My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1411—For the first time, Wendy felt flustered, and turned to ask her mother for confirmation.

“Mom, is what dad said just now true? Are we really going to move out?”

Magdalene was very reluctant, but had to face reality, and nodded with sorrow. “It’s true, we won’t be able to live here soon.”

Then, she persuaded her daughter earnestly. “Wendy, listen to your father’s advice and stop doing stupid things. Now that the Fuller family has fallen to this point, if something happens to you, even if we want to help, we won’t be able to anymore!”

In the past, others might have given the Fullers some favors because of the Lawrence family.

Now, the Lawrence family has turned against them, they even almost announce that they brought down the Fuller family.

Naturally, no one will give favors to the Fuller family again, not to mention, they could not even recover any money now...

Wendy stared at Magdalene in dismay for a few seconds, then raised her eyes to look at the room where she grew up, and instantly burst into tears!

“Why! Why can’t we even keep our home, but that b*tch can still live in luxury!”

Magdalene heard her daughter’s accusation and became anxious. “Wendy, calm down!”

However, Wendy could not even listen to a word, got up and pushed her mother outside.

The door slammed shut in front of Magdalene.

No matter how long Magdalene knocked or begged, she looked at the closed door in front of her, there was no response from inside. She could only worry on the outside.

Wendy wiped away her tears with her hands, took out her mobile phone, and dialed Andrea’s number.

The Quirke family.

Andrea was also aware of her brother’s actions over the past few days.

Therefore, Andrea has been walking on eggshells these days.

'My brother targeted Wendy so much, and caused the Fuller family to go bankrupt, I'm afraid Wendy won't give up easily.'

Moreover, Wendy would likely hold her accountable for this!

Well, you get what you fear.

Just when Andrea was worried that she would be approached by Wendy, Wendy's phone call followed.

Looking at the caller ID, Andrea felt a million reluctance in her heart, but finally picked it up.

Wendy had gone completely crazy now. Andrea cannot guarantee whether she will accidentally touch a nerve in her and nudged her to expose to Byron that she herself was an accomplice.

This was not a gamble Andrea wanted to take at all!

"Hi... Wendy..." She answered the phone carefully, her tone even softer.

On the other end, Wendy's voice was a little hoarse, but her anger inside could still be heard,

"You come to Fuller Villa now!"

Hearing this, Andrea was full of guilt, and her tone was also troubled." Erm...My brother is watching closely and won't let me out. If there is anything, let's talk on the phone!"

Wendy was not a fool. She knew that Andrea was avoiding her during this time.

Though now, the only resource she could use is Andrea!

"You can't come out, but I can! Aren't you afraid that I will go to Byron and tell him everything you've done?"

Wendy's tone was threatening. "The Quirke family is now earning a lot of money, and the relationship with the Lawrence family is closer than before. However, if Byron knows that you are my accomplice, do you think that he will take your family into consideration? Will the Quirke family become the next Fuller Industries?"

Suddenly, Andrea's heart trembled, and she dared not evade. "I'll think of a way to avoid my brother as much as possible. Sis, don't worry, I'll be there right away!"

Wendy was still dissatisfied. "If you don't make it in half an hour, meet me at Lawrence Manor!"

After that, she hung up the phone immediately.

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1412—Andrea regretted as she looked at the blackened phone screen.

'If I'd known that Wendy would end up in this situation, I would never have listened to her!'

It was too late to regret it now.

Andrea silently got up with her mobile phone in her hand. After much deliberation, she felt that it was not safe, so she took out a bank card from the drawer and put it in her bag before turning around and going out.

"Where are you going?"

As soon as she left the bedroom door, she met her brother who came out of the study room.

Andrius looked at her, his eyes full of scrutiny and suspicion.

Andrea forced a calm smile and said, "It's nothing, I've been bored at home for so long these two days, and I want to go out for a walk."

Andrius did not give her a chance to lie. He was direct. "To see Wendy?"

Andrea did not expect her brother to guess it so quickly, her face changed slightly.

"You can't go, stay at home!"

Andrius knew how deep Byron's prejudice against Wendy was.

At the same time, he also knew that his sister must have had something to do with Wendy before.

On the cusp of this storm, he had to ensure that these two people would not have any contact with each other, otherwise, Byron's anger might really implicate the Quirke family!

Andrea was deep in guilt, but on the surface she acted cool. "Brother, Sister Wendy and I have been close for so many years, and now that the Fuller family has fallen into such a state, I can't pretend I don't know, can I?"

She tried to play the emotional card. "We girls are not like you, we don't cut ties when we say we turn our backs. Although our family fell out, our previous friendship still exists..."

Before she even finished, Andrius interrupted with displeasure. "What kind of friendship do you have with her? The farther you can stay away from that kind of woman, the better!"

Andrea bit her lower lip, with a pitiful expression on her face, "Brother, I'm really just dropping by, now that the Fullers have become like that.

Furthermore, I have no skills, even if I want to help them, I can't..."

This was true.

With the Fuller's current situation, unless Byron personally took action, which involved dumping money without blinking, they might turn around.

Apart from this, the Fuller family were hopeless.

Andrea glanced at the time, seeing that it was not far from the time set by Wendy, she stepped up. "Don't worry, I am so timid, even if Sister Wendy asks me for help, I definitely would not dare! The reason why I helped her like that was because I thought she might be the future Mrs. Lawrence but now I know she can't, and I'm not that stupid."

Andrius was a little indulgent toward his younger sister.

Andrea affectionately buttered him up, and what his little sister said was indeed true.

Andrius considered it for a bit, and finally agreed. "It's okay to go and see her, but remember, if you get bewitched by her and do something stupid, you will bear the consequences yourself, and I will definitely not protect you!"

Andrius would naturally choose the entire Quirke family over Andrea!

Andrea's heart trembled, and she felt a little apprehensive about meeting her.

For a moment, she even wanted to confess everything that she had done before.

However, considering the fate of the Fuller family, Andrea resisted the impulse, and pretended to obediently agree.

“Understood, I’m not a fool. Brother, don’t worry!”

Andrius nodded, watching his sister leave quickly, but he was still a little uneasy.

He always felt that Andrea was not such a stupid person.

The current relationship between the Fullers and Lawrences was evident. Andrea should not side with Wendy anymore.

‘Is there any secret between the two of them?’

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1413—When Andrea left the house, she dared not delay, and drove straight to Fuller Villa.

As soon as she arrived at the gate, she saw the moving company’s truck parked in front of the villa.

Even though she knew that the Fullers were being targeted in many ways and was in a difficult situation, she never expected to this extent.

Andrea recalled Wendy’s tone over the phone just now, she was stunned.

‘No wonder Wendy didn’t contact me during this time, but suddenly wanted to see me today/

It turned out that she was desperate now.

Realizing this, Andrea was both terrified and emotional.

‘Given Wendy’s current situation, if I go up now, I’m afraid nothing good will happen, and I will only be used as a punching bag!

‘Back then, the Fuller family took advantage of the Lawrence family’s influence and enjoyed a lot of glory.

'Who would've thought that the Fullers would end up in this situation today!

'If this situation happens to the Quirke family...'

Just the thought of it sent shivers down Andrea's spine!

'No! I can no longer be associated with Wendy! Who knows if Wendy will make me do anything to offend the Lawrence family in the future!'

Thinking of this, the expression on Andrea's face was stiffened when she walked into the Fuller villa.

"Andrea, have you come to see Wendy?"

Magdalene's eyes lit up slightly at the woman's arrival, and her eyes were full of relief. "Please help Auntie persuade and console her."

Andrea smiled stiffly. "I will."

After that, she could not look at Magdalene again, and walked upstairs quickly.

As soon as she walked to the door of Wendy's bedroom, he heard a bang from inside.

Andrea was so frightened that she paused in her steps, and when she heard the silence inside, she raised her hand and knocked on the door cautiously.

"Come in!" Wendy's voice was hoarse.

Andrea clenched the bag in her hand, pushed the door open and entered.

All she saw was a mess in the room, and almost everything that could be moved was pushed to the ground, beyond recognition.

Wendy carried on and threw a vase on the ground.

"Wendy sis, you..."

Andrea's heart was tense, she stood at the door and looked at Wendy with vigilance, afraid to enter.

Wendy glared at her viciously. "These are all mine! Since I can't take them with me, they should be smashed! I won't leave my things to others for nothing!"

As soon as the voice fell, the vase shattered, and the glass shards scattered all over the ground.

Andrea hastily stepped back to avoid the shards.

From Wendy's appearance, it was obvious that she had just cried, her eye sockets were still slightly red, her eyelashes stuck together by tears, and her hair, which was always immaculately styled, was also a mess at the moment.

Looking down, Andrea saw the unmistakable slap marks on Wendy's face at a glance.

Upon this, Andrea frowned slightly, and she could not bear it.

Although she had seen and knew of Wendy's cruelty, they were friends for many years. In Wendy's disheveled state, Andrea's resentment and fear towards her also dissipated.

"Wendy sis, calm down, the situation is already like this, if you get angry further, it will only damage your body, and it won't change anything."

She tried to appease Wendy's emotions.

Unexpectedly, as soon as the words fell, a ceramic ornament flew toward her head-on!

Andrea's heart stopped, and she barely escaped by relying on her instinct.

There was only a muffled sound behind her, as the ornament slammed into the wall firmly, then fell to the ground, and rolled to Andrea's feet.

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1414—In shock, Andrea looked at the ornament with a cracked corner at her feet.

If she did not dodge in time just now, this ornament would have hit her head. Tm afraid I won't be able to stand here now!

"Shut up! Don't think I don't know that it was all done by your family!"

Wendy looked at her hysterically. "You're all fine, yet the Quirke family has swallowed up our family's property, and will advance further, so what the h* Il are you telling me now?!"

Andrea was frightened by her actions and reacted poorly. "It's not like you don't know! I have no control over the Quirke family's affairs, what's the use of blaming me for what my brother did?"

'Speaking of which, if I had not helped Wendy go against Rosalie Jacobs before, I wouldn't have been kicked out of the Quirke family's business management!'

Thinking of this, Andrea regretted it even more.

Wendy's expression suddenly became very indifferent, her eyes filled with madness. "The Fuller family can't just end like this! You go and find a way, spit out the property that the Quirke family has annexed from us!"

Andrea's face was full of disbelief. "I have no say in Quirke Corporation now, and my brother won't listen to me, I can't do this!"

Wendy interrupted her in a cold voice. "You can do it! If you can't, then I will tell Byron that you gave me the medicine that I gave to Estie!"

The expression on Andrea's face changed.

Looking at the current situation of the Fullers, she regretted the incident even more, and was also afraid that Wendy would really rat her out.

After a while, Andrea softened her tone forcefully. "Sis, don't be like this. I'm in the Quirke family. If you need help in the future, I can help you. If I am also kicked out by the Quirke family, who will be able to help you?"

With that said, she took out the bank card from her bag and put it on the bed. "Here is one hundred thousand dollars. Take it and rent a better house first. If you don't have enough money, ask me for it again, I will definitely not shirk."

Wendy looked down at the bank card on the bed, then looked up at the person in front of her. Her face cracked into a sarcastic smirk.

"One hundred thousand? Is this charity for the beggar?"

Andrea frowned in embarrassment. "That's not ideal for me either, but I can't get access to the corporation's money now, and the money I spent was given by my brother and grandpa. If I spend too much at one time, they will definitely ask me where I spent it. If they found out that I gave you the money..."

At that time, forget whether Wendy can get the next sum of money.

Andrea was afraid that she could not even cover up what she had done before!

After all, she took out the bacteria that Estie was allergic to from the Quirke family's research institute herself!

With a little research, it was easy to know it was her!

Wendy trembled with anger.

One hundred thousand dollars. Last time, it was not even a speck worthy of attention from her!

But now, it was difficult for her to even take out ten thousand dollars!

“You take the money first, and we’ll discuss it in the long run.” Andrea hurriedly continued to persuade Wendy when she saw a shift in her expression.

After a while, Wendy gritted her teeth fiercely and stopped looking at Andrea. “Alright, you can get out! Remember, don’t think that the Fullers are down and out, you can get rid of me! I still have your misdeeds in my hand! You still have to listen to me!”

After the engagement with the Lawrence family was terminated, Wendy did not even bother to pretend, and made no secret of her desire to take advantage of Andrea.

Andrea clenched her teeth secretly, showing an awkward smile, to console the person in front of her first. “I know, don’t worry.”

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1415–The two of them were completely tom apart.

When Andrea came out of the villa, the smile on her face disappeared, and turned into regret and anger.

‘If I knew this earlier, I wouldn’t have gotten so close to Wendy back then!

‘Great, Wendy is still lingering after the Fuller family has fallen into this situation!’

Back at Quirke Mansion, Andrea’s expression had not softened yet.

Andrius was worried and waited in the living room.

The expression on his sister’s face as she entered the door made his heart sink slightly. “What’s wrong? Did you quarrel with Wendy?”

If he remembered correctly, his younger sister had always been close to Wendy, and this time, Andrea even went to see her under the guise of visiting.

It stands to reason that the two should not quarrel or, as he thought, 'They are hiding other things from me?'

Thinking of this, Andrius's heart was very heavy as he watched his sister closely.

Andrea suppressed her anger all the way and erupted suddenly after hearing Andrius' concern.

"It's all because of you! The Quirkes and the Fullers have been friends for so many years. Once the Fuller family was in trouble, our family rushed to grab the Fuller family's property like a mad dog. If you were Wendy, wouldn't you be angry?"

Andrius frowned. "What do you know? There are no emotions in the business world! What's more, the Fullers have long been unable to support these industries. If we don't make a move, others will!"

"Then..." Andrea's eyes widened, she wanted to argue that it is better to leave it to others.

As soon as she opened her mouth, Andrius interrupted sharply. "Shut up! This is Quirke Corporation's business. I have already discussed this matter with shareholders, and no one has any objections! And this is also signaled by Byron! Do you think we are closer to the Lawrence family, or the Fullers?!"

Byron. Andrea's eyes trembled at the mention of that name, her heart shrank, and the arrogance around her gradually subsided.

Andrius stared at his sister for a while, and then softened his tone when he saw that she did not refute anymore.

"Don't go to the Fullers again in the future! You paid them a visit today, that's the end of your kindness to them! Don't get involved with their family anymore, just pretend you never knew each other!"

Andrea's face was downcast.

Of course she wanted to do the same.

'But how could Wendy let me go so easily?'

Andrius saw her hesitation, and his face darkened. "You clearly know that Wendy is destined to never obtain the Young Lady's position as Mrs. Lawrence in the future. What that woman did is almost spread throughout Coast City. If you still don't cut ties with her, it will only affect the Quirke family's reputation!"

Andrea trembled imperceptibly.

'What I fear most now is that the Quirke family will be affected.

'I couldn't imagine what I would look like after being down and out! 1

'How can I get rid of Wendy?'

Andrea cracked her head and came up with nothing. She almost wanted to come clean about what she had done.

However, she was also afraid that after her brother found out, he would drive her out of the Quirke family without waiting for Byron to take action.

"The young lady of the Lawrence family will only be Rosalie, and we will inevitably have to deal with her in the future."

Then, something came to Andrius' mind, he persuaded her with a sullen face. "I remember your attitude toward Dr.

Jacobs wasn't good before, it's best to find an opportunity to apologize to her properly, to prevent future conflicts."

Upon her brother's words, Andrea's heart moved, and she felt that this seemed to be a solution.

Although she disliked Rosalie, however, Rosalie was much easier to talk to than Byron.

'I could start with Rosalie and ask Rosalie to intercede for me.'

Thinking of this, Andrea pretended to be obedient and agreed.

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1416—Andrius could clearly feel that his sister's mood was not right.

After thinking about it for some time, he hinted explicitly." When you have decided to see Dr. Jacobs, just tell me and I will go with you."

Hearing this, Andrea felt more confident, and the expression on her face became much better.

Andrius looked serious. "If you offended her in any way before, take this opportunity to apologize to her properly. Dr. Jacobs is not a stingy person, let alone with me here, as long as you realize your own mistakes, she will definitely forgive you."

Andrea nodded obediently on the front, but the thoughts in her head were full of twists and turns.

'What my brother said sounded nice, but I am not sure if Rosalie is so easy-going. If she knew that I had provided bacteria to Wendy and indirectly hurt those children, would she have forgiven me generously?'

She still had to gently try it out step by step.

"Okay, go up and rest. About Dr. Jacobs, tell me once you've decided, and HI tell her."

Andrius sighed and waved her to go upstairs.

He thought that whatever he suggested today was meaningless again, but he never expected Andrea would take the initiative.

"Brother, I know I was wrong, please help me ask Dr. Jacobs, when she is free, I want to apologize to her as soon as possible."

A look of surprise flashed across Andrius' eyes. Not sure why she suddenly became enlightened today.

Andrea touched her nose. "I used to be blinded and obsessed with nonsense. As you said, Dr. Jacobs will be with Byron sooner or later. If my relationship with her is too rigid, it will not be conducive to the development of our family."

After that, she smiled and behaved nicely to her brother. "If my relationship with Dr. Jacobs improves, can I still go back to Quirke Enterprise?"

Andrius looked at her carefully for a few seconds, and there was nothing unusual on her face.

Then, Andrius nodded. "After apologizing to Dr. Jacobs, if she forgives you, you can come back. Just remember not to do stupid things again."

The reason why he and the old man made Andrea withdraw from the Quirke Enterprise's management before because on one hand, they felt that her behavior had damaged the family's reputation. On the other hand, they were also afraid that she would go her own way and unknowingly offend the Lawrence family.

If Rosalie could forgive her for her previous behavior, the Quirke family's reputation would be restored.

Andrea was relieved again.

As long as she can return to Quirke Enterprise, if Wendy asks her for money again, at least she can still hold her ground.

After his sister decided to apologize to Rosalie as soon as possible, Andrius called Rosalie immediately.

Rosalie had been busy with work at the research institute during this time.

After learning that little Estie was her child who she thought had died, Rosalie finally made up her mind that she would develop her career in the country to accompany the little one.

Therefore, during this period of time, she worked overtime to obtain new project contracts, in order to let the institute establish itself in Somerland.

There was no time to bother with the disputes in the outside world.

When she received Andrius' call, she was leading researchers in the research institute to conduct experiments and develop new drugs.

After Yves' arrest, her tasks in the research institute became much heavier.

Even Andrius' phone call, she had to take time to answer it.

On the phone, Andrius only said that he wanted to talk to her, but Rosalie blocked out the whole afternoon due to the close relationship between the Quirke family and their research institute.

After discussing the time and place, the two hung up the phone.

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1417—At noon the next day, Andrius took Andrea to buy a bunch of gifts, and drove to the restaurant they had agreed upon.

The restaurant was near the research institute. If there was time, Rosalie even planned to go back to work for a while after they had finished talking.

Due to the delay in the research institute, when Rosalie arrived, Andrius and Andrea were already sitting in the private room.

“Dr. Jacobs, I’m sorry, did I disrupt your work rhythm?”

Andrius called her sister-in-law in front of Byron, but in front of Rosalie, he still knew his boundaries.

Rosalie pursed her lips and smiled, her eyes were on Andrea, and full of puzzlement.

If she remembered correctly, Andrea had never liked her very much, why did she come here today?

During this time, there were many projects in the research institute, and Rosalie really did not want to get into any trouble.

Andrius got up and pulled out a chair for her in a gentlemanly manner. “Andrea felt that she had made a mistake before, so she specifically asked me for my help to meet you. She wants to apologize to you.”

When speaking, Andrius’ eyes swept across his sister.

Andrea stood up obediently, with a sincere smile on her face. “Dr. Jacobs, I was ignorant before, because Sis Wendy and I...”

Then, Andrea paused for a moment, and changed her words again. “I have a good personal relationship with Wendy, and seeing you getting close to Byron, I preconceived prejudice against you. I realized I was wrong, please don’t hold it against me.”

She implied that her bad attitude towards Rosalie before this was all because of Wendy.

With a simple sentence, she pushed all responsibility onto Wendy.

Rosalie also heard what she meant and felt a little uncomfortable.

She could not accept Andrea’s apology easily.

Andrius also heard what his sister meant, and his expression sank immediately. “Andrea!”

Andrea’s expression became more sincere, and she took the gift she bought from the chair beside her.

“But now I know I was wrong. Byron has always loved you, Sister Rosalie. I used to be blinded and obsessed over a mistake. Can you let bygones be bygones? My brother and Byron have such a good relationship, and I want that with you too. Let’s be sisters!”

With that said, she handed the gift to Rosalie.

These words almost set Rosalie up, if she did not agree, it would be unreasonable.

Andrea looked at Rosalie almost with the go-getter mentality.

She put herself so low, Rosalie will forgive her no matter what!

Unexpectedly, Rosalie just remained silent for a while, then raised her hand and pushed her gift back.

“I forgive your attitude towards me before, but it’s too early to be sisters, and our relationship is indeed not that close.”

She smiled at Andrea with cordial detachment. “Miss Quirke can be the same as Young Master Quirke, just call me Dr.

Jacobs, we start as friends.”

Being friends with Andrea was also out of courtesy to Andrius.

Andrea did not expect to be rejected; her expression froze for a moment.

On the other hand, Andrius felt that Rosalie’s ability to forgive his sister was already a good starting point.

He smiled and smoothed things over. “Dr. Jacobs is right, start as friends. You will spend more time with each other in the future anyway. How far your relationship can develop depends on fate!”

Rosalie looked at Andrius, the smile on her face relaxed a lot.

From the day she met Andrius, she discovered that his attitude toward people was always just right, and he never made things difficult for others.

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1418—Although Andrea was reluctant, she had no other choice right now.

The most urgent thing was to get Rosalie’s forgiveness first, and then return to Quirke Enterprise!

“Then I’ll gladly accept.”

Andrea acted coy and pushed the gift back. “But I’ve gotten this gift especially for you, it’s not very expensive, it’s just a thought, please accept it.”

On the side, Andrius also echoed. “Andrea put a lot of thought into it. Dr. Jacobs, don’t be polite to her, if you don’t accept it, she probably won’t believe that you really forgave her.”

Rosalie took a look, and it was indeed just a brandless bag.

Only then did she raise her hand to accept it and nodded to the two of them. “That’s too much, so I’m buying this meal.”

Andrius did not refuse her either.

The three of them had a simple lunch. During the meal, they chatted about the cooperation between Quirke Enterprise and the research institute.

Andrius knew that his buddy was solid about Rosalie, and the relationship between the two was certain, so he simply decided to have more in-depth cooperation with the research institute.

Rosalie naturally wanted that too.

After a meal, apart from Andrea, the host and guest enjoyed themselves.

Andrea returned to Quirke Enterprise as she wished, which solved a matter of concern.

After lunch, Rosalie went back to work in the research institute, while Andrius took Andrea to the company, and the three parted ways.

Although he agreed to let Andrea come back, Andrius still had some concerns and did not allow her access to administrative power, basically just for a name.

Andrea did not dare to ask for more, she only wanted to be able to get some money.

At the same time.

Wendy’s family moved out of the original villa.

With their current conditions, it was impossible for them to continue living in the city. With the money Andrea gave them, they found an almost abandoned villa outside the city and lived there temporarily.

The villa has not been lived in for several years. Although the furniture was considered complete, it was also covered with dust.

The three of them did not have extra money to hire part-time workers, so they did the cleaning by themselves.

After cleaning for a full day and night, only to be considered as the first cleaning.

Magdalene did most of the work. After cleaning, she sat down on the sofa exhausted, and lamented in unspeakable misery. "Goodness gracious, compared with our home, this place doesn't look like one can live in..."

On the other side, Henry shouted angrily. "Stop dreaming! Do we even have a home? Even this house is rented at a low price!"

After finishing the words, Henry shot Wendy a look of displeasure. "I must have offended the gods!"

Wendy lowered her head; her eyes were filled with repressed madness.

'I hate this! I hate Rosalie, but I hate Byron too!

'Why? I've lived in luxury for all my life, but one strike and was sent straight to hell!'

Magdalene suddenly thought of something and grabbed Henry's sleeve. "Let's go beg the Quirke family, beg Andrea! She has a good relationship with Wendy, she came to see Wendy yesterday, she will definitely help us! And, and our friendship with the Quirke family for so many years..."

The words were not finished yet.

Henry interrupted sharply. "It was the Quirke family who caused us to be where we are today."

He looked at his wife and daughter in front of him, his eyes were full of anger. Both of them were more confused than the other.

Up until this day, they did not even know who sabotaged them, and still wanted to beg the culprit to save them! Hearing this, Magdalene collapsed to the ground.

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1419–It was the Quirke family!

She thought... 'Based on the friendship between the two families for so many years, even if the Quirkies don't help us, at least they won't be the one who caused trouble.'

Unexpectedly, it was the Quirke family who caused them to fall to where they are today!

'If that's the case, then what was Andrea doing at my place yesterday?!

'Is she crying crocodile tears?'

Magdalene looked at her daughter angrily, "You already knew that, didn't you!"

During this time, Wendy had been involved in the company, so it was impossible not to know who was behind this, but she actually let Andrea visit!

If she had known that all of this was done by the Quirke family, Magdalene would never have let Andrea in!

Wendy's eyes were also red. "So what if I know? It was the Lawrences that instigated it behind the scenes! Byron drove our family to this point because of that b*tch!"

She will never let it go like this!

Even if she goes to hell, she will drag that b*tch with her!

From her daughter's words, Magdalene felt that the sky was falling.

'Byron was so ruthless to their family; he did not care about their past affection at all...

'In that case, they have completely offended the Lawrence family.

'There was no possibility of turning over in the future! It is impossible for her to return to her former life of luxury!'

Realizing this, Magdalene's eyes went dark, and she passed out immediately!

"Mom!"

Wendy watched her mother collapse suddenly, with a flash of panic in her eyes, and rushed over quickly. "Hospital! Let's go to the hospital!"

Henry's face turned livid. "What hospital? She just passed out from fright! How much money do you think we have? We can't afford to go to the hospital just for the slightest ailment!"

After he finished, he waved Wendy away, carried Magdalene and went upstairs directly.

Looking at her father's back, the madness in Wendy's eyes almost jumped into reality!

'My mother is sick, but she could not even go to the hospital!

'I must never allow myself to live like this again!'

In extreme anger, Wendy called Andrea again!

On the other side, Andrea had just gotten involved in the company again with her brother's permission.

Although the apology with Rosalie yesterday was not pleasant, being able to return to the company was enough to satisfy her.

Andrea sat complacently in her one-man office, playing with her mobile phone in boredom.

Suddenly, Wendy's phone number popped up on the screen.

Andrea's hands shook, and almost sent her phone flying across the table!

She knew that she could never get rid of Wendy so easily.

'But I didn't expect that she would come looking for me so soon!

'What does she want from me? Money? Or does she want me to do something outrageous for her?'

Thinking of these possibilities, Andrea's hands kept shaking when she connected the phone.

In order not to anger Wendy, she still pretended to be nonchalant. "Sister Wendy, what can I do for you?"

Wendy gritted her teeth and said, "Give me five million!"

Andrea stood up from her chair in a jerk. "Five million?"

She has just returned to Quirke Enterprise, where would she get so much money?

However, Wendy cannot afford to offend her for the time being...

Andrea asked her cautiously, "Five million, when do you want it?"

Wendy's voice was cold. "Today! The sooner the better!"

Seeing Magdalene faint in front of her, Wendy felt extremely insecure.

'I want money! It must be lots and lots of money!

'Now, Andrea is my cash machine!'
