

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 956

When she woke up, the sky was already bright.

As soon as Rosalie opened her eyes, she saw three little ones standing in a row and staring at her eagerly.

“Mommy!”

“Auntie!”

The little ones squealed as they saw her wake up and threw themselves on her with a smile.

Rosalie’s heart softened at their innocent little faces. She sat up slowly, reached out, and touched the heads of the little ones. She was still a little confused as she had just woken up. She felt that she seemed to have forgotten something. However, the three little ones in front of her left her with no time to think.

“How are you feeling?” She looked at the little ones with concern. Last night, she thought the little ones had recovered after taking the medicine.

However, Nox still felt uncomfortable, so Rosalie agreed to let them stay for one more night. 2

‘I don’t know how the little ones are doing now.’

With his mother’s question, Nox raised the corners of his mouth in a guilty conscience. “I’m alright. I’m feeling much better after sleeping!”

Rosalie was still worried and gave the little ones another diagnosis to confirm whether they were indeed alright.

Just when she let go of the little ones’ hands, Estie’s stomach suddenly rumbled.

Then, Rosalie just remembered that the little ones were sick last night and did not eat anything. She did not expect that they would spend the night here, so they did not prepare enough food.

They still had leftovers from yesterday, but they were no longer fresh.

Moreover, after what happened yesterday, Rosalie did not dare to give the little ones the leftovers.

Thinking so, Rosalie stood up without hesitation. “Let’s go back.”

With that said, she took the lead and stepped out of the tent.

As soon as she went out, she saw a Bentley with the headlights turned off not far away.

Memories of last night flooded into her mind instantly.

She was unsure of where Byron went last night.

When she thought of that man, Rosalie could not help but recall the question Byron asked before going to bed yesterday.

For a moment, Rosalie's mind was in chaos again.

When she came back to her senses, the man was already standing in front of her, looking down at the little ones.

"Daddy! Where did you go?" Estie looked at her daddy curiously.

Early this morning, Estie did not see her daddy and thought he had gone back!

Byron rubbed the little girl's head deeply and said in a deep voice, "I have something to talk about with Auntie. You and the little brothers go play in the tent for a while."

He did not ask about the little ones' physical condition.

Rosalie did not know what was going on with the little ones' behavior yesterday, but he knew it well.

The little ones just wanted to give him a chance to get along with Rosalie.

After she heard her father's words, Estie, although puzzled, still agreed obediently.

On the side, Rosalie's heartstrings suddenly tightened, and she looked at the man in front of her with little vigilance. She was unsure how she should react if he was going to continue that topic last night. Her thoughts were written on her face.

Byron saw her expression, and his eyes darkened, but he did not show anything. "I found something. Come and have a look."

Almost without thinking, Rosalie understood. What the man discovered was largely related to the bacteria.

She put away her vigilance, nodded earnestly, and walked out behind the man.
