

Winters 1341

Chapter 1341

Reverie's smile was sincere and genuine.

She initially helped Ninian only because she thought that Ninian was great. Besides, Ninian said she wanted to rely on herself before the casting, which also impressed and moved her.

Unexpectedly, she gave herself an opportunity with her unintentional act. That made Reverie feel blessed and surprised.

Hearing what she said, Ninian felt warm and comforted.

Everyone thought that the entertainment industry was filthy and full of schemes.

In reality, there were many people who pursued their dreams and worked very hard there. There were also many people who helped and supported each other.

When there were people, there would be competition, but there would also be warmth and sincerity.

Ninian filmed her scenes in an orderly manner.

There was also “as long as a woman had a stable job and strong support from her family, she would be happy and relaxed even if she stayed single for her whole life.”

She could go on.

Besides, what was more cunning about Duke was that he would never post the quotes using his own account. He would use his wife’s, Adina’s WhatsApp, to post inspirational quotes and links every time.

In the beginning, it caused the Winters siblings to panic for a time, and they thought that their mother opposed their marriage.

They sighed in relief only after Alden unintentionally hacked his father’s account. He realized that his father had found the posts and forwarded them to his mother before posting them using his mother’s phone.

It was fine. It was normal for the father-in-law to trouble his sons-in-law.

The comments became more frenzied.

At the same time, Alden replied to her.

“Daddy and Mommy are just in the next city. The journey will take two hours.”

Melody was speechless. She was right!

There was murderous intent on the indifferent and delicate girl’s face.

Good! Great! She wanted to see where her father could hide this time!

When Ninian came out after putting her makeup on, it was still early. There were still two hours before the ceremony’s banquet.

There was still half an hour left before her father came home.

At this time, Melody secretly called Everett and Brooklyn to come over. They were fully prepared, and they just waited for Duke to return home.

At the side, George, Raina, Harold, Lana, Alden, and Nerola were watching the show.

After the Winters sisters worked hard, the three of their sisters–in–law were successfully bribed to support them to get married as soon as possible.

Even the three of their henpecked brothers also took their sides.

"Uncle Duke," Brooklyn and Everett greeted Duke at the same time.

Brooklyn was older, so he moved a step forward first and said, "Uncle Duke, this is something that I prepared three years ago. All properties under my name, including shares that aren't limited to the family business, properties, estates, stocks, etc... were transferred to Mel three years ago. Whether in the past or in the future, everything I have, including my life, will belong to her."

Melody was shocked when he said that.

All his properties had been transferred to her? He never mentioned anything to her. He just silently gave her everything.

"Daddy..." Melody looked at Duke, and her clear gaze was filled with helplessness which was rare.

Brooklyn was the only person, other than her family, who was willing to sacrifice everything for her.

Such love that was enthusiastic, reserved, hidden, yet deep and long-lasting made her heart seize.

George took the documents from Brooklyn and passed them to Duke.

The Winters family fell silent again.

Among the three sisters-in-law, Lana was already so moved that she wept. Raina and Nerola were stronger, but their eyes turned red too.

The Winters brothers, who were initially touched, instantly appeared dissatisfied as a result.

They were actually moved and crying for other men? Women, you were playing with fire!

Naturally, the Winters brothers did not have a chance to vent their anger because Duke had already stood up.

He walked to the similarly outstanding young men, who were standing side by side, and patted their shoulders. At this moment, he seemed to age a little. He did not look like the overlord who dominated the business industry in the past.

"From now on, I'll leave my two babies to you."

When Brooklyn and Everett heard this, they were taken aback, but their eyes were soon filled with excitement.

The screen was full of comments like, “I can’t accept this sadness.”

When the host saw the audience overreacting, he smiled to smooth out the situation and said, “Have you forgotten? Ninian just said that she wanted to announce some good news!”

His words reminded everyone at the venue.

With that, almost everyone held their breath and listened to her.

“Everett and I will be holding a wedding soon!”

“What?!”

“Ah! Awesome! The day has finally come!”
