

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 720

Rosalie thought that the list of partners of the Lancer family would not be announced until a few days later.

Unexpectedly, as soon as she woke up the next morning, Leon's call came in.

Rosalie picked it up in a daze.

"Have you seen it? The Lancer family has announced the list of partners." As soon as the call was connected, Leon spoke.

Hearing this, Rosalie was wide awake, "why did they release it so suddenly?"

She was not ready yet...

Leon smiled. "I don't know either, but I heard that there may be a project kick-off press conference in two days. There may be reporters present, and it's necessary to prepare well for this. Reporters now can be very tricky, and no one knows what questions they'll ask, especially toward a newcomer like you without much background."

Rosalie responded gratefully, "Thank you for reminding me, Leon. I'll prepare well."

On the other end, Leon followed up and said, "Congratulations, Dr. Jacobs. Now, you'll be making a name for yourself here in Somerland."

Rosalie pursed her lips and smiled. "I hope I can live up to everyone's expectations."

"You will." Leon comforted her deeply.

Leon called just to be the first to congratulate her. The two briefly chatted, then they hung up.

After hanging up the phone, Rosalie was still in disbelief, she sat cross-legged on the bed and began to read the morning news.

Sure enough, she saw the news of the Lancer family launching a new project as well as the picture of the list of collaborators at the back.

Her own name was listed just behind Leon, and next to her were Dr. Rand and other senior doctors who had long been famous in the country.

As she looked at the ranking list, Rosalie still felt somewhat timid.

Her name being on this list meant that she had joined the Lancer family's project with a brand new identity.

In the eyes of outsiders, she was just a newcomer in the medical field.

Although she was used to being questioned, this time, the doubts and obstacles she had to face would be hundreds of times more than before.

Rosalie did not know how to face it.

Just when she was uneasy, the phone rang again.

Rosalie reluctantly put away her thoughts and glanced down. It was her mentor's phone number.

"I heard that you won the cooperation with the Lancer family?" Professor Quentin had been abroad and was not aware of domestic affairs.

If he had not seen the list of partners of the Lancer family today, he was afraid that he would still be kept in the dark.

Hearing her professor's voice after a long time, Rosalie had a smile on her face. "Oh, so you already know? I originally wanted to wait until this matter was completely settled before telling you in person."

Professor Luke smiled coolly. "You've done well. I've read the list of partners. Many of them are domestic old-timers. You and Leon are still green in experience."

These words drove home what Rosalie truly felt in her heart. Almost after the old man said that, Rosalie's face collapsed.

Professor Luke knew his student very well. Even if he could not see her, he could guess her current expression and smiled to reassure her. "However, don't feel timid because of this matter. I know your strengths and capabilities very well. Besides, please remember that you're my student, a protege of Professor Quentin Luke. If anyone dares to question you, let them come to me."

Hearing her mentor's words, Rosalie's heart was moved. "I understand. Thank you, Mentor. I won't let you down."
