

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball

Chapter 1024

Chapter 1024 Don't Think Of Betraying Me

"What is it?" Wendy asked with a frown.

Andrea took the phone from the side and swiped out a few photos for her to see.

In the photo, a tent was visible. Not far from the tent, a piece of the white skirt was exposed.

Even though she had not seen anything yet, Wendy's face suddenly sank.

She knew that tent. It was Rosalie who pitched it when she was camping with those little b*tches.

And that white skirt was also the one she herself wore that day!

Except for these two things in the photo, there was nothing else.

The goal of the person who took the photo was to get to her!

In the next picture, with no surprise, the owner of the white dress showed her face, it was Wendy, holding a white unknown medicine bottle in her hand.

Following the next photos, what Wendy did that day was slowly revealed to the two of them.

The photo ends after Wendy puts down the bacteria, gets up, and leaves.

After seeing the photo, Wendy's face sank to the bottom.

"Where did you get these?!"

Andrea quickly explained. "I don't know, someone suddenly sent it to my mobile phone yesterday, and also sent a message..."

As she spoke, she swiped on the text message to show Wendy.

There was a paragraph on the screen.

[I know you are close to Wendy. Show these photos to Miss Fuller and tell her to give me 10 million, and I will delete these photos. Otherwise, the next time these photos will appear in President Lawrence's!]

In the past few days, Kevin had been under the surveillance of Byron's men, and dare not contact Wendy.

However, he refused to let go of this money easily.

After thinking about it, Kevin found an opportunity to send the news to Andrea, who was good friends with Wendy.

Only by sending these to Andrea that he could guarantee that this evidence will be seen by Wendy instead of being directly handed over to Byron!

"Sis Wendy, you should know who sent the message, right?" Andrea asked cautiously.

Wendy gritted her teeth tightly.

'Kevin Grimes!' Thanks to her great efforts, she found this so-called top private detective.

'Now it seemed that this private detective's skills were all used against the employer!'

'I forgot to guard against him!'

Seeing how angry she was, Andrea guessed that the two knew each other to some extent.

"Did you offend someone? Are you being followed? Otherwise, why would you be photographed?"

Wendy suppressed her anger and replied coldly. "This is the private detective I sent to follow Rosalie Jacobs!"

Now that Andrea had seen this, they were both conspirators on the same boat.

Wendy did not mind telling her all about her previous schemes.

Hearing this, Andrea was stunned.

She quickly realized that Wendy had followed someone else's lead!

'This person actually turned against Wendy instead...'

'Just that...'

"Then, what did you put in the cup?" Andrea was puzzled.

Wendy explained what she had done succinctly.

In the end, she said without regret, "Those little sl*ts, I have taught them a lesson before, but they never learn anything at all. I need to make them suffer a little more!"

'Taught them a lesson before?'

Andrea suddenly remembered. "Those germs that you asked me for..."

Before she could finish speaking, Wendy interrupted.

"You guessed right, so you and I are already in the same boat, don't even think about betraying me!"

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-