

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 844

After Xander hung up, he frowned and typed the words "Heronial Corporation" in the search box, and a series of related entries quickly popped up below.

Xander went in and read it one by one.

'Almost every entry was newly created today, and the news in it all came out today.'

'Obviously, the people behind this did not intend to give Heronial Corporation breathing space.'

Seeing the public opinion on the Internet, Xander raised his eyebrows in surprise.

'I have to say that the people behind this must have put a lot of thought into digging up these materials about Heronial Corporation.'

'Moreover, these dark materials can only be dug by people with certain capabilities.'

'In this way, the scope of the suspects behind the scenes had narrowed a lot.'

'In Coast City, the ones who had a bone to pick with the Heronial Corporation, and at the same time held sufficient power, were not many.'

'There was only one that Xander can think of.'

'It's just that the Lancer and Heronial Corporation have signed a contract for so long, it seemed a bit too late for that person to take action now.'

'So, what is his purpose?'

Xander narrowed his eyes and thought.

Director Spiros's phone number popped up again on the screen of the mobile phone, obviously waited anxiously to ask him again what he meant.

Xander came back to his senses and answered the phone without a care.

At the other end, Director Spiros' urged quickly. "Young Master Xander, what is your decision? Heronial Corporation can't wait any longer!"

He had already decided, if Xander did not plan to help, he would risk it all even if he had to grovel and beg Lawrence Corporation to help Heronial Corporation!

Hearing his eager voice, Xander spoke unhurriedly. "I see, don't worry, since the Lancer Corporation has chosen to cooperate with you, now that such a big thing has happened to Heronial Corporation, we won't be a heartless bystander..."

Hearing this, Director Spiros's voice still seemed a little urgent. "Really?"

"How do you want me to help?" Xander asked back.

Director Spiros hesitated for a while before saying, "The most urgent task at the moment, I hope that Lancer Corporation will lend us some money first, so that we can stabilize Heronial Corporation's share price.

If the company share prices continue to crash this way, even without the bureau investigation, Heronial Corporation would declare bankruptcy tomorrow!

Xander frowned. "How much do you want?"

Director Spiros carefully reported a number. "1.2 billion..."

After that, he waited anxiously for Xander's response.

1.2 billion, even for the Lancer family, was not a small number.

Let alone giving them to a company they just cooperated with.

If Xander refused, Director Spiros would not be surprised.

However, there were only two paths waiting for him.

Go bankrupt, or beg Lawrence Corporation to acquire them at a low price.

Neither was the way he wanted to go.

As Xander heard the numbers the director reported, his expression darkened, and he weighed the consequences in his heart.

1.2 billion was not a small number, but not impossible for Lancer Corporation to come up with it.

However, if these billions were spent on Heronial, it was definitely not worth it.

In normal times, Xander would terminate the contract with Heronial Corporation without hesitation. At most, he would just pay them the liquidated damages, which would not be more than this amount.

This time, however, Xander's heart was shaken off balance when he thought the culprit behind the scenes was likely to be Byron Lawrence.

'Since Byron doesn't want to make our life easier, what reason does he have to let Byron's strategy succeed like this?'

Thinking of this, Xander agreed in a deep voice. "Alright then, just wait."

After that, he hung up the phone.
