

Madam Winters's Fight For Her Children

Chapter 732

Chapter 732 Adina tried to calm herself. She sucked in a deep breath. "They can fake the paternity test report. But they can't deny the mutual attraction between two people. Don't you admit that you're attracted to me? You're attracted to me not because of my pretty face, but because of our love for each other. You're my husband, and I'm your wife. We have four adorable children together..." She took out her phone and showed him the photo of his four children. When Terry looked at the picture of the children on the phone, the smile on their faces stung his eyes. For a moment, he felt as if someone had pricked his heart, and an excruciating pain spread through his limbs... She was right. They could fake the paternity test report, but they could not fake their emotions... Thoughts became jumbled in Terry's mind.

"Boss, Elder Dorian requests to see you." The bodyguard at the entrance knocked on the door and reported to Terry. Terry took back the documents. "I'll assign someone to investigate the matter. Go back and wait for my update. Don't worry." Adina was relieved. She considered a good start because he didn't reject or refute his words. As soon as she left his master bedroom, Louis attended her and led her downstairs. "Ms. Daugherty, you're amazing! That was my first time seeing Ms. Isabelle in such a fit of temper!" he said as they walked down the stairs. Adina pursed her lips and did not say anything. She walked out, her heels clicking. "Ms. Daugherty, please make a call before you come over next time. I can fetch you." Louis was incredibly considerate of her. He stole a glance at the love bites on her neck and was further convinced that she was going to be Terry's most doting lover, if not his wife. He wanted to get on her good side to ensure that his future remained bright. Adina slowed. She frowned. "Are you Terry's confidant?" "I'm not that qualified yet. I've been tentatively transferred to the mansion to oversee the registration of the visitors," said Louis while rubbing his hands. "If I were given a chance, I hope I can be your personal bodyguard." Adina smiled. Louis was greedy, but he was also smart. She took out a stack of cash and stuffed it into his hands. "If Isabelle comes over, call me. If I become Mrs. North someday, I'll certainly promote you." "Noted, Ms. Daugherty. I'll ensure the job is done well!" Louis saw Adina out of the mansion happily.

Meanwhile, Elder Dorian entered Terry's master bedroom. Even though Terry was severely wounded on his sickbed, he radiated a strong aura, and his visitors dared not act hastily. Elder Dorian passed him a stack of documents. "This is the revenue report for the last quarter. Please look through it." Terry turned his head around. "Bring me the financial report from my study room." The bodyguard heeded his order and quickly brought in two stacks of accounts. Terry tossed them at Elder Dorian's face. "The discrepancy shown in the accounts is as high as one billion dollars. Tell me, did you use the money for your personal interest or something else?!"
