

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 938

The two little ones had stomach pains so severe that they could not hear him at all.

Estie cried to herself.

Nox wanted to respond, but could not stop himself from groaning in pain whenever he opened his mouth. The boy gritted his teeth to hold back his agony, he even tried to fight back the tears from the psychological pain.

'I need to protect Mommy, I must not cry just because of a little pain.'

Lucian was filled with anxiety at the sight of the two younger ones, and subconsciously wanted to get up and find Mommy. He remembered that the herbal growth patches were not far from here, and he should be back soon.

However, as soon as he stepped away, he saw Estie rolling on the ground in pain. The little girl was in so much pain that she lost her sense of direction and rolled around on the ground, getting further and further away from the tent.

Lucian could only stop and pushed little sister back to the tent with difficulty. As he saw his younger brother and younger sister who were rolling on the ground, Lucian knew that he could not go far.

After thinking for a moment, the little boy raised his wrist and pressed a few keys on the watch.

Meanwhile, Jiang Ruan Ruan was gathering herbs attentively. 3

'Today, I only planned to take the little ones camping, but I did not expect that I could reap such an unexpected surprise.'

The thought of this had lifted Rosalie's spirits up high.

Just as she was picking the herbs, the phone in her pocket suddenly rang.

Rosalie stopped, put the picked herbs aside, and took out her phone in confusion.

When she saw the caller ID on the screen, Rosalie's expression changed slightly, and she got up and looked in the direction of the tent.

It was Lucian's phone.

'I wonder if something happened to the little ones.'

Rosalie hurriedly picked up the herbal basket, answered the phone, and hurried back.

"Lucian, what's the matter, what happened?"

On the other end, Lucian's voice was full of anxiety. "Mommy, come back quick..."

A sudden movement was heard on the other end of the line. The boy had not finished yet, a moment later and the phone was hung up.

Rosalie's heart was even more frantic at the hung up call, she quickened her pace and headed in the direction of the tent.

As soon as she reached the tent, she saw two little ones who fell to the ground holding their stomachs.

Lucian squatted beside the two little ones with a sullen face, trying to get the situation under control.

"What's wrong?" Rosalie walked quickly to the little ones and leaned over to check their pulse.

Lucian's eyes were flushed with anxiety. "My brother and little sister suddenly have stomach aches! Mommy, look, they seem to be in terrible pain!"

He originally wanted to go find Mommy. But, due to his younger brother and younger sister being in such severe pain, he did not dare to go far, so he called Mommy instead.

Rosalie nodded reassuringly to the little boy. "Don't worry, let Mommy take a look."

After saying that, Rosalie reached out to grab Estie's wrist.

However, the little girl seemed to be in severe pain, and her little hand tightly covered her stomach. No matter how hard she tried, she could not get hold of the little girl's wrist.

"Estie darling, let Auntie have a look." Rosalie said distressedly.

The little girl looked up at her pitifully, her big eyes filled with tears. "Auntie, it hurts..."

When Rosalie came over, the little girl kept her head down.

When the little girl looked up now, Rosalie's eyes fell on her pale face, and her heart twitched.

'There is no trace of color on the little girl's face, this pain must be excruciating...'

Rosalie dared not delay, and immediately turned to look at Nox.

Nox was also in severe pain, but the little boy was able to bear it. He wilfully held onto his stomach and said nothing.
