

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 509

Rosalie headed to the kitchen alone and felt relieved.

Thank goodness Estelle interrupted in time so she did not have to respond to Xander's gift.

She just hoped he would not think she was disrespectful.

In the living room, Xander held the bouquet Rosalie had not accepted and sat on the sofa. Then, he placed the bouquet down beside him.

The three little ones stood at a distance not too far from him and stared at him eagerly.

Aware of being stared at by the little ones, Xander lifted his eyebrows and looked at Lucian and Nox. "Did you like the gifts Uncle gave you the last time?"

The little ones looked at each other.

The possibility that this man might be Daddy's rival had prompted them to not even open the last greeting gift from Xander.

Now he was asking about it...

Even though the little ones did not like him, they were polite kids.

Lucian smiled at him. "It was fun. Thank you, Uncle Xander."

As soon as he finished speaking, he heard Estelle scoffing.

Although it was Estelle's first time meeting Xander, she was already looking at him cautiously. She was alarmed by his presence.

The way Xander approached Rosalie was similar to the way her Daddy had tried to win Rosalie's heart.

He had come early in the morning, concerned about Rosalie's health.

Besides that, he was also so open and generous as to send flowers to Rosalie.

He must be courting her too!

Anger surged in Estelle when she saw this man's initiative and recalled that her Daddy was still mad at Auntie.

The little ones saw that Estelle was unhappy and could somewhat guess at why.

Nox quickly changed the topic.

"Uncle Xander, I saw on the television that people only give flowers to the people they like. So why do you want to give Mommy flowers?"

Xander was startled for a moment and looked at the little ones with interest. "Friends can also buy each other flowers."

Nox ignored him and continued. "If Uncle Xander has a crush on Mommy, Uncle Xander should give up early on. Mommy likes someone else."

Xander looked surprised and asked with interest, "Oh?"

Nox looked into Xander's eyes and announced confidently in his cute voice, "Mommy likes Daddy!"

When Rosalie came out of the kitchen, she heard Nox's words and was shocked. "Nox, what are you talking about?"

The little boy puffed out his cheeks and looked serious. "Isn't it true? If Mommy doesn't like Daddy, how are we here right now?"

The kids did not know who their Daddy was, but Rosalie knew.

Rosalie felt odd after recalling what Estelle said last night and what Nox just said.

She could not refute Nox's statement, so she could only change the topic." Alright. Estie is hungry, so come eat first."

Then, the little ones quieted down and lined up at the table.

Out of politeness, Rosalie invited Xander too. "Young Master Xander, do you want to have breakfast with US?"

Hearing that Mommy was inviting Xander to eat, the little ones stopped what they were doing and stared at him.

At the sight of the little ones, Xander smiled meaningfully and said, "It's okay. I ate before I came."

Only then did the little ones continue eating.

Rosalie did not insist. She nodded her head and enjoyed breakfast with the kids.

However, the little ones were absent-minded during breakfast because Xander was still around.
