

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball

Chapter 1321 –

Chapter 1321 My Child

Seeing that she was about to back down again, Byron's eyes swept over Estie.

"Do you really have the heart to refuse? Estie calls for her Mommy in her dreams, do you have the heart to let her go on like this? You have missed out on her for six years!"

Hearing this, Rosalie looked at the Estie in astonishment.

'What does Byron mean?

'Is that what I think he meant?'

Before the little ones could react, they stared at the two adults innocently.

Rosalie calmed down and looked at Byron. "What are you talking about? What do you mean I missed out on Estie for six years? I'm just..."

'To Estie, I'm just an outsider, why would I miss out on anything?

'The one who really missed out on Estie was obviously Estie's biological mother...'

"Byron! What have you done?!"

Melody did not want Rosalie to be a part of the Lawrences.

What's more, Estie was deeply traumatized in the afternoon. If she heard the news now, Melody was also worried that the little girl would not be able to withstand it.

Anxious and annoyed, she strode towards Byron, trying to stop him from continuing.

She took two steps but was stopped by Luther.

"Ma'am, the young master is proposing, so you better not disturb him!"

Luther's tone was not only respectful, but also tough. "Don't you want the little lady to have a healthy and complete family?"

Melody looked worried. "Get out of the way! Since when is it your turn to intervene in the family's affairs?!"

Luther was not annoyed at all. "This is the young master's order; you just need to be a witness here."

Although he would not dare to do anything to Melody, Luther could still block her way.

Melody was livid, she could only look at them from a distance and wanted to stop them.

'I can already see that woman was going to refuse just now.

'Though, if she knew about Estie's real identity, it might not be so!'

Before she could make another move, Byron had already spoken firmly on the other side of the room.

"Estie is your biological daughter. Six years ago, someone put her in front of Lawrence Manor, and left without a word. I have done a paternity test, and she is your child and mine!"

Rosalie froze all of a sudden.

'Estie, is she my child?'

After returning to Coast City, a recollection of getting along with Estie came to her mind one after another.

Moisture gradually welled up in Rosalie's eyes.

'No wonder, no wonder I felt a kinship when I first saw Estie.

'No wonder Estie is so dependent on me!

'Estie is actually my child! It was the little daughter I'd always thought died in infancy!'

Rosalie's heart was full of sorrow and joy.

Under the huge revelation, she was stumped for a long time.

Estie grabbed onto Rosalie's hand, and was also stunned, unable to believe her ears.

Until Lucian and Nox confirmed. "Really? Little sister is really Mommy's child, our own sister?"

Byron nodded with a heavy heart, and then turned to look at Rosalie and Estie in front of him.

“I’m sorry, I’ve been hiding it from you for so long. I’m just afraid that if you still can’t accept me in the end, Estie and you will be happy for nothing.”

“Estie, I’m sorry, Daddy has lied to you for so long. Auntie Rosalie is the mummy you’ve always wanted. You don’t have to call her godmother anymore. It’s time to change that.”

With that out, Estie burst out crying as she grabbed onto Rosalie’s thigh tightly with her arms, choking and sobbing. “Mommy, sobs... Mommy...”

When Rosalie heard the little girl’s cry, she finally came to her senses. At some point, her face was full of tears.

“Estie, Mommy misses you so much, I really miss you...”

She immediately pulled the little girl tightly into her arms, as if enveloping the child into her body.

In the past six years, she never stopped missing her late daughter every day and night.

Even when she was in a coma last time, the thought of that child gave her the strength to wake up.

But she never expected that child to be by her side all this time!

Rosalie’s heart was full of guilt as she realized what Estie had been through these years.

She missed out on the little one for so many years, but ever since they reunited, the little girl has been a source of healing to her...

‘Mommy is so sorry, it’s all Mommy’s fault...’

Rosalie repeatedly apologized to the little girl.

On the side, Lucian and Nox’s eyes turned red too.

They also knew that they had a little sister, but they always thought that their little sister was dead.

Therefore, they have always taken extra care of Mommy in place of their late little sister.

Now they were overjoyed to know that the Estie they have been taking care of was their actual little sister!

“This is great! Our little sister is not gone, little sister was always by our side all along!”

Nox raised his hand to wipe away his tears, laughed and cried as he looked at his brother with smiles.

With tears on his face, Lucian nodded vigorously.

‘That’s great!’ Byron’s heart broke upon seeing the crying woman and children in front of him.

“It’s not your fault, Rosalie, it’s mine. I should have told you when I found out that you didn’t know about Estie’s true identity, but I overthink the situation and made it worse. If you want to blame, blame me.”

It turned out that for so many years, this woman thought that Estie was dead.

Byron’s fingers tightened around the diamond ring.

He could not imagine how desperate the little woman felt when she learned that she had given birth to a stillborn.

He never knew this, even when they met again, he blamed the little woman for being cruel to Estie.

Even Melody, who stood far away, could not help being stunned.

‘This Jacobs woman always thought that Estie was dead?’

‘Then, how did Estie come back to the Lawrence family?’

She always thought, ‘It’s that Jacobs woman who was cruel and merciless, abandoning her husband and daughter...’

Rosalie hugged Estie and cried for a long time before she gradually recovered, and looked at Byron who was kneeling in front of her with red eyes.

“Why did you only tell me now?! Do you know how badly I think about her? I always thought...! always thought my daughter was dead!”

For all these years, she lost count of how many times she missed her little daughter who died young, how many times she woke up from her sleep crying!

When faced with Rosalie's questioning, Byron was overwhelmed with selfblame.

'Why? I also wanted to ask myself, why did I have so many worries?

'If I had told this little woman earlier, would there be a different story between us?

'But it's too late to think about it now.

'I had missed the best time to tell this little woman the truth!

'If I told her earlier, would she stop crying?'

"Mommy, this is great news, the little sister is really our sister!"

Nox had cried enough and hugged his mommy's thigh excitedly.

Lucian also nodded vigorously.

The tears in Rosalie and Estie's eyes could not be stopped no matter what.

Byron couldn't help standing up and embraced the two of them into his arms.

Rosalie's questioning gradually became weaker as she felt the man's embrace, only chokes of tears remained.

"Why... why did you..."

Byron dominated the business world for many years but could not utter a word in the face of Rosalie's tears. All he could do was apologize repeatedly.

"We want to hug too!"

Lucian and Nox bounced around below.

After the little ones cried out, there was only joy left in their hearts.

For them, this hug was also an expression of excitement!

Rosalie almost recovered and felt a little embarrassed when she heard the boys' voices.

'I actually cried like this in front of the children...'

She looked at the sniffing little Estie in her arms and broke into fits of laughter.

'She's back, that little angel who was gone is now in my arms again!'

Rosalie vowed silently in her heart, 'Mommy will never abandon you again!'

Upon her smiling face, the tension in Byron's eyes eased slightly.

Seeing Lucian and Nox's anxious faces, the man's eyes softened, and he leaned over and pulled the two little boys into his arms.

The boys were filled with joy for two reasons; reunited with their little sister and being hugged by their daddy again.

Suddenly, Daddy's embrace loosened.

When the little ones were at a loss, a shiny object appeared in their sight.

Upon a closer look, it was the ring that Daddy used to propose just now!

"Do Uncle Byron a favor and put the ring on for Mommy, okay?"

Byron's tone was unprecedentedly gentle.

The two little boys looked at each other, they were very happy, 1

Little sister had already changed to address Rosalie as Mommy, the boys were eager to call him Daddy too!

Nox carefully took their mother's hand, while Lucian slowly put the ring on her finger.

After they were done, the little ones looked up at their Mommy expectantly.

Rosalie, however, only focused on comforting Estie in her arms, and her heart was in turmoil.

She felt the movement of the little boys, but she was not paying any attention.

"Estie darling, don't cry. Mommy won't leave, I'll never leave you again."

Rosalie assured the little girl softly. "Mommy will protect you well, and no one can ever bully our Estie, Estie is Mommy's precious baby."

As she spoke, Rosalie patted the little girl on the back lightly.

After being triggered twice in one day, Estie could no longer contain her emotions.

When she heard Rosalie's assurance, the little girl looked at her with sobs. ' Really...really? Mommy won't leave?'

Rosalie's heart ached from looking at Estie's eyes red from crying. She stretched out her hand without hesitation. "Let's pinky promise! I promise that I will bring Estie with me wherever I go in the future!"

Seeing their Mommy's actions, Lucian and Nox's eyes grew more and more anticipation.

Byron, at the side, also felt uneasy for the first time.

Rosalie only felt that there was something bright in her peripheral vision, but she did not pay much attention, all her focus was on Estie.

Estie stared straight at her hand.

After a while, the little girl burst out in tears and laughter. "So Mommy said yes to Daddy? Then we will be a family from now on! Mommy will never leave again!"

With that said, the little girl hugged Rosalie around her neck happily.

Rosalie was taken aback for a moment.

'When did I agree?'

However, she followed the little one's line of sight, the diamond ring that Byron held up just now has been properly worn on her hand.

Rosalie thought of the strange feeling she felt just now and lowered her eyes to look at Lucian and Nox by her side.

The two little boys smiled adorably.

Rosalie turned to look at Byron again.

Byron only had an affectionate gentleness on his face, which made her unable to question him.

“Mommy, please promise Uncle Byron!”

Nox’s coquettish voice was persistent as he kept shaking Rosalie’s hand, his little face was full of anticipation.

It was also rare for Lucian to express his thoughts. “Mommy, since little sister is our own sister, then you can give her a complete family!”

From the little guy’s words, Rosalie felt a pang of guilt.

‘Isn’t Lucian talking about himself from what he just said?’

Ever since they were able to understand, they have always wanted a Daddy, but because of her, they had never dared to express it.

‘Deep in their hearts, the little ones must also want a complete home too!’

‘But...’

Rosalie looked up at Melody in the distance.

Melody was not standing at the light source; half of her body was hidden in the shadows.

The light hit the older lady’s face, she looked at Estie with her eyes full of distress.

However, when Rosalie looked over, the expression on Melody’s face became cold and indifferent again.

Their eyes met. Rosalie looked away bitterly and looked at the two excited little boys by her side with guilt.

Her impulsiveness back then made the two little guys look like scourges in the eyes of their own grandmother.

Rosalie also hoped that Melody would accept the two boys sincerely, not just because they had the blood of the Lawrence family.

“Mommy?”

They noticed that Rosalie did not respond for a while, the little ones hurriedly urged her.

Rosalie came back to her senses, a hint of struggle flashed across her eyes, then she quickly became firm.

She put Estie in her arms on the ground, and said to Lucian and Nox, "Take your sister in first."

The little ones seemed to sense something and looked at her stubbornly, unwilling to leave.

Rosalie raised her hand and stroked their heads reassuringly, "Don't worry, Mommy has already promised your sister that we will never be separated again."

Lucian paused and stared at his mother, then turned to Nox and Estie. ' Let's go in.'

The two little ones showed reluctance on their faces.

But among them, they always followed Lucian's lead.

After a stalemate for a while, the young two kids gave in.

Estie puffed up her cheeks in an aggrieved manner and stretched out her little hand. "Mommy, pinky promise, we haven't hooked our pinky yet!"

Rosalie breathed a sigh of relief, smiled and hooked up her pinky finger with the little girl's.

The little ones turned around and entered the villa.

Rosalie turned around, looked calmly at the person in front of her, and took off the ring on her hand.

Upon her actions, the expressions of the three people in the back garden, including Luther, changed in unison.

Luther's face was full of shock, and he could not figure out why the young lady refused his master even at this point.

Melody let out a long sigh of relief.

'It seems that this woman still has self-awareness, knowing that the Lawrence family will not accept her!'

In front of Rosalie, Byron looked at the diamond ring she had withdrawn, his eyes darkened suddenly, and a flash of astonishment flashed across his eyes.

"Sorry, I think I still need time to think about your proposal."

Rosalie had an apologetic smile on her face. “Estie is my child, I am very happy and thank you for taking such good care of her, but this is not the reason for our remarriage.” 2

Byron looked at the little woman in front of him steadily, and gradually felt relieved.

‘Indeed, my proposal was a bit too sudden, and I didn’t give her a buffer time.’

Moreover, the harm he caused to this woman six years ago cannot be repaired overnight.

“Alright, I can wait.”

Byron put away his regrets. “Don’t worry, take your time to think about it, I’m willing to wait regardless.”

Then, he glanced at the diamond ring in Rosalie’s hand. “I hope you can keep the ring. When you’ve figured it out, just put it on. Then, I will know your answer.”

Rosalie’s heart was filled with emotions, and the apology on her face grew stronger. “Thank you.”

It was difficult for her to tell Byron the reason for rejecting him.

I was not because she does not believe him, but because she felt sorry for Lucian and Nox.

Upon Rosalie accepting the diamond ring, Luther breathed a sigh of relief.

‘It seems that my young master still has a chance, and the chances are great!’

Melody’s face sank again.

‘This wretched woman really wants to cling on to my son!’

‘Such a woman must never be allowed to become the daughter-in-law of the Lawrence family!’

Just when Melody was thinking about how to make Rosalie give up, Rosalie suddenly walked towards her.

Melody frowned suddenly and looked at her with displeasure. "Why have you come so close? Even if Byron proposes to you, I will not accept you!"

Rosalie smiled indifferently. "Well, I never thought you would change your mind so easily, Mrs. Lawrence. I just hope that you would treat Lucian and Nox better for Estie's sake. They are just children, if anything at all, just come to me."

A trace of suspicion flashed across Melody's eyes.

'What does she mean by treating those two little b*stards better for the sake of Estie?

'Does this woman really think that she can stand upright in front of me just because she gave birth to Estie?'

Thinking of this, Melody turned colder. "It's not your place to ask me to do anything!"

A look of helplessness flashed across Rosalie's eyes, but she said nothing, and turned back to the villa.

Byron also followed her in.

The little ones were worried about the outcome, and they all sat on the sofa with slumped faces.

Seeing the adults come in, they raised their eyes and looked over in unison.

"Mommy!"

One by one, the little ones got off the sofa and ran to Rosalie's side.

They noticed that the ring on Rosalie's finger was gone, their eyes dimmed. They shot glances at each other, yet no one wanted to speak first.

In the end, Mommy still did not agree to marry Daddy...

Lucian and Nox looked at each other, both were disappointed.

When will they be able to call him Daddy? They really want Daddy...

Rosalie was full of guilt seeing the disappointed look of the little ones, but she did not know how to break it to them.

After being silent for a while, she changed the subject a little bluntly. 'It's getting late, let's go home.'

Originally, according to Byron's plan, if the proposal was successful today, she should probably stay over in the manor.

However, now that she has refused, Rosalie has no reason to stay here anymore.

When the little ones heard that Mommy was leaving, they became even more sad.

Rosalie frowned slightly, her eyes a little helpless.

Just as she was worrying about how to persuade the little ones, Byron spoke from the side.

"Let Estie go back with you tonight, you've both just met, Estie must be very reluctant to part with you."

Hearing this, the eyes of the little ones lit up again.

Estie stared at Rosalie eagerly, her eyes full of expectation.

Rosalie also had such an idea, but she did not expect that Byron would bring it up first.

She smiled and leaned over to carry Estie into her arms, stood up and said, "Of course Estie will go back with Mommy, I promised Estie that we will never be apart again."

'I'll send you off.'

With a gentle expression, Byron looked at the four happy people.

The kids were even more overjoyed to the point of cheering when they heard that Daddy was going to send them home.

Rosalie was still a little hesitant at first, but the happy faces of the kids and the affectionate eyes of the man in front of her was something she could not refuse.

She was carrying Estie and was about to reach out to hold Lucian and Nox. Then, she saw that Byron had already bent down, picking the two little boys in his arms.

'Wow, this is so high!'

Nox being carried by his father; his little face was full of excitement.

Lucian stayed obediently in Byron's arms, yet his little face cannot hide his excitement.

This scene put a smile on Rosalie's face, as she picked up her feet to follow Byron's pace.

When Melody came in from the back garden, Rosalie and the rest were already gone.

"Where is the young master?"

She asked Mrs. Zora with a cold face.

Melody was very dissatisfied about Byron making her witness his marriage proposal today and wanted to talk to him.

Mrs. Zora thought of the rare smile on the young master and the young lady's face as they left just now, a sense of relief flashed across her eyes.

"The young master just went out, and I don't know where he went." She replied vaguely.

Melody was not a fool either, so she squinted her eyes and asked, "Where's

Rosalie?"

Mrs. Zora was a little worried, but she could only tell the truth. "She has already gone back."

Melody's face suddenly sank.

'What's the point of asking about my son's whereabouts, when that Jacobs woman left here so late? He must have sent that woman home!

'She rejected his marriage proposal, yet my son is still so kind to that woman!'

Melody felt even more angry at the thought that her son might take Estie with him!

'The son I had raised for so many years would be so attentive to a woman!

'And this woman who rejected him twice!'

Just because of this reason alone, it was impossible for Melody to let Rosalie be a part of the Lawrence family again!

Upon the increasing anger on her Madam's face, Mrs. Zora sighed inwardly.

Sometimes, she wanted to help the young master persuade his mother, but she was a servant after all, and Melody looked down on her from the bottom of her heart.

Whatever Mrs. Zora said would be useless.

Upon the growing anger on Melody's face, Mrs. Zora cautiously suggested. "It's getting late, ma'am, why don't you go to bed early?"

Melody gave her a cold look. "You think I don't know? You side with that woman!"

Mrs. Zora bowed her head and remained silent.

After a while, she heard Melody walking toward the door with heavy steps.

Mrs. Zora's heart tightened, "Ma'am, you alright? The young master has ordered you to rest at the manor tonight."

Melody paused, and said without turning her head, "You think I'm going to trouble that Jacobs woman? It's so late now, if she's not tired, I am!"

Mrs. Zora could not help but feel a little puzzled.

'Why is madam huffing and puffing angrily...'

"Looking at my son about to jump into the fire pit, how can I sleep here?!" Melody snorted furiously.

After that, she lifted her foot and walked outside again.

This time, Mrs. Zora did not stop her.

'I just hope that Madam can figure this out quickly, the most important thing is for the young master and little lady to be happy.'

Since the young lady came back, the young master's face has become much more emotional.

In the little lady case was even more prominent. Her autism syndromes that had been progressing slowly have gradually recovered.

'This family really cannot do without the young lady...'

Chapter 1327 I'll Give You An Answer

On the other side, Byron sent Rosalie and the little ones back to Rosalie's house.

Not sure whether he was intentional or not, but he drove very slowly along the way.

Rosalie thought he was going to say something and felt a little uneasy.

Yet, until the car stopped slowly at the entrance of the villa, she did not hear him speak.

Rosalie could not help feeling a little strange.

The three little ones kept a ruckus in the back. When the car was parked, they jumped out of the car and chased around in the yard.

Standing by the car, Rosalie could not help asking Byron. "Do you have something to tell me?"

She thought that it was hard for Byron to speak because the little ones were around.

Byron just smiled at her. "I just want to stay with you for a while."

Then, he looked at Rosalie helplessly. "I don't know when you will give me an answer, I'm afraid you will run away again. You won't run away again, will you?"

Guilt flashed across Rosalie's eyes, and she smiled in embarrassment. "I won't. Since I promised you that I would consider it, I will definitely give you an answer."

Byron felt relieved, and slowly wind up the car window. "Go to bed early, good night."

Rosalie smiled and waved. 'Be careful on the road.'

After Byron's car left, Rosalie looked back at the three little ones helplessly.

The little ones were already in a mess.

Lucian and Nox hugged Estie very excitedly. "We won't call you little sister anymore! You are our sister! We will treat you a thousand times better than before, no...Ten thousand times!"

Estie smiled happily until her eyes squinted. "Estie will treat my brothers very well too!"

After they spoke, the little ones ran towards Rosalie again.

Rosalie leaned over and gave the little ones a big bear hug. "Okay, it's getting late, stop messing around. Let's go to bed with Mommy."

The little ones still felt a little unsatisfied.

However, it was indeed very late, so they could only obediently follow Mommy into the villa.

"We're going to sleep with Mommy and sister too!"

At the bedroom door, the two little boys protested.

Estie also looked at Rosalie eagerly and expressed her expectation with her eyes.

This was the first time Rosalie encountered such a situation.

Lucian and Nox have always slept separately from her since they were old enough, and Rosalie was already used to it.

She never expected there would come a day the little ones would protest about sleeping.

"You are boys, men and women are different, you have to sleep separately from your sister."

She patiently explained to the little ones.

Although the little boys were still young, Rosalie felt that this knowledge should be instilled early.

Hearing this, the three little ones looked at each other in disappointment. They could not refute Mommy, so they nodded obediently. "Okay, fine."

Rosalie smiled and reassured them. "Your sister will always be with US, as long as you want to see each other, you can see each other anytime, you don't have to sleep together!"

Hearing this, the little ones became happy again.

Rosalie also breathed a sigh of relief, she saw Lucian and Nox enter the room, and then brought Estie into her bedroom.

The little girl was obviously still in a state of excitement, looking at her with bright eyes, and kept calling her Mommy.

Rosalie also responded patiently.

“Now, Estie has a mommy too!”

After coming out of the shower, the little girl threw herself into Rosalie’s arms, smelling like baby powder all over her body.

Rosalie caught her with a smile. “Estie, you always have Mommy, it’s just that Mommy didn’t find you earlier, now that I’ve found you, I will never lose you again!”

Meanwhile.

Lucian and Nox turned off the lights and lay on their respective beds but could not fall asleep anyway.

“Brother, tell me, why is Mommy unwilling to marry Daddy?”

Nox could not help but climb down from his own bed, ran to Lucian’s bed, and shook Lucian’s arm.

Lucian sat up from the bed, with some trouble on his little face. “I don’t know either.”

After that, the little guy curved his lips upwards, as if trying to comfort himself.

“However, we found our sister! That’s great!”

Nox nodded enthusiastically too.

They always thought that the little sister was their half-sister, but they never expected that they were actually of the same father and mother!

What a surprise!

Moreover, this also proved that Daddy has never betrayed Mommy!

They just misunderstood Daddy at the beginning!

Thinking of this, the little ones were even more happy.

“But when will Mommy tell Daddy that we are also Daddy’s children?”

Nox recalled the feeling of Daddy holding them just now and could not help but feel down again. “I really want to be like our sister and call them Daddy and Mommy. I don’t want to call Daddy Uncle Byron anymore...”

Moreover, Daddy could really lift them up very high!

Lucian also missed Daddy’s embrace very much, yet he chose to think from Mommy’s perspective. “Maybe, Mommy has her own plan?”

Nox frowned and guessed. “Is it because of Uncle Xander? Mommy and Uncle Xander have such a good relationship, and Uncle Xander even sent flowers to Mommy. Does Mommy really want Uncle Xander to be our father?”

The little guy pursed his lips unhappily. ‘I still like Daddy more! Daddy is more handsome than Uncle Xander, and he cares about Mommy more than Uncle Xander!’

Lucian thought for a while, then shook his head. “No, Mommy thinks of Uncle Xander as a friend at best.”

After Mommy accepted Daddy’s pursuits, the way she got along with Daddy was quite different from the way she got along with Uncle Xander.

Mommy looked at Daddy differently from Uncle Xander.

Upon his brother’s denial, Nox became more distressed. “Then why didn’t Mommy agree?”

Lucian suddenly remembered that when Daddy proposed, Mommy actually made a gesture of reaching out her hand. 1

‘But, once Mommy heard grandma’s cough, she withdrew her hand again.’ 1

Thinking of this, all of a sudden, Lucian felt that he seemed to understand Mommy’s mind. “I know!”

His eyes lit up, then his brows were slightly furrowed, and he felt sorry for Mommy.

Nox anxiously rubbed his brother’s arm. “Why?”

Lucian turned his head towards him and looked at his younger brother seriously. “It’s because of grandma. Grandma hasn’t accepted US yet, let alone Mommy. Mommy doesn’t want US to be dragged into the mud by her, that’s why she rejected Daddy.” 1

Hearing this, Nox's eyes darkened, distress and heartache gradually appeared in his eyes.

Indeed, grandma's attitude towards them and Mommy has always been awful.

He could not figure out what Mommy did wrong that grandma disliked Mummy so much.

'In my heart, Mommy is the best mommy in the world!

'Mommy must be under a lot of pressure to reject Daddy because of grandma.

'However, Mommy never told them anything, but silently shouldered the burden...'

Mommy worked so hard, what should they do to make grandma accept Mommy?

Chapter 1329 Make An Exception

Although they often stayed together, after learning about Estie's real identity, both of them felt different from before.

Rosalie had so much that she wanted to say to her daughter who died young, and similarly, Estie also had so much that she wanted to tell her mother.

The two laid on the bed, talking endlessly to each other.

"Estie drew a lot of pictures with my mommy, but none of the mommy in the drawings is as beautiful as my real mommy."

Estie looked at Rosalie with squinted eyes, her smile was so sweet that it touched Rosalie's heart. "Now that I've found Mommy, Mommy will draw with Estie in the future, okay?"

Whatever the little girl said turned Rosalie's heart into a puddle of water. ' Okay, whatever Estie wants to do, Mommy will accompany you!'

Estie's eyes sparkled. "And my brothers! I want to be with my brothers!"

Rosalie also smiled and agreed. "Your brothers will also accompany you."

"Mommy." Estie suddenly moved closer to Rosalie's ear and lowered her voice.

Rosalie played along with a puzzled expression. "What's wrong?"

Estie whispered. "Can you tell Estie, who is my brother's Daddy?"

Although Daddy and Mommy were already together, the little one hoped that they could go further.

She knew that Daddy had always been very concerned about this issue.

Upon the little girl's question, the smile on Rosalie's face froze for a moment.

'Lucian and Nox's biological father...

'How do I tell the little girl that they are actually siblings with the same father and mother?

'After the little girl knows, will she ask her why she is unwilling to give them a complete home?'

With the little girl's level of comprehension, she would never have thought of this, but Rosalie still could not help feeling worried.

'The brothers' Daddy...Estie will know about it later.' She raised her hand and patted the little girl's head with some guilt.

Estie did not get the answer she wanted, so her little face showed disappointment.

'However, no matter who the brothers' biological father was, there will only be one Daddy in the future!'

Thinking of this, the little girl became happy again, and spoke in a baby-like voice. 'Then can you let the brothers come and sleep with US?'

Just as Rosalie wanted to refuse, this little milk dumpling slipped into her arms again. "My poor brothers, Estie have Daddy and Mommy, but my brothers only have Mommy."

The little girl brought up Lucian and Nox's true identity again.

For a moment, Rosalie's guilt towards the kids prevailed.

She sighed inwardly and decided to make an exception.

"Let's go, let's call the little brothers over."

Rosalie watched Estie put on her pajamas and took the little girl to get Lucian and Nox.

In the bedroom, two little boys were sitting on the bed, face-to-face with sad faces.

When they heard the knock on the door, the little ones quickly adjusted their expressions before letting Rosalie in.

“You boys haven’t slept yet? Oh great, come and sleepover with Mommy and sister.”

Rosalie was a little puzzled at the two little ones sitting on the same bed, but she did not mention it, just said, “However, you have to put on your pajamas.”

Their mood improved instantly, and they followed Rosalie to her bedroom in adorable cow print pajamas.

The three little kids got together, and they were all very excited.

Rosalie was extremely sleepy, but the little ones were still chatty.

Seeing this, Rosalie could not help feeling a little regretful.

However, she had already made an exception, so she went along with the children. In the middle of the night, everyone finally fell asleep peacefully.

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1330 –

Chapter 1330 Kicked Out

Early the next morning, when Rosalie woke up, the little ones were huddled together in a twisted ball. Not sure how they fell asleep, but there was no sign of waking up yet.

As the little one slept soundly, Rosalie’s heart felt warm.

Estie, her daughter.

‘I’m not dreaming.

‘My daughter who I thought died young has really returned!’ 1

Rosalie smiled and kissed their foreheads, got up and went downstairs to prepare breakfast for them.

As her mood gradually came down from her blissful high, Rosalie belatedly remembered an extremely important matter.

'Estie was born with Lucian and Nox.

'But why was the little girl sent to Byron?

'And I don't know anything about it...

'Moreover, with Byron and Melody's attitude, it's not hard to see that even they don't know what's going on!

Rosalie couldn't help but feel a chill when she thought of the possible reasons behind this.

'Who on earth did such a thing? What is his reason?'

At the same time, the news exploded in Coast City overnight.

As one of the most celebrated families in Coast City, the Fuller family was already strong, coupled with the marriage engagement with the Lawrence family, they have always been firmly at the top.

However, in just one night, the Fuller family's company stock plummeted, along with a lot of public opinion poured out on the Internet.

Someone said, "I heard that the Fullers offended the Lawrence family, and they are being punished!"

Immediately afterwards, someone retorted. "That's impossible. The Fuller family and the Lawrence family have a marriage engagement. The two families are essentially one family. Why does the Lawrence family have any reason to target the Fuller family?"

"You don't know, do you? I heard from people in the inner circle that the Lawrence family has long planned to dissolve the engagement. The Fullers have been begging the Lawrences for several years!"

As soon as these words came out, the public opinion on the Internet about the Lawrence and Fuller families reached its peak.

At Rosalie's house, Lucian and Nox have already woken up.

Lucian habitually opened the stock market, wanting to see the recent stock rise, but accidentally discovered that the stocks of the Fuller family's affiliated group collectively plummeted.

Many stockholders had discussions on the Internet.

The expression on Lucian's face was subtle.

Seeing his brother's appearance, Nox leaned over in curiosity.

Lucian simply tilted the screen for him to see.

Nox's eyes lit up. "Wow! Did Daddy take action?"

Lucian tilted his head. "Otherwise, who else would there be?"

After getting this answer, Nox immediately rubbed his palm readily. "No, I have to add some fire to that, that Bad Woman who dared to bully Mommy! V

As he said that, the little boy took over Lucian's computer. His nimble fingers fluttered as he entered a series of content.

After a while, public opinion on the Internet took a new direction.

"Have you heard? It turns out that the Fuller family is the mistress!"

"That's right, I heard that she forced his ex-wife away, God-knows what tricks she used to get engaged to President Lawrence! No wonder the Lawrence family dragged on for so long!"

"Then now...?"

"The original partner is back! President Lawrence turned over a new leaf and changed his mind! Of course, the mistress is going to get kicked out!"

This public opinion quickly gained the upper hand, and passers-by began to disdain Wendy Fuller.

"What a shameful home-wrecker!"

"Knowing that someone has a family, but still wanting to wedge herself in, how shameless!"

Seeing everyone's comments on Wendy on the Internet, Nox raised the corners of his lips in satisfaction.

'Hmph, Bad Woman, how dare you call Mommy a mistress!

'Obviously, you are the worst mistress!'
