

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 811

At the same time, outside of Andrius1 office door.

“Miss Quirke, you...” The assistant looked at the sneaky woman in front of her, and just wanted to ask if she needed something, the person in front made a hushed gesture towards him.

Seeing this, the assistant had to silently shut his mouth.

Andrea turned around and pressed her ear against the crack of the door, and eavesdropped the conversation inside.

She originally wanted to come over to talk to her brother today and ask him when can she regain her right to speak in the Quirke family again.

She did not expect to hear such an explosive news.

‘Byron is actually really pursuing Rosalie!’

‘In this case, the interaction between Byron and Rosalie that I saw before was true.’

Moreover, as she listened to her brother’s words, that wench Rosalie never agreed to Byron’s advances. Byron himself seemed to be very concerned about the relationship between Rosalie and Xander Lancer...

The more Andrea listened, the uglier her face became.

At home, she had always been very obvious about her dislike towards that woman.

‘I never expected my own brother actually gave Byron advice and taught him how to chase Rosalie!’

‘Does my brother even remember that Byron has a fiancée?’

After a while, there was a sudden sound of footsteps coming towards her.

Andrea snapped back to her senses and quickly got up and took two steps back, pretended to have just arrived.

“Oh hi, Byron! Why are you here?”

When she saw Byron came out from inside, Andrea greeted with a smile as if she had not heard a single thing.

Byron nodded to her coldly and walked past her.

Seeing Byron’s indifferent attitude towards her, Andrea felt displeased again.

She, Andrius and Byron grew up together.

However, Byron had different attitudes towards the siblings.

'And ever since the appearance of that b*tch Rosalie, Byron even ignored me completely!'

'It's all because of that wretched b*tch Rosalie!'

Just when she was annoyed, Andrius's voice sounded in the office. "What are you doing standing at the door?"

Andrea snapped back to her senses, suppressed the anger in her heart, put on a smile, and walked in quickly.

"Why are you here at the company today?" Andrius raised his eyebrows and looked at her.

Andrea said coquettishly, "oh brother, I've been at home for too long, when can you let me come back to the company?"

Hearing this, Andrius's expression darkened. "I have no say in this matter, you should go talk to Grandpa."

Even if Andrius can call the shots, he does not plan to let her come back so soon.

Since the last incident, Andrius could not trust his sister, worried that she will use her power for personal gain again and use Quirke Enterprise to embarrass Rosalie.

'If she does this again, she is clearly against Byron!'

Hearing her elder brother's answer, the smile on Andrea's face suddenly disappeared and was replaced by anger.

"Is it because you are afraid that I would target Rosalie Jacobs?"

Andrius frowned slightly at his sister's self-knowledge and did not answer.

'Judging from her attitude, if she is really allowed to come back, what happened last time will definitely happen again.'

Andrea looked at her brother angrily. "You are all siding with that b *tch! Even grandpa is siding with her!"

After speaking, she thought of what she had just heard, and asked her brother with a cold face. "You had the audacity to teach Byron how to pursue her, do you still remember that Sister Wendy is Byron's fiancée!"

Andrius did not expect that she overheard their conversation just now. He warned his sister. "You cannot interfere in the Lawrence and Fuller family affairs. Whoever Byron chose to be with has nothing to do with you and me. stop being foolish!"
