Chapter 361 You're So Ungentlemanly And You're Acting Like A Pervert

He didn't want to be delayed by other things.

Jiang Xun's Studio V: [The mysterious man in this photo is Jiang Xun's younger brother, Jiang Jixuan.]

In addition to this sentence, the studio also found the footage of Jiang Xun and Jixuan entering the neighborhood last night through the surveillance cameras in Jiang Xun's neighborhood.

The surveillance footage was better than the paparazzi. The resolution was much higher.

Jixuan's face could be clearly seen from the front.

And the next morning, when Jixuan left the neighborhood, even though he was wearing a baseball cap, his face was clearly captured.

From Jixuan's attire and the way he walked side by side with Jiang Xun, it was obvious that it matched the photos taken by the paparazzi.

The so-called strange man in the picture was Jixuan!

Jiang Xun was even more straightforward. She directly reposted the Weibo post of the marketing account with the highest number of likes. [The strange man is my younger brother, Jiang Jixuan.]

When Yicheng had been on the phone with Caoye, Jixuan had also contacted Jiang Xun and asked her what to do.

He could come out and clarify.

Jiang Xun said that he could post on Weibo after her studio posted it.

Therefore, Jixuan had been staring at Weibo and waiting.

Unexpectedly, not only did he see the clarification from Jiang Xun's studio, but he also saw Jiang Xun directly saying that he was her brother.

Jiang Xun had admitted it in private.

But this was the first time Jiang Xun had admitted it in public.

Jixuan was so excited that his heart was about to jump out.

His hands trembled as he reposted Jiang Xun's Weibo post. "Yesterday was the ending of 'Path of Life.' I went to my sister's house to watch the ending with her. Was I wrong? Was I not allowed? You're just using your mouth to spread rumors about us, aren't you disgusting! Because of my parents, my sister and I had many misunderstandings in the beginning. After that, my sister helped me regardless of the past. Even when I got into Beijing University, it was my sister and her friends who tutored me. I wasn't able to help my sister, and instead, I brought her so much trouble. I don't even know how to face her! You paparazzi who spread rumors, marketing accounts who spread rumors, aren't you going too far!"

Cold Jiang Island: [I'm so sad to hear little brother say this.]

Disney Jiang: [Don't be angry, little brother. Don't be sad. Jiang Jiang won't blame you.]

Wish Fulfilled: [Who said you didn't help Jiang Jiang? When Jiang Jiang was exposed to be the eldest daughter of a successful family, she was accused of lying. Weren't you the one who stood up for her?]

Smiling Child When Given Candy: [That's right. Every time Jiang Jiang is misunderstood, you're always the first one to stand up for her. You're great!]

Slow Ice: [Seeing little brother blaming himself, I really want to ruffle his hair!]

At this moment, Jiang Xun's studio posted a second Weibo post.

Jiang Xun's Studio V: [See you in court.]

Attached at the end was a lawyer's letter. The paparazzi team who had taken the photos of Jiang Xun and Jixuan, as well as the marketing accounts who had posted the news today, were all listed. Not a single one could escape.

Eating Jiang: [A company like this is so reassuring!]

Spicy JJ: [Thank you for protecting Jiang Jiang. You guys are the best!]

The passersby were also shocked.

[Seriously? It's the first time I've seen a court case because of a rumor. Awesome!]

[This is how it should be done! Let's see who still dares to spread rumors?]

[Can everyone learn a little?]

[Jiang Xun's management company, her studio, and even Jiang Xun herself are all very strong!]

But it was not over yet. Immediately after, Jiang Xun released several screenshots of the chat history.

It was a screenshot of Mengyao adding her as a WeChat friend on the set of "Path of Life," hoping to form a ship with her.

Jiang Xun Jiang V: [Mr. Huo Mengyao mentioned to me that he wanted to create a ship with me when we first joined the crew. After I rejected him, he still unilaterally released all kinds of promotions for the ship. For the sake of the smooth broadcast of 'Path of Life' and to prevent any negative comments and news about it because of me, I've been holding back and didn't publicly announce that I have nothing to do with Mr. Huo Mengyao. I didn't expect Mr. Huo Mengyao to be even worse.]

After Jiang Xun posted this on Weibo, she followed up with another post. She had no intention of keeping the netizens in suspense at all.

Jiang Xun Jiang V: [This recording is what Mr. Huo Mengyao said to me when I went to Feng Videos and got back to my car after the visiting event. He stopped me. Because of what he did before, I didn't trust Mr. Huo Mengyao at all. So, when he stopped me, I immediately turned on the recording mode on my phone.]

The netizens heard Jiang Xun's words to Huo Mengyao in the recording and Jiang Xun clearly expressing her attitude.

The people in the front row of Jiang Xun's Weibo posts were not even her fans.

Instead, they were bystanders.

[Jiang Xun has expressed more than once that she doesn't want to create a ship with Huo Mengyao, but Huo Mengyao still won't let her go. It's really annoying.]

[How can Huo Mengyao be so ungentlemanly? The girl has clearly expressed that she doesn't like him, but he still insists on pestering her. It's too disgusting.]

[So, it's always been Huo Mengyao who has been promoting the ship.]

[Xunmeng is a joke.]

Indeed. From the beginning to the end, Jiang Xun didn't respond at all.

[It's really kind of Jiang Xun to wait until the broadcast of "Path of Life" is over before releasing this.]

Immediately after, Yicheng also played a recording.

This time, Yicheng didn't release the recording in the name of Jiang Xun's studio. Instead, he released the recording on his own account.

The recording was the phone call he had received from Caoye.

[Although Caoye doesn't admit it, it's very likely that Huo Mengyao did it.]

[Fuck, you're so ungentlemanly and you're acting like a pervert. Huo Mengyao, you're really something!]

Mengyao didn't say anything or apologize. He just hid it on the internet.

Caoye told Mengyao not to log on to Weibo for a few days.

This was because the netizens could also see him when he logged into Weibo.

He would repeatedly posted about and be easily ridiculed.

Seeing the comments and private messages on Weibo could easily affect one's mentality.

He might as well not look at it and hide for a few days.

Mengyao had no other choice but to listen to Caoye.

Xunmeng was completely obliterated. The shippers simply couldn't continue, and there was no sound from them.

Jiang Xun also gained 5263 merit points.

Jiang Xun couldn't help but praise, "The netizens have become very sensible! I didn't even say anything, and they already know that they're wrong?"

The system was speechless.

One could see the image she had in the hearts of the netizens.

To be able to make the netizens take the initiative to apologize, the system was also convinced.

At that moment, Yicheng called again.

“Jiang Jiang.” This time, Yicheng’s voice did not sound very happy.

“Brother Wang, what’s wrong?” Jiang Xun asked, “Something happened again? What was going on today? Too many things have been happening, huh?”

Yicheng wiped his face and said, “The C.U. endorsement I told you about before is gone.”

Chapter 362 Slapped In The Face By The Brand Instead

Jiang Xun raised her eyebrows and suddenly remembered something. She was so busy that she forgot to tell Yicheng that she had decided not to take on the C.U. endorsement.

She had planned to tell Yicheng after leaving the C.U. store, but who knew that she would encounter the scandal.

Jiang Xun was also busy dealing with this matter, so she forgot to tell Yicheng.

“Brother Wang, I forgot to tell you. Didn’t I go to C.U. this afternoon? I think their clothes are really not good. Whether it was the style, the workmanship, or the cutting, it did not suit most girls. It’s a test of one’s figure, and even if you have a good figure, you might not be able to look like a model.”

When the model took the pictures, she hid many clips to modify the style of the clothes at the back where the camera wasn’t facing.

“I was going to tell you on my way back from the store that I won’t be taking any more endorsements for C.U. But I got too busy and forgot about it,” Jiang Xun explained. “But, C.U. had originally agreed to let me be the ambassador. Why did they suddenly go back on their word?”

She didn’t want to take it on anyway, but C.U. looked for her and went back on their word, so it wasn’t very nice of them.

“The reason they gave me was that your scandal would affect their brand image.” Yicheng pursed his lips. “It sounded like nonsense.”

There were quite a number of celebrities who had scandals. As long as it was harmless, whose endorsement was affected?

Moreover, Mengyao was the one who guided the fans to love Xunmeng. Jiang Xun and Mengyao weren’t a real couple.

He had never seen a ship on screen that would affect the endorsement of the person involved.

They were just a couple on screen, not a real couple.

Moreover, Jiang Xun and Mengyao weren’t even a couple on the screen. Mengyao was just trying to make himself look good.

“I asked them who they were going to sign, and they said it was Su Youlan.” Yicheng pursed his lips and snorted. “I’ve checked. C.U. contacted Su Youlan a few times before, hoping that she would endorse their brand, but Su Youlan rejected them every time. Su Youlan has been fighting for the position of C brand's spokesperson, but recently, C brand has been more inclined to Yan Zhiqing and has been interacting with her on various social media platforms."

"Su Youlan probably thought that she had no hope of endorsing for C brand, so she went back to that small C brand." Yicheng didn't even mention C.U.'s full name, and directly mocked them by calling them the small C brand.

When Jiang Xun heard Yicheng's words, it seemed as if Youlan wasn't chosen by what she wanted and could only turn around to find a substitute.

"Just you wait." Yicheng was furious. He gritted his teeth and said, "I'll definitely find you a better brand than small C brand!"

He couldn't let Youlan bully Jiang Xun like this.

Yicheng was really pissed off by C.U. this time.

However, Jiang Xun's affairs came out one after another after Feng Videos' grand ceremony. She had not been idle.

First, Jiang Xun and Jixuan were photographed and mistakenly thought that Jiang Xun was in a relationship.

After the clarification, the discussion that night was all about Mengyao.

Other than Mengyao's fans who were still defending him, the rest of the netizens were all mocking him.

Jiang Xun thought that the matter had come to an end.

Who knew that the next day, the marketing account would have new content.

Gossip Expert: [A certain influencer's transformation has been very popular. Because her style at Feng Videos' grand ceremony was recognized and liked by many people in the fashion world, she has gained the recognition of many brands. Some brands have already contacted her to discuss endorsement cooperation. The most famous one is C.U. I heard that both parties are in discussion and the contract is about to be finalized.]

[Isn't it obvious? Isn't the post talking about Jiang Xun?]

[Apart from Jiang Xun, there are indeed no other female celebrities who are popular after their transformation. Jiang Xun is the only one.]

[So C.U. is talking to Jiang Xun about an endorsement?]

[This is really possible. Jiang Xun's collaboration with Yi Lan has expired. Her contract with Yi Lan is considered rare as a long contract in the industry. It's clear that both parties had been very happy working with each other since it has only expired now. But no matter what brand it is, they wouldn't look for the same spokesperson for a lifetime. And Jiang Xun also needs to expand to a higher-end market.]

[C.U. does fit the criteria. The brand is positioned in the mid-end market, and the consumer audience has a certain spending power, but it's not as unattainable as luxury items. With Jiang Xun's current popularity, she had even won an award from Feng Videos. Although the Feng Videos award is not as important as the golden phoenix award or the tulip award, it shows that Jiang Xun's achievements has been recognized by the platform. In the future, there will be no lack of exposure for her on a big platform like Feng Videos. And why was she able to get the platform's recognition? Wasn't it because of her good results and the audience's recognition? Did she attract enough fans and bring a lot of popularity to Feng Videos? With Jiang Xun's current results and popularity, it's indeed reasonable for her to endorse C.U. They won't lose out.]

[Yes, and Jiang Xun's red carpet look was stunning this time. She even successfully supported ES's haute couture business. It must be difficult to pull off. Not everyone looks good in it. Otherwise, ES wouldn't be so picky about the artistes who borrowed clothes from them. However, Jiang Xun managed to hold on and let the brand see Jiang Xun's ability to control fashion.]

In addition to Gossip Expert, many other marketing accounts also posted.

They made it sound as if Jiang Xun was going to sign a contract with C.U. the next day.

Xin'an: [Jiang Jiang, isn't C.U. going to sign a contract with Su Youlan? Why did the internet suddenly say that they want to sign a contract with you? The news is too outdated.]

Jiang Xun: [It's not necessarily because they're outdated with information. It's possible that they know this, so they deliberately lead the matter to me.]

Xin'an: [So you're saying, they're purposely posting that you are going to sign a contract with C.U, so when C.U. announces Su Youlan as their spokesperson, you'll become humiliated?]

Jiang Xun: [Then I would become a bootlicker who wanted to work with C.U. and I deliberately released the news to increase my popularity. In the end, I didn't succeed. Instead, I was slapped in the face by the brand.]

Xin'an: [...]

Xin'an: [Why is there such news? Our team is small, and Brother Wang just told you yesterday that C.U. is interested in working with you, but you haven't made a decision yet, so no one in the studio knows about it. You went to see the C.U. outfits yesterday and decided to reject it because you didn't like it. Logically speaking, there's no chance for this matter to get out.]

Jiang Xun: [As long as Su Youlan wants to find out, she'll find out. We won't spread it, but C.U. has no obligation to help us keep it a secret.]

Xin'an: [You're saying that Su Youlan was the one who leaked the news?]

Jiang Xun: [I don't have any evidence," Jiang Xun said. "But other than her, no one else has a reason to do so.]

Yicheng finally finished his work and was about to tell Jiang Xun about it, but he saw that they had already started discussing it in the group.

Yicheng: [That's right. I think the same as Jiang Jiang. Su Youlan is most likely behind this.]
