

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 795

By the time Byron came out of Rosalie's house, Rosalie's car was gone.

Seeing this, he frowned slightly, parked the car on the side of the road, and called Luther.

Luther was also about to call his young master when he saw his call coming in. He picked it up. "Master."

"Find out where Heronial Corporation and Lancer Corporation are going to sign the contract," Byron coldly ordered.

He never expected to let the woman run away from him.

Byron would never allow that woman to spend too long with that Lancer guy without his knowledge!

Luther agreed and said again: "Director Lawrence made an appointment with you for dinner in West Capital, but he hasn't been able to get through to you, you see..."

Byron's eyes darkened when he heard that his father was looking for him. Deep down, he could faintly guess his father's intention in his heart.

It was about his marriage to Wendy Fuller.

“I just sent Wendy to them yesterday, and today my mother asked my father to be that woman's lobbyist. That woman will find a backer no matter what.”

"Tell him I have something else to do tonight." Byron put away his thoughts and replied in a deep voice.

Luther quickly agreed.

After Luther hung up, he began to relentlessly check the venue where Heronial Corporation and Lancer Corporation would sign the contract.

When he found out the results, his eyes flashed with surprise. Then, he immediately called his employer for his opinion.

"Master, Heronial Corporation and Lancer Corporation are signing a contract in West Capital tonight, the same restaurant where Director Lawrence is. Do you still want to decline your father's dinner appointment?"

Hearing this, Byron frowned, then finally agreed. "No, I'll go over and have a look."

Luther nodded and agreed.

Byron hung up the phone and drove to West Capital International Hotel.

On the other hand, Rosalie's car slowly stopped in front of the hotel.

When she got out of the car, she saw Xander and Leon chatting at the hotel entrance. It was uncertain how long they had been there.

“Sorry for making you wait for a long time.” Rosalie adjusted her mood and quickly walked to the two of them.

Xander smiled nonchalantly. “It’s alright. The people from Heronial Corporation haven’t arrived yet.”

The three of them got into the elevator while chatting and went to the appointed private room to wait for Heronial Corporation’s representatives to arrive.

Soon, there was a movement at the door of the private room, and the waiter walked in with three people in suits and leather shoes.

“Young Master Xander, Young Master Leon, Dr. Jacobs,” the visitors greeted them respectfully.

The three politely got up and shook hands with them one by one.

The content of the contract had been negotiated in advance. Hence, the process of signing the contract was very smooth.

Xander, along with the three guests, put their pen to paper. The signing ceremony was successfully completed.

As Rosalie watched Xander chat and laugh with Heronial Corporation’s representatives, she could not help but feel a little dazed. She thought of Byron’s words before coming here.

‘Heronial Corporation had already negotiated a contract with Lawrence Corporation, but they retracted their agreement and are going to sign with Lancer Corporation. What happened in between?’

Before she could figure it out in her head, Heronial Corporation’s representatives had already left.

Rosalie was also a little absent-minded and got up to say goodbye to the two of them. “If there’s nothing else, I’ll go back first. Lucian and Nox are still waiting for me at home.”

She stood up to leave as she finished. Xander stopped her. “There’ll be a celebratory dinner in a while.

Everyone knows that you, Dr. Jacobs, are the reason I could sign this contract. You’re the hero, and everyone is waiting to drink loads with you. If you just leave like this, how will I explain it to them?”

At this, Rosalie’s eyes flashed with surprise, and she suddenly remembered what Xander had said to her before. He once told her that one of the conditions for the contract between Heronial Corporation and Lancer Corporation was to let her attend the contract signing.

Rosalie did not take it seriously at the time, but now, it seemed that what Xander said was actually the truth.
