

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball

Chapter 1331 –

Chapter 1331 Perfect Match

“President Lawrence!”

The subordinate of Lawrence Corporation responsible for public relations realized that the online comments had suddenly changed. He quickly looked for Byron to determine what to do next.

Byron looked at the comments with a frown.

All he saw were comments guessing his and Rosalie’s relationship. At the same time, some comments were reprimands about Wendy.

“We didn’t do it! All we did was spread some of the Fuller family’s news, but we don’t know where the news of the first wife came from!”

The subordinate continued after explaining. “Do you need US to guide the netizens again...?”

Byron refused with indifference. “It’s alright. Leave it like that. Go and check out where the comment about the first wife came from.”

His subordinate hesitated. “We’ve checked, and it’s a fake ID. We can’t find the IP address behind it...”

Byron squinted his eyes and recalled the problem they faced when they checked Fuller Industries’ computers.

The IT employees in Lawrence Corporation were people with top skills in the industry, yet they could not find the hacker behind it.

That made Byron wonder if they were dealing with the same person.

After all, the person addressed Wendy as a mean lady last time. This time, they had even guided the netizens into scolding Wendy for being a mistress and homewrecker.

Mistress and homewrecker...

Lucian’s and Nox’s faces flashed across Byron’s mind when he thought of those words.

However, he soon denied that thought.

It seemed absurd to Byron that boys of Lucian and Nox's age could do such a thing.

If two different people were doing these and the IT staff in Lawrence Corporation could not trace them, Byron felt he might as well fire them and employ new ones!

"I see. Ignore it for the time being. Come back to me when you notice any difference in the comments."

He gathered his thoughts and ordered with a stern expression.

His subordinate felt relieved and took the order.

Soon, they saw different comments appearing.

[We'd better not speculate without real evidence. Neither the Lawrence nor the Fuller families have explained yet, have they?]

[That's right. Don't forget that President Lawrence sent Miss Fuller to the hospital last time and stayed by her side all night. If he didn't love her, why would he do that?]

Other similar supporting comments appeared.

Nox was at a loss for words when he saw those comments.

Their daddy had said nothing. Thus, he felt he could not speak up for his daddy even if he wanted to.

The little boy could only tap on his keyboard, feeling annoyed. He deleted all those comments which spoke up for that mean lady.

However, no matter how he deleted them, people were still commenting. When they saw those comments, some changed their mind and spoke up for Wendy instead.

Nox was not fast enough and could not delete so many comments. Frustration grew in him, and he could only bear it.

Suddenly, something about the Lawrence family and the Fuller family's engagement was on the trending search. It was at the top of the list with the big phrase 'hot topic' beside it.

[The Lawrence family officially announces that they'll terminate the engagement between Byron Lawrence and Wendy Fuller.]

[The Fuller family perished in just one night. The reason behind it is terrifying!]

Various titles of similar content appeared one after another.

With this news, other comments slowly replaced the comments about Byron loving Wendy deeply.

Some even commented: [I've heard rumors that the person President Lawrence took care of in the hospital wasn't Wendy but his wife.]

Then, someone posted a photo in the newspaper below with a comparison photo of Wendy's profile.

When the netizens looked closer, they could tell that person was not Wendy from the blurry profile. However, they did not know who it was.

[Although I can only see the outline of her features, I must admit she looks better than Wendy!]

[Good heavens! I've been bragging about the first wife! She's pretty and just the perfect match for President Lawrence!]

The tables were turned again.

Suddenly, the netizens had different perspectives of Rosalie and Wendy. To them, Rosalie was now the angel, while Wendy was the demon.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1332 –

Chapter 1332 How Dare You Have The Nerve To Ask

Fuller Villa.

Wendy had locked herself in her room without eating or drinking anything since she returned from Lawrence Manor the day before.

From day to night, she had only one thought in her mind.

She was doomed! No one was going to save her!

Her whole life was ruined!

Rosalie, that b*tch, asked Byron to turn this matter over to the police!

She might as well die if she had to spend the rest of her life in prison!

The more she thought about it, the bigger the dread that twisted in her.

She had no mood to care about the news on the internet.

Henry loved and hated his daughter at the same time.

He only had one daughter and could not bear to let her go to prison.

However, if she had not done all those stupid things, the Fuller family would not be experiencing all these!

Early in the morning, the person in charge of each organization under Fuller Industries kept dialing Henry's number. The calls almost burst his phone!

Without exception, all told him that the share price fell drastically and could not be controlled, and their business partners had asked to cancel the cooperation!

Even Henry's fatherly love for Wendy had worn out because of those calls.

Just as anger had shot through Henry, Magdalene rushed in with tears smudging her face.

"Henry, this is bad. Look! How could those people on the internet condemn our family and Wendy like that?"

Magdalene saw the news popping out early in the morning. Looking through a few had already caused her to be anxious and cry.

The Fuller family had been reputable in Ocean City for years. They had never suffered such humiliation before.

Henry took over the phone and glanced at the news.

His grip on the phone grew tighter when he scrolled to the part where the comments depreciated the Fuller Industries. He almost crushed the phone.

His unfilial and bastard daughter! She was the one who brought this upon the Fuller family.

"What should we do now, Henry?" Magdalene looked at Henry, waiting for him to come up with a solution.

Henry was furious and pushed Magdalene, making her fall to the ground." All you know how to do is cry! What's the point of having you in such a critical situation?"

With that, Henry strode to Wendy's room and slammed on the door.

Wendy looked at the door expressionlessly and did not intend to open it.

Suddenly, she heard a kick at the door.

‘You bastard! Come out and see what you’ve done to the Fuller family!’

Henry slammed on the door and swore, ‘What did I tell you yesterday? I told you to apologize sincerely. What did you do? Useless brat! If you hadn’t done things according to your wish, you would’ve married Byron by now! It would not be that Jacobs woman!’

If it were not for Wendy treating Estelle differently behind Byron’s back, Estelle would not have refused to get along with her even after so many years!

Byron would not have dragged the marriage for six years!

The more Henry thought about it, the angrier he became.

In his anger, he kicked the door for real!

Wendy’s heart sank suddenly when she saw her angered father at the door.

Her father was not like this the day before.

Something must have happened again!

“Dad, what’s wrong? What happened?”

Wendy looked at her father in a panic and wanted to ask if the police had come.

Henry interrupted her in a fury. “How dare you have the nerve to ask?! See for yourself!”

With that, he threw the phone at Wendy’s face.

Wendy instinctively dodged to avoid being hit in her eye.

Trembling, she picked up the phone and glanced at it.

All she saw was the scrolling comments refreshing by the second.

The comments of the Fuller family taking advantage of the Lawrence family all these years had been buried by other comments.

At this moment, Wendy only saw comments from the netizens about how pretty Rosalie was and disdainful comments about Wendy being the mistress!

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball

Chapter 1333 –

Chapter 1333 You Keep Her In Check “Arghh!”

Wendy shouted frantically out of a sudden and smashed the phone.

“Rosalie, that b*tch! I want her dead! She did it! It must be her!”

Then, she even wanted to dash out.

Henry stopped her by dragging her back. “Foolish! Have you forgotten what happened in the Lawrence family? Are you sure you want to go and look for trouble again?”

Wendy’s expression was ferocious, like a beast going berserk. “Are you even my father? Take a good look at what people are saying about me on the internet! Are you not going to do anything about it? Anyway, the Fuller family is already like this! I’ll take that b*tch to hell with me!”

Henry could not suppress the surging fury in him anymore. He shoved Wendy onto her bed.

‘You’ve done this to the Fuller family, yet you’re not remorseful about it at all! You even want to cause trouble! I warn you, you have to make the Lawrence family forgive US, no matter if you kneel or apologize to Byron. Otherwise, no one will be able to save you from this.’

If the Fuller family perished, Wendy would have to accept the punishment of the law, and Henry could do nothing about it even if he wanted to.

That slap from Henry made Wendy’s ear buzz, and she could hear nothing.

When she could finally hear, she heard her father ask her to kneel before Byron to admit her mistake.

Hatred flared up in Wendy as she shouted, “Alright! Fine! I’ll go and beg Byron to forgive me. I’ll go now!”

With that, she glanced at Henry coldly and dashed out of the room.

Henry frowned, feeling uneasy as he recalled the emotion he saw in Wendy’s eyes before she left.

However, with the situation Fuller Industries was facing now, he had no mood to care about what Wendy would do.

“Wendy!”

Magdalene rushed to Wendy and saw her run outside with her cheek swollen.

Anxiously, she followed behind Wendy. “Stop! Where are you going? Calm down!”

Wendy ignored her mother’s cry. She dashed out of the Fuller Villa and drove out in her car.

Magdalene, who felt something was wrong, quickly ran back into the room and looked for Henry. “Henry, Wendy is going somewhere! She might do something silly again. Do something to stop her.”

Henry rubbed his temples and scolded, “She’s your daughter, and you brought her up like this! Go stop her yourself!”

Then, he strode into the study, slamming the door behind him.

Only Magdalene was left in Wendy’s messy room, feeling helpless.

Looking at the door Henry broke and her shattered phone, Magdalene could not stop her tears from streaming down.

Wendy drove away from home. After a while, she slammed on the brake as viciousness emerged in her gaze.

He wanted her to apologize to Byron? Never!

It was all that b*tch’s fault! She did not think she should apologize.

B*tch! Rosalie, that b*tch! Wendy swore she would make Rosalie suffer.

However, it was impossible for her to use the influence of the Fuller family.

Wendy pondered for a while. Then, she took out her phone and called Andrea. 1

Andrea did not answer the call even after she made a few calls.

Wendy sneered and sent Andrea a message.

[Don’t forget we’re both in this together! Now Byron only knows that I put the bacteria but doesn’t know where the bacteria came from. If he finds out, will the Quirke family end up like the Fuller family?]

Just a minute after Wendy sent the message, Andrea called her back.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1334 –

Chapter 1334 How Far Has It Developed?

“Wendy, I was in the shower just now and just saw your call. What happened?”

Andrea’s voice sounded concerned.

It was as if the Lawrence and the Fuller families’ engagement tie was still on, and the Fuller family was not the Lawrence family’s enemy.

However, Wendy knew Andrea had called her back because of her message.

She still needed Andrea’s help, though.

Since Andrea planned to act dumb, Wendy might as well play along.

With that in mind, Wendy sneered silently and said, “Nothing. I haven’t met you for a few days and thought I should ask you out to have a chat.”

Andrea, on the other end of the call, hesitated for a few seconds. However, Wendy’s threatening words ran a chill down her spine, and she had to agree.

She wanted to listen to Andrius’ advice, but what happened to the Fuller family was too scary for her to ignore Wendy’s invitation.

What Andrea feared most was Wendy exposing what she had done, which might affect the Quirke family.

The two arranged a place to meet and hung up the call.

Andrea changed her clothes and went out.

Just as she walked to the door, she bumped into Andrius head-on.

“Where are you going?” Andrius was alarmed and looked at his sister.

Andrea faked a smile and said, “I’m not going anywhere. It’s just that I’ve been at home for a long time and want to take a stroll.”

Andrius was worried. “Stay at home no matter how boring it is. Look at the internet. Stay away from Wendy if you don’t want the Quirke family to end up like the Fuller family!”

Then, Andrius had no intention of leaving. He stood there and stared at his sister coldly.

Andrea felt guilty and was afraid to meet Wendy in such a situation. Thus, she could only nod and went back to her room.

Watching minutes pass, Andrea dialed Wendy's number in fear.

'Wendy, my brother doesn't allow me to leave the house...'

Wendy gritted her teeth. "I think he doesn't want you to see me! He doesn't know what you've done!"

Andrea nodded guiltily. "I dare not let my brother know. If he knows, he'll rip my skin off before Byron does!"

Wendy sneered. "Aren't you afraid Byron will know?"

Andrea dared not say a word for a moment. Then, she quickly expressed her loyalty, "Wendy, I believe in you, and I'll help you do anything you want if you need me, but—"

Wendy seemed to know what Andrea wanted to say and spoke sarcastically, "Rest assured. I'll never tell Byron you were involved if this thing gets exposed."

Andrea was relieved when she heard this. "What do you need me to do then?"

Everyone in Ocean City was discussing this because it was a trending issue on the internet.

Everyone knew Wendy's appearance too.

Even when the waitress brought her coffee just now, he dared to show her a disdainful look!

As Wendy thought of that, she had a frown on her face. "How far has the matter developed now?"

Andrea opened her laptop to take a look, not knowing how to tell Wendy about the situation.

Netizens had exposed Rosalie's identity throughout the internet.

Almost everyone commented on how beautiful and kind Rosalie was and what a perfect match she was for Byron.

Wendy, who had received the flatter of the crowd before, was now the laughing stock of everyone.

Some people even said Wendy spread the word that she was Byron's first love.

'What's the matter?' Wendy did not hear any response from Andrea, and her heart sank.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1335 –

Chapter 1335 Guarantee It's Legit

Even over the phone, Andrea could imagine Wendy's expression if she saw the discussions online.

She could only say, "Wendy, you'd better see it yourself..."

Wendy's expression turned gloomy as she put her speaker on and opened her social media app.

[Wendy is really shameless. A mistress like her even dares to call herself Byron's first love. If she's the first love, why would Byron marry another woman instead of her?]

[Six years was more than enough time for Byron to marry her, yet President Lawrence acted as if he had no fiancée. Well, I think his ex-wife is his first love, and Wendy is only a nobody who tried to get Byron by using her family's relationship with the Lawrence family.]

Similar comments flooded the comment section.

What those netizens said was harsher than before.

Wendy used almost all her might to endure the urge to smash her phone.

"Rosalie, that b*tch!" She cursed through her gritted teeth.

Andrea quickly advised carefully, "Wendy, calm down. There is no point getting angry now."

She was still afraid that Wendy would do something stupid and affect her.

Wendy took several deep breaths and said, "Do you know any public relations companies? Since that b*tch said something like that about me, I'll make sure she also suffers a difficult time!"

Andrea hesitated.

How was that different from what she did the last time?

Wendy was still doing bad things but making it so that she could be the scapegoat.

If her brother or Byron found out...

“Wendy, why don’t we just forget it? With the Fuller family’s situation now, do you even have the money to pay for the service?”

She tried to persuade Wendy.

Unexpectedly, Wendy exposed what Andrea had in her mind. ‘Til contact them. You don’t have to do anything. It won’t affect you. As for the money, you don’t have to worry about it. I can pay them anything they want.”

It was worth it if she could give that b*tch a lesson. Everyone could see the true nature of that b*tch!

Andrea could not refuse anymore since Wendy said so. She could only reluctantly give Wendy the company’s contact number.

Wendy had achieved her goal and said nothing more. She hung up the call and dialed that company’s contact number.

“Hello. May I know how I can help you?” A staff member on the other end picked up the call in seconds.

Wendy gnashed her teeth and said, “I want you to help me post news about President Lawrence’s woman!”

The Lawrence family’s matter was a hit on the internet, and as a public relations company, they knew about it.

The staff was cautious when they heard she wanted to post something about Byron and Rosalie. “Who are you?”

Wendy’s expression was cold. “Wendy Fuller.”

Then, the person on the other end of the call hung up.

Wendy’s anger surged as she clenched her teeth and dialed again. “Four million dollars. All you have to do is release the news. I guarantee you it’s legit!”

The person on the other end was tempted to hear such a large amount, but he dared not risk it.

Wendy gritted her teeth and said, “Seven million! When it’s done, I’ll pay you a one million bonus! That’s eight million in total!”

Kevin had asked her for the money, so Wendy had prepared it.

Unexpectedly, she did not have the chance to use it. Thus, she might as well use it now.

The person from the other end of the call was tempted and remained silent before agreeing hesitantly. “Okay. What is the content you want US to post?”

Finally getting the answer she wanted, Wendy’s expression turned cold as she told the staff member the content she had already thought of.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1336 –

Chapter 1336 Whose Children Are They?

The two little boys smiled with satisfaction after seeing the online comments speaking up on behalf of their mother.

Estelle woke up and walked to them in a daze as she rubbed her eyes.” Lucian, Nox, what are you guys doing?”

The two kids immediately closed the computer upon hearing her voice and shook their heads in unison. “Nothing. We’re observing the stock market.”

They felt it was enough that they settled the issue online. They did not have to let their sister see the comments.

Estelle looked at her brothers and felt that their reactions were strange.

However, she had just gotten up, and her brain was still a mess. She blinked twice and got out of bed to wash herself up.

Lucian and Nox wanted to continue observing the comments on the internet, but Rosalie had already come to their room to call them to have breakfast.

The little boys had to put down the computer, wait for Estelle to finish brushing her teeth, and go downstairs together.

When eating breakfast, Rosalie noticed that the little ones' mood seemed good and asked in a puzzle, 'Why are you guys so happy?'

Lucian and Nox looked at each other and said in their cute voices, "Nothing. We're just happy that we found Estie!"

Estelle also nodded. "Estie is also happy!"

Rosalie did not think much of it. She felt warm deep down when she looked at the smiles on the little ones' faces.

She served the kids some dishes and said, "After dinner, Mommy will take you all out to play, okay?"

She had not taken the children out since the incident last time.

Besides, she finally found the daughter she had been missing for years.

Every time she went out with Lucian and Nox, she would have a dream of her deceased daughter and hope she was there.

This time, her dream had finally come true!

The little ones looked more and more excited when they heard they could go for an outing with Rosalie. "Yay!"

Rosalie smiled along with their cheer.

At the same time, online opinion had changed.

Wendy paid off the public opinion company to publish comments about Rosalie on the internet.

[The wife? Do you mean that woman, Rosalie? Didn't someone expose the fact that she could join the Lancer family's project only because she and Young Master Xander have some unspoken relationship? Do you guys even believe a woman like her?]

[You can still find photos of Rosalie and Xander having dinner together! There has been no formal clarification of their relationship. I think Rosalie is just a two-faced b*tch in the medical industry!]

Below all kinds of comments that claimed Rosalie was not like what she seemed, many netizens were still defending her and saying those rumors about her and Xander were only rumors. Byron's attitude when he broke off his engagement with Wendy proved it.

However, someone else exposed something new about Rosalie.

(Rumors said that Rosalie already has two children aged four or five. It has only been six years since she divorced Byron. Whose children are they? They can't be President Lawrence's, can they?)

[Moreover, Rosalie left the Lawrence family at her own will. Maybe she found out she was pregnant with someone else's children and knew she couldn't explain it if they noticed. Since her kids are now in kindergarten, she plans to return to get her share of the assets.]

[It's possible! If it is true, this woman is so scheming. She might have even caused President Lawrence to break his engagement with Miss Fuller.]

The netizens continued to condemn Rosalie's scheme.

With the two unknown children mentioned, the good comments of Rosalie by the netizens disappeared gradually.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1337 –

Chapter 1337 Become A Laughing Stock

Looking at the netizens scolding Rosalie made Wendy smile in satisfaction.

“Rosalie, you b*tch! I'll ensure you have a taste of the feeling of being condemned by all the netizens.”

Meanwhile, Melody woke up in the morning and saw the comments on the internet.

When Melody saw Byron had taken Rosalie to the hospital and stayed with her all night, she flared up.

She remembered at that time that Jacobs woman had just come back from abroad, yet her son had already taken care of her.

Melody kept scrolling through the comments in anger.

All she saw was the comment section continuously refreshing with the comments changing constantly.

Melody's expression turned ugly when she saw the netizens praising what a perfect match Rosalie and Byron were.

Perfect match? Since when did the Jacobs woman become an ideal match for her son?

With that face of hers or that two bastards she gave birth to?

They had not gotten any information about with whom Rosalie gave birth to the two brats until now.

As her anger grew, the comments about Rosalie showed a drastic change.

Melody's mood eased down a little.

However, a comment suddenly appeared and caught Melody's attention.

[Moreover, Rosalie left the Lawrence family at her own will. Maybe she found out she was pregnant with someone else's children and knew she couldn't explain it if they noticed. Since her kids are now in kindergarten, she plans to return to get her share of the assets.]

Melody's face was ashen when she saw that comment.

When she recalled it, the two little boys did look as big as Estelle.

As for the ages of the two little bastards, Melody even suspected that Rosalie made them up.

No wonder the woman left in such a hurry!

At the thought of this possibility, Melody could not bear it anymore.

Whether it was true or not, Rosalie was to be suspected!

Melody swore not to let Rosalie pay for her trick on the Lawrence family.

She turned off her phone screen and headed out of the mansion. Then, she drove her car to Rosalie's place.

When she arrived at Rosalie's house, it was nearly noon. She knocked on the door for a long time, but no one answered.

Rosalie went back to the car and looked at her phone. All she saw was the comments getting wilder, and many guesses appeared.

Some even doubted that Rosalie might have known Young Master Xander for a long time.

The Lawrence family's reputation was also affected because of those speculations.

[Doesn't anyone in the Lawrence family know about Rosalie cheating on Byron? How did everyone in that family miss that? Could it be that the maid in the Lawrence family had hidden all these from them?]

[What are the last names of Miss Jacobs' two children? Can anyone reveal it?]

Curiosity about this matter grew in the comment section.

Looking at the comments, Melody was so pissed off that her vision turned black due to anger.

She knew that if she let that woman marry Byron again, the Lawrence family would be the laughing stock of the netizens.

Now, all that she was afraid of had happened!

She had to figure out a solution for this matter.

Melody parked her car before Rosalie's gate and pondered for a while before finally coming up with a solution.

The most important thing now was to restore the Lawrence family's reputation.

Their reputation was ruined because the netizens had been speculating on the matter between her son and Rosalie.

If Byron's fiancée was not Rosalie...

Melody made a decision and headed straight to the Fuller Villa.

Although she was dissatisfied with what Wendy had done to Estelle, only Wendy could make the public divert their attention from Rosalie.

It was not a big deal. Melody could just let Wendy hold onto the title of Byron's fiancée temporarily.

Anyway, what Wendy had done was still concealed, and it would not ruin the Lawrence family's reputation!

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1338 –

Chapter 1338 Penitent Look

The Fuller family.

Henry's phone had been drowned with calls because of the farce in the morning and the pressure given to the other companies by the Lawrence Corporation.

They called him to tell him how bad things were happening in the branch companies or to cancel the partnership with his company.

The Fuller family had been in a bad mood since that morning.

Although Magdalene was worried about her daughter, she did not dare to call Wendy because Henry was around.

At noon, Magdalene had prepared lunch, but Henry did not come downstairs to eat. Hence, even Magdalene did not eat because she had no appetite at the thought of eating alone.

No one touched the dishes until they turned cold.

When Melody came, the first thing she saw was the empty dining area.

Wendy's room faced the villa door, and she could see the shaky room door when she lifted her head.

"Mrs. Lawrence, what are you doing here...?"

Magdalene recalled what had happened the day before when she saw Melody. Her heart skipped a beat, and she stood up in fear.

Henry, who was in his study, heard the knock and walked out of his room to take a look.

He hung up the call he was on when he saw it was Melody and quickly headed downstairs.

'What can I do for you, Mrs. Lawrence? Wendy knows her mistake, and we're being punished for it. Please don't make things worse for us...'

Henry looked embarrassed and hesitated when he said that.

Melody frowned as she looked at everything in the Fuller family.

She looked at the dishware on the table and two dishes that were not touched.

Then, she glanced at the people before her. Henry and Magdalene looked older after a sleepless night and seemed devastated.

They had been friends for so many years, after all. Melody felt sorry when she saw them like this.

Thinking of what Wendy had done, Melody sighed. "I don't understand what the Lawrence family has done to you. How could you let Wendy do such a thing? She even laid her hands on Estie!"

Henry and Magdalene looked at each other. They could hear that Melody did not sound as angry as before.

Henry quickly spoke humbly and helplessly, "We didn't want this to happen. Wendy... is foolish! She knows her mistake now. She did all that because she wanted to marry Byron so badly."

Magdalene also continued. "Wendy hasn't eaten anything since she came back yesterday from Lawrence Manor. She locked herself in her room all night. I'm sure she's realized her mistake, and we scolded her. We even told her to apologize to Byron and Estie."

The sincerity of their words and their gaunt faces made them look sad.

Melody stared at them for a while and observed how sincere they were.

Henry and Magdalene had their heads down. Henry's face was flushed red in embarrassment and anger, while Magdalene had been crying since morning, making her eyes look red.

They did look like they were regretting what happened.

Melody retracted her gaze and sat on the sofa in the living room.

"Wendy was indeed blinded by greed. If she had done according to what I arranged for her and gotten along with Byron and Estie patiently, nothing would have happened."

Her voice was full of regret.

Magdalene and Henry understood the meaning behind her words and grasped the opportunity given to them.

"Mrs. Lawrence, we realize our mistakes and have learned our lesson. Can you persuade President Lawrence to forgive us?"

Melody neither agreed nor rejected. She sat elegantly as she looked at them.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball

Chapter 1339 –

Chapter 1339 Not Do Anything Foolish Anymore

Magdalene and Henry did not know what to say.

They thought that Melody had come to give them a chance.

However, Melody suddenly put on her superior stance, making them unable to do anything, and they were flustered.

Magdalene said tentatively, “Mrs. Lawrence, we’ll do as you say in the future and will never do anything foolish anymore. Please help us.”

When she spoke, she noticed Melody’s gaze falling on her husband.

Magdalene immediately understood her intention and cleared her throat to remind Henry.

Obviously, Melody had found the value of the Fuller family and wanted to see how loyal they could be!

Magdalene could not represent the Fuller family. What Melody wanted was Henry’s promise.

Although they had been friends for many years with Melody, this matter was more than friendship could tolerate, and the Fuller family was in the wrong here.

Melody would never care about their friendship anymore in situations like this.

All of this was about how much benefit she could get.

Henry knew what Melody had in mind.

However, he still could not give up on Fuller Industries no matter how he thought about it.

On second thought, if he disagreed, he might not even be able to keep Fuller Industries from going bankrupt, not to mention having the right to speak.

With that in mind, Henry decided and agreed. “I promise that the Fuller family or even the Fuller Industries will listen to your arrangement. We’ll never go against you.”

Melody nodded contentedly and put down her leg.

'Where's Wendy?' Melody lifted her head and glanced at Wendy's broken room door.

Magdalene smiled and said, "She had a quarrel with Henry this morning and left the house. I'll call her and ask her to come back home at once if you want to meet her!"

She was worried that her daughter might come up with something foolish again, yet she was afraid to call because of Henry's attitude.

However, with Melody giving them a chance, she could use this opportunity to call Wendy!

A glint of displeasure flashed across Melody's eyes.

After such a serious matter happened, Wendy could still leave her house after throwing a tantrum.

It made Melody wonder why she did not notice that Wendy was such an unreliable person.

When Henry and Magdalene saw the change in Melody's expression, they felt guilty.

"No need!"

Melody looked away and ordered coldly, "When she comes back, tell her not to cause any trouble during this time!"

Magdalene and Henry could not help guessing a possibility.

They wondered if Melody visited this time because of the engagement between Wendy and Byron. Maybe they had hope of recovering it.

Melody's words next crushed their hopes.

"Even if the engagement between Byron and Wendy has been called off, I can never let that Jacobs woman marry Byron with her bad reputation!"

Melody continued angrily, "I'll talk to Byron about it, but I can't help Wendy anymore if she does anything foolish again!"

The Fuller couple was confused and did not quite understand what Melody meant.

Since Melody did not plan to recover the engagement, what did Melody want from them?

However, they did not dare to ask because Melody looked pissed off." We'll keep an eye on Wendy and stop her from doing anything silly again!"

Melody peered at them and strode to the door.

It seemed that it was not a bad thing that Byron had taught the Fuller family a lesson.

At least the Fuller family was much more obedient than before!

Looking at Melody leaving, the flattering grin on Henry's face gradually disappeared, and a gloomy expression replaced it.

He had just given away the control of the Fuller family and their company to Melody.

It was all his foolish daughter's fault.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1340 –

Chapter 1340 Sell Them Together

Rosalie was unaware of the rumors online

After breakfast, she took the little ones to the beach.

Lucian and Nox were a little worried about whether the comments on the internet would change, but they forgot all about it after going to the beach.

It had been a long time since their mommy took them for an outing, and this time, she brought their sister along. That made the little boys feel delighted.

“Mommy, where are we going?”

Estie seemed to want to get back all those years she had not been able to spend time with Rosalie and kept calling her mommy.

Lucian and Nox were also curious.

‘This looks like the way out of town, Mommy. Are you here to sell my brother and me off?’

In his cute voice, Nox put on an exaggerated expression and begged Rosalie, “Mommy, don't do this. Lucian and I will be good kids and help you take care of Estie.”

Estelle also nodded thoughtfully. “If you want to sell Lucian and Nox, please sell me with them!”

Then, she tilted her head in dilemma and said, "Estie doesn't want to part from Mommy either. Mommy, please don't sell us, okay?"

Those cute voices melted Rosalie's heart, and she chuckled at her children's words.

"When did I say I was going to sell you guys? It's a nice day. I'm taking you guys to the beach."

She went to that beach when she first found out she was pregnant.

Two days ago, Byron took her there once again, and it evoked some of Rosalie's memory.

Even though they were still in her womb then, she wanted to show them the sea.

When the kids heard they were going to the beach, they all remembered their last vacation.

The last vacation was the first time the family of five had ever been on vacation together!

Lucian and Nox were already missing their last vacation.

Now that they knew Estelle was their little sister, they felt that their last vacation experience was worth remembering for a lifetime!

"Are you taking us to the beach where we went last time?"

Nox could not help asking.

Rosalie also could not help but think of the previous experience, and emotions surged in her.

After the last kindergarten activity, they went on a hot spring vacation.

A lot happened then too.

If it were not for Melody and Wendy, she might have gotten back together with Byron when they were at the beach.

"Mommy?"

The little ones did not get an answer and urged.

Rosalie snapped out of her memory and smiled at her kids. "No, this time we're going to the beach I used to go to back then."

The eyes of the little ones lit up in joy.

Even Lucian and Nox had little contact with Rosalie's past after living with her for so long.

Now, she was taking them to the beach she loved.

Looking through the rearview mirror and seeing the happy faces, Rosalie smiled.

When she found out she was pregnant, she stood on the beach and had a vision of herself watching her babies play by the sea.

However, that fantasy was soon crushed because of her decision.

After all, she had already decided to go abroad and had no plans of returning.

Rosalie always thought she would never see that scene she had dreamed of again.

Unexpectedly, it was happening.

After more than half an hour, Rosalie slowly pulled over her car near a beach.

When the car stopped, the little ones got out of it. Then, they ran toward the sea like birds freed from their cages.

Chapter 1340 Sell Them Together

Rosalie was unaware of the rumors online

After breakfast, she took the little ones to the beach.

Lucian and Nox were a little worried about whether the comments on the internet would change, but they forgot all about it after going to the beach.

It had been a long time since their mommy took them for an outing, and this time, she brought their sister along. That made the little boys feel delighted.

"Mommy, where are we going?"

Estie seemed to want to get back all those years she had not been able to spend time with Rosalie and kept calling her mommy.

Lucian and Nox were also curious.

"This looks like the way out of town, Mommy. Are you here to sell my brother and me off?"

In his cute voice, Nox put on an exaggerated expression and begged Rosalie, "Mommy, don't do this. Lucian and I will be good kids and help you take care of Estie."

Estelle also nodded thoughtfully. "If you want to sell Lucian and Nox, please sell me with them!"

Then, she tilted her head in dilemma and said, "Estie doesn't want to part from Mommy either. Mommy, please don't sell us, okay?"

Those cute voices melted Rosalie's heart, and she chuckled at her children's words.

"When did I say I was going to sell you guys? It's a nice day. I'm taking you guys to the beach."

She went to that beach when she first found out she was pregnant.

Two days ago, Byron took her there once again, and it evoked some of Rosalie's memory.

Even though they were still in her womb then, she wanted to show them the sea.

When the kids heard they were going to the beach, they all remembered their last vacation.

The last vacation was the first time the family of five had ever been on vacation together!

Lucian and Nox were already missing their last vacation.

Now that they knew Estelle was their little sister, they felt that their last vacation experience was worth remembering for a lifetime!

"Are you taking us to the beach where we went last time?"

Nox could not help asking.

Rosalie also could not help but think of the previous experience, and emotions surged in her.

After the last kindergarten activity, they went on a hot spring vacation.

A lot happened then too.

If it were not for Melody and Wendy, she might have gotten back together with Byron when they were at the beach.

“Mommy?”

The little ones did not get an answer and urged.

Rosalie snapped out of her memory and smiled at her kids. “No, this time we’re going to the beach I used to go to back then.”

The eyes of the little ones lit up in joy.

Even Lucian and Nox had little contact with Rosalie’s past after living with her for so long.

Now, she was taking them to the beach she loved.

Looking through the rearview mirror and seeing the happy faces, Rosalie smiled.

When she found out she was pregnant, she stood on the beach and had a vision of herself watching her babies play by the sea.

However, that fantasy was soon crushed because of her decision.

After all, she had already decided to go abroad and had no plans of returning.

Rosalie always thought she would never see that scene she had dreamed of again.

Unexpectedly, it was happening.

After more than half an hour, Rosalie slowly pulled over her car near a beach.

When the car stopped, the little ones got out of it. Then, they ran toward the sea like birds freed from their cages.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-