

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 838

Once the little boys had entered their room to rest, Rosalie simply tidied up the kitchen and went upstairs to deal with work in the study.

Although she had promised to be Heronial Corporation's technical consultant, she still did not know much about the corporation's specific situation.

Before the formal cooperation began, Rosalie felt that it was necessary to have a brief understanding of the company's background.

She searched the internet for information on Heronial Corporation.

Unexpectedly, as soon as she typed in 'Heronial Corporation' in the search box, she saw the following series of related entries.

[Heronial Corporation tax evasion], [Heronial Corporation sells illegal drugs], and many others.

Almost every entry had negative headlines.

Seeing this, Rosalie was stunned for a moment, and her heart was doubtful.

Before this, in order to solve the supply problem of medicinal materials for the research institute, she had contacted the major medicinal material companies in Coast City, Heronial Corporation included.

She remembered that Heronial's reputation had always been pristine when she did the background checking. 'How could they be associated with all this negative news now?

'Even if I couldn't find anything due to my limited ability at the time, Xander would've been able to.

'If Heronial Corporation is truly so despicable, Xander wouldn't have chosen such a company to cooperate with.'

Rosalie frowned and clicked into the top entry.

As soon as she clicked in, a piece of news that was just released today jumped into her view.

[We recently received reports from relevant informants stating that Heronial Corporation is suspected of selling illegal drugs and evading taxes through various means. The relevant authorities stated that they'll conduct a thorough inspection of Heronial Corporation in the near future.]

Then, a three-minute video that listed evidence of Heronial Corporation's tax evasion and the sale of illegal drugs was clear at a glance.

Even if Heronial Corporation wanted to refute this in a short time, they had to first find evidence that could counter the allegations in this video.

In other words, it may be difficult for the Heronial Corporation to come back from this in a short period of time.

This news made Rosalie's heart sink completely.

This was just local news in Coast city, and the comments below had exceeded 10,000.

Rosalie did not know what state of mind she was in when she opened the comment section.

In the comments, she saw that all of them were insults and malicious speculation toward Heronial Corporation.

[Heronial Corporation is a large corporation, but they still sell illegal drugs without any conscience. Are they worthy of our trust?]

[I heard that Heronial Corporation had an accident where bacteria was leaked in their biological laboratory a few years ago. We haven't been given an explanation or conclusion regarding that incident. This time, I don't know what kind of illegal drugs they're researching.]

For a while, the internet exploded with doubts about Heronial Corporation. With the impact of such public opinion, Heronial Corporation's stock price even plummeted by half in just one day!

The more Rosalie looked at it, the heavier her heart became.

This overwhelming public opinion only reminded her of the scene when she was entangled in a vicious rumor last time.

'I think that the two methods are similar.

'At that time, public opinion was quelled because Byron put pressure on the Hudson family and my professor who came forward to vouch for me.

'Now, Heronial Corporation has become the target of public opinion. If this is allowed to fester, the agreement with Heronial Corporation will most likely be dragged through the mud. Even Lancer Corporation's project will be implicated!'

Thinking of this, Rosalie inevitably panicked.

'I really can't think of who would be secretly targeting Heronial Corporation like this. Or perhaps this person's motive isn't aimed at Heronial Corporation at all?'
