

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 551

“In a while...”

While Rosalie ate, she suddenly hesitated and said, ‘I will take you to school in a while.’”

The eyes of the two little boys lit up. “You are done with work?”

Although little sister will not be there, they were very happy that Mommy can send them to school.

During this time, Mommy was avoiding Daddy and little sister, so Nanny Lisa always sent them off.

The little ones were always envious to see other children being picked up by their parents.

When faced with the little boys’ questions, Rosalie felt a little guilty. “Well, I’m almost done.”

The little boys cheered softly, and obediently ate their breakfast.

After breakfast, the two little boys had already carried their small backpacks and waited at the door without Rosalie reminding them.

Rosalie hesitated.

She still had some work to do in the morning, but...

Although she did not want to admit it, she still harbored some hope in her heart, ‘What if Byron really let Estie come back?’

Even if this possibility was next to none, Rosalie does not want to miss this opportunity.

“Mommy, we’re going to be late.”

The two little boys impatiently urged her after waited for a while.

Rosalie suddenly came back to her senses and smiled apologetically at them. “Yup, Mommy’s coming.”

With that said, she suppressed the hesitation in her heart, picked up her bag and walked to the boys.

All the way to the entrance of the kindergarten.

Rosalie accompanied the little ones out of the car and sent them to Miss Leigh Ann.

“Miss Jacobs, long time no see.’ Miss Leigh Ann greeted her with a smile.

Then, she looked down at the two little fellows beside her, feeling a little sad in her heart.

She was already used to the boys being inseparable with Estie.

Every time Miss Leigh Ann saw Lucian and Nox, she could not help but think of Estie and worried about how the little girl would adapt to the new kindergarten.

Rosalie agreed softly. "I'm a bit busy at work these days, thank you for your efforts with Lucian and Nox, Miss Leigh Ann."

Both of them did not chat much as they were a little absent-minded, then Miss Leigh Ann took the boys into the school.

Rosalie stood at the school gate for a long time.

Judging by Miss Leigh Ann's reaction just now, Estie must not have come.

In order not to miss it, Rosalie waited at the school gate for a while, and never saw Estie until the school gate closed.

Rosalie finally gave up, lowered her eyes, turned and returned to the car.

Yves' urgent call came. "Dr. Jacobs, when will you arrive?"

During this period, Rosalie personally researched the batch of medicinal materials from the Heronial Corporation.

Without Rosalie as the host, nobody would dare to get started easily.

Rosalie suppressed the disappointment in her heart and answered. "Sorry, something came up, I'll be there soon."

Yves couldn't help but feel a little worried at her tone. "What's wrong? Do you need help?"

Rosalie's voice lowered again. "No, it's okay, it's already been dealt with."

Yves heard that she did not want to say more, so he did not ask any more questions, and hung up the phone cooperatively.

Rosalie took a last look around the school, but still did not see Estie at all.

After a while, Rosalie looked away mocking herself. She started the car and drove slowly toward the research institute.

She almost forgot that Byron has always been famous for being ruthless and decisive.

Now that he had decided to get rid of the relationship, there was absolutely no possibility of turning back.
