

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 872

At the same time, in Fuller villa.

Wendy stayed in the Lawrence Family Mansion for a while, but the number of times Byron visited his parents' home was close to none.

Although Melody kept persuading her to stay, Wendy did not stay any longer.

The reason why she chose to live in the Lawrence Family Mansion was because she felt that with Melody around, at the very least, Byron would visit more often.

In this way, she could spend more time with Byron.

But she did not expect that for so long, she had not seen Byron at all.

On the contrary, the private detective kept sending her photos. In the photos, Byron often appeared around Rosalie, that sl*t.

Every time she saw those photos, Wendy felt furious.

However, due to still living in the Lawrence Family Mansion, she had to face Melody and Benedict Lawrence every day. So she had no choice but to forcefully suppress the rage in her heart.

Wendy could not take this back and forth game anymore, she simply excused herself that she had reconciled with her father, and found an opportunity to move back to Fuller villa.

Anyway, with yesterday's photo, her purpose had been achieved!

"Wendy? Why are you back? what about Byron?"

Magdalene's face was completely puzzled as she was sitting at home when her daughter dragged her luggage back.

During this period of time, in order to avoid the Lawrence family seeing through their lies, Magdalene rarely contacted her daughter.

Even whatever Wendy experienced in the Lawrence family, she had not a single clue.

Wendy threw the luggage aside and sat down on the sofa with an ugly expression, her eyes full of gloom.

Regardless, Magdalene stuck her head out and looked in the direction of the door.

At the beginning, they put on an act in order to make Byron change his mind.

Now that her daughter came back, Byron should have changed his mind, he should send her home in person.

But after she looked around for a long time, she did not see any signs of her future son-in-law.

“Don’t need to look, I came back alone!”

After a while, Wendy barked angrily, she instinctively knew what her mother was thinking.

With surprise, Magdalene quickly walked to the sofa and sat down. “What’s going on? Are you having trouble with Byron again?”

Without waiting for her daughter’s response, she started to preach. “Didn’t Mama tell you? It’s not easy to finally enter the Lawrence Family home. You have to watch your princess attitude and try to make Byron happy.”

Wendy glared at his mother angrily, “Wasn’t I humble enough in front of Byron?”

For the past six years, she had been a completely different person in front of Byron.

In front of Byron, she knew that her gentleness was not inferior to that sl*t.

In fact, she knows how to obey Byron better than that b*tch!

‘But, what can I do when Byron had set his eyes on that wretched b *tch?’

“I’m really tired of pretending to be smiling in front of the Lawrence family every day!” Wendy slammed down the sofa.

Magdalene’s eyes flashed with distress at her daughter’s anger, but she still wanted to persuade her daughter to persevere.

“Wendy, we have waited for so many years. If we give up now, wouldn’t our forbearance for these years be in vain?”

Then, Magdalene sighed helplessly. “How could Mama have the heart to let you suffer like this? But think about it, if you become the daughter-in-law of the Lawrence family in the future, you will reap the rewards of the hardships you’ve endured, and we will have whatever we want, all these hardships will be worth it.”

Wendy frowned at her mother’s words; her fingertips were deeply embedded in the flesh of her palm.

‘Why wouldn’t I want to keep going!’
