

Madam Winters's Fight For Her Children Chapter 1011-1015

Chapter 1011

"I heard Mr. Winters calling her Ms. Willis. Since when was there a Willis family in Sea City?"

"There is one, but they're not a big family."

"A woman's beauty is really her greatest weapon. Even Mr. Winters has fallen victim to it."

"Speaking of him, do you remember the divorce scandal that went viral four years ago? No one has heard anything from the couple anymore."

"I think they've divorced for real. Or else, why hasn't Mdm. Winters made an appearance in public for four years?"

"You got a point. Mdm. Winters, the most beautiful woman in Sea City, appeared on the news headlines almost every month ever since she came back. Then, she disappeared for four years. It just isn't her style. Perhaps she couldn't fit in after her divorce, so she went to settle abroad."

"Hey, did you guys realize that Ms. Willis looks kind of similar to Mdm. Winters?"

"You're right..."

The ladies at the entrance of the banquet chatted, and behind them stood three children.

Harold clenched his fists. "For the past four years, Daddy hasn't been with any woman. Ms. Willis must be Mommy!"

"I've looked into it. We do indeed have a powerful family called the Willis in Cloud City." Alden said softly.

"The ladies just now said that Ms. Willis looks similar to Mommy. I think there's no doubting it. It's her." Harold pursed his lips. "But if she's Mommy, why did Daddy hide it from us?"

"Melody said Mommy lost her memories." Alden said, "Let's sit in a corner and observe it carefully once we enter the banquet. We shouldn't act rashly. We might ruin Daddy's plan." Harold nodded. "Okay, I'll remain calm." The three of them lowered their caps and joined the crowd.

As soon as Adeena entered the banquet, the staff who had been in charge of receiving her greeted her. "Ms. Willis, you look much younger and more beautiful than when you are on-screen."

They had been speaking to each other through video calls, but this was the first time the two had met physically.

Adeena reached out to shake his hand. "Mr. Benkeran, it's an honor to meet you."

Harris Benkeran was about to shake her hand when he suddenly felt someone watching him from behind, and it gave him chills.

When he looked up, Duke, who was near them, stared at him with his sharp gaze.

Harris hurriedly pulled back his hand and tried to ignore the hostile gaze. "Ms. Willis, let's head to the lounge and chat, shall we?" Just as Adeena was about to nod, Duke approached them. He was 1.86 meters tall. As soon as he came over, the chandelier was directly above his head, casting a shadow over them.

He spoke casually, "Mr. Benkeran, why don't you let me talk to Ms. Willis for a moment?"

Harris was dumbfounded.

He was just a staff member. So, he did not recognize Duke.

Even so, he was no fool. From Duke's gaze, he had a feeling that Duke was quite possessive of Adeena.

Duke's gaze was terrifying, and he could not handle the pressure of his gaze. "Alright. Ms. Willis, we'll talk later." Harris gulped and turned to welcome the other guests. Adeena pursed her lips. She redirected her gaze to Duke and asked calmly, "May I know what you wanted to talk about, Mr. Winters?"

"Ms. Willis, let's head to the lounge."

Duke took the lead and strode toward the lounge. Adeena frowned. Countless people in the banquet hall were watching Duke. Many men had their eyes on Adeena.

'If I were to stay in the lounge for a long time with him, rumors would arise.

'I'll be his secretary soon. If such rumors run rampant, my life in Sea City will be very tough.'

Chapter 1012

Adeena walked slowly into the banquet hall with a goblet in her hand as she turned and headed toward the balcony. After everyone was no longer paying attention to her, she walked to the lounge through the door at the side. This was an upper-class lounge, and the doorway was empty.

Duke, who was sitting on the couch, looked at her. "I thought you weren't coming."

"Mr. Winters, you're the most attractive person in town. I don't want to be the public enemy of all women in Sea City." Adeena walked over and sat down at the further edge of the couch. "Speak up if you have something to say. I'm all ears."

Join Telegram Group For Fast Update And Novel Query

Duke swirled his drink and looked at her with a fervor gaze. "You don't seem to be afraid of me at all."

“You’re similar to everyone else. You have a pair of eyes and a mouth. Why should I be afraid of you?” She looked calm. “If you don’t have anything to say, I shall excuse myself for now.”

Duke sighed in his heart.

Do you know what’s the furthest distance in life?

‘It’s when you’re here with me, but you neither know how much I love you nor how much you used to love me.’

“Let’s have a cup of coffee before you go.”

He snapped his fingers.

The lounge door suddenly opened, and a girl in a pink dress emerged with coffees in her hand.

Adeena was stunned.

‘Isn’t this the talented little pianist that I met in Cloud City the other day?’

‘She kept calling me Mommy...

‘Why is she here...?’ Her eyes shifted back and forth between Duke and the little girl, and she suddenly understood.

This little girl’s name is Melody Winters. She’s Mr. Winters’ daughter. They look similar to each other.

‘Why is his daughter calling me her mommy?’

“Aunt Deena, please have a cup of coffee,” Melody said in a choked voice.

She bent forward slightly to put the coffees on the coffee table.

Adeena looked at her. “Why are you so upset when you see me?”

“Because I’ll think of my mommy...” Melody muttered.

‘I’m sorry that I have offended you, Aunt Deena.’ Tears streamed down her cheeks as she spoke.

An hour ago, Daddy told me that the paternity test report came out, and Adeena Willis from Cloud City is Mommy, Adina Daugherty!

‘But because of what happened four years ago, Daddy said not to call her Mommy just yet.

‘I can only ask Daddy to arrange a meeting with Mommy.

'But whenever I meet her, I'll feel my heart shattering into countless pieces when I have to call her Aunt Deena instead.'

Her tears rolled down and landed on the back of Adeena's hand.

The warm tears broke Adeena's heart. She felt pity for Melody

"It's okay, don't cry." Adeena carried her in her arms. "Your mother will be sadder if she gets to know how sad you are..."

Melody sniffed. "Okay, I won't cry. I won't cry..."

However, after she said that, she cried even harder.

'I don't want Mommy to feel sad when she recalls this moment.' She pursed her lips, got up, and ran out of the lounge.

Adeena was saddened too, as she pursed her lips.

After a long pause, she raised her gaze and looked at Duke, who was in front of her. "May I know what happened to your daughter's mother?"

Chapter 1013

Duke was stunned for a moment.

He looked at Adeena, who was in front of him, solemnly and said, "Are you trying to do a background check on me after deciding to cooperate with Winters Corporation?"

Adeena did not deny it. "The news mentioned your divorce. Is that true?" "It might be true, it might not be." Duke sounded solemn. "We never officially divorced, but we've been separated for four years. Which do you think it is, then?"

Adeena did not want to ask too many questions about other people's marriages.

She pursed her lips and continued, "From what you said, does that mean your daughter has not met her mother for four years?"

Duke looked at her in silence.

He was at a loss, not knowing how to put in words how painful it felt to be separated from his wife for four years.

'I don't want to lie. Every lie I tell her will only keep us further apart. 'But I can't tell her the truth directly, either...'

Duke was lost in his train of thoughts.

Adeena stared at him. When she first met him, his gaze was sharp and cold.

But right now, his gaze was as calm as a lake in a valley, but was also like a magnet drawing her in. She found herself enchanted by the image. Duke slowly approached her and touched her face with his slender fingers.

As his face got closer, Adeena held her breath and her body became tense.

She raised her hands and wanted to push him away, her hands felt weak.

Just when she hesitated, Duke's lips met hers. Her cold lips instantly became warm.

He was domineering and rough. Bit by bit, she was out of breath. She was like a suffocating fish who was on the verge of dying

'We were talking about his wife and daughter. How did we come to this?

(Wife...

'Daughter... All of a sudden, she came back to her senses. It was as if a bucket of cold water poured over her head.

She raised her leg and kicked Duke's abdomen.

She swiftly stood up and stepped back. "Mr. Winters, please show some self-respect!"

Duke wiped off the lipstick stain on his lips and said in a hoarse voice, "Adi— Ms. Willis, can I call you Addy?" "No." Adeena became cold. "If this happens again, I will report you for sexual harassment."

After she said this, she angrily strode off the lounge.

'Why did I even fall for it?

'He's a married man with children of his own. Am I crazy? How could I let him kiss me for so long?'

She wiped her lips hard, only to realize that her lips were a little swollen.

She hurriedly took out a pocket mirror from her purse to have a look. Indeed, it was swollen and her lipstick was smeared. She was embarrassed.

'I came to this banquet tonight because I had something very important to talk about, but now, I don't think it will happen anymore... 'I seldom get so furious. Even if Ruth discreetly sabotages me, I won't show such a strong reaction, but now...' She angrily looked back at the lounge and left the banquet early through the side door.

A car parked in front of the banquet hall. The door was pushed open, and a woman stepped out of the car.

Her off-shoulder pink and blue gown attracted people's attention. The necklace around her neck was the most striking item of all.

Chapter 1014

The lady took out her invitation letter and walked into the banquet hall.

Many people turned and looked at her.

"Isn't that the Heart of the Ocean on her neck? It was sold at a sky-high price a few years ago." "This necklace was taken away by a mysterious person at the auction five years ago. Could it be this young lady?"

"But I've never seen her among any wealthy families in Sea City. She's very eye-catching."

"I have a feeling it's a fake. Look at the gown she's wearing. It's from last season's entry. Who would wear that? If she can't afford this season's new style, how is she able to afford the Heart of the Ocean? That's impossible!"

"If it's truly fake, it's a very well-made replica."

As Ruth made her way into the banquet hall, she could feel all eyes were on her.

She puffed up her chest to show off the necklace even more.

The three children, who were sitting in the corner, were stunned.

"That's the Heart of the Ocean!" Harold became emotional. "Mommy was wearing it the night she disappeared!"

George held him down. "She doesn't look like Mommy."

Alden raised his hand and called a waiter. "Go and ask where the lady who's wearing the blue diamond necklace comes from?"

The waiter hurriedly went over to Ruth.

Harold murmured, "Do you still remember the dream that I told you before? I dreamed that Mommy changed her face and became another person. Although her appearance and figure have changed, she is still our mommy..."

George kept silent.

'We've been through so much for the past four years. I've •seen Daddy change from the chairman of Winters

Corporation to the leader of the black party.

'I've seen my gentle and cheerful mother gradually change into a hot-tempered maniac... 'Everything is possible in this world.

"Mel said that Mommy might have suffered from amnesia. So, it's possible that she has changed her appearance, too?"

'That must be why Melody stammered when she mentioned Mommy.' Soon, the waiter returned. "That lady is Ms. Willis, from Cloud City. She came to Sea City to attend a project with her older sibling." Harold became even more emotional. "She's from Cloud City and from the Willis family. It matches the information George found! She's even wearing the Heart of the Ocean. Most importantly, Daddy personally brought her into the banquet hall tonight. You know he doesn't simply come to a banquet with some random woman,"

George and Alden continued to stay silent.

"I'll go investigate. You all wait here!"

Harold put down the things in his hand and strode over. Ruth grabbed a glass of champagne once she entered the banquet hall.

Everyone around her was not sure who she was because there was a huge gap of value between her gown and the necklace. Because of that, no one approached her and talked to her.

She glanced over at the people who were present. Just as she was about to join the group of celebrities, she noticed a child approaching her.

The child was only about eight or nine years old. He was wearing a black suit and a bow tie, looking like a prince from a fairy tale.

Ruth was slightly stunned.

At this moment, he hurriedly rushed towards her and bumped into her. The glass of wine he was holding spilled over her pink and blue gown.

"My gown!"

Ruth widened her eyes in shock.

'I've spent two hundred thousand dollars on this gown, and it is stained with wine in less than an hour...'

'Where did this mischievous child come from?!' Ruth was enraged and raised her hand to slap the child.

Chapter 1015

Ruth's hand was stopped in midair.

She turned and saw a fierce bodyguard stare at her before flinging her hand aside.

"Mr. Winters, are you okay?" The bodyguard asked worriedly.

Harold shook his head and looked at Ruth with his misty eyes.

'Four years ago, when I dirtied Mommy's clothes, she also looked at me with the same angry gaze...'

The bodyguard did not understand what Harold was thinking, but he knew that Harold had deliberately dirtied Ruth's gown.

He drew a check from his wallet, wrote an amount, and handed it to her. "Is this enough?"

Ruth's eyes widened. 'Half a million dollars?!

That's more than double the price of this gown!

'What a generous gesture for a child bumping into me.

'Sea City is truly a city with people of unusual abilities.' "Is it not enough?" The bodyguard's gaze was cold.

"It's enough, it's enough." Ruth shoved the check into her purse. "I'll let this time slide. Look where you're going the next time.'

She turned and headed toward the restroom to wash off the wine stain from her gown.

Harold was at a loss.

'The evidence is clear. This lady must be Mommy.

'But when I look at her, I don't feel any strong emotions...

'I remember four years ago when I first met Mommy, I would want to cling to her even though she was a stranger to me.

'Do I love her less because she changed her appearance?'

He returned to the corner of the banquet hall, feeling muddled.

There were tall plants on all sides. It was out of sight from everyone in the banquet hall, and about three bodyguards guarding the entrance of the hall.

Melody approached and joined the rest of the Winters family's children and sat on the couch in silence.

After a long silence, Harold finally spoke, "I'm not sure if that's Mommy..."

"What are you saying?" Melody raised her gaze and said in disbelief, "Hal, what did you do?"

"Mel, we know what happened in Cloud City." George said softly, "Ms. Willis might have something to do with Mommy's disappearance."

Melody looked at her three brothers in a daze. 'I should have guessed why they wanted to join this banquet. Turns out, they've already figured out what's going on.' "I've taken a strand of her hair and the paternity test report has been released." She smiled bitterly. "Indeed, she's our mommy."

George was stunned.

'When I watched the confrontation between Harold and the woman earlier, her eyes lit up when she saw the amount on the check. Even if Mommy lost her memory, she will never be this materialistic...

'I've ruled out this possibility but now, Mel said that she did a paternity test with her!'

Alden found it hard to believe as well. "Mel, do you know what you're talking about?"

Melody nodded. "A week ago, I went to Cloud City to visit my teacher. That's where I met Mommy. She might look different from before, but I knew it was here at first glance. To be sure, I secretly took a strand of Mommy's hair and gave it to Daddy. An hour ago, Daddy told me that the paternity test has confirmed that she's indeed our mommy."

Harold was in a daze as he said, "So, it's truly her..."

'I initially was sure that the woman was Mommy, but after confronting her, I started to doubt it. 'But now that Mel has said this, I'm sure it's her!'