

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 453

Xander saw through his parents' thoughts and felt helpless.

"Since you've investigated Miss Jacobs, I'm sure you know she's a great doctor."

His parents could not deny that.

They saw that Rosalie was once a student under Quentin Luke, and she was his favorite student.

That alone was a recognition of Rosalie's medical accomplishments.

However, that did not mean they could accept Rosalie, a divorced mother of two, as their daughter-in-law.

Xander knew his parents were still concerned about the rumors and could only continue explaining.

"Lancer Corporation had just established a new project, and you know about it."

Tucker nodded.

Although they had been away from home for years, they still knew what was going on in their family and business.

Xander nodded in satisfaction at his father's reaction. "Since you know this project, you should know that Miss Jacobs is also a member of it."

It would be fine if Xander did not mention the project. Paige's face sank again when she heard the project. "I heard that the quota is also..."

She wanted to say Rosalie got the chance by selling her body.

Before she could finish, Xander interrupted helplessly, "It's a rumor. Stacy apologized publicly for that, didn't she?"

Tucker was still displeased.

Stacy had been his favorite candidate for the position of his daughter-in-law all these years. Unexpectedly, something like this happened.

Paige said nothing because she had not seen through Stacy's mean side.

Xander grasped the opportunity to continue.

"Although I'm responsible for this project, Grandpa was the one who selected all the partners. Miss Jacobs got the chance because of her outstanding performance in a free clinic session. Grandpa admired her medical skills and recruited her himself."

Xander's parents were surprised to know it was all Xander's grandpa's idea.

Old Master Lancer knew about Xander's contact with Rosalie.

Why did he not stop Xander, then?

Noticing that his parents were still misunderstanding his relationship with Rosalie, Xander felt troubled.

His parents were so engrossed in the medical field these years that they seemed a little slow in understanding things like this.

In other words, they were too lazy to care about other stuff.

It also made it difficult for him to explain.

"Although our Lancer family has been famous in the medical industry for a hundred years, we still need other aspects to improve. After all, the Lancer family is not powerful enough."

Xander explained patiently, "As the heir of the Lancer family, the things I'm doing now aren't because I like Miss Jacobs. You can rest assured of that."

Talking about the situation of the Lancer family today, Xander's parents finally took the initiative to think about it.

It was impossible for Xander to date a woman like that.

It was just that...

Why would he be so close to her if he was not interested in her?

Leon was also a good business partner.

Paige was often straightforward and asked, "What are you trying to do, then?"

Xander smiled meaningfully. "You'll naturally know when the time comes."

Paige and Tucker were confused.

However, Xander gave them no chance to ask further.

"Okay, I'm going to go up and report to Grandpa about the free clinic today. You've just come back. Have a good rest."

Then, Xander got up from the sofa. Before he headed upstairs, he reminded his parents, "Never believe the rumors outside about Miss Jacobs and me."

His parents had no choice but to nod and agree.
