

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 892

Emotions were boiling within Byron when he watched the little ones head upstairs.

Just now, the two little ones said Rosalie told them to come.

Rosalie had been calling him all day, and he had declined her calls.

He thought Rosalie would give up after sensing his anger.

However, he did not expect she would use the little ones to deal with him. She first asked them to call him and then sent them to visit Estelle.

He had to admit Rosalie was getting smarter.

It was just that since she had even sent the little ones, why did she not visit Estelle too?

She knew he would not be able to stop them from coming into his house if she came with the little ones.

Byron wondered if Rosalie was mad at him.

However, he did not think she had the right to be mad.

“Sir,” Mrs. Zora could sense Byron’s anger, so she asked cautiously, “I’ll bring some snacks for the kids to eat.”

Byron snapped out of his thoughts when he heard Mrs. Zora’s voice and suppressed his boiling emotions.

“TH do it.” He got up from the sofa and said with a hoarse voice.

Mrs. Zora agreed and handed him the tray in her hand.

Byron took it and headed upstairs.

The little ones were standing in a circle on the second floor in Estelle’s room.

Estelle asked Lucian and Nox cutely, “Where’s Auntie? Is Auntie still busy at work?”

The two boys froze and asked cautiously, “Who told you Mommy was busy working?”

Estelle answered innocently, “Daddy and Mrs. Zora said so.”

Besides, when Daddy called Auntie this morning, she heard Auntie saying that.

The little one did not doubt a word they told her.

Lucian and Nox looked at each other and decided to use the same excuse. “Mommy is very busy, so she asked US to visit you first.”

They could see that Estelle had been crying a lot. If she knew Daddy and Mommy had been fighting, she might be sad again.

Estelle nodded understandingly and said with joy, "Daddy has forgiven Auntie!"

Lucian and Nox were startled for a moment, then they nodded as a complicated feeling arose in them.

Their daddy seemed to have lied a lot to Estelle to calm her down.

Fortunately, they asked Estelle before saying anything.

Otherwise, they would have exposed Byron's lies by now.

The little ones secretly heaved a sigh of relief.

"Are you still upset?" Lucian asked with concern.

Estelle shook her head. "I'm fine now. I was mad at Daddy this morning, but Daddy has promised me not to be mad at Auntie."

The little boys were glad to hear that.

They were so close to telling Estelle the truth.

"When will Auntie finish work?" Estelle asked suddenly.

Lucian and Nox could barely keep the secret because Estelle kept asking them about Rosalie.

Rosalie's visit depended on when Byron was not angry anymore.

However, they were not sure when it would be.

The two little ones looked at each other and were troubled.

As they hesitated to know how to answer Estelle's question, a knock came on the room door.

Estelle turned around and headed to answer the door.

"Daddy."

Seeing the man at the door, Estelle smiled and called out.

At the door, Byron stood with snacks and tea as he observed the little boys.

