

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 321

“We’re in public right now. My children are over there, and I’m not interested in you either. Please refrain from doing anything inappropriate and leave at once.”

After Rosalie calmed down, she looked at the man before her expressionlessly.

Although she was seated and looking up at him while she spoke, she exuded a strong and menacing aura.

The man was shocked by her threats. He came to his senses after a few seconds. He behaved rather cautiously, but he still could not bring himself to disregard the temptation before his eyes. He said in a devious tone, “Alright, I won’t say anything else. Just give me your phone number. Let’s chat in private.”

Rosalie stared at the person before her in disgust and said, “If you don’t leave, I’ll ask the staff to come over and kick you out!”

The man looked around him and noticed that there were some staff members standing in the distance. He then tried to snatch Rosalie’s phone.

However, a small hand snatched the phone over before he could do so.

Rosalie looked at the kid in shock, she wondered what he intended to do.

“I’ll call Daddy right now and ask him to come over to handle this situation. There are surveillance cameras at the pool. My daddy won’t forgive you for harassing Mommy!”

Lucian scrolled through Rosalie’s phone after taking it from her.

After hearing what Lucian said, Rosalie knew that he wanted to use this as an excuse to drive the man away. Therefore, she remained quiet.

The man seemed to be unwilling to give up unless he got his hands on what he wanted. He stood there without moving.

There was a stiff expression on Lucian’s face. He exuded an intimidating aura as he said, “My daddy is the president of Lawrence Corporation. He’s extremely powerful. Just wait for him to get here!”

He showed the man Byron’s contact on Rosalie’s phone in a seemingly unintentional way while he spoke.

The man was shocked.

He chose to work at a gym nearby just so that he could take advantage of the rich women at the gym. He had done plenty of research on the upper social circle in Coast City.

He had heard about Byron a long time ago. He knew that Byron was an extremely powerful and prominent figure in Coast city.

He had heard about Byron's engagement as well.

However, it was not odd for someone like Byron to have several sugar babies outside.

The woman before him looked like a nearby resident. Besides, the aura she exuded told him that she was part of the upper social circle. The man did not question it at all. His heart instantly filled with fear.

He did not expect himself to offend Byron Lawrence's woman so coincidentally!

Rosalie's heart lurched when she heard what Lucian said. She glanced at him frantically.

How could there be such a coincidence? Was Lucian trying to use Byron's name to protect her?

Suddenly, she could not confirm if Lucian was trying to drive the man away by using Byron's name or if both he and Nox had already found out about their identities a long time ago.

"It turns out that you're President Lawrence's woman." The man returned to his senses after being momentarily stunned. He apologized to Rosalie at once, "I'm really brainless. Please don't hold any grudges against me."

Rosalie did not hear what he said. Her mind was fixated on what Lucian had said just now. She nodded distractedly after hearing the man. "Just leave as soon as possible."

The man's attitude changed completely. "I'll leave right now. I'll leave."

He turned around and walked away quickly while speaking.

Rosalie did not notice his reaction at all.

Lucian calmed down once the man who harassed his mommy had left. He turned around and returned Rosalie's phone to her.

There was an innocent expression on Lucian's face as he noticed the gaze that Rosalie was casting on him. "Mommy, what's wrong?"

Rosalie stared at Lucian's face without blinking.

However, she could not pinpoint anything out of the ordinary, she accepted the phone from him with a heavy heart and forced herself to say something, "It's alright. You guys should continue playing. I'm alright."

The two children nodded obediently and returned to the swimming pool.