

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 493

Estie jumped into Rosalie's arms when she saw that Auntie did not seem to dislike herself.

With a smile, Rosalie hugged the little girl and asked softly, "Why are you here with the little brothers?"

From their mother's question, the two little boys looked at each other guiltily, and then looked at the little sister in unison.

The fact that they secretly sneaked little sister out, better for Estie to say it than them to say so.

'Mommy and little sister haven't seen each other for so long, so she won't be angry with little sister!'

Estie lived up to what she was entrusted with, and immediately said in a childlike voice, 'Little brothers came to find me, I want to see Auntie, so I asked the little brothers to take me with them!'

When speaking, the little girl's tone was somewhat secretly delighted.

Fortunately, she came back with her little brothers, otherwise she would not know when she would see Auntie again!

Rosalie's expression became a little stiff at the little girl's answer.

'The little one sneaked out with Lucian and Nox by herself.'

'If Byron found out...'

Rosalie really did not know how to explain this.

'Byron might feel that it was my two boys who persuaded Estie to come back with them.'

Thinking of this possibility, Rosalie slowly let go of her embrace around the little girl.

Estie's face was flustered. "Auntie, please don't be angry!"

Rosalie patted the little girl's head to soothe her and explained. "Auntie has to let your Daddy know, otherwise, he will be anxious."

Estie was a little reluctant. "I don't want Daddy..."

'Daddy didn't let me see Auntie and little brothers!'

Seeing the little girl's resistance towards Byron, Rosalie could not help feeling a little helpless.

She could almost understand what Melody and Wendy felt.

Estie's dependence on her now was even more than that on Byron.

Naturally, they did not want the little girl to come into contact with her again.

Even Rosalie felt that they were right.

After all, the little one will be someone else's daughter sooner or later.

As a mother, she also does not want to see her children get closer to other women.

However, from the little girl's pitiful face, Rosalie really could not just ignore her.

"Darling, Auntie will have a good chat with your daddy."

Rosalie forced a smile at the little guy, got up and wanted to call Byron.

Unexpectedly, as soon as she found Byron's phone number, the doorbell suddenly rang.

Rosalie paused.

Estie immediately hugged Rosalie's leg like a frightened animal and hid behind her.

The little one thought it was Daddy who came to catch her and take her back.

Rosalie patted the little guy's head reassuringly and went to open the door.

Their expressions changed as they saw the person at the door.

Estie grabbed Rosalie's clothes in horror, wishing she could hide herself behind Rosalie.

Lucian and Nox pursed their lips, stepped forward and stood with their mommy.

Melody sarcastically smirked as she saw the little ones formed a line of defense and looked at Rosalie in front of her.

"Mrs. Zora told me that your two little ones stole Estie away. So I came here to see for myself, true enough, Estie is really in your house."

Hearing her words, Rosalie frowned slightly. "Lucian and Nox just brought Estie over to play, they are still children, please watch your words."

The word 'stole' was too heavy to be used on the boys.

Melody looked at her coldly. "Why? Did I say something wrong?"