

Madam Winters's Fight For Her Children Chapter 890

Chapter 890 Thoughts ran in Adina's mind. She forced out a smile and walked to the kitchen with Duke. "Duke, how's Earl these days?" she asked as she washed the tomatoes.

Duke was cutting vegetables. "He's locked up in the basement. He is being truthful with out making too many demands."

Earl used to make strange requests during the first few days of his confinement. He always tried to escape but was caught every time.

Now, he just answered Duke honestly when interrogated. Perhaps he had accepted the fact that he could not escape.

Adina's hands stopped. Duke seemed to be unaware that Earl had escaped.

She looked down. "Duke, I want to speak to Earl."

Duke stopped what he was doing and looked at her. "Addy, Earl is not easy to deal with. He's not going to tell you anything."

Earl refused to disclose anything regarding the chip database, no matter how hard he forced and coaxed him. Besides, he didn't want Addy contacting Earl.

"What are you worried about, honey?" Adina wiped her hands clean. She approached him and wrapped her hands around his neck. "I love you and only you. Do you not believe me? I want to call Earl to ask him about the method for deciphering the chip's code. What if he softens up and actually tells me?"

Duke stroked her hair. "Okay, I'll call Blake first."

"It's okay. You can do that after we've finished eating." Adina continued washing the tomatoes while Duke chuckled and shook his head. Together, they prepared two dishes and a pot of soup.

They made a tomato omelet, chili stir-fried pork, and seaweed pork ribs soup, along with two bowls of rice. The food was simple, but it was the most contented dinner they had ever had.

Duke washed the dishes after their meal. After he finished with his chores, he called Blake.

His face was solemn while talking to Blake. His eyes were sharp, and his voice radiated authority.

Who would have guessed a man like that was washing dishes in the kitchen just moments ago?

Adina rested her chin on her palm and stared at him and sighed inwardly.

Once Earl disappears from their life, this comfortable bond would be gone too. Although the bio-intelligent chip in her body was difficult to deal with, they may be able to find a solution for it. But Earl...

Adina sighed bitterly. Even if they were able to capture Earl again and lock him in the dungeon with better security, the man would still find ways to escape.

Earl was just too crafty, and a good man like Duke was no match for him.

'Unless Earl died...'

Adina was shocked when the thought popped up in her mind. She wondered when she had become this ruthless. She was actually thinking about murder.

She shook her head to brush her thoughts away. She looked at Duke to see his face darken.

"What did you say?! The guy in the basement is not Earl?!" he yelled. "Ear was replaced! You only found that out after three days?!"

Duke sounded enraged. "Check the surveillance cameras! Check it one by one! You must track down Earl no matter what!"

Madam Winters's Fight For Her Children Chapter 891

Chapter 891 Duke only calmed down when Adina approached him and patted his back gently. He pursed his lips and continued, "The surveillance is probably destroyed. Hire a hacker and restore it. We must find Earl."

Duke was still furious even after hanging up. "Calm down..." Adina said softly. "You know Earl. He'll never let himself get imprisoned for the rest of his life. He probably has been planning his escape the first day he got imprisoned..."

Duke held her icy cold hand and said gently, "Addy, if you hadn't wanted to talk to Earl, I might not know when I would learn that he's missing..." "Duke, now is not the time to blame yourself." Adina reassured him, "We should think of potential places where he might be hiding."

Duke had a stern expression. He gritted his teeth and said, "He's most probably coming to Sea City."

He thought of a terrifying possibility. 'Earl hates me. It's predictable that he'll come to Sea City to take his revenge. 'He might come for Addy instead...'

He subconsciously embraced Adina. "We must stay together from now on."

'Earl has raw data from the biochip. It'll be extremely easy for him to harm Addy...'

"Duke, don't worry. He won't dare to do anything. If he were to find me, he'll definitely bump into you. He isn't that stupid to enter the lion's den." Adina gave a forced smile. The two hugged each other tightly. The atmosphere became a little dreary. The night was getting darker as the clock struck eleven. Duke finally let go of Adina.

"Addy, it's getting late. Get some rest. I'll keep you company in the room next door."

Adina nodded and went into her bedroom obediently.

As soon as she got back to the room, she went to check the balcony and shifted the dresser to block the balcony glass door. Only then, she felt relieved. After she was done, she heard Earl's voice echoing in her head.

"Addy, open the glass door."

His voice echoed repetitively in her head.

Adina clenched her fists tightly and tried to fight against the voice.

The more she tried to go against the system's instructions, the more the back of her head hurt. It was as if her brain was about to explode...

All of a sudden, she tasted something metallic. Then, her mouth was filled with blood.

All the fight left her, and her willpower broke. Blood dripped down the corner of her mouth. She was already walking toward the balcony and moving the dresser that was blocking the glass door. She then unlocked it.

A dark figure walked in and drew the curtains. He was as cold as the night.

“Poor girl.” Earl’s hand stroked Adina’s lips lightly and wiped the blood away. She tried to evade him but failed. Earl grabbed her chin tightly. “You’d rather bleed than let me in. Adina, does Duke know that you’re keeping yourself pure for him?”

Adina’s gaze was filled with anger. “Earl, just kill me.”

“Kill you? Why should I?” Earl chuckled. “Do you know why I returned to Sea City? Firstly, I’m here to teach you a lesson. I want you to know the consequences of betraying me. Secondly, it’s time for Duke and I to put an end to the grudge between us. I want you to kill him for me.”

Adina gritted her teeth

“But, no matter what, he’s my biological younger brother. I don’t want to kill him just like that.” Earl lowered his head and sniffed Adina’s neck. “How about this? Make me happy tonight, and I’ll let Duke live for a few more days. How does that sound?”

Madam Winters’s Fight For Her Children Chapter 892

Chapter 892 Adina bit her lower lip so hard that her red lips turned pale.

“I’ll count to three. If you refuse, I’ll have you play with Duke.”

Earl’s lips curled into a wicked smile as he gently shook the earring in his hand.

A frequency is sent to Adina’s brain through the chip whenever he pressed the little red button.

No matter how hard she resisted, in the end, she could only succumb to Earl’s command. She might even kill Duke if Earl asked her to. ‘Duke trusted me. If I were to be involved, he would surrender willingly...’

“One.

(“Two.

“Okay, okay. I’ll do as you say.” Adina raised her head and looked at Earl. “What do I have to do to make you happy?” Earl looked at the queen-size bed. “Get on the bed and get undressed.”

Adina pursed her lips, turned, and walked towards the bed in silence.

She was about to switch off the light when Earl said coldly, “You don’t have to switch off the light. No more tricks. Just get undressed already.”

Adina lowered her head and started to unbutton her shirt, revealing her white camisole. Her fair and delicate collar bones could easily seduce anyone.

Earl gulped, his Adam's apple bobbing up and down.

This woman was still my nominal wife for more than a month ago, but I've never even laid a finger on her.

'I was drugged by her one night. I thought there was something between us, but after I gained back my memories, I realized this was all part of her scheme.

'She's such a deep thinker, and she has made a fool out of me!'

Adina raised her head and looked at Earl who strode towards her. She then whispered, "Is this okay?"

He approached her and leaned in slightly as he sniffed her unique fragrance.

'During the one month when I was locked up in the basement, I had hooked up with a lot of women; some very experienced women, and some young girls. Even so, those women were nothing compared to her. 'She's still gorgeous, even with the scar on her face. 'From her glares, smiles, and her snide remarks, they all turn me on. Adina looked up. "You'll let me and Duke go if I sleep with you for one night, right?" "I can let you go, but as for Duke..." Earl chuckled. "We have held grudges for over two decades. It's not something that I can let go so easily, you know." Adina pursed her lips. "Promise me you will never use me to kill Duke." She was so seductive that Earl could barely think straight. He touched her jet-black hair and gulped as his Adam's apple moved up and down. "A woman like you shouldn't get in between two men's grudges." He placed one knee on the bed and pushed Adina down.

The soft bed sank in. She raised her hands and held Earl's neck as she whispered, "Just this one time..."

"You are free to negotiate as long as you make me happy." Earl was eager to kiss her lips.

Adina dodged and let him kiss her forehead instead.

Earl's gaze was filled with anger. "What's the matter? Are you trying to dance in circles around me, hoping luck would save you?"