

36. Quality Time " The wildfire in his eyes reflects the seduction in his soul and I was burning e ortlessly under his first glance"~ Laughing Wolf * Smut here pups 🛱 * It's another cold January day, more than cold actually, there's freezing rain pelting a city apartment window leaving thick blankets of ice over everything it touches. Lucky two first responder heroes don't have to be at work today and yesterday a er the ambush of two excited mothers trying to plan every detail of the pairs wedding they need a day to recharge. Katsuki is in the kitchen busy making breakfast for his fiancée who isn't quite awake yet but is stirring in a now cold bed. The greenett schunches his face eyes still closed as he feels around with his arm for his always warm blonde firefighter. He grunts slightly in frustration when he doesn't find the warm God like body he searches for. Emerald eyes flutter open as he rolls over on his back listening for any noise that might indicate where Katsuki is, when the smell of co ee and cooking bacon hits his senses he knows exactly where. He sits up letting the covers fall from his form. He isn't wearing anything considered the hours of love making the night before and being curled up to a human inferno all night but now that that warmth is gone he shivers jumping up and pulling on the first thing he sees which is a pair of the blondes black sweats with the firehouse logo on the right hip and Katsuki's oversized on him white hoodie. The greenett stumbles quickly to the bathroom brushing his teeth and taming green locks before he shu les out to find the blonde. When Katsuki hears movement behind him he turns to meet sleepy green eyes that are smiling at him as always. " Morning Mr Perfect" Katsuki chuckles at the sleepy, shivering sight. Even with the heat turned up his fiancée was always cold. The blonde opens his arms pulling him in immediately. " Morning Medic, I was trying to let you sleep in a bit before I got you up. I know I wore that perfect ass out last night", he smirks into green locks placing a kiss on them. He feels Izuku laugh against his chest while he holds onto the blonde. "Yeah but so worth it and how can you stand here with no shirt on, aren't you cold?" The blonde grins running his large hands up and down the greenett's back trying to warm him. "You know I don't get that cold, besides I figure this is the best way to get you all hot and bothered first thing in the morning" Izuku giggles at the blonde he knows will always flirt with him like it's the first day. He looks up into teasing crimson eyes. " You aren't wrong." Katsuki smirks down at him leaning in to kiss him letting his lips linger. "I know. Now sit so you can eat, I made extra bacon so you don't steal all mine again" The greenett grins at him taking a seat at the table while Katsuki finishes plating the food and getting them both co ee. He sets both plates down kissing his medic quick on the lips before taking his seat and sipping his co ee. The greenett beams at him happily. "Thanks Kacchan! Looks amazing like always" Katsuki winks at him. "You're welcome Deku. Good thing we have o today, you see that shit out there?" Izuku nods nipping at his bacon. "Yeah, its messy, besides there's no place I'd rather be than home with you. Maybe we can go over some of this wedding stu ", he says as he reaches for one of the many folders of wedding details their mothers le behind for them. Katsuki let's a smile fall upon sharp handsome features as he takes in the sight of his fiancée whose flipping through wedding magazines while he eats the bacon in his fingers. He sees the engagement ring he had placed on his finger not long ago reflect the light and shine with pure perfection. There's a crash of love building in his chest while he watches pretty green eyes look over the wedding material. He watches him smile at certain things, or scrunch his face at others, there's a raised brow at times, and a down right disgust look at others he must not like, he even saw a tongue come sticking out like a child would do. The sight makes him chuckle slightly as he continues to drink his co ee and enjoy the show that Izuku has no idea he's putting on. Not long ago those green eyes held so much pain and unhappiness, held redness from tears and no sleep but now they shine like pure emeralds should, glow because he's happy and healthy and when those eyes suddenly look up from the magazine and smile at the blonde those eyes show the deepest color of love Katsuki has ever seen. The firefighter leans forward suddenly his large hand on the side of a fair neck while he rubs his thumb over his cheek. "Don't dodge Medic", is all that's said before a caught o guard paramedic is pulled into a kiss so deep and love filled it takes the air from his lungs. He isn't sure why he's getting kissed like this so suddenly but he's pretty sure he'd be ok dying like this if it came right down to it. The greenett reaches up putting his hand on the blondes face feeling the sharp jawline of the man he loves more than life itself. The pair is both melting into each other, lost in a kiss that is more than that, emotion bleeds from one to the other and the feeling is so

Izuku still has his hand on a strong jaw. "I have no idea what that was for but oh my God do it again" Katsuki chuckles as he pulls him in once again and kisses him like he might never get to again. When he pulls away there's love drunk green eyes and a beaming smile. "Seriously amazing but what was that for?", he asked with his arms him snaking his arms around his waist.

When they finally part both are breathless.

"Because I love you and because I fucking can"

"Yeah you can, like as much as you want and I love you so much" The blonde grins feeding him his last piece of bacon. "I must love you. I just gave you my last piece, hell Shitty Hair almost lost a hand for trying to take my bacon at the firehouse" The greenett laughs so ly. "I feel so privileged" Katsuki smirks.

They both chuckle as the blonde gets up clearing the dishes and cleaning up while Izuku continues to look over wedding choices.

Izuku smiles immediately sinking back into the blondes hold.

"Hum, yeah that works but honestly Deku it doesn't matter to me, all that matters is that your there marrying me and we're happy, rest of the shit is just background noise", he says as he kisses the greenetts neck feeling him shiver. Izuku closes his eyes feeling his fiancée nip away at his neck. "Do you always have to say such perfect things?", he smiles Katsuki smirks against the skin he's still kissing and nipping at.

"Fuck yeah, gotta live up to the name you gave me first night we met"
