

You Owe Me, My Love Chapter 75 - 76

Bai Rong hesitated as she looked at the dashboard camera.

What good would it do if she went with Gu Mingchen now?

Perhaps the dashboard camera footage would become harmful evidence towards Gu

Mingchen, and she didn't want that to happen.

"I have things to do." Bai Rong rejected him politely.

Gu Mingchen narrowed his eyes and let out a chuckle.

She was the first person who dared reject him.

He forcefully scooped her into his arms.

"Gu Mingchen, what are you doing?! Put me down! Everyone can see us like this!" Bai Rong said worriedly.

"See what? What are you so worried about? Talk to me. Tell me everything you've kept bottled up inside." His expression was cold.

"I'm a married woman." Bai Rong said.

"Shut up!" Gu Mingchen ordered.

"I'm another man's wife! It's impossible for me to get a divorce with Su Xuyan! Shutting up won't change that fact! Doesn't it bother you that a powerful Chief like yourself is lowering your standards for someone like me?" Bai Rong said anxiously.

Gu Mingchen threw her into the backseat, "Keep talking. Say as much as you want right now. But don't ever bring it up again in the future."

"The problem won't just disappear if I don't bring it up! You'd just be lying to yourself and others by burying your head in the sand like that. I believe you're a smart man, chief. I'm sure you know who you should and shouldn't get involved with better than I do." Bai Rong said impatiently.

His anger boiled when he heard her call him chief and tell him what he should do.

"Well, I've already gotten involved, so what now?" Gu Mingchen stared at her as he got into the backseat as well.

The atmosphere became even more tense when he entered the car.

"Then you should stop while you still can. Just because you did something wrong doesn't mean you should keep doing it! You should stop and do the right thing!"

Bai Rong wanted to get out of the car as she couldn't stand being with him in the car.

As she reached for the car door, Gu Mingchen grabbed her arm and said coldly, "Sorry, but I don't plan on correcting my mistake. Even if it was a mistake, I'll continue it like it's right.

You are mine right from the start."

Was he confessing his love to her?

Bai Rong was shocked and before she could react, he kissed her on the lips.

She knew it wasn't right and tried to back away, but he held the back of her head and kissed her even more aggressively.

Bai Rong had no choice but to start pushing and hitting him, but nothing worked.

Even Lieutenant Shang got anxious watching them, “Ms. Bai, just be with our chief, he won’t mistreat you. He was in a meeting when he heard you were in danger, and rushed over immediately.”

Bai Rong knew he was nice to her, but that was precisely why she couldn’t put him in harm’s way.

They’ve only known each other for less than a month, so they could just separate easily as what they had was nothing but a fling.

She bit his tongue that was moving about in her mouth, but he didn’t back away and just kept his gaze on her.

Bai Rong felt the taste of his blood on her tongue and couldn’t bring herself to bite on anymore.

He kissed her even harder than before without even giving her a chance to breathe, forcing her to swallow his blood.

His kiss was too forceful and dominant, and only slowed down when she was left breathless and limp from it.

Lieutenant Shang had the troops get out of the car and rolled down a window before he closed the door for them.

They formed a circle of at least a hundred meter radius around Gu Mingchen’s car.

Bai Rong was so embarrassed as everyone would think they had sex even if they didn’t at this point.

After Lieutenant Shang had gotten rid of the men, Gu Mingchen's actions got a lot wilder as he pinned Bai Rong down on the car seat.

They were very close to each other in the narrow space of the backseat. He had pulled down her panties while he was kissing her, and Bai Rong spoke up as soon as she got the chance to, "Gu Mingchen, we can't do this!"

But he had lost all reason as the memories from three years ago filled his mind.

If he went to her wedding and took her away on the spot, she wouldn't have been married to Su Xuyan to begin with, and would've belonged to him right then and there.

"Think carefully before you tell me we can't." Gu Mingchen said angrily. "We can't." Bai Rong was firm.

But, her firmness was useless towards Gu Mingchen in this matter.

She exclaimed as she felt his wild anger.

She didn't like Gu Mingchen at this moment and struggled to escape but only fell deeper into his wrath.

"You can't do this!" Bai Rong frowned and her eyes were reddened.

"I can't what?" He wrapped an arm around her waist, "Are we not suitable? See, we are very suitable, right?"

Bai Rong turned her head away from him.

If this took place three years ago when she hadn't been married, she would've gone through hell with him even if his family objected.

But that wasn't the case right now, and she didn't even have the right to go through hell with him.

Gu Mingchen grabbed her chin and turned her face towards his as he said with a painful look in his eyes, "Bai Rong, can't you feel that I like you?"

Waves of excitement flowed through Bai Rong's heart.

His confession was like a poison that removed all her reason and resistance.

"Mmm....." Bai Rong cried, unsure if she was feeling sad, touched or in despair.

"Liu Yan told me everything. Leave this matter to me. I'll take care of everything, so stop pushing me away. I don't care about your marital status nor your past, let alone your social status. All I care about is your heart." He lowered his head.

There was no space between them, as his kiss landed on her rosy lips.

Bai Rong took shallow breaths and closed her eyes while his kiss traveled from her eyes to her nose and down to her lips.

"Find a way to delete the dashcam footage here." Bai Rong said worriedly.

"It's already been taken care of." Gu Mingchen said as he supported her neck. Maybe it felt comfortable, her eyes gradually softened, "Liu Yan said you broke up with me because you didn't want to put me in harm's way, right?"

Bai Rong kept quiet as she had already felt his strong presence and feared that it would get stronger if she responded.

“If that’s the case, then you have nothing to worry about. My position is not something that a mere deputy director of the Ministry of Health like Su Xuyan can get rid of.” Gu Mingchen said with certainty.

Bai Rong was unable to hear him clearly anymore as she grabbed onto his arms tightly, blushing wildly.

She was unable to think clearly at the moment, nor did she want to, as Gu Mingchen kissed her on the lips once again.

In a daze, she remembered that she had not taken her medicine yet. She was twenty-four years old, and a doctor at that, so she mustn’t forget to take her medicine like she did three years ago.

You Owe Me, My Love Chapter 76

Gu Mingchen sent Bai Rong back to Liu Yan’s house.

When Liu Yan saw her, she rushed up to her and made the sign of the cross as she said happily, “Thank God Gu Mingchen rescued you! I was so worried something would happen to you!”

Bai Rong stared at Liu Yan.

She knew Liu Yan meant well, but she didn’t want to get Gu Mingchen involved in her mess.

“Yan, Su Xuyan may have been taken away by the police, but he’s not locked up for life. Gu Mingchen was able to save me now, but he can’t save me forever.” Bai Rong said rationally.

“I don’t care anymore. Rather than living the rest of your life in fear, why not just go all out instead? Su Xuyan can rage all he wants, but it won’t do him any good. Besides, he’d have a tough time later on if he offends Shen Yiyang anyway. Let’s all just go for broke!” Liu Yan said impulsively.

“Don’t act so irrationally or you’ll regret it.” Bai Rong sighed.

“What else can we do? Just watch as that scumbag Su Xuyan violates you?” Liu Yan said angrily.

Bai Rong looked out the window.

The rain was still pouring heavily, shrouding the entire A City in a hazy mist.

“I’ve been thinking. There is a way to solve this.” Bai Rong said solemnly as she looked at the night sky.

“How? Tell me, I’ll get it done!” Liu Yan said as she shook Bai Rong anxiously.

“Su Xuyan is threatening us with your video clips, so what if I have something to threaten him with as well?” Bai Rong asked.

“That man is a clever one. He doesn’t like you, so he won’t tell you anything! You’ve only met his parents today, so you can imagine how cautious he is towards you. He would never let you in on any of his secrets!” Liu Yan said with certainty.

“I wasn’t talking about that. I meant his relationship with Xing Jinnian.”

“Their disgusting relationship is that of a sugar daddy and his woman. Even just mentioning it now makes me so angry. You didn't see how much of a b* that Xing Jinnian was, doing it in the wild with Su Xuyan. Thinking about it makes me feel like vomiting.” Liu Yan said angrily.

“Therefore, Su Xuyan not keeping a low profile is a good thing for us. He is a high-ranking official, so negative news like these are detrimental to him. Maybe we could pull him out of power with it.” Bai Rong thought.

“You said it yourself, he's a high-ranking official. That woman named Yue from before had already gone missing. They wouldn't dare stand up against Su Xuyan.” Liu Yan sighed.

“But Xing Jinnian dares. Her father is a governor. In terms of rank, he's two levels above Su Xuyan. Besides, now that Xing Jinnian isn't officially with Su Xuyan, she should hope that we would get a divorce. Therefore, she would be willing to cooperate with us in order to obtain evidence.” Bai Rong guessed.

“Xing Jinnian is a socialite, and her father is a governor. I doubt she'd be willing to expose herself as a third wheel, as those people are selfish.” Liu Yan said worriedly.

“We'll never know unless we try, right? I can try to negotiate with her.” Bai Rong was determined and called Xing Jinnian.

Xing Jinnian answered the phone.

“You’d call me?” Xing Jinnian said sarcastically.

“Su Xuyan wouldn’t get a divorce, and even threatened me with my friend’s videos. I’m sure you know very well what those videos are.” Bai Rong got straight to the point.

The look in Xing Jinnian’s eyes went dark, “What do you mean by that? Are you trying to show off?”

“I don’t have a need to. The reason I called you is to tell you that we’re on the same boat and want the same thing, which is for him to get a divorce.” Bai Rong said calmly.

“Sorry, but I wouldn’t want a man that you don’t want either. There is no need for me to eat your leftovers.” Xing Jinnian said angrily.

“Are you sure you don’t want him? Do you know who Su Junhao is?” Bai Rong asked.

“Yeah, he’s the Chief of the Air Force. What about him? Don’t tell me you’ve hooked up with him?” Xing Jinnian said sarcastically.

“He’s Su Xuyan’s cousin. That should give you an idea of his family background. Right now, he’s the deputy director of the Ministry Of Health. Next year, he could be the director. Give him another two years, and he might even be the mayor of this city. Given his background, he might even rank higher than your father in ten years. Are you sure you want to give up on him?” Bai Rong said with a smile.

“If he’s as good as you say, then why don’t you want him?” Xing Jinnian frowned.

“Because you’re the one he likes, not me. Why would I want a man that doesn’t love me? I’d be thirty-four after ten years. If he kicks me out then, wouldn’t I have wasted ten years of my youth?”

“Heh, then I can just wait till you get divorced ten years later.” Xing Jinnian said smugly.

“Don’t forget, we’d both be thirty four in ten years. Can you guarantee that he’d still love you then? Are you so sure that there won’t be a woman prettier and younger than you appearing before him?” Bai Rong spared no effort in provoking her.

Xing Jinnian narrowed her eyes and hesitated for a while before lowering her voice as she asked, “What exactly do you want?”

“You will help me retrieve Liu Yan’s videos, and I’ll get a lawyer to handle the divorce.” Bai Rong negotiated.

“But Su Xuyan has already made several copies of it.” Xing Jinnian regretted it right after she said that.

She should just give Bai Rong a single copy and trick her into asking him for a divorce.

Once Bai Rong filed a divorce and Su Xuyan exposed the videos, it would all be over.

Bai Rong was even more determined to get divorced now.

Xing Jinnian had messed up and wished she could bite her tongue off, but Bai Rong had already anticipated that he would make several copies, “There is another way. I just need evidence of him cheating on me with you.”

“Are you trying to get me in trouble? Su Xuyan is still married right now! That would ruin my reputation!” Xing Jinnian said angrily.

“You think your reputation isn’t ruined when you did it so boldly with him at the seaside villa?”

They just didn’t want to call you out on it.” Bai Rong said coldly.

“All the more reason I can’t provide you with the evidence! How would I know for sure if you’ll use it to get a divorce or if you just want to get me in trouble?”

Xing Jinnian said defensively.

“Don’t worry, I’m only going to threaten Su Xuyan with it so he won’t release Liu Yan’s videos.

I promise to only keep the evidence with me. You on the other hand, could make copies of Liu Yan’s videos. If I were to release your video to the public, you could release Liu Yan’s as well. I just want a divorce; do you think I’d really do such a thing?” Bai Rong explained rationally.

Xing Jinnian kept quiet.

Fifteen seconds later, she asked, “Are you really willing to get a divorce?”

“Do I have a reason to lie to you?” Bai Rong asked.

“Alright, you have a deal. I’ll get you the footage as quick as I can, but you have to get divorced as soon as possible.” Xing Jinnian decided.

There could be no victory without sacrifice.

Bai Rong let out a slight smile, as she finally saw a glimmer of hope.
