

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 911

Yves looked concerned. “Nothing. I just thought you might not be in a good mood after something like this happened.”

Hearing this, Rosalie froze and smiled helplessly.

She had put all her faith in her colleagues at the research institute. However, she got stabbed in the back.

No one would be in a good mood if something like that happened to them.

“Old Douglas Abe is an old employee in the institute. I didn’t expect him to do such a silly thing.”

Yves followed Rosalie into her office and looked at her apologetically as he said, “I would have watched him all day if I knew this would happen.”

“It has nothing to do with you. I wouldn’t have thought Old Douglas Abe would have done that either,” Rosalie said, sitting at her desk in frustration.

All she wanted to know was who sent the email to Old Douglas Abe.

Yves observed Rosalie’s expression and sat opposite her.

“I don’t know the motive of the person behind this. He made Old Douglas Abe burn the warehouse where we kept the medicinal materials from Heronial Corporation.”

Rosalie suddenly thought of something, and her heart skipped a beat.

Yves continued. “Who else would know about Old Douglas Abe’s son’s issue other than US? That person threatened him with this, which is strange.”

He was trying to hint to Rosalie that the person behind this had put in a lot of effort to destroy Heronial Corporation’s medicinal materials.

Then, Yves looked at Rosalie’s face meaningfully, trying to see through her thoughts.

Rosalie had a lot of thoughts in her mind, but she put on a calm expression.

“I’ve had someone check that email, and I should have an answer soon.

We’ll wait and see.”

Yves frowned in displeasure when he saw nothing from Rosalie’s expression.

Rosalie forced a smile. ‘Thank you for showing me so much concern, Dr. Graham. I’m a little tired. I’ll have to leave the matters of the research institute to you today.’”

Yves nodded casually. “No problem.”

Rosalie thought Yves would leave after she said that. Unexpectedly, Yves seemed to have no intention of leaving.

“Is there anything else you want to say?”

Rosalie asked in a puzzle.

Yves seemed in a dilemma, then he said, “How do you plan to replace Heronial Corporation’s medicinal materials that have been burned?”

Rosalie felt troubled when Yves mentioned that batch of medicinal materials.

That was partly why she was so angry.

The medicinal materials were essential to the project and rare in their country. That was why they took the risk of retrieving them before Heronial Corporation was seized.

Now, everything had turned to ashes.

She would have to discuss with Xander what to do next.

Speaking of which, it was the research institute’s responsibility that someone had trespassed and burned their medicinal materials.

Rosalie might even have to apologize to Xander.

Yves’ voice sounded again when she was thinking about what she had to face.

“If you have no idea, perhaps I can try to help to fill in the destroyed medicinal materials.”

Rosalie snapped out of her thoughts. “Do you have a way to get those medicinal materials?”

Yves nodded slightly. “I can try.”

Rosalie was still doubtful about it. “This batch of medicinal materials is very rare. There isn’t much stock in the country. It’s alright if you can’t find them.”

Yves was a little displeased when Rosalie doubted his ability.

“I’ve been in Coast City for so many years. I have certain connections here. You don’t have to worry about it.”
