

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 584

After lunch, Rosalie got ready and asked Lisa to accompany her to the appointment.

When they got there, they saw that Xander was already waiting by the window.

Seeing Rosalie being helped in, Xander frowned slightly, got up, and strode over to greet her. "Are you injured? why didn't you tell me this morning?"

Rosalie smiled lightly. "It's just a small cut. It's not a big deal."

Xander frowned and glanced at her foot that could not touch the floor and reached out to help her to the seat.

Lisa sat near the door waiting for them.

After being seated, Rosalie immediately glanced at the stack of documents on the opposite, and her face turned serious. "Young Master Xander, you must have lots to say, so let's not waste time and get into it."

Xander truly admired a strong woman like her and agreed immediately.

"As for the details of the cooperation between the two institutes, we should have finalized it a long time ago, but it was delayed for so long because of the Lancer family. A proper compensation has been made. You can take a look"

After speaking, Xander took one of the documents and pushed it to Rosalie.

Rosalie nodded and accepted it. she took a closer look.

According to Xander, to make up for it, the Lancer family made five concessions in terms of the profit of each cooperative project.

This number seemed small, but projects that the Lancer family could command were often sky-high prices. This amount of profit was already a lot for their research institute.

"What do you think? Are you satisfied, Miss Jacobs?" Xander asked.

Rosalie retracted her gaze from the document and said formally, "I have no opinion."

Even if the Lancer family did not make such concessions, she would not have any opinion. As long as she could cooperate with the Lancer family, she was already ecstatic.

Seeing that she was satisfied, Xander continued to talk about the follow-up matters.

As soon as the two chatted, they forgot the time.

By the time Rosalie realized, it was almost time for kindergarten dismissal.

Not far away, Lisa also seemed a little anxious.

She was responsible for picking up the little boys these days, but today, she accompanied Rosalie out. She did not expect to be out so late.

If she went to pick up the boys, there would be no one to take care of Rosalie...

Just when she was caught in a dilemma, Rosalie spoke, "Lisa, it's getting late. Please go and pick the children up. I'll be fine on my own."

Hearing this, Lisa wanted to persuade Rosalie to go with her, but then she thought of how happy Rosalie was chatting with her business partner and knew that it was impossible to stop the conversation this time. After hesitating for a few seconds, she agreed and got up to pick up the two little boys.

Rosalie continued to chat with Xander about the cooperation.

By the time they were done talking about all the information, it was already late.

Rosalie got up and said goodbye.

"I'll send you home." Xander raised his eyebrows when he watched her get up with much difficulty.

Rosalie was stunned for a moment, subconsciously wanting to refuse. However, before she could speak, Xander's voice rang again.

"We're considered friends, right? I can't just watch my friend get hurt and not lend a helping hand.

"Besides, even if you're just a business partner, I have to think about the future of the cooperation. Just take this as a goodwill gesture of great cooperation from now on!"

He had already said such words. Rosalie could no longer refuse, so she agreed. "Then thanks for the trouble, Young Master Xander."
