

You Owe Me, My Love Chapter 53

Bai Rong got a little annoyed. He was too domineering. He did not even ask her if that's what she wanted!
"When did I become your woman? We did not even do... it." Bai Rong was too shy to say out loud. Her voice trailed off towards the end of the sentence.

Gu Mingchen interpreted her shyness as a coquettish behavior, wanting more. He swerved the car to the side of the road and stopped.

"So, you want to do it?" Gu Mingchen said as he arched his brow. Bai Rong was confused.

He grabbed her hand and placed it above his abdomen.

Bai Rong could feel something pushing hard against her hand. She panicked and wanted to pull away.

But Gu Mingchen held her hand even tighter.

"You are too impatient. We are still on the road. We can always do it when we get to our destination." Gu Mingchen said in his deep voice.

He totally got her wrong! Bai Rong panicked. She stammered as she tried to explain. "Errr..."

No I don't mean that. I mean... errr... I don't want to. No no. I mean I didn't mean I wanted it.

No no... errr..."

Gu Mingchen found Bai Rong's state of fluster really adorable. He couldn't help but smile.

Bai Rong froze for a second when she saw that. She had hardly seen him smile.

In one forward motion, Gu Mingchen moved Bai Rong's head such that her face was just an inch away from his, and kissed her. That stopped Bai Rong from talking. Her lips were very soft, just like cotton candy.

Bai Rong was shocked and tried to wriggle out of the man's grip.

But the more she did that, the warmer Gu Mingchen felt. His hands slid down to Bai Rong's back and pulled her towards him such that their bodies were glued together.

As Bai Rong struggled to get away, she accidentally touched him down there. She let out a muffled grunt and did not dare to move anymore.

After his mouth finally left hers, he started tracing his lips from the curves of her neck, slowly reaching her collarbone.

As though body heat was contagious, Bai Rong started feeling warmer and warmer too. She even started getting flashbacks of the scene underneath the bed just now. She could hardly think anymore.

Gu Mingchen's breathing was also getting more ragged. As he unbuttoned Bai Rong's blouse, he could see her purple bra strap.

He wanted to eat her up right there and then.

His kisses started falling on her like heavy raindrops, hard and rapid.

Bai Rong was intoxicated. She felt tipsy and her mind was in a turmoil. Her resistance seemed to be dissolving.

Should we just do it? There's nothing to lose for me anyway. Bai Rong had a sudden thought.

But she was still married.

If she did it, she would be no different from Su Xuyan.

"Gu Mingchen, can we wait until I am officially divorced?" Bai Rong said anxiously.

Gu Mingchen paused and fixed his gaze on her. There was a gleam in his dark, deep eyes. It was as though there was a dormant beast hiding in there, going to awaken anytime.

Bai Rong avoided his gaze. Her eyes, although downcast, were gleaming too.

Gu Mingchen unwillingly relented. He planted a deep kiss on her lips and lingered for one whole minute before letting her go. He inhaled urgently as though she was his oxygen. How he wished time could freeze at that moment.

"You are not allowed to seduce me anymore. Just sit there obediently, OK?"

Bai Rong was speechless. She did not remember seducing him.

Bai Rong decided not to defend herself as she didn't want to risk making matters worse.

She kept quiet and looked out of the window.

After driving for four hours straight, they reached the suburbs of a neighboring city.

Bai Rong had not eaten anything since morning and her stomach was already making noises.

Gu Mingchen took a glance at her and stopped in front of a restaurant.

"Let's get something to eat first." The gentleman got out of the car and opened the car door for her.

"OK." Bai Rong agreed.

As she was just about to step out of the car, Gu Mingchen bent forward and lifted her out.

"You're too slow." He said.

Bai Rong was speechless.

Gu Mingchen took large strides towards the restaurant, and she scurried to keep up with him.

He chose a table next to the window and Bai Rong sat down opposite him. "Just order whatever you feel like eating." Gu Mingchen said as he passed her the menu.

Bai Rong remembered that he did not eat crayfishes.

A waiter arrived at the table to take their orders.

"Sweet and sour fish, tomato with eggs, spicy stir-fried vermicelli, and winter melon spare ribs soup. What else would Mr. Gu like to eat?" Bai Rong looked towards Gu Mingchen.

He was staring at her with a sharp look in his eyes. "Change the way you address me." Gu Mingchen ordered.

"Errr... Chief?" Bai Rong spoke cautiously. Gu Mingchen's look grew slightly unfathomable.

Bai Rong took that as a sign of an impending storm.

She was really scared of Gu Mingchen now.

"Gu Mingchen." Bai Rong tried again.

"Without the 'Gu'" Gu Mingchen corrected her.

"OK." Bai Rong said, as she pulled apart a pair of disposable wooden chopsticks.

"What is OK? If you make the same mistake again, I won't be letting you off this easily." He turned towards the waiter and returned the menu. "We will just have those that she ordered."

He said.

Bai Rong chewed on the chopsticks as they were waiting for the food to arrive.

She could feel his gaze on her and she was feeling very awkward.

Had she not already made it clear to Gu Mingchen just now?

Why was he acting strangely again?

Bai Rong stole a quick glance at Gu Mingchen and met his gaze. She quickly looked away and stared out of the window.

It was already 5 p.m.. The slanting rays of the setting sun gave a warm orange tinge to the sky. It was a gorgeous sight.

The first dish that arrived was the sweet and sour fish, along with two bowls of rice.

As Bai Rong ate her rice, Gu Mingchen reached over with his chopsticks to put some fish into her bowl, after he had meticulously removed the bones.

"Thanks." Bai Rong said to him.

Gu Mingchen didn't say anything. He merely took a glance at Bai Rong and continued removing fish bones for her.

As he was doing that, Bai Rong couldn't help looking at his hands.

He seems so natural at removing the fish bones. Most likely he's had a girlfriend before. Bai Rong felt a little bothered at that thought.

As she was lost in her thoughts, Gu Mingchen said in his deep voice, "I learnt this from the DVDs you gave me."

"What?" Bai Rong was caught unaware.

"I saw you staring at my hands. Aren't you wondering how I knew how to do this?" Gu Mingchen elaborated.

Bai Rong was stunned. She didn't know he could read minds.

"I didn't give that to you." Bai Rong thought out loud.

"Then who were you going to give it to? Was it for yourself?" Gu Mingchen asked, sizing her up.

Bai Rong realized the more she spoke, the more mistakes she tended to make.

"It was from Liu Yan. That's part of her evil plan." Bai Rong explained.

"You don't have to deny it. It's not a shameful thing. You're an adult and it's normal to be curious. But it is indeed quite strange for a lady to watch such videos alone at home. I can make some suitable arrangements next time." Gu Mingchen said it so seriously that it gave Bai Rong the impression that it was actually a serious matter.

"What arrangements are you making?" Bai Rong asked.

"What do you think?" Gu Mingchen threw the question back to her.

"Errr... You are thinking of making some kind of arrangements for me to watch it at home?"

Bai Rong took a cautious guess.

"At my home. It's quieter and there wouldn't be any interruption while you watch." Gu Mingchen said in his deep voice.

Bai Rong was speechless.

She was suspecting that he was going to watch it with her and then... do that thing.

A blush of embarrassment spread across Bai Rong's cheeks just at that thought.

"You can let me know if there are any poses you want to try." Gu Mingchen prompted.

"Can we stop talking about that?" Bai Rong gazed at the floor.

"What?" Gu Mingchen did not get it.

"Let's not talk about that now." Bai Rong said meekly.

Gu Mingchen took a glance at her and replied, "Oh, OK."

It was already an hour later when they finished eating. The sky was already turning dark.

"Are we still able to go back tonight?" Bai Rong suddenly realized a serious problem.

"I don't think so. Let's find a hotel nearby to stay for the night. We'll go back after visiting number 108 tomorrow." Gu Mingchen said.

"OK." If they were going to stay at a hotel, they wouldn't have to stay in the same room. Bai Rong relaxed a little at that thought.

But she seemed to have forgotten that they were in the suburbs. There were hardly any hotels in such an unpopulated area.
It was almost 8 p.m. when they finally found a guest house.
You Owe Me, My Love Chapter 54
Bai Rong and Gu Mingchen requested for one room each.
Soundproofing at the guest house was almost non-existent.

The next room was making so much noise that it was keeping Bai Rong awake.
Those two people next door... didn't they need to sleep?
Each time Bai Rong thought they were done, the sounds started shortly after again.
Their bodies kept knocking against the wall between their rooms and the woman's cries were so loud they sounded almost tragic.
Bai Rong felt like she was going crazy from listening to all that action going on next door.
She decided to go out to take a breath. Hopefully, when she got back, they would finally be done.
The air in the suburbs was much fresher than in the city. Although it was still very warm, there were also a lot of mosquitoes.
There was a bright, full moon that night, and Bai Rong could see fireflies dancing among the bushes.
She had not seen fireflies in a long while.
She recalled her childhood days where she would catch fireflies in a jar and trap them in a mosquito net. However, fireflies hardly glowed in mosquito nets. They could only be excited within their natural habitats.
Suddenly, Bai Rong felt something hit against her back.
She turned around, and saw a woman leaning out of the window from the room next to hers.
The woman seemed to be not wearing any clothes. She pointed to the ground and quickly drew the curtains again.
Bai Rong looked towards the ground and saw a pink blouse. The words SAVE ME were written on it in black ink.
Bai Rong's chest tightened. Has she been held in captivity? She wondered.
Bai Rong had no time to lose. She immediately dashed to Gu Mingchen's room and pounded on his door.
"What's the matter?" Gu Mingchen asked when he opened the door.
"Gu Mingchen, I think the woman who is staying in the room next to mine is being held captive. Look at this blouse! It is her S.O.S." Bai Rong said worriedly. He scanned the words on the blouse and reassured her, "Relax. I need to confirm how many people there are in the room first."

"They were..." Bai Rong felt awkward saying it out. But for the sake of the woman, Bai Rong knew it wasn't the time to feel awkward.

"They kept doing that thing... They were making so much noise that is making it impossible for me to rest. Why don't I use this as an excuse to knock on their door and find out how many people there are. I'll tell you after I get the information." Bai Rong suggested.

"It's too dangerous for you to go alone. Let's go together." Gu Mingchen reached out for Bai Rong's hand and started walking there.

Gu Mingchen knocked on the door when they arrived. A man with yellow-dyed hair opened the door. "What's up?" He asked, standing at the door.

"It's already so late. There is so much noise coming from your room that it's affecting our rest." Gu Mingchen said, while he glanced inside the room. There were two women and five or six men. All of them seemed quite young.

"Heh heh. Uncle, you are not young anymore. Since your girlfriend is so pretty, you should have some fun too. Why don't you two join us? It may help to fire up your passion by looking at us." The yellow-dyed hair man mocked.

Gu Mingchen's mouth curved into a smile. An unreadable glint appeared in his eyes as he said, "Sure, I'd love to."

Gu Mingchen entered the room. Bai Rong knew that his intention was to save those two women. But hearing him say those words was enough to cause her to flush with embarrassment. She held on tightly to Gu Mingchen's arms.

"Darling, how many of us would you like to take on? Or... how about all six of us? Uncle will take on those two. What do you think? We are definitely better than uncle." The yellow-dyed hair man teased, as he reached out for Bai Rong's chin. But before he could touch Bai Rong, Gu Mingchen had already pulled her behind himself.

"Rong, go back to our room to get that night gown I bought you." She looked at him.

When had he bought her any nightgown? Then, she realized it might be Gu Mingchen's excuse for her to get out. "Will you be OK alone?" Bai Rong tried to sound him out.

Gu Mingchen let out a laugh and said, "What do you think? Go."

"I couldn't tell that uncle is so kinky. We already can't wait to have fun with you, darling." The yellow-dyed hair man said, while staring straight into Bai Rong's eyes. Bai Rong did not want to be a burden to Gu Mingchen, so she left. When she got back to her room, she dialed 911.

Gu Mingchen scanned the room when he got in. Beer cans and tidbits were strewn all over the floor. There were even injection tools for drugs on the table.

"This room is in such a mess. Why don't we go over to my room? It's much neater there." Gu Mingchen said, as he grabbed the arms of the two girls and started walking out of the room.

The six men looked on with beady eyes and gestured something behind their backs.

Gu Mingchen knocked on Bai Rong's door.

When she saw that it was Gu Mingchen, she opened the door.

He pushed the two women into the room and reminded Bai Rong to keep the door locked.

When the six men realized they had fallen into Gu Mingchen's trap, they started attacking him.

As Bai Rong was worried for Gu Mingchen's safety, she looked out from the peephole.

The situation outside was chaotic, and it was difficult for Bai Rong to tell who's who.

"Can your boyfriend handle them? Yellow Hair can really fight." The girl who threw the shirt asked Bai Rong nervously.

"You two stay in the room. Don't come out no matter what." Bai Rong said, as she searched around the room. The most potent weapon she could find was the ashtray.

As she bent forward to pick up the ashtray, she suddenly felt something cold against her neck.

Bai Rong realized she had been held at knifepoint.

Feeling shocked, she looked towards the girl who threw the blouse.

"What are you doing?" Bai Rong was confused.

"Sorry, woman. We are a bit hard up at the moment. Maybe you could give us some cash?"

The girl who threw the blouse said, while the other girl searched Bai Rong and Gu

Mingchen's wallets and took their phones.

"Did you deliberately throw that blouse to lure me to your room?" Bai Rong suspected.

"We thought you were alone. Yellow Hair took an interest in you, but we didn't expect that there is a man with you. Yellow Hair is pretty good in bed. Just treat this as your payment for some good enjoyment." The girl laughed.

"Take the knife away first." Bai Rong said coldly.
"I can't do that. Your man is such a good fighter. We need you to be able to escape unscathed." The girl threatened, as the other girl opened the door. Bai Rong saw that Gu Mingchen had already knocked out six men. They were whining in pain on the ground.
"Stop." The girl said, as she dragged Bai Rong out by the arm. Gu Mingchen's cold eyes shot daggers at the girl.
"Hey Yellow Hair! I got you your girl. Don't forget my five carats yeah?" The girl who threw the blouse said smugly.
"Of course." Yellow Hair responded, as he climbed up from the ground. Then, he looked towards Bai Rong and said, "Seems like we are in luck to encounter such a beauty in this deserted place. We are going to have so much fun tonight." Bai Rong creased her brows tightly. Just then, she caught a moment when the girl was distracted and quickly pushed her hand away and ran towards Gu Mingchen. Seeing that Bai Rong had escaped, the girl who threw the blouse raised her knife and stabbed Bai Rong. Gu Mingchen saw through her intentions and quickly pushed Bai Rong behind him. Suddenly, the girl changed her trajectory and stabbed towards Gu Mingchen instead. He could not dodge. If he did, Bai Rong, who was behind him, would be stabbed. He stood firm on the ground and blocked the knife with his bare hands. The knife pierced his palm. Just as the girl was about to stab him a second time, Gu Mingchen grabbed her wrist and gave it a good twist. The girl winced in pain and dropped the knife onto the floor. Bai Rong picked the knife up immediately. Blood dripped down from Gu Mingchen's fingers. A while later, the sirens of police cars sounded outside. Yellow Hair and his friends immediately dashed towards the stairs, but were caught up by the police before they could reach the top of the stairs. "They were doing drugs and also participated in armed robbery. Everything should have already been caught on the surveillance cameras. Do your job." Gu Mingchen said to the police officer in charge.
