

Madam Winters's Fight For Her Children Chapter 1006-1010

Chapter 1006

"I'll remember!"

Adeline carried Grapie and placed her in the middle of their motorcycle. Grapie reluctantly looked at the orphanage that she had lived in for two years. Once she grew up and had the means, she would give every kid there a home.

Adeena parked her car in front of the company.

When she went inside, her assistant came forward. "Ms. Willis, the CEO's assistant from Winters Corporation is here."

Adeena nodded. Her assistant had called to tell her that Jake was visiting, so she had to leave the orphanage.

She wondered if Grapie had been successfully adopted.

She got rid of the thought for the time being. After she calmly walked into her office and put down her leather bag, she picked up a document and headed to the meeting room.

Jake had initially been sitting leisurely and drinking coffee. When he heard the sounds of high heels approaching, he quickly stood up, lowered his head slightly, and respectfully said, "Ms. Willis."

His attitude did not make Adeena feel strange.

After all, Mr. Wilson had been even more respectful in Duke's suite yesterday. Adeena found it normal, but the assistant beside her was completely petrified. Winters Corporation was a top transnational group in the world. The CEO was the most admired existence wherever he went, while his special assistant was just an assistant on the surface, but he was actually in charge of many decision-making matters of this large group. It could be said that even the mayor of Cloud City also needed to be polite when he met Mr. Wilson.

But when the assistant with such a noble status saw Ms. Willis, he actually lowered his head and behaved extremely respectfully.

"Ms. Willis, I came over because I want to discuss a cooperation with your company." Jake pushed a document over. "This is the new AI development project. If you think it's okay, we can go further into negotiations." It was not until Adeena waved for her assistant to leave that she slowly said, "You're Mr. Winters' assistant, and I'm going to be his secretary. My status is not suitable to be a collaborator with Winters Corporation, right?"

“Mr. Winters has glanced through the projects that you’ve handled, and he admires your ability, so he let me come and discuss the collaboration,” Jake said, “The final profit is divided 30/70.”

Adeena frowned.

If the dividend was divided based on this ratio, she could not earn much.

“You get 70, Winters Corporation gets 30,” Jake softly said. “Ms. Willis, if you think this isn’t good enough, Winters Corporation is still open to negotiation.”

Adeena wrapped her arms around her chest and looked at Jake in a relaxed manner.

Winters Corporation was the project initiator. No matter what, they should take the biggest profit, but they were backing off to such a point.

She was increasingly convinced of her intuition that Mr. Winters was there for her.

He laid out the plan step by step to attract her to Sea City and force her to surrender.

But was she worth it?

Adeena’s silent gaze made Jake feel a cold shiver down his spine.

Mr. Winters had asked him to secure this collaboration , and it did not matter how much profit they needed to give up. Why did he feel that it would be difficult to complete this mission?

It was mainly because Mdm. Winters was too smart. She must have noticed that something was wrong...

“Um, Ms. Willis.” Jake cleared his throat and said, “I know that you must be puzzled about Mr. Winters’ decision. I suggest that you agree with the collaboration, and you can personally ask Mr. Winters about the details. I believe Mr. Winters is willing to answer any questions from you.”

Chapter 1007

It took Adeena less than three seconds to directly sign the contract.

She would be going to Sea City and becoming the man’s secretary in half a month. She could consider the profit of this project as her salary.

Jake sighed in relief. “Ms. Willis, I’ll see you in half a month.”

Adeena smiled. “It should take less than half a month. I’ll go to Sea City and attend the IoT exhibition in two days.” “That’s great.” Jake felt sincerely happy. “Winters Corporation will personally welcome you then.”

“I thank you in advance.”

Adeena smiled faintly and sent Jake out.

Since she could not avoid being the secretary of Winters Corporation's CEO, she needed to know what kind of person the man was first.

Once she understood him, she would not be put in a passive position.

The Winters family's mansion was located in a remote and quiet spot halfway up the hill in Sea City. When standing on the balcony, the sea would be visible. When sitting at the entrance, the blue sea could also be seen.

Someone was playing a melodious piano piece in the living room, and it was serene and beautiful.

i

A little girl wearing a white princess dress was sitting in front of a piano. She closed her eyes slightly while moving along with the rhythm of the music.

"George, have you noticed anything wrong with Mel these last two days?" Harold closed the book in his hand and asked in a low voice.

George nodded. "There were supposed to be two more shows on her tour, but she canceled them."

"It looks like something's occupying her mind," Alden said softly. "I've asked her about it, but she refuses to say."

The rhythm of the piano suddenly became soft, as if sea waves beat heavily on the rocks, which made people feel gloomy for some reason.

Harold got up and walked over. "Mel, stop playing piano. Come and talk to us."

Mel stopped moving her fingers, and the music instantly stopped.

She raised her head, and her eyes were slowly filled with tears. Her eyes were so watery as if she would cry in the next second.

"Mel, what happened?"

Harold was flustered, and he immediately wiped away Melody's tears.

George and Alden quickly walked over. The three boys surrounded their sister, and all of them looked worried as well as anxious.

"I'm fine." Mel's voice was a little husky. "I just miss Mommy."

When they heard the word “Mommy,” silence instantly started to spread in the living room, almost suffocating Harold.

“It’s my fault.” Harold put his hand on his forehead and covered the emotions in his eyes. “That night four years ago, I cried and scared Mommy away. I made Mommy leave in anger. Mommy’s been gone for four years, and she’s not coming back. She doesn’t want us anymore — ”

“Hal, stop saying such nonsense.” Melody interrupted him. “Mommy will never abandon us.” “But why hasn’t Mommy returned in the last four years?” Harold’s eyes became teary. “If Mommy still loves us, if she still wants us, why hasn’t she come back and visited us? Doesn’t she know that we miss her like crazy? No, I can’t blame Mommy. It’s my fault. That night four years ago, why did I...” Melody held Harold’s hand tightly.

That night four years ago, Mommy held a knife and stood in front of Harold’s bed. He cried out in fear, and Mommy left in the middle of the night.

Since then, Mommy no longer came back.

Therefore, that night became a nightmare Harold could not get rid of.

Harold always felt that Mommy no longer came back because of what happened that night.

Chapter 1008

“Hal, it has nothing to do with you.” Melody hugged him. “It’s not that Mommy doesn’t come back, it’s because she can’t come back.”

Alden narrowed his eyes. “Mel, what do you mean?”

Melody raised her head and looked at her brothers. She then schooled her expression and said, “Have you ever thought that something might have actually happened to Mommy, hence she can’t come back?” “That’s impossible !” George denied it coldly. “Nothing will happen to Mommy! That’s impossible!”

He would rather his mommy never come back than have anything happen to her. He hoped that his mommy would live well in a corner of the world. “George, what are you thinking about? I mean... Mommy might have lost her memories.” Melody pursed her lips tightly. “Because she’s lost her memories, and she’s forgotten us and Daddy, she can’t find the way home.” Alden looked at her and softly asked, “Mel, did you know something?” “I...”

Melody was slightly speechless.

The result of the paternity report was not out yet, so she also did not know if the woman she saw that day was Mommy.

She was 100% sure that she was Mommy, but what if she was not?

They had been disappointed too many times these four years. Whenever someone said there was someone who looked like Mommy somewhere, the four of us would rush over overnight, but they came back in disappointment every time.

She did not want to see her brothers disappointed again,

Once the results came out, she would give them a surprise!

“Daddy says there’s news, but it’s not confirmed yet.” Melody clenched her fingers and said, “Since we’ve waited for four years, it doesn’t matter to wait for a few more days.”

Alden nodded. “Mel, you’re also tired. Go upstairs and rest.”

Melody was afraid that her brothers would see through her, so she quickly went upstairs.

“No way. I have to ask Daddy!” Harold took out his phone to make a call.

Alden instantly pressed his hand. “Didn’t you see that Mel was just lying?” Whenever Melody lied, she would anxiously clench her fingers. It was a habit that she had developed since she was little, and she could not get rid of it no matter what.

“Why did Mel lie?” George narrowed his eyes and said, “If there’s news about Mommy, she shouldn’t hide it from us.”

“Hal, call Uncle Jake and ask about Daddy’s schedule these two days,” Alden said indifferently.

Harold immediately nodded. Three minutes later, he walked over and said, “Uncle Jake said Daddy has been on a business trip in Cloud City these two days, but he will be back soon.”

“Mel also went to Cloud City two days ago.” George frowned. “Is Mommy in Cloud City?”

“This is possible!” Something shone in Alden’s black eyes. “I’ll send someone to investigate the news in Cloud City now.”

The sky slowly turned dark, and the four kids of the Winters family could not sleep.

Harold leaned on the couch in his room while holding an AI intelligent robot that simulated a real person in his arms.

“Mommy, sing me a nursery rhyme.”

“Okay, Hal. Mommy will sing you Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star.”

The robotic voice was so soft and exactly the same as Adina's voice.

The silicone – made face of the robot had the same smile as Adina's. It gently raised his arm and patted Harold's back, while the soft nursery rhyme was heard in the room.

Alden quietly stood in front of the window in the room next door.

He was not as childish as Harold . He did not purposely find someone to make a robot that looked exactly like Mommy, but he was also desperate to hear Mommy's voice. Therefore, every night, he would stand there while quietly listening to Mommy's singing.

Chapter 1009

The airplane flew through the clouds and landed at the airport in Sea City. "We're finally here!" Ruth looked excited. "Brady, later you show me around. I heard that there's a place in Sea City..."

"If you want to walk around , you can go on your own." Brady frowned. "We'll go to the apartment and put our luggage down. After we finish unpacking, you can do whatever you want."

"My mom asked you to take good care of me. How could you not care about me?" Ruth said unhappily.

Brady cast a glance at her. "Deena and I came to Sea City because of serious business. What about you? Why are you here? Don't get in the way of our business."

"Hmph!"

Ruth pulled her suitcase and walked forward first.

Brady helplessly shook his head. This cousin had been a troublemaker since she was little, and her ability to cause trouble was similar to Hudson's.

He did not really know why Aunt Jada would agree to let Ruth follow them to Sea City.

Adeena smiled faintly and indifferently said, "She's already 22. An adult has to learn to be responsible for herself. Brady, don't worry too much about her."

The Willis family had bought an apartment in Sea City for a long time. It consisted of three rooms and a living room, so it was perfect for the three of them to stay there.

The apartment was at the center of Sea City. When standing in front of the window, Sea City's charming and dazzling night scenery would be visible.

Ruth sat on the balcony, and her eyes were full of excitement.

She was born and raised in Cloud City. She always thought the Willis family was rich and powerful, and they were a big, rich family.

It was only when she came to Sea City that she knew the Willis family was totally nothing. It could be said that the family that ranked last in Sea City could also defeat the Willis family.

The Finnian family , which was the top family in Cloud City, was totally nothing to her now.

When Ruth wanted to say something, she saw that Adeena took out a gown from her suitcase, hung it on the hanger, and ironed it.

“Deena, why did you also bring a gown over?”

Adeena indifferently said, “There’s an exhibition at 7:00 pm, and I was invited.”

“I’ve never been to a business dinner in Sea City. Deena, can you take me there to experience?” Ruth quickly went forward. “Don’t worry, I won’t embarrass you. Just take me along.”

Adeena moved out her arm of Ruth’s grasp. “I’ll take you to a charity banquet next time, but today, no.” Tonight was a proper business banquet. If she brought a burden, she would be distracted.

“Fine.” Something flashed in Ruth’s eyes. “I’ll go out on my own.”

She turned around and walked to the living room. When she saw Adeena’s bag that was hung on the wall, she secretly searched inside the bag and found an invitation card.

Since Adeena did not want to bring her, she would secretly go there!

Since a foster daughter could be invited to attend this kind of business dinner, she, the real Miss Willis, could naturally attend.

Ruth kept the invitation card into her pocket before she hummed a song and went back to her room to make up and dress up.

After Adeena ironed the gown, she went back to her room and got changed. This was a tight black silk evening dress. The black dress was embellished with silver tassels, and they dazzled under the light like the shining surface of the lake or the broken milky way.

She put on the gown and went out relaxingly. Then, she got a taxi and went to the venue of the banquet.

Four years later, the IoT industry had developed to an unprecedented height, and it attracted investment pursuits from countless people. This was a biennial IoT exhibition. Basically, famous investors , technical experts, and business bigwigs were attending

When Adeena showed up at the entrance of the banquet, she attracted countless sights.

Her features were exquisite, her makeup was delicate, and her figure was gorgeous. When she walked on the red carpet, the scenery was extremely gorgeous.

“Since when has there been such a beautiful woman in Sea City?”

“Why do I feel like she’s a top celebrity? She’s so pretty and dazzling. She’s amazing.”

“If she’s really a celebrity, the reporters would have already surrounded her. Maybe she’s from other places. Anyways, I haven’t seen her in Sea City before.”

Chapter 1010

“Another gorgeous woman is in Sea City. I wonder which man’s heart will be stolen again.”

Adeena was already used to this kind of attention.

Whenever she attended a banquet with Jada over the past three years, she would always become the focus of men’s attention.

She did not mind the emotions in their eyes. She would calmly walk in her high heels and head to the entrance of the banquet hall.

“Miss, please show me your invitation card.”

The waiter at the entrance said as a routine.

People around immediately came over. As long as they could see the invitation card, they could know what this gorgeous woman’s name was.

Adeena opened her purse, and she was instantly stunned. Why was her invitation card missing?

She lowered her head and searched her purse again, but she still could not find it.

The people’s gaze around her immediately changed. “She came to the banquet without an invitation card. Is she that kind of gold digger?”

“Do women nowadays think they can successfully marry a rich man and increase their social status when they look slightly better?”

“Who knows what these women are thinking?”

The waiter at the entrance hesitantly said, “If you don’t have the invitation card, you’re not allowed to enter the venue based on the rule.”

Adina smiled faintly. “It’s okay. I’ll make a call.”

The organizer had invited her there. If she called the person in charge, someone would naturally come and take her inside.

When she just moved to the side, there was a sudden commotion from the crowd.

“Oh, god!”

“Who did I see?”

“Duke Winters! The CEO of Winters Corporation ! It has been a long time since he last appeared in public!” “I haven’t seen him in public for about four years. What’s happening today? Why would he attend this kind of banquet?”

“Winters Corporation has invested hugely in the IoT industry these years, so it’s not strange that he came to attend this exhibition.”

The figure was moving closer and closer amidst the crowds’ discussion.

The five bodyguards made a path out by moving the crowds to the side. The man stepped on the red carpet while slowly walking toward her.

Sharpness shone in his eagle-like eyes, and he emitted an imposing manner. Everywhere he walked past became instantly silent.

Those people who discussed became silent. In this way, he walked to Adeena while being watched by everyone.

“She’s my companion,” Duke coldly said. When he saw that the waiter was stunned, he pursed his thin lips.” Why? Do I also need to show my invitation card?”

Only then did the waiter respond , “Please come in, Mr. Winters.”

The CEO of Winters Corporation was a bigwig who could not be simply invited. How would he dare ask for an invitation card?

Duke looked askance slightly, and his cold voice became soft for some reason. “Ms. Willis, let’s go inside together.”

“Thank you for your help, Mr. Winters.”

Adeena decently smiled before she followed Duke to walk into the banquet hall.

Until they disappeared from the entrance of the banquet hall, the silent crowd suddenly burst into a ruckus.

“Oh god! That woman knows the CEO of Winters Corporation!”
