale. She had to bend down to ease the pain

However, Alexa was in high heels She stubbornly stood straight and moved a few steps Finally, she lost her balance and held the door frame.

"Alexa? What's wrong?"

Terrence ran to her and carried her up.

He did not mind the dispute and strode to the garage with Alexa in his arms.

"I'm fine. Put me down."

Remembering Alexa's illness, Terrence became nervous.

"I'll take you to the hospital."

"I'm just on my period."

Each time Alexa spoke, her lower abdomen felt a sharp pain.

She subconsciously grabbed Terrence's collar, and sweat glistened on her forehead

"Put me down. I need a rest instead of going to the hospital," Alexa said.

Terrence knew Alexa hated going to the hospital, so he carried her back to the room.

Lying in the soft gray bedding, Alexa became sober and tried to get off the bed.

"Lie down and don't move."

"My skirt is dirty. I am afraid..."

"Lie down."

After saying that, Terrence turned around and left.

Before long, he brought a female robe.

Alexa recognized the robe. It was hers.

Terrence said, "Change your clothes first. Sanitary pad is in the bathroom."

Alexa went to the bathroom immediately. When she came out, Terrence came in with a cup of water

"Have some water"

"Thank you.

"I've called a doctor over Don't worry."

"I have to go back. Damarion is waiting for me," Alexa said in a daze.

Terrence said nothing and sat down by the bed. He reached into the quilt to hold Alexa's feet.

"They will be here soon.

Terrence did not lie to Alexa. A kind doctor came with her team shortly afterward.

The doctor treated Alexa.

"Do you have any children?"

"Yes. My son is one and a half years old *

"Do you have any sequela?"

"I had a massive hemorrhage when I gave birth to my son. After that, I had a backache and always felt cold"

Terrence listened and felt sorry for Alexa.

When Alexa was in trouble, he was not by her side and could not share her pain.

The doctor made out a prescription and handed it to Terrence. Then, she began to scold Terrence.

Terrence nodded as if he was a student who had made a mistake.

After Terrence saw the doctor off, Alexa leaned on the bed and breathed unevenly.

Terrence took off his coat and threw it away. He seemed to be agitated.

Realizing Terrence was about to get on the bed, Alexa became vigilant and afraid.

"What are you doing?"

"Alexa, how did you survive in the past two years?"

"Kept breathing."

Terrence ignored Alexa's indifference and frowned

"What are you hiding from me?"

"It has nothing to do with you"

"Alexa." Terrence lowered his voice.

Alexa threw back the covers and wanted to get out of bed again.

Terrence hugged Alexa and easily held her back to where she was "Just stay here and don't leave."

"Terrence, let me go."

Alexa curled up, and her voice trembled in pain.

Terrence did not do what Alexa said. His hands kept fondling her back and finally massaged her waist.

“Don’t...”

“Do you feel better?”

Terrence’s deep and gentle voice made Alexa fascinating. She was enduring great pain, but she greedily needed more affection.

“Has Kieran done this to you?”

Terrence did not know why he said that.

It might be because of jealousy or possessiveness.

Terrence felt uncomfortable at the thought that Kieran could be kind to Alexa.

Knowing Terrence’s thoughts, Alexa was no longer in ecstasies and came to her senses.

“How could he have not? He knows my body better than myself,” Alexa said.

Hearing that, Terrence was stunned. He remained unmoved for a long time.

Alexa smiled and was pleased with her revenge.

Terrence said childishly, “Ms Bailey is by his side. You come back late.”

“So what? He loves me,” Alexa retorted.

Terrence withdrew his hands. Alexa was not curious about his feelings.

Alexa threw back the covers and got out of bed. Aubrey was waiting outside with Alexa’s clothes

“Can’t you forget Kieran?”

“Mr. Ramsey, what you said is funny. Kieran is my husband. Why should I forget him?”

Terrence’s expression was delicate.

He felt frustrated but could only say peacefully, “What do I mean to you?”

“Well, nothing”

After Alexa said that, she turned around painfully and put a few one-hundred-dollar bills on the table

“Thank you, and goodbye.”

Alexa walked out of the villa without looking back She changed into a different person soon.

Terrence looked at the bills and wanted to laugh and weep all at once.

After Alexa got into the car, Aubrey cautiously paid attention to Alexa’s emotions.

Aubrey said tentatively, “Ms. Duran?”

Alexa said peacefully, "The contract has been signed. The cooperation with the Hudson Group will be carried out as usual."

Aubrey nodded and dared not ask anymore.

She wondered why Alexa was in a robe and negotiated with Terrence in his villa instead of the hotel.

Aubrey had a bold idea but dared not say it.

However, Alexa smoothed her hair expressionlessly and did not take the matter seriously.
