

Chapter 82:

“...Captain.”

“what?”

The nursery rhyme looked at the man who was sitting next to him with an empty mineral water bottle: “You talk so loudly, but in the past, you wanted to marry me.”

Lu Sicheng opened the rankings, “Oh,” and stared at his computer screen without squinting: “What?”

The nursery rhymes kicked him under the table and raised his eyebrows: “Hey.”

Lu Sicheng is indifferent: “Hey.”

The nursery rhyme kicked him again: “Afraid not afraid?”

Lu Sicheng finally turned his head and glanced at her.

Suddenly, he seemed to have some heads and asked: “Will you cook?”

The nursery rhyme answered without answering: “No.”

Lu Sicheng: “Is it meant to eat only? It is still afraid.”

Nursery rhymes: “...”

Nursery rhyme: “Are you a person? Why can’t you always say a word?”

Lu Sicheng: “You forced me.”

Nursery rhymes: “Quiet me.”

Lu Sicheng: “Do you not blame you?”

Nursery rhymes: “...”

Every day, I endure with life and challenge the limits before I put my main box on the heads of people around me...

Sometimes even the nursery rhymes can’t help but wonder if the fan girls are too gentle and too tolerant. Net addiction juvenile players fall into the realm of not recognizing their own personal glamour limit and real value -

Such a compliment of honey juice causes them to often say madness and do crazy things...

At this time, if there is a fandom of “Wonder Woman” standing out to let these men wake up, it would be great.

- At the beginning, nursery rhymes are just thinking about it.

But what she didn’t expect was that it was like God heard her inner call. After she had sent her feelings for no more than eight hours, this “Wonder Woman” actually.....

Really appeared!

The beginning of the story began with a fan of the “big dead five hundred years” team leader, the girl’s microblog id called “fruit.”

Because the fruit is often produced and tailored, the interesting content and text fields of the members of the Qing Dynasty team are gradually mixed with the staff of the Qing Dynasty team. Therefore, there are often some people who don’t know the life of the Qing team. In this way, over the years, she became a powdered head with 20,000 fans.

Everyone knows that this “fruit” is the house management of Xu Tailun’s live broadcast room. It is the owner of Xu Tailun’s personal fan base. She is a low-key person, never participates in truss, and does not engage in small groups.

Therefore, the fruit is very recognized by the fans of the Qing Dynasty team. Everyone is positioned for her: It seems that Xu Tailun is always on the air. She has time, money, low-key, and knows the internal staff of the Qing Dynasty team.

It was around 8 o’clock that night.

There is a fan of the Qing Dynasty team, Miss Sister, who finished the meal and started to sneak the fruit of Weibo. It was originally prepared to supplement the lively clips of the members of the Qing Dynasty team, and took a few rounds of Weibo and suddenly found out. The system prompts that it is about a minute ago, this powder called the fruit of the fruit continuously gives a variety of praises to the content of a microblogging trumpet called “in your name” -

Out of curiosity, this fan looked at the microblog of “in your name”.

Then she found that this microblog is very strange. First of all, it is obviously a personal microblogging trumpet, only one or two systems donated zombie powder, and all the microblogs are 0 forward 0 comments 0 likes; secondly, she is meager The frequency is very frequent. From about half a year ago, two or three dynamics were sent out every day.

Half a year ago, it was just that Xu Tailun came to Lpl to join the Qing team for a long time.

- Out of curiosity, fans of this Qing Dynasty team began to carefully browse the various microblogs called “in your name”, the most interesting of which is her latest Weibo,

Weibo The content is a small beautiful short-haired cat lying on a mat, the surrounding background looks like a pet hospital, and the meager matching is:

This is only beautiful, it is clear that every day in front of the camera in the Xu Tailun live room, walked to the “Mimi.”

I think that this afternoon, Xu Tailun vowed that “the staff took it to the pet hospital.” Then look at this microblogging that is obviously not like a staff member. It is hard to imagine how it is like watching this meager fan friend. Dog’s mood - The most difficult thing is that she persevered in such a mood to continue to watch Weibo.

Yesterday.

“In your name” Weibo content first:

“In your name” Weibo content second article:

The day before yesterday.

“In your name” Weibo content:

Picture: Purchasing transfer screenshot, price four digits, remarks: Givenchy summer new xxxxx short shirt.

Next year will be South Korea or change teams. If it’s not too much money, it won’t Come”.

Big big... I don’t know the day before, the day when Xu Tailun’s little milk cat first appeared.

“In your name” Weibo content:

Pictured: That familiar short short-haired cat.

Seeing this, I don't know what it is. The enthusiastic person who eats melons can only say that she is a fool. I realized that I saw a big news at the first time. She quickly took this to you. The "microblogging link" is reserved, and some important microblogs are accompanied by a date screenshot.

Then turn around and post it and post it -

Under the headline, 啪啪啪啪 is a bunch of microblogging screenshots of dry goods, posts tens of replies within a minute, all downstairs are "I ㄟ 啥 啥" "Fire tongs Liu Ming" "a good sister of my sister "...

- At this point, a hurricane and **** rain will be unveiled!

The author has something to say: Come here, a very educational and torn drama hhhhhhhh

Today, under a short break, send 100 red envelopes to stabilize the army!

It's almost at the end of the month, what about the baby's nutrients?
