

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 843

Meanwhile, at Lancer Ancestral Residence.

Xander came out of the study after a chat with old Master Lancer. On the way back to the room, the housekeeper suddenly approached him with his mobile phone.

“Master, your phone.”

Half an hour ago, Xander’s cell phone kept ringing. Xander was talking with the old man in the study, and the housekeeper did not dare to answer his call without authorization, so she could only go upstairs and waited. As soon as she saw him coming out, she immediately came forth.

Xander nodded and took it, glanced at the caller ID, and frowned slightly.

It was Director Spiros, the person in charge of Heronial Corporation

‘Why is he on the phone so late?’

“This person has been calling for half an hour.” The housekeeper explained.

Hearing this, Xander’s heart sank slightly, frowned and answered the phone, before he had time to speak, Director Spiros’ voice came through hurriedly.

“Young Master Xander, you finally answered the phone! Something happened to Heronial! Please help Heronial Corporation, hurry! I can only think of you now!”

The phone did not get through for half an hour. If Director Spiros knew the Lancer’s home address, he would have already driven to their home in the middle of the night to look for him!

Hearing this, Xander’s eyes flashed with alarm, “what happened?”

He had been talking to the old man in the study just now, and he did not know anything about the public opinion on the Internet.

Director Spiros did not expect that Xander was clueless about the huge public opinion on the Internet.

But, now was not the time to explain.

“Heronial Corporation’s previous misdeeds suddenly broke out on the Internet. Now I have received a notice from the Taxation Bureau and the Industrial Commerce Bureau. I will send someone over to investigate Heronial Corporation tomorrow!”

Director Spiros explained briefly, and anxiously asked Xander for help. “Someone must be targeting US, but I really can’t think of whom or what Heronial had offended, so I can only ask you for help!”

Xander's eyebrows tightened even more when he heard that the tax bureau and the industrial commerce bureau were involved.

He chose to cooperate with Heronial previously because he liked the company's size in Coast city.

As for Heronial Corporation's previous foundation, he also sent people to investigate as well, thinking that those materials were not easily dug up, and then finally chosen said company.

He never expected that Heronial Corporation would suddenly be embroiled in such a scandal, and at such an enormous scale!

On the other side, Director Spiros did not wait for his response, he was as anxious as having ants in his pants, and sweat broke out on his forehead. "Young Master Xander, I'm considering it on your behalf too. We are still in a cooperative relationship now, and Heronial Corporation is the main medicine material supplier for the Lancer Corporation's new project. If something happens to Heronial Corporation, your project will probably be dragged into the water too, we are both in the same boat!"

Director Spiros was obviously in a panic. There was a hint of a threat in those words.

Xander narrowed his eyes in displeasure, and said coldly, "Alright, regarding the situation now, wait for me to find out first."

After that, he hung up the phone without waiting for Director Spiros's response.

When the busy tone came from the other end of the mobile phone, Director Spiros realized in hindsight that he had said something wrong, and his face was full of regret.

'If Xander was annoyed by what I said just now, and refused to help Heronial Corporation, then I would have no choice but to go back to Lawrence Corporation...'

Director Spiros dared to break agreement with Lawrence Corporation just because of a temporary advantage, the man was now soaked in his own panic-stricken cold sweat, and he was deeply regretful.

'That time, President Lawrence even offered such generous terms, and I broke the contract at the last moment.'

"This time if I were to beg them, I'm afraid there will be no room for negotiation at all.'

'No, Heronial Corporation's reputation is now so bad, whether Lawrence Corporation is willing to acquire US at all is in question.'
