Chapter 1261

“Levi Craig doesn’t deserve to be a member of the Craig family!”

The members were passing and reading the evidence of his crimes. The more they read, the more frightened and shocked they felt.

They were shocked that Levi, who looked righteous and honest on the surface, actually had done many despicable things. He had even broken the law so many times!

Then, they were even more shocked by Everett’s method of operation.

The confidential information was so extensive and deeply hidden that nobody even dared to imagine such things.

Yet, Everett easily found everything.

He had seemingly not used any of the Craig family’s power. He just relied on himself, and he could silently defeat a competitive opponent from the collateral lineage completely.

He really had good methods and mindset.

This made people frightened when they thought about it.

At this time, nobody dared to call him a madman.

Time slowly passed from dusk to morning.

After everyone finished explaining, the sky outside already became bright.

The elderlies of the Craig family left the courtyard one after another. When they saw the blood stain not far away, they were so shocked that their faces turned pale.

Luckily, Everett did not take them on.

Otherwise, the one who was pressed down on the ground and got punished might be themselves or someone under their lineage.

Fortunately, they still had an opportunity to make up and salvage the situation so that they did not have to involve the relatives of their own lineage because of their personal profits and misdeeds.

After everyone left, the Craig family's mansion instantly became empty.

When Duncan read the records arranged by his subordinate, his expression darkened completely.

"This bunch of b*stards actually did so many things privately behind us!"

Everett speedily glanced through all the records as well, and his furrowed eyebrows finally loosened a little.

"This is similar to what we initially expected. We could find out all their crimes, but many of the confidentiality will be completed only after they confess on their own."

The servants had been instructed not to go inside and disturb him.

Duncan also paced back and forth outside the door a few times. He was overwhelmed with an urge, but he still dared not open the door.

Listening to the light tapping sounds on the keyboard, Duncan knew that Everett must be busy with something serious.

But Everett did not eat, drink, or sleep for such a long time.

Duncan could not help but frown.

If he still stayed up like this, how could his body bear it?

While Duncan could not help but want to knock on the door, the tapping sound inside the room finally stopped.

He was slightly startled before he looked happy and waited outside the door.

Indeed, not long later, the door of the room was pulled open, and Everett walked out tiringly.

When he saw Duncan, he was clearly stunned. “Duncan? Why are you here?”

“I’m guarding you. I was afraid that you’d suddenly die!”

Nobody knew who had won in the race between Alden and Everett.

They just knew that after they competed for more than eight hours, they never talked about this since then. Neither of them was happy nor unhappy.

But Alden indeed did not interfere with Everett and Ninian's relationship anymore.

This battle would be considered an unsolved mystery in hacker history.

Many years later, Alden's son would inherit his career. The four-year-old boy would sit in front of the computer, look at his father with admiration, and ask, "Daddy, have you lost before?"

"Yes." After remaining silent for a long time, Alden would say, "That race was a tie, but he was younger than me. So, it was also considered a loss for me."

"Who's this person?"

Alden would tussle his boy's head without answering.

When Nerola asked Alden in private why he refused to say that the person was Everett, he would narrow his menacing eyes slightly.

Ninian was puzzled.

Melody was speechless.

"Accidentally?" Ninian asked, "Did you accidentally kiss her?"

"I... It was an accident at first... Then, it felt too good... so I kept kissing her..." Harold said diffidently.

Ninian and Melody widened their eyes at the same time.

How... How could this be?

Ninian stared at Harold seriously and said, "Hal, Lana is very innocent when it comes to relationships, unlike you. You're an expert in getting involved with countless women! How can you do this to her? Are you playing with her feelings?"

"I'm not!" Harold covered his face and said, "I didn't do it intentionally! At that time... my heart fluttered, and she didn't reject me either, so I kissed her. Later, she slapped me and ran away, so I regretted it too!"

Soon, George fulfilled his agreement and personally brought Ninian back.

The crew of "In Full Bloom" became lively again.

The goddess, Ninian, was back, and she successfully finished filming the remaining scenes.

The cold demon, Everett, no longer wore a cold face that was indifferent toward everyone!

Besides, Young Master Harold who regularly appeared on TV and in the headlines of the entertainment section had put aside his reservations as a member of a reputable family. He just went after Lana, the junior assistant, all the time. The happy couple would argue, and it was very lively.

Previously, everyone had assumed that Harold and Everett were love rivals as Harold was aggressively pursuing Ninian.

Everyone finally realized that it had been a huge mistake.

Ninian was actually the legendary youngest princess in the Winters family. She was Harold's biological sister and also a treasure who was pampered by the Winters family!

A coquettish princess with noble status was actually so friendly with the crew. She could bear all kinds of hardships and torment, and her dedication made her seniors feel embarrassed.

Therefore, everyone in the crew had a better impression of Ninian. They sincerely treated the girl as their sister, and they despised Agnes, as well as Paul, who had harmed her previously.

“Get together! Get together!”

Calls were coming from all over the place.

Melody looked at Brooklyn in the audience too. Her normally indifferent gaze was full of affection at the moment.

“We’ve known each other for fifteen years. All these years, you’ve been by my side, supporting me, taking care of me, and shielding me from all obstacles.

“Now, I’d like to ask if you’re willing to spend the rest of your life with me so that we can face all difficulties in the future together.”

She had always been indifferent and quiet. Her words nearly flipped the idea of who she was, and she also made everyone feel what she felt for Brooklyn using her calm words.

Right then, Brooklyn was stunned.

He looked at the dazzling girl on the stage in disbelief, and he just felt his mind become blank.

George gritted his teeth in anger.

It was Melody who had taken the initiative to propose to him in public!

How could the elder brothers accept this?

Their baby, Mel, had always been a treasure they pampered. No man was good enough for her, and they could never covet her.

What ability did Brooklyn have? He was with her all the time, so he was getting together with her now. He did not even pass the brothers’ challenge, yet he could make Melody so obsessed that she took the initiative to pursue him. She even proposed to him!

George could not dwell on it. When he thought about it, he would get so angry that he felt dizzy, and he wanted to kill someone.

Harold had the same thoughts too.

“I knew that brat didn’t have good intentions! I thought Melody wasn’t enlightened previously, but who would have known that the b*stard would silently steal our baby sister?! No way, I have to call Melody and ask her to take back her words!”

Her number of fans in the world was also impressive.
Brooklyn was also in the same situation.
Therefore, their news shocked the whole world.
Ninian could not resist her urge. She just retweeted Melody's official announcement and commented. (I

After she posted the tweet and sent a message to Everett to apply for a day off, she fell asleep.
By the time she woke up, it was already in the afternoon.

When Ninian pushed the door and came out, Raina and Lana were waiting downstairs.

When they saw that she had a good expression, they sighed in relief at the same time.

"Ninian, I just received the news, so I rushed over. I haven't discussed it with Lana yet. You woke up in time. How do you think we should handle this?" Raina said straight away.

"Yes, Ninian! Amber will only take action after she receives my reply," Lana anxiously said, "The situation is getting increasingly tense on the Internet. We have to react as soon as possible."

"It's fine. We're not in a hurry." Ninian comforted them and asked, "Where are George and Hal?"

When Raina and Lana heard this, the seriousness on their faces grew.

"They found Rowan's hiding site and base. Now, they're working together with Everett to attack him."

Right after they said this, Ninian's complexion instantly turned paler.

Rowan had deeply traumatized her. Therefore, when they mentioned Rowan now, she unwittingly thought of the
