

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 628

Early the next morning, Rosalie freshened up and came out of the bedroom when she saw two little boys waiting at her bedroom door.

“Mommy!” The little boys’ eyes were bright as they were looking forward to Mommy sending them to school.

Thinking of their words last night, Rosalie felt her heart soften, she lowered her eyes and touched their heads. “Let’s go down for breakfast. I’ll send you to school later.”

The boys nodded vigorously.

At breakfast, they were also very well-behaved.

After breakfast, Rosalie changed clothes and sent the little ones to kindergarten early.

The gate of the kindergarten was full of children and parents.

Rosalie looked around, and indeed many of them were picked up and dropped off by their parents. ‘A while ago, because of my own issues with Byron, I made the boys go home with Nanny Lisa. They must have felt very sad in those few days.’

Thinking of this, Rosalie’s eyes were remorseful.

“Miss Jacobs! Long time no see. I heard from Lucian and Nox that your foot was injured. How are you now?” Miss Leigh Ann smiled and greeted her when she saw her sending the two boys.

Rosalie laughed and smiled. “Thank you for your concern, Miss Leigh Ann. My foot is almost healed.”

The two adults smiled and chatted with each other, while Lucian and Nox held Mommy’s hands as they looked around for Estie.

They remember that yesterday, Estie was looking forward to seeing Mommy pick them up.

If Estie saw Mommy today, she would be very happy.

However, after searching for a long time, they did not even see her shadow.

Rosalie noticed their gestures and remembered that if she stayed here for a long time, she would probably meet Byron and Estie.

‘Estie is fine, but after what happened yesterday, how do I even face him?’

Thinking of this, Rosalie just wanted to end the conversation as soon as possible and leave quickly.

However, before she had time to speak, she felt the boys suddenly squeezing her hand.

Rosalie’s heart tightened, and she did not even dare to look back.

“Auntie!”

Not far away, Byron’s car slowly parked on the side of the road.

As soon as the car door opened, Estie jumped down from the back seat in a hurry and ran toward Rosalie without even taking her school bag.

The two little guys also grabbed Rosalie’s hands and said excitedly. “Mommy! Little Estie is here!”

Hearing their voices, Rosalie could no longer pretend and turned around to look in Estie’s direction.

She saw that the little girl’s face was full of excitement. Behind her, Byron was carrying a small school bag in one hand, walking toward them unhurriedly. His eyes fell heavily on her.

As their eyes met, Rosalie trembled suddenly, she withdrew her gaze in a panic.

Estie had already run to her side. She hugged her tightly around her thigh and looked up at her with a worried face. “Auntie, your foot...”

Not far away, Byron’s gaze fell on her. Rosalie could not ignore it.

When she heard the little one’s concern, Rosalie was still a little uneasy and forced a smile. “Auntie’s injury is healed. Don’t worry about it, Estie.”

The little one still stared at her feet worriedly.

Rosalie knew that she was still worried about her, so she forced a smile and twirled in front of her easily. “Look, I’m not in pain at all.”

Seeing this, the little one was relieved, she looked up and smiled sweetly at her.
