

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 879

After Rosalie got into the taxi, Xander turned around, frowned, and glanced at the man beside him.

'Throughout their interactions just now, if I was not mistaken, this man seemed to have some feelings for Rosalie.'

'However, in his capacity...'

Xander glanced at Yves calmly, and a trace of irony flashed across his eyes.

Yves watched the taxi disappear from his line of sight, and then withdrew his gaze and met Xander's line of sight.

"Young Master Xander." Yves felt a little strange in his heart, and quickly suppressed it.

Xander unhurriedly withdrew his gaze and nodded slightly.

As if unintentionally, Yves mentioned. "Young Master Xander seems to understand something that is going on Dr. Jacobs' mind?"

Otherwise, he would not have taken the lead in helping Rosalie before she spoke.

Moreover, before arriving at the institute, the two were obviously together.

Xander raised his eyebrows noncommittally. "What do you intend to say, Dr. Graham?"

Yves heard the faint disdain in his tone, a burst of anger surged in his heart, and he forced himself to push back.

After a few seconds, he said calmly again, "I just feel that whatever that's on Dr. Jacobs' mind should be related to President Lawrence. When I mentioned the Heronial Corporation matter just now, Dr. Jacobs' face was not right."

Xander looked at him up and down, neither admitting or denying, but raised his eyebrows in mock surprise. "Really? I didn't pay much attention."

The implication was that much of Yves's attention was constantly placed on Rosalie and it was ironic.

Yves's original intention was just to provoke the relationship between him and Byron, so that the two of them could compete with each other.

But he did not expect that his words would actually allow Xander to take the lead.

Hearing this, Yves's eyebrows twitched suddenly, and he looked at the person in front of him vigilantly. "What do you mean, Young Master Xander?"

Xander raised his eyebrows indifferently. "I don't mean anything. I'm just curious, you seem to know a lot about Miss Jacobs, Dr.

Graham."

Regarding Rosalie's past, Yves felt puzzled, but he did not want to show weakness in front of Xander.

After a moment of silence, Yves nodded noncommittally.

Xander pulled his lower lip inexplicably. "Really? I thought that Dr. Graham and Miss Jacobs were just ordinary colleagues."

After speaking, he looked at Yves apologetically. "Now that I hear from you, Dr. Graham, only then did I realize that I had misunderstood. So, what happened between Miss Jacobs and President Lawrence? why did you say they had a quarrel?"

Yves frowned.

He knew that there should be some connection between Rosalie and Byron, otherwise, Byron would not appear at Rosalie's house late at night.

Not to mention that when Rosalie was attacked by public opinion last time, he would not come forth to help her settle it.

In his opinion, Byron must be pursuing Rosalie.

'But from Xander's tone, things were not as simple as I thought.'

'There seemed to be more hidden secrets in the relationship between Rosalie and Byron...'

Realizing this, Yves's complexion suddenly sank.

Xander was still looking at him like a joke. "Dr. Graham, what's the matter? If you can't say it, forget it."

As for Rosalie and Byron, it took a lot of effort for him to uncover this investigation.

The relationship between the two people, whether it is the Lawrence family or Rosalie herself, was very deeply hidden, and only a handful of people knew about it.

Xander was sure that the person in front of him did not know about it.

'Now Yves will follow what I said, only because the man feels that the relationship between me and Rosalie was suspicious.'

'Therefore, this man deliberately put Byron Lawrence in front of me, to use me to help get rid of his rival in love.'
